والعلامات حتى 24 مارس 2020

Holy_bible_1

اكرر هدفي فقط من هذه الخدمة أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد أي حياة اليقظة الروحية. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه لأننا نور العالم الذي أصبح مظلم وليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل بالمحبة والتبشير وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذاري انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقرب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان
سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقرب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات او اخيف البعض
ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي
المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تَوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتنبه ونستعد

COMET ATLAS IS BRIGHTENING FASTER THAN EXPECTED: Get ready for a wild ride. Comet ATLAS (C2019 Y4) is plunging toward the sun and, if it doesn't fly apart first, it could become one of the brightest comets in years.

"Comet ATLAS continues to brighten much faster than expected," says Karl Battams of the Naval Research Lab in Washington DC. "Some predictions for its peak brightness now border on the absurd."

The comet was discovered in December 2019 by the Asteroid Terrestrial-impact Last Alert System (ATLAS) in Hawaii. Astronomers quickly realized it might be special. On May 31, 2020, Comet ATLAS will pass deep inside the orbit of Mercury only 0.25 AU from the sun. If it can survive the blast furnace of solar heating, it could put on a good show.

However, no one expected the show to start this soon. More than 2 months before perihelion (closest approach to the sun), Comet ATLAS is already "heating up." The worldwide Comet Observation Database shows it jumping from magnitude +17 in early February to +8 in mid-March—a 4000-fold increase in brightness. It could become visible to the naked eye in early April.

Newly-discovered comet Atlas could shine as bright as the MOON when it makes its closest approach to Earth in May - as long as doesn't break up on its way towards the Sun

- The comet was discovered on December 28, 2019 in the area of Ursa Major
- Its currently in Mars' orbit but is on its way towards the Sun and getting brighter
- It was spotted by the Asteroid Terrestrial-impact Last Alert System (ATLAS)
- If it doesn't break up it will reach its closest point to the Sun by the end of the month

A comet called Atlas, discovered in December, is on its way towards Earth and could appear as bright as a crescent moon - unless it breaks up from the Sun's heat

ويقدر قطره الان ب 720,000 كم

THE SIZE OF COMET ATLAS: No one knows how big the icy core of Comet ATLAS (C/2019 Y4) might be—possibly no wider than a few kilometers. One thing's for sure, though, the comet's atmosphere is huge. New images from amateur astronomers around the world show that ATLAS's gaseous envelope has ballooned in diameter to ~720,000 km—about half as wide as the sun.

