والعلامات حتى 30 سبتمبر 2014

Holy_bible_1

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأیضا أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن ایضا علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. و نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل ایضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا بعض الاحداث التي قال عنها الرب يسوع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب انظروا لا ترتاعوا لانه لا بد ان تكون هذه كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

مت 24: 7 لانه تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة وتكون مجاعات واوبئة وزلازل في اماكن

مت 24: 8 ولكن هذه كلها مبتدأ الازعاج

مت 24: 9 حينئذ يسلمونكم الى ضيق ويقتلونكم وتكونون مبغضين من جميع الامم لاجل اسمي

مت 24: 10 وحينئذ يعثر كثيرون ويسلمون بعضهم بعضا ويبغضون بعضهم بعضا

مت 24: 11 ويقوم انبياء كذبة كثيرون ويضلون كثيرين

مت 24: 12 ولكثرة الاثم تبرد محبة الكثيرين

مت 24: 13 ولكن الذي يصبر الى المنتهى فهذا يخلص

مت 24: 14 ويكرز ببشارة الملكوت هذه في كل المسكونة شهادة لجميع الامم ثم ياتي المنتهى

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

India enters Mars orbit on first attempt

STORY HIGHLIGHTS

- India's Mars Orbiter Mission entered Mars' orbit Wednesday
- India's spacecraft cost $74 million, a fraction of the $671 million spent by NASA's MAVEN
- India PM Narendra Modi praises country's efforts
- Entering Mars' orbit is complicated, as nearly half of all attempts have failed

(CNN) -- India's Mars Orbiter Mission successfully entered Mars' orbit Wednesday morning, becoming the first nation to arrive on its first attempt and the first Asian country to reach the Red Planet.

"We have gone beyond the boundaries of human enterprise and human imagination," declared India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who watched from the space agency's nerve center in Bangalore. "We have accurately navigated our spacecraft through a route known to a very few."

Giant hailstone crashes through roof of Cardiff family's home

By South Wales Evening Post | Posted: September 23, 2014

The block of ice, thought to be a megacryometeor.

Comments (0)

A sleeping family were woken by a mystery block of ice which fell from the night sky and crashed through the roof of their home.

Hospital consultant Inderpal Singh, 40, heard a huge bang in the middle of the night and thought his home was being raided.

Dr Singh, 40, his wife Manmett Kaur and their two children went to confront the intruders - but all they found was a giant frozen slab.

Turkey lashed by howling winds from mega-storm roaring across the Black Sea

Posted on September 29, 2014

September 2014 – TURKEY - Turkey's meteorology institute warns about a storm in the Black Sea region, as well as the region west of the Mediterranean, starting on the night of Sept. 28, while strong winds have caused damage in several cities, including Istanbul, over the weekend. The storms will hit the provinces west of the Mediterranean on the night of Sept. 28, while the eastern Black Sea region will be affected with strong winds starting Sept. 29, according to the meteorology institution. The institution warned particularly fishermen, as well as citizens in general, about the storm. Storms over the weekend caused damage in many cities, particularly in Istanbul. A road near a construction site has been destroyed, with four cars falling into the large site in the Küçükçekmece district of Istanbul. No one was injured, as the incident took place at around 3:30 a.m. Sept. 28, after heavy rain. Another incident took place in the central Beyoğlu district of Istanbul when a wall behind three buildings was destroyed due to heavy rain and a storm. No casualties or injuries were reported, though the incident caused panic in the Cihangir neighborhood. Istanbul Greater Municipality (İBB) said the storm caused 67 trees to fall down, while the roofs of several buildings collapsed.

Data proves Fukushima has exceeded Chernobyl in radiation release

(NaturalNews) The cumulative amount of radiation released from Fukushima already exceeds that of the infamous 1986 Chernobyl disaster, says a new study published in the journal Nature -- and the damage, of course, is still ongoing.