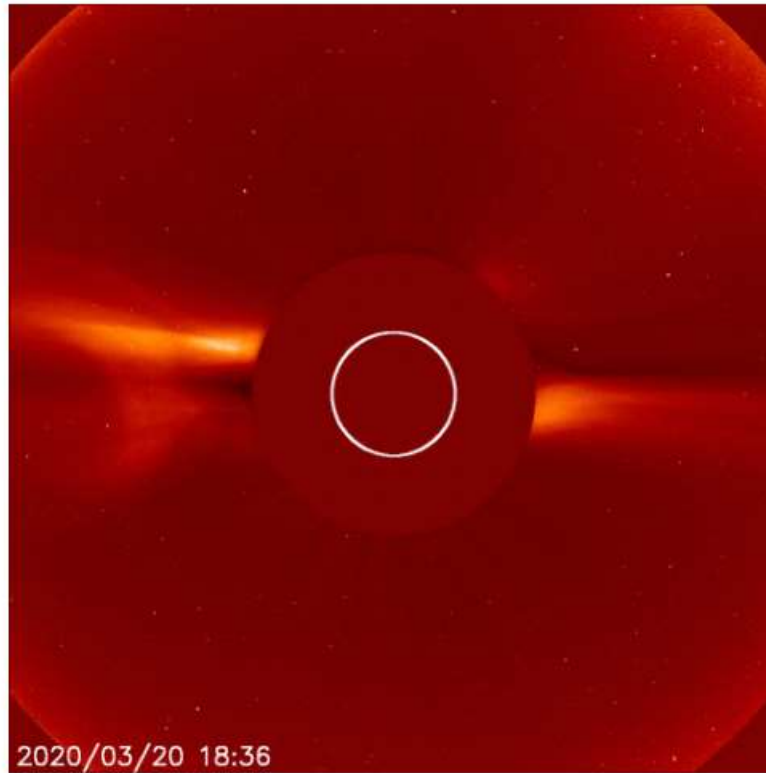

"Comet ATLAS's coma (atmosphere) is approximately 15 arcminutes in diameter," reports Michael Jäger of Weißenkirchen, Austria, who took the picture, above, on March 18th. "Its newly-formed tail is about the same size."

Other astronomers are getting similar results. 15 arcminutes = a quarter of a degree. Given Comet ATLAS's distance of 1.1 AU on March 18th, that angle corresponds to a physical size of 720,000 km.

On the scale of big things in the solar system, Comet ATLAS falls somewhere between the sun (1,392,000 km diameter) and Jupiter (139,820 km). It's not unusual for comets to grow so large. While their icy solid cores are typically mere kilometers in diameter, they can spew prodigious amounts of gas and dust into space, filling enormous volumes. In the fall of 2007, Comet 17P/Holmes partially exploded and, for a while, had an atmosphere even larger than the sun. The Great Comet of 1811 also had a sun-sized coma. Whether Comet ATLAS will eventually rival those behemoths of the past remains to be seen.

انفجار شمسي قوي في الوجه الاخر من الشمس

AN EXPLOSION ON THE FAR SIDE OF THE SUN: Solar Minimum is not as quiet as you think. On March 20th, something exploded on the farside of the sun. The Solar and Heliospheric Observatory (SOHO) saw the debris flying over the sun's eastern limb:

The blast site was hidden from view, so we don't know what exploded. It probably wasn't a sunspot. Sunspots have been extremely scarce for the past two years. More likely, a filament of magnetism became unstable and erupted, hurling bits of itself and surrounding plasma into space.

The resulting coronal mass ejection (CME) will miss Earth. But consider this: If the explosion had occurred only a couple weeks later, when the blast site would be facing Earth, we would now be bracing for a moderately strong geomagnetic storm. Maybe next time! Aurora alerts: SMS Text.

SALT LAKE CITY (KUTV) — There have been a total of 160 aftershocks since a 5.7 magnitude earthquake rattled the Salt Lake Valley, according to University of Utah Seismograph Stations.

There can be hundreds, even thousands of aftershocks after an earthquake. The number typically depends on the quake's magnitude.

You can see earthquake damage photos in our gallery above.

Three of those aftershocks were 4.0 magnitude or greater.

Severe weather kills over 55,700 livestock animals in NW Mongolia

Source: Xinhua | 2020-03-02 16:07:50 | Editor: Xiang Bo

ULAN BATOR, March 2 (Xinhua) -- Extreme wintry weather, known as dzud in Mongolia, has killed more than 55,700 livestock animals in the northwestern province of Khuvsgul alone since late last year, the provincial agricultural department said Monday.

"Dzud" is a Mongolian term to describe the frigid winter that comes after a dry summer and causes the death of a great number of livestock due to starvation or cold weather.

"A total of 55,764 livestock animals have died in 11 soums (a type of administrative district in Mongolia) of our province since late last year due to the severe wintry weather. Heavy snowfalls have hit the province 16 times since the beginning of November," the department said in a statement.

The agricultural department and other relevant provincial organizations have been distributing grass and fodder to local herders free of charge or at discounted prices, it added.

Mongolia is one of the last nomadic countries in the world, with a livestock population of 70.9 million, as of the end of 2019.

As snowfall has currently covered around 60 percent of the country, more than 80 soums in 15 provinces are experiencing dzud or near-dzud conditions, according to the country's National Emergency Management Agency.

Some 77,000 salmon have died at a Cooke Aquaculture farm on Newfoundland's south coast, the first to be reported under the Newfoundland and Labrador's stricter public disclosure laws.

In a statement, the Canadian firm said 14% of fish died at the 550,000-fish farm near Baie d'Espoir, Canada, putting the total number of dead salmon at about 77,000. Cooke blamed the latest die-off on "severe winter storm events" over the past month.

The latest incident comes six months after a massive die-off at a Northern Harvest Sea Farms operation in Fortune Bay. 2.6 million fish died in September due to what Northern Harvest -- a subsidiary of the Norwegian salmon giant Mowi -- said was warmer than normal water temperatures,

People with Type A blood are MORE likely to catch coronavirus than those with Type O, study claims

- Scientists studied the breakdown of coronavirus patients by their blood type
- People with type A blood were significantly more likely to contract virus
- In the general population Type O blood (34%) is more common than A (32%)
- But in the infected this was reversed with Type O just 25% while Type A was 41%

Abstract

Estimation of the prevalence and contagiousness of undocumented novel coronavirus (SARS-CoV2) infections is critical for understanding the overall prevalence and pandemic potential of this disease. Here we use observations of reported infection within China, in conjunction with mobility data, a networked dynamic metapopulation model and Bayesian inference, to infer critical epidemiological characteristics associated with SARS-CoV2, including the fraction of undocumented infections and their contagiousness. We estimate 86% of all infections were undocumented (95% CI: [82%–90%]) prior to 23 January 2020 travel restrictions. Per person, the transmission rate of undocumented infections was 55% of documented infections ([46%–62%]), yet, due to their greater numbers, undocumented infections were the infection source for 79% of documented cases. These findings explain the rapid geographic spread of SARS-CoV2 and indicate containment of this virus will be particularly challenging.

Geneva (AFP) - The World Health Organization recommended Tuesday that people suffering COVID-19 symptoms avoid taking ibuprofen, after French officials warned that anti-inflammatory drugs could worsen effects of the virus.

The warning by French Health Minister Olivier Veran followed a recent study in The Lancet medical journal that hypothesised that an enzyme boosted by anti-inflammatory drugs such as ibuprofen could facilitate and worsen COVID-19 infections.

Asked about the study, WHO spokesman Christian Lindmeier told

China ready to step up virus cooperation, Xi tells Putin

by Staff Writers
Beijing (AFP) March 19, 2020

China is prepared to "work with all other countries" to intensify the global fight against the deadly coronavirus pandemic, state media on Friday quoted President Xi Jinping as saying.

Xi made the comments in a late-night telephone call with Russia's Vladimir Putin, Xinhua news agency reported.

The Chinese leader said Beijing was "willing to make concerted efforts with Russia and all other countries to... safeguard global public health security," the report added.

"China has the confidence, capacity and certainty to achieve the ultimate victory over the epidemic," Xinhua quoted Xi as telling Putin.

The disease, which has now claimed more than 9,800 lives worldwide, first emerged in the central Chinese city of Wuhan late last year.

It has since spread to 158 countries and territories, according to an AFP tally.

China has faced criticism for not acting quickly enough -- and not disclosing enough information -- as the outbreak erupted.