Scientists from Japan, after testing radiation concentrations in various spots throughout the Pacific Ocean and on land, found that at least 120 petabecquerels (PBq), or 120 quadrillion becquerels (Bq), of radioactive cesium-134 (Cs-134) and cesium-137 (Cs-137) have been released by Fukushima just into the world's oceans.

Fukushima, Japan rocked by two earthquakes in one hour; epicenter near nuclear plants

Posted on September 25, 2014

September 2014 – JAPAN – A pair of moderate earthquakes struck just off the coast of Japan's Fukushima Prefecture Wednesday, close to the nuclear power plants crippled by the March 2011 tsunami. There were no early reports of damage, injuries, or new problems at the nuclear plants. The Japan Meteorological Agency says the first earthquake struck at 9:45 p.m. JST (8:45 a.m. EDT in the U.S.) and registered a magnitude of 5.0. The second quake, a slightly stronger magnitude-5.2 tremor, struck 46 minutes later. Both were centered just off the coast of Fukushima Prefecture, where the Fukushima Daiichi and Fukushima Daini reactors were severely damaged in the March 11, 2011 tsunami that followed a magnitude-9.0 quake farther offshore. The damage spawned the worst crisis at a nuclear power plant since the Chernobyl disaster in 1986, and prompted Japan to shut down most of its nuclear power plants. Tokyo Electric Power Company (TEPCO) has been working to contain radioactive materials in the years since. TEPCO said there were no new abnormalities caused by Wednesday's quakes, nor any changes to radioactivity levels at the monitoring post there, according to public broadcaster NHK. The company said there were no reported abnormalities at its Tokai Daini nuclear power plant, farther south along the coast of Ibaraki Prefecture. The plant has been shut down since 2011.

Seismic Monitoring at Long Valley Caldera

As magma moves through the earth, it displaces and fractures rock along the way. This movement causes earthquakes that can be recorded with seismometers at the surface of the earth. Seismic monitoring is the most used technique for volcano surveillance.

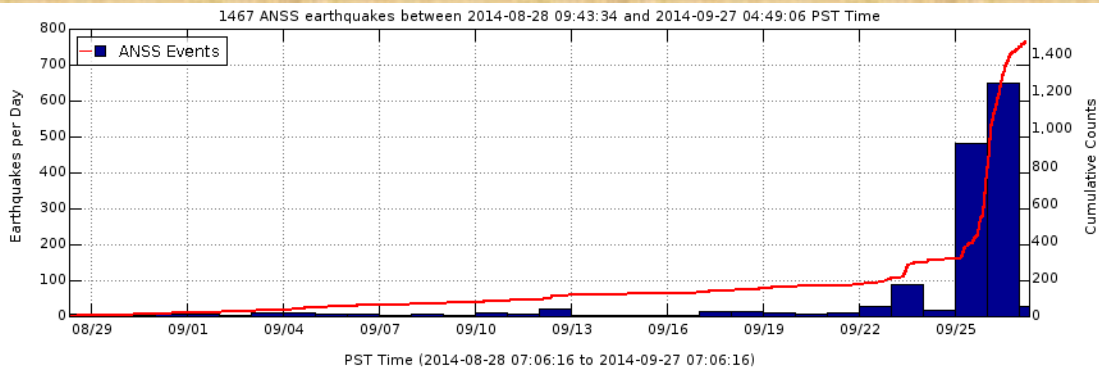

Volcanic earthquakes often provide the initial sign of volcanic unrest. Their signals differ from typical, tectonic, earthquakes because they tend to be found at depths shallower than 10 km, are small in magnitude (< 3), occur in swarms, and are restricted to the area beneath a volcano. Harmonic tremor, or volcanic tremor, is the name for the continuous, rhythmic seismic energy associated with underground magma movement.

At Long Valley Caldera, there are currently 61 seismometers that make up the seismic network used to determine earthquake location and energy of movement with time. The first instrument was installed in 1974 and additional instruments were added throughout the 1980s and 1990s. Between 2000 and 2003, the seismic network was updated to include additional, more modern instruments.

The vertical bars on the graphs below correspond with the left-side y-axis and represent the number of earthquakes per day. The red line indicates the cumulative number of earthquakes and corresponds with the right-side y-axis.