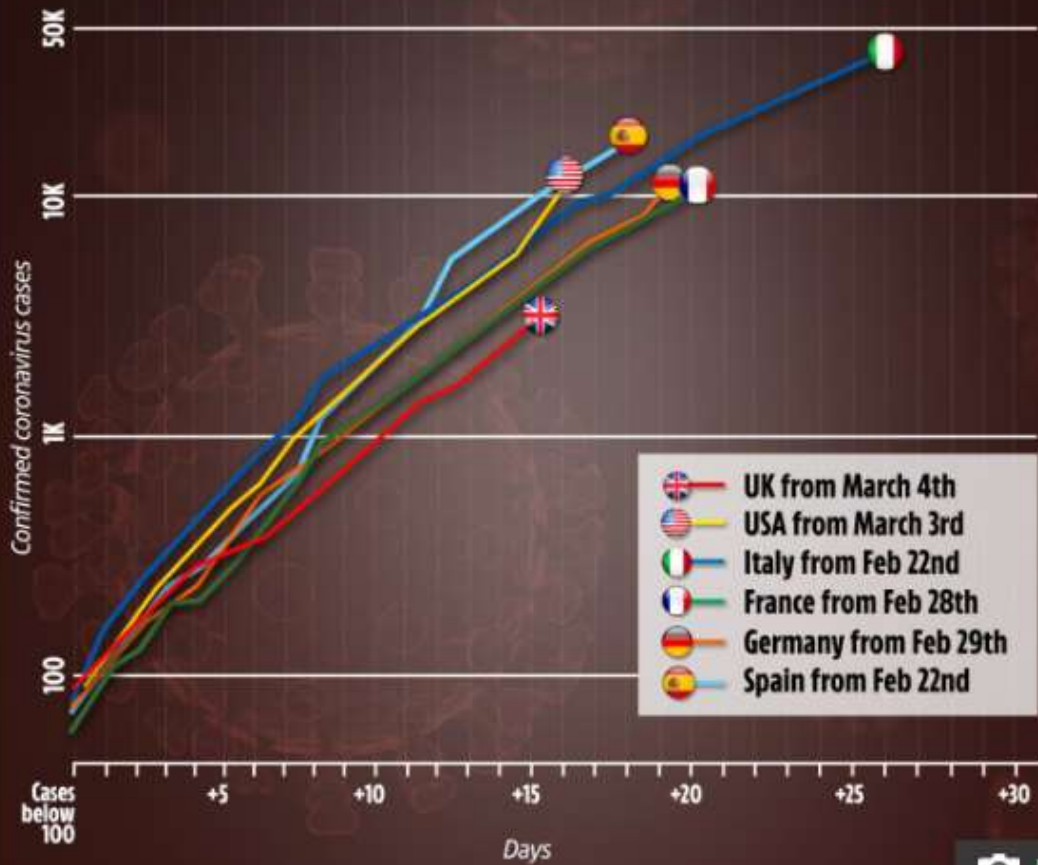

"Certainly the world is paying a big price for what they did," US President Donald Trump said Thursday.

Of course our politicians are attempting to put a positive spin on their directives by referring to them as “shelter-in-place” orders, and they are promising us that they are only “temporary”. COLUMBUS, Ohio (WSAZ) -- The State of Ohio has issued a "stay at home" order for the entire state.

"There is nothing in this order that we haven't already been talking about. There is nothing in this that I haven't been asking you to do for the last few weeks," Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine said Sunday.

DeWine says the order comes at a new stage in the fight against COVID-19.

The order does permit exceptions to staying home. Ohians will be able to leave home for health and safety, for necessary supplies and services, and for outdoor activity.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. military said Friday it is preparing plans to take over hotels and other buildings if necessary to add to the nation's supply of hospital rooms, part of its response to the coronavirus emergency.

Pentagon officials detailed the plans as they opened up the range of military capabilities and forces this week, with preparations for deploying thousands of National Guard troops, providing hospital ships and ferrying medical equipment.

Italy's coronavirus death toll feeds fear of what lies ahead in Europe and the U.S.

Shane Harris, The Washington Post Published 10:07 pm EDT, Saturday, March 21, 2020

Global anxiety over the coronavirus centered on Europe on Saturday, where Italy is bearing the brunt of the pandemic's unceasing spread. Italian officials announced that 793 people had succumbed to the virus in a single day. The staggering number brought the nation's total dead to more than 4,800, the most for a single country.

As death tolls mount across the continent, Italy has become a symbol of the enormous challenges facing public health authorities in Europe and in the United States, who are struggling to contain the virus.

Eleven days into Italy's nationwide lockdown, which includes travel restrictions and the closure of most stores apart from groceries and pharmacies, the number of confirmed cases still soared, with 6,557 new cases since Friday. Hospitals and morgues were overwhelmed. The government has reported 53,578 total cases, concentrated in the northern part of the country.

Italy's struggle to keep up with the virus offered a glimpse into what U.S. health officials fear could be ahead in New York and elsewhere: shortages of respiratory equipment and beds in intensive-care units.

Panic as coronavirus erupts across Africa – 'People will die on the streets'

Mar 23, 2020 | 0 | ★★★★★

(Express) – With cases of COVID-19 now recorded in more than two dozen African countries, and South Africa imposing a three-week lockdown which comes into force on Thursday, a German epidemiologist fears the disease will hit the continent hard in the summer, warning: "People will die in the streets".

Europe is currently the epicenter of the pandemic, with well over 60,000 confirmed cases, and health workers ready for the crisis to worsen in the coming months. However, while numbers in Africa have been relatively low, infections are starting to appear in

An empty herring stand and deserted streets around noon, outside the Royal Palace, rear, in the center of Amsterdam, Netherlands, March 18, 2020.

AMSTERDAM, NETHERLANDS - The prime minister in the Netherlands has offered reassurances amid the global coronavirus outbreak: telling citizens on Thursday there is no shortage of toilet paper.

"Yes, I have enough," Mark Rutte told a shopper in an informal exchange while visiting a supermarket to show support for workers. "They have it (on shelves) again."

"But there's enough in the whole country for the coming 10 years," he said. "We can all poop for 10 years."

As panic-buying of various products intensifies worldwide because of the global coronavirus pandemic, a church in the U.K. says its toilet paper has been stolen.

The church warden at St. Mary and St. Margaret's Church in Sprowston, Norwich, said she discovered two Sundays ago all of their paper rolls were gone, according to multiple news reports.

The church restrooms are open to the public every day of the week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., usually used by those visiting the cemetery and for community group meetings.

"We keep the church open for people to use it. My anxiety is that if anyone needs the loo the facilities are available for them," the Metro Manila (CNN Philippines, March 16) — The highly-pathogenic H5N6 avian influenza or bird flu has reemerged in the Philippines more than two years after a similar strain affected poultry in the country, Agriculture Secretary William Dar announced on Monday.

He said bird flu was detected in a quail farm in Jaen, Nueva Ecija. Testing for avian influenza was done on March 13 after 1,500 out of 15,000 quails died in a farm in Barangay Ulanin-Pitak, he said, adding that samples from 30 live quails from the said farm tested positive for the disease.

Dar said a total of 12,000 quails from the said farm were "surgically stomped out" and buried on March 14.

US Space Force debuts first offensive weapons system

by Staff Writers
Washington DC (AFNS) Mar 16, 2020

The first offensive weapon system in the United States Space Force, the Counter Communications System Block 10.2, achieved Initial Operating Capability on March 9, providing quick reaction capability with direct operational support to the warfighter.

The Space and Missile Systems Center's Special Programs directorate and the 4th Space Control Squadron held a ceremony on March 12 to commemorate this historic event handing over a key to symbolize the transfer of responsibility from the space program office to the space operations unit at Peterson Air Force Base, Colo.

The Counter Communications System, first introduced in 2004, is a transportable space electronic warfare system that reversibly denies adversary satellite communications developed in partnership with L3Harris.Col. Stephen Purdy, SMC Special Programs director, said the benefits of CCS to deployed forces and warfighters cannot be overstated.

"CCS B10.2 represents the end of the traditional way of development," Purdy said. "Future upgrades and enhancements will make use of SMC's Agile DevSecOps (Development, Security and Operations) approach adapting to the evolving battlefield while delivering capabilities to the warfighter faster and better than our opponents."

Coronavirus Fears Aside, Putin Pushes to Expand Power

Russian President Vladimir Putin gives a speech in Sevastopol, in Russia-annexed Crimea, March 18, 2020.

MOSCOW - Russian President Vladimir Putin indicated a nationwide vote on constitutional amendments that would open the door to extending his power might face delays because of concerns about the coronavirus pandemic, which has affected Russia little but ravaged other parts of the globe.

"I really am counting on people to show up on April 22 and support the changes," Putin said in a Wednesday speech that

Regional nuclear war a risk for global food security

by Staff Writers
Potsdam, Germany (SPX) Mar 17, 2020

Even a limited nuclear war could have dangerous effects far beyond the region that is fatally hit. It would result in global cooling that substantially reduces agricultural production in the world's main breadbasket regions, from the US, to Europe, Russia, and China.