Earthquake swarms occurred at Long Valley from 1978-1983, 1990-1995, 1996, and 1997-1998. The rate of earthquakes since the end of the last swarm has been relatively low considering the history since seismic monitoring started.

4.9-Magnitude Earthquake in Peru Kills at Least 8, Damages 300 Homes

Published: Sep 29, 2014, 5:46 AM EDT | weather.com

The small farming town of Misca was rattled by a magnitude 4.9 earthquake Sunday.

At least eight people are dead, five injured and 300 homes damaged after a shallow 4.9-magnitude earthquake rocked a remote village in Peru on Sunday, according to Diario Correo. Most of the victims were killed after their crudely constructed homes collapsed, the Associated Press reports.

Peru's President Ollanta Humala declared a state of emergency for 90 days and stated it would be extended if needed.

(MORE: Volcanic Eruption Kills at Least 30)

The quake was centered 25 miles southeast of Cuzco in the farming town of Misca in the Paruro region and was a relatively shallow five miles deep.

Spanish-Language news site El Comercio reports that four of the dead are children, including a three-month-old baby. Landslides in the area have made it difficult for rescue personnel to reach those affected.

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP) - Ten years ago this week, Mount St. Helens awoke from an 18-year geological slumber.

The news media and volcano-watchers flocked to Johnston Ridge, the closest road with a crater view. Steam and ash eruptions shot thousands of feet into the air, and for several weeks, the area near the volcano was closed because of safety concerns.

Over the next three years, a second lava dome slowly appeared in the crater, eventually rising 1,076 feet above the crater floor. By the time the eruption ended in 2008, climbers had already been allowed back to the summit and media attention faded.

New aerial photos of Mount St. Helens blast revealed

Though the mountain isn't getting as much publicity these days, scientists with the U.S. Geological Survey are marking the anniversary to highlight new eruption warning technology they've installed around the volcano since then and to remind people that Mount St. Helens will continue to rebuilt itself.

The eruption that started a decade ago was the second of two dome-building phases.

The first one started after the explosive eruption of May 18, 1980. Twenty lava eruptions occurred over the next six years.

"Epidemic?" Tyumen mass killing small birds - tits corpses strewn center and neighborhoods. Veterinarians started checking

22/09/2014 13:35

Anxious residents of Tyumen blasted internet reports that in the mass killing tits and pigeons - calf dead birds, judging by the photos, dozens can be seen throughout the city. Users of social networks "VC" rushed to share with each other the preliminary version of the reasons for this "avian plague".

"Most likely the birds are fighting for mirror glass CUM - not noticing the obstacles ... The same thing happens at the Shiba. And why titmouse - most likely they are not experienced as compared with sparrows and crows, "- says one of Tyumentsev (spelling and punctuation preserved hereafter - Ed.). Some citizens believe that birds are dying from malnutrition. "Apples eat fermented in the trees, from which they get drunk, then to strike somewhere, here and die" - suggested another user on the network. "Herbs of something ... a horror. And no one cares! People, and who ever appealed to the administration or there to some environmentalists. Not once topic comes up already. We need to understand ... "- outraged citizens.

Dozens of dead blue-tits, as they say Tyumentsev, you can see about the Central Department Store, in the center of the streets Melnikaite Republic, in the districts of Tyumen and Yamal-2, as well as in the territory of the shopping center "Prime" and the SEC "Magnate". "There's a bunch of dead birds!" - Reported Tyumentsev.

More bird flu detected in ducks in central Vietnam

English.news.cn 2014-09-22 17:07:14

HO CHI MINH CITY, Sept. 22 (Xinhua) -- More than 3,100 ducks were found to be infected with the bird flu virus A/H5N6 in farms in Vietnam's central Quang Nam province, local press reported Monday.

A flock of 2,000 ducks at a farm in Tam My Dong commune in Nui Thanh district had tested positive for the virus last week, and more than 900 ducks in other poultry farms in the commune were then found dead en masse, according to Vietnam News daily.