The particular effect on food security worldwide including trade responses has now for the first time been revealed by an international team of scientists in a study based on advanced computer simulations. The sudden temperature reduction would lead to a food system shock unprecedented in documented history. It would not undo long-term climate change from fossil fuels use, though - after about a decade of cooling, global warming would surge again. end times

"We now know that nuclear conflict would not just be a terrible tragedy in the region where it happens - it is also an underestimated risk for global food security," says Jonas Jaegermeyr at the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research, the NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies, and the University of Chicago; lead-author of the study now published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We find severe losses in agricultural production, but importantly we also evaluate trade repercussions affecting local food availability. It turns out that major breadbasket regions would cut exports leaving countries worldwide short of supplies. A regional crisis would become global, because we all depend on the same climate system."

US warns Iraq it 'will not tolerate' attacks on Americans

by Staff Writers
Washington (AFP) March 16, 2020

Secretary of State Mike Pompeo warned Iraq Monday the US would retaliate "as necessary" against any new assaults on Americans after a slew of rocket attacks.

The United States last week launched airstrikes against an Iranian-allied paramilitary group following a deadly attack on an Iraqi base housing US troops -- but rocket fire has continued unabated.

In a phone call with Iraq's caretaker prime minister, Adel Abdel Mahdi, Pompeo said that Baghdad "must defend coalition personnel" who are officially deployed as part of the campaign against the Islamic State group.

"Secretary Pompeo noted that America will not tolerate attacks and threats to American lives and will take additional action as necessary in self-defense," the State Department said in a statement.

A fresh spate of rockets -- brazenly fired in the daytime -- targeted the crowded Taji air base north of Baghdad on Saturday, wounding three members of the US-led coalition.

None of the attacks have ever been claimed but the US has blamed hardline Shiite paramilitary groups, which are allied with neighboring Iran and incorporated into the Iraqi state.

On Wednesday, a similar rocket attack at Taji killed two American personnel and a British soldier in the deadliest such incident at an Iraqi base in years.

Iran warns Trump over 'dangerous actions' after Iraq strikes

by Staff Writers
Tehran (AFP) March 13, 2020

Iran on Friday warned US President Donald Trump against taking "dangerous actions" after American forces launched air strikes that they said targeted a pro-Iranian armed group in neighbouring Iraq.

"The United States cannot blame others... for the consequences of its illegal presence in Iraq and the nation's reaction to the assassination and killing of Iraqi commanders and fighters," foreign ministry spokesman Abbas Mousavi said.

"Instead of dangerous actions and baseless accusations, Mr Trump should reconsider the presence and behaviour of his troops in the area," he added.

The statement was issued hours after the Pentagon said the US had launched strikes against the Kataeb Hezbollah armed faction.

The United States said the strikes targeted five weapons facilities across Iraq.

It said they were carried out in response to the killing on Wednesday of two Americans and a Briton in a rocket attack on Taji air base.

Wednesday's attack was the 22nd on US installations in Iraq, including the American embassy, since late October.

While there was no immediate claim of responsibility, Washington has blamed what it says are Iran-backed factions from the Hashed al-Shaabi network, a state-sponsored umbrella group that includes Kataeb Hezbollah, for recent similar violence.

US and China trade barbs over coronavirus

By Sebastian Ricci with Shaun Tandon in Washington
Beijing (AFP) March 17, 2020

US President Donald Trump doubled down Tuesday on calling the coronavirus spreading rapidly across the world the "Chinese Virus," despite protests from Beijing.

"It did come from China, so I think it's very accurate," Trump told a news conference, defending tweets in which he used the label for the COVID-19 pandemic.

Trump indicated that another motive was payback for what he said was China's disinformation campaign blaming the US military for the virus.

"China was putting out information which was false," he said.

"I didn't appreciate the fact that China was saying that our military gave it to them. Our military did not give it to anybody."