Phan Nhu Lai, deputy head of Nui Thanh district's veterinary center, was quoted in the report as saying that to prevent the spread of the virus infection, the center killed all the infected birds, burned their carcasses and sprayed chemicals at the infected farms.

The center vaccinated 50 flocks of ducks and sprayed all farms in the commune, and the district's veterinary emergency teams are instructed to work in shifts for 24-hour periods to monitor the virus infection in the area.

In addition, all veterinary centers in the province's 18 districts are requested to prepare measures against the spread of the A/H5N6 virus.

Previously, on Sept. 16, central Quang Ngai province's steering committee for cattle and poultry disease prevention, together with the veterinary sub-department, culled 1,000 A/H5N6 infected birds, according to Vietnam News Agency.

The infected birds were traced back to a poultry farm in Tin An Dong commune, Quang Ngai city. It was the fourth H5N6 bird flu virus case in the province.

The 40-day old flock had been vaccinated, but dozens of them died and tested positive for the virus.

THE reason why hundreds of fish died in Reliance Creek, Habana, is still unknown.

Officers from the Department of Environment and Heritage Protection were at the site yesterday.

An EHP spokesman said it was important a thorough investigation was conducted at the freshwater creek.

"Officers took fish and water samples to help in the investigation," he said.

"No further details are available at this stage."

Mackay Recreational Fishing Alliance president Lance Murray said the site looked like the scene of a "plane crash".

LARGE NUMBER OF WATER BIRDS FOUND DEAD ON SHORE

Community News — 26 September 2014

More than 30 Egyptian Geese and Coots were found dead in the water on the shoreline in De Rust on Friday afternoon.

The De Rust Fishing Resort's owner, Braam Oosthuizen, told Kormorant on Monday that he was shocked by the discovery, as it might indicate that the birds may have been poisoned.

"Our first thought was that they might have been shot, but upon inspection we could not find any injuries. We clean the shoreline daily and on Thursday the water birds were all fine. They have been here for a long time," he said.

Hartbeespoort Animal Welfare chairperson, Linda Spencer-Coye has taken a carcass to Onderstepoort for an autopsy to establish the cause of the water birds' death. The result is expected next week.

ROSARIO, Cavite – The dead fish floating along Maalimango River in this town has dwindled, officials said yesterday.

Mayor Jose "Nonong" Ricafrente said he would call for an investigation on the incident which killed thousands of fully-grown and small tilapia, banak and other fish species along the river.

Ricafrente, who was saddened by the incident, said that the river fish losses is estimated at more than P1 million.

In an interview, Ricafrente said that dead fish continue to float along the river as of 12 noon yesterday even as a cleanup is being made in the tributary.

BFAR Officer Rodel Marasigan had taken fish and water samples for laboratory examination on Thursday. (Anthony Giron)

Hundreds of unidentified floating objects have washed up on Dee Why Beach, causing locals to ask whether the green, furry balls are alien eggs, Japanese moss balls or some kind of tennis nightmare.

Dee Why Surf Life Saving Club patrol member Rae-Maree Hutton said she came across the unusual sight on her morning walk.

"I didn't want to touch one because you never know what can sting you on the beach, but I did poke it with my toes and it's squishy, like a sponge," Ms Hutton.

Ebola cases estimated to hit 1.4 million by mid-January: dead corpses dumped in rivers

Posted on September 24, 2014

September 2014 – AFRICA – New estimates by the World Health Organization and the U.S. health agency are warning that the number of Ebola cases could soar dramatically – the U.S. says up to 1.4 million by mid-January in two nations alone – unless efforts to curb the outbreak are significantly ramped up. Since the first cases were reported six months ago, the tally of cases in West Africa has reached an estimated 5,800 illnesses and over 2,800 deaths. But the U.N. health agency has warned that tallies of recorded cases and deaths are likely to be gross underestimates of the toll that the killer virus is wreaking on West Africa. The U.N. health agency said Tuesday that the true death toll for Liberia, the hardest-hit nation in the outbreak, may never be known, since many bodies of Ebola victims in a crowded slum in the capital, Monrovia, have simply been thrown into nearby rivers. In its new analysis, WHO said Ebola cases are rising exponentially and warned the disease could sicken people for years to come without better control measures. The WHO's calculations are based on reported cases only. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, however, released its own predictions Tuesday for the epidemic's toll, based partly on the assumption that Ebola cases are being underreported. The report says there could be up to 21,000 reported and unreported cases in Liberia and Sierra Leone alone by the end of this month and that cases could balloon to as many as 1.4 million by mid-January.

Sierra Leone widens Ebola quarantine to three more districts

Umaru Fofana is in the Sierra Leone capital, Freetown

Sierra Leone's President Ernest Bai Koroma has widened a quarantine to include another one million people in an attempt to curb the spread of Ebola.

The northern districts of Port Loko and Bombali, and Moyamba in the south, will in effect be sealed off immediately.

Nearly 600 people have died of the virus in Sierra Leone where two eastern districts are already blockaded.

Meanwhile, US President Barack Obama has said the world needs to act faster to halt the West Africa Ebola outbreak.

Ebola Death Toll In West Africa Passes 3,000: WHO

Reuters

Posted: 09/26/2014 3:07 pm EDT | Updated: 46 minutes ago

(Adds details from report, background)

DAKAR, Sept 26 (Reuters) - The death toll from an outbreak of Ebola in West Africa has risen to at least 3,091 out of 6,574 probable, suspected and confirmed cases, the World Health Organization said on Friday.

Liberia has recorded 1,830 deaths, around three times as many as in either Guinea or Sierra Leone, the two other most affected countries, according to WHO data received up to Sept. 23.

An outbreak that began in a remote corner of Guinea has taken hold of much of neighboring Liberia and Sierra Leone, prompting warnings that tens of thousands of people may die from the worst outbreak of the disease on record.

The WHO update said Liberia had reported six confirmed cases of Ebola and four deaths in the Grand Cru district, which is near the border with Ivory Coast and had not previously recorded any cases of Ebola.

SIM, the global mission organization of which SIM USA is a part, is encouraging Christians around the world to set aside Monday through Oct. 5 and pray that God would stop the deadly Ebola virus in West Africa.

SIM encourages prayer specifically for the people of Liberia, Sierra Leone and Guinea, where the Ebola outbreak has been most severe. According to the World Health Organization, nearly 3,000 people already have died from Ebola, and more than 6,200 probable, confirmed and suspected cases of the disease have been reported. Experts say infections from the Ebola epidemic could soar to 1.4 million by mid-January.

"Our aim is that prayers will be raised continually throughout the entire week on behalf of those infected and affected by the Ebola virus," said Joshua Bogunjoko, international director of SIM. Health officials: 6 children in NC have enterovirus

More than half of U.S. states have confirmed cases of a respiratory illness that has sickened children with symptoms ranging from mild colds to more severe breathing difficulties, according to health officials.

As of Monday, 175 people in 27 states had been diagnosed since mid-August with illness caused by the somewhat rare enterovirus D68, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said.

In a separate statement, the state health department in North Carolina confirmed the presence of the virus there, indicating the illness has spread to at least 28 states.

Outbreak of a Respiratory Illness Escalates Among Children and Mystifies Scientists

An outbreak of respiratory illness first observed in the Midwest has spread to 38 states, sending children to hospitals and baffling scientists trying to understand its virulent resurgence.

As of Thursday, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention had confirmed 226 cases of infection with enterovirus 68. But it is likely that many times that number have been stricken. One case involved an adult, and no deaths have been linked to the infection.