The two countries have sparred over the origin of the virus for days, with a Chinese official promoting conspiracy theories claiming it was brought to China by the US army and Beijing accusing American officials of stigmatizing an entire nation.

In his original tweet on Monday, Trump described US airlines and

Serbia lauds China virus aid, blasts lack of EU help

Belgrade (AFP) March 17, 2020 - Serbia's president praised China Tuesday for helping to battle the new coronavirus as he accused the European Union of abandoning Belgrade by restricting exports of protective equipment.

The Balkan state, a candidate for EU membership, has recorded about 65 cases of COVID-19 and is trying to prevent a full-scale outbreak that could cripple its health care system.

News that Brussels is now limiting exports of masks and other protective equipment has angered Serbian president Aleksandar Vucic, who is casting China as the country's saviour.

"We are waiting here for our Chinese brothers. It has turned out that without you Europe can hardly defend itself," Vucic told Beijing's ambassador Chen Bo after Chinese tests for the new coronavirus arrived Tuesday.

"If all goes well, by the end of the week experts from China will come," the ambassador was quoted by Serbian state TV as saying.

US summons Chinese ambassador over COVID-19 conspiracy theory

By Shaun TANDON
Washington (AFP) March 13, 2020

The United States on Friday summoned China's ambassador after a senior official in Beijing tweeted the "ridiculous" suggestion that the US military started the COVID-19 pandemic, the State Department said.

David Stilwell, the top US diplomat for Asia, issued a "stern representation" to Ambassador Cui Tiankai a day after foreign ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian tweeted the conspiracy theory.

"China is seeking to deflect criticism for its role in starting a global pandemic and not telling the world," a State Department official said.

"Spreading conspiracy theories is dangerous and ridiculous. We wanted to put the government on notice we won't tolerate it, for the good of the Chinese people and the world," the official said.

Zhao, in tweets in both Mandarin and English that gained wide traction on Chinese social media, a day earlier suggested that "patient zero" in the global pandemic may have come from the United States -- not the Chinese metropolis of Wuhan, where cases were first reported in late 2019.

"It might be US army who brought the epidemic to Wuhan. Be transparent! Make public your data! US owe us an explanation," tweeted Zhao, who is known for his provocative statements on social media.

The Washington Post

WASHINGTON – The U.S. government is in active talks with Facebook, Google and a wide array of tech companies and health experts about how they can use data gleaned from Americans' phones to combat the novel coronavirus, including tracking whether people are keeping one another at safe distances to stem the outbreak.

Public-health experts are interested in the possibility that private-sector companies could compile the data in anonymous, aggregated form, which they could then use to map the spread of the infection, according to three people familiar with the effort, who requested anonymity because the project is in its early stages.

Analyzing trends in smartphone owners' whereabouts could prove to be a powerful tool for health authorities looking to track coronavirus, which has infected more than 180,000 people globally. But it's also an approach that could leave some Americans uncomfortable, depending on how it's implemented, given the sensitivity when it comes to details about their daily whereabouts.

In recent interviews, Facebook executives said the U.S. government is particularly interested in understanding patterns of people's movements, which can be derived through data the company collects from users who allow it. The tech giant in the past has provided this information to researchers in the form of statistics, which in the case of coronavirus, could help officials predict the next hotspot or decide where to allocate overstretched health resources.

Oil futures began their plunge last week after OPEC+ failed to agree on production cuts amid global concerns over the new coronavirus. The dispute over cuts prompted Saudi Arabia to declare a price war, with the kingdom, the United Arab Emirates and Russia moving to increase oil output by several million barrels per day.

The price of WTI crude, one of several major benchmarks in oil prices, collapsed to $25.08 per barrel, its lowest indicator since November 2002, in Wednesday trading.

The 5 percent+ slide in prices for May futures follows a slight recovery Tuesday to $25.55. Other benchmarks including Brent also dropped Wednesday, with the latter slipping 5 percentage points to below $27

13: 13 لنسلك بلياقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيرا للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

وكما قلت هو اخبرنا لكي لا نخاف

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَأَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.».

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضاً استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.