“What the C.D.C. is reporting is clearly the tip of the iceberg,” said Dr. Mary Anne Jackson, the division director of infectious diseases at Children’s Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Mo. The hospital was the first to alert the agency last month to an unusual increase in children with trouble breathing. Since then, Dr. Jackson has received calls from colleagues nationwide seeking guidance. Some

Mystery Virus Causing Paralysis in Colorado Children

Health officials are investigating nine cases of muscle weakness or paralysis in Colorado children and whether the culprit might be a virus causing severe respiratory illness across the country. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on Friday sent doctors an alert about the polio-like cases and said the germ – enterovirus 68 – was detected in four out of eight of the sick children who had a certain medical test. The status of the ninth case is unclear. The virus can cause paralysis but other germs can, too. Health officials don't know whether the virus caused any of the children's arm and leg weaknesses or whether it's just a germ they coincidentally picked up. "That's why we want more information," and for doctors to report similar cases, said the CDC's Dr. Jane Seward. More

The security officials said Russia complained Sunday in quiet talks with United Nations representatives that the Obama administration's current aerial campaign against Islamic State fighters in Syria is a violation of international agreements regarding control of Syrian airspace.

The officials said Russia warned it could potentially retaliate if U.S. or Arab airstrikes go beyond targeting Islamic State of Iraq and Syria, or ISIS, and instead bomb any Syrian regime targets.

Use of China's anti-ship missile against US could trigger nuclear war

Staff Reporter | 2014-09-24 | 17:39 (GMT+8)

If China were to launch its DF-21D anti-ship ballistic missile against a US carrier battle group in the Western Pacific, the US could respond with a full nuclear retaliation, according to Robert Farley, an assistant professor at the Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce of University of Kentucky in a recent article written for Washington-based National Interest magazine.

Because it takes at least 15 minutes for an anti-ship ballistic missile to reach its target, an aircraft carrier has enough time to avoid the attack in open sea. Farley said that the missile requires terminal guidance, as it must revise its flight path after reentering the atmosphere. It needs to be

U.S. To Launch New Generation Submarines To Counter Threats From The Bulging Fleet of Russia and China

A submarine race is in the making. The U.S. has announced its new generation Ohio class submarines to address new threats from Russia and China. In an insightful assessment, the U.S. Navy expresses its concerns about the rapidly expanding submarine fleet of Russia and China while defending the new submarine push of U.S.A.

Vice Adm. Michael Connor, the U.S. Navy's Atlantic Submarine Force commander, notes that the fast-paced development of ballistic missile submarine by Russia and China's will require a matching deployment of U.S. submarine fleet, reported Fox News.

What is worrying the U.S. is Russia's significant nuclear arsenal that it bequeathed from the Soviet days. Thus Russia retains all the nuclear capabilities. They are regrowing those capabilities, and Russia showing aspirations for more territory and influence, reminiscent of the erstwhile Soviet Union.

PLA Navy enters Persian Gulf as US bombs Islamic State

While the United States launched air strikes against the Islamic State in Syria with F-22 stealth fighters, a destroyer and a frigate belonging to the People's Liberation Army Navy entered the Persian Gulf to conduct joint naval exercises with Iran, according to our sister paper Want Daily.

The US airstrikes on Sept. 23 carried out with support from Bahrain, Jordan, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, primarily targeted an Islamic State stronghold in Raqqa in what the paper said was the first time F-22 Raptors have been seen in action against a terror organization.

13,000 US troops to be deployed to Iraq: Officials

Iraqi officials say that the United States is due to send 13,000 soldiers to Iraq, despite its claims of complete military withdrawal from the country.

The vice president of the local council of Iraq's Saladin Province made the announcement on Thursday, adding that the troops, along with their vehicles, would be stationed at the Speicher airfield in the city of Tikrit, located 140 kilometers (87 miles) northwest of the capital, Baghdad.

Washington has already sent 1,600 troops to Iraq, most recently on September 10, when an additional 475 soldiers were deployed to the country. The US claims most of them (IraqiNews.com) On Monday several Members of Parliament from Diwaniyah Province confirmed that ISIS killed over 300 soldiers using chlorine gas for the first time in Saqlawiyah, north of Fallujah.

Islamic Dawa party MP Ali al-Badri said, at a press conference at the parliament building in the presence of a number of deputies of Diwaniyah province and attended by IraqiNews.com that "the terrorist organization ISIS used chlorine gas for the first time in the region of Saqlawiyah after trapping more than 400 troops, resulting in the deaths of many of them due to suffocation while the terrorist gangs detonated car bombs within the brigade headquarters."

Badri said, "We hold the full responsibility for the fate of the trapped soldiers to the Commanding General of the Armed Forces, Haider Abadi, and the security leaders, especially the Anbar Operations Chief, Lt. Gen. Rashid Flaih, because of the slow measures taken by the Air Force despite frequent appeals for rapid procedures to rescue the soldiers since several days ago."

Badri added that the "Saqlawiyah crime is considered as the second Speicher Massacre," stressing that "300 soldiers were killed in the attack."

Gaziantep, Turkey (CNN) -- The United States may be touting its strikes on ISIS targets in Syria, but one of the terror group's fighters says the hits are trivial at best.

In an exclusive interview with CNN, a Syrian ISIS fighter using the pseudonym Abu Talha said the militant group has been preparing for such attacks.

"We've been ready for this for some time," Abu Talha said. "We know that our bases are known because they're tracking us with radars and satellites, so we had backup locations."

The Turkish military has deployed tanks to the Syrian border where thousands of refugees - many of them ethnic Kurds - have gathered, fleeing from murderous Islamic State militants.

The porous border is believed to be the main route for Western would-be jihadists to join up with IS and other extremist groups in the Middle East as recruits fly into airports popular with tourists in southern Turkey, before easily slipping over the border into war-torn Syria.

But armed forces have rushed to control the barbed wire territory line which is now a key route of escape for Syrian Kurds.

Meanwhile, Kurdish forces in northern Syria pushed back an advance by Islamic State fighters towards a strategic town on the Turkish border on Thursday and appealed for U.S.-led air strikes to target the insurgents' tanks and heavy armaments.

Man forbidden from flying U.S. flag on his balcony because it could 'offend foreign people'

Al Messerschmidt/Getty Images

Brad Smith, a student at San Diego State University and a tenant of Boulevard 63 Apartments, said apartment complex managers told him to remove the American flag he was displaying on his apartment's balcony because it "could offend foreign people."

Smith said that when he asked management about the notice he received ordering him to remove the flag, they reportedly told him "it was for political reasons and that the flag could offend foreign people that live here, foreign exchange students."

ABC News' investigation revealed that the rules of Smith's lease prohibit signs or other personal property from being kept outside the premises, and that management determines what is "permissible and acceptable."

But Smith asserts this is not the explanation he was given.

"This was never brought to my attention," Smith said. "I've had friends and family fight to defend that flag."

The apartment complex called the incident a "misunderstanding," and has since amended its rules to permit the display of state and country flags. --Teresa Mull

iPhone? It's a spyphone: Apple devices can record your every movement

It is tracking your every move – recording the exact time you left for work, where you bought your coffee and where you like to shop.

But this isn't a futuristic spy drone or some sinister Big Brother state – it's the iPhone sitting in your pocket.

Hidden in Apple phones is a function which logs every journey. The iPhones are then able to analyse the data to figure out where you live and work, basing decisions on the frequency and timing of trips.

The function – called the Frequent Locations feature – was quietly introduced to iPhones a year ago. But since access to the programme is buried beneath five layers of settings menus, few people know it exists.

Apple claims the data never leaves your phone.

Unregulated genetically modified wheat has emerged in a second location in the United States.

No genetically engineered wheat has been approved for US farming, and the discovery of unapproved varieties can pose a threat to trade with countries that have concerns about genetically modified foods.

The Agriculture Department said on Friday that the incident in Montana was on a smaller scale than one last year that prompted several Asian countries to temporarily ban US wheat imports.

The herbicide-resistant wheat was found on up to three acres in Montana, while the genetically engineered plants found in Oregon in 2013 were spread over more than 100 acres.

The plants were also found at a university research centre in Huntley, Montana, where genetically modified wheat was legally tested by seed giant Monsanto 11 years ago.

The plants in Oregon were found in a field that had never conducted such tests, prompting questions about how they got there.

The department said it was investigating the discovery of the Montana wheat, which is a different variety than the variety found in Oregon.

5 U.S. Banks Each Have More Than 40 Trillion Dollars In Exposure To Derivatives

By Michael Snyder, on September 24th, 2014

When is the U.S. banking system going to crash? I can sum it up in three words. Watch the derivatives. It used to be only four, but now there are five "too big to fail" banks in the United States that each have more than 40 trillion dollars in exposure to derivatives. Today, the U.S. national debt is sitting at a grand total of about 17.7 trillion dollars, so when we are talking about 40 trillion dollars we are talking about an amount of money that is almost unimaginable. And unlike stocks and bonds, these derivatives do not represent "investments" in anything. They can be incredibly complex, but essentially they are just paper wagers about what will happen in the future. The truth is that derivatives trading is not too different from betting on baseball or football games. Trading in derivatives is basically just a form of legalized gambling, and the "too big to fail" banks have transformed Wall Street into the largest casino in the history of the planet. When this derivatives bubble bursts (and as surely as I am writing this it will), the pain that it will cause the global economy will be greater than words can describe.

If derivatives trading is so risky, then why do our big banks do it?

The answer to that question comes down to just one thing.

Greed.

The "too big to fail" banks run up enormous profits from their derivatives trading. According to the New York Times, U.S. banks "have nearly $280 billion of derivatives on their books" even though the financial crisis of 2008 demonstrated how dangerous they could be...

Chrislam Starts To Spread In America

You knew this day was going to come, when the liberal "love gospel" preachers who, desiring to fill their seats and bank accounts, would find a way to merge apostate christianity with the Devil's religion of Islam. That day is here.

Rick Warren, founder and pastor of Saddleback Community Church in Orange County California, addressed the convention of the Islamic Society of North America. Warren stated that Muslims and Christians must work together to combat stereotypes, promote peace and freedom, and solve global problems. Christians and Moslems – faith mates, soul mates and now work mates! Chrislam!

"Before we "shake your hand" in responding to your letter, we ask forgiveness of the All-Merciful One and of the Muslim community around the world." – Rick Warren in a speech to Muslims.

Rick Warren Partnering With Mosques To Teach That God And Allah Are The Same

Saddleback Church in Orange County, California, home to super-pastor Rick Warren (Obama inauguration, Purpose Driven Life, etc.) has joined forces with Southern California mosques to adopt a three-step plan for ending enmity between evangelical Christians and Muslims.

The plan's first step calls for Muslims and Christians to recognize they worship the same God. Interfaith reconciliation has been proceeding for years between Muslims and more liberal-leaning mainline Protestant denominations.

This is the first such effort I've heard of by an evangelical mega-church. Many evangelicals regard Islam as Christianity's number one enemy, and they do not at all agree that the two faiths worship the same God. This is likely to make waves.

The Rev. Rick Warren, pastor of Saddleback Church in Lake Forest and one of America's most influential Christian leaders, has embarked on an effort to heal divisions between evangelical Christians and Muslims by partnering with Southern California mosques and proposing a set of theological principles that

South Carolina Senator: Darwinism Has Replaced Christianity in Public Schools

September 29, 2014 | Filed under: Education, Law & Government, Science, Top Stories | By: Garrett Haley

COLUMBIA, S.C. – A South Carolina state senator who has supported the critiquing of evolution in public schools says Christianity is being systematically outlawed from public schools and replaced with Darwinism.

Mike Fair represents Senate District 6 in South Carolina and is a member of the state's Education Oversight Committee. As previously reported, Fair objected to evolution-supporting terminology in proposed science education standards in February. Then, in May, he championed an education policy that would allow students in public schools to learn arguments both for and against evolution.

Despite opposition from evolutionists, Fair is not shying away from the creation/evolution controversy. In a column published on Saturday by The Post and Courier, Fair explained his stance on evolution, arguing that courts have placed an unconstitutional "stranglehold" on the search for scientific truth.

"The 'truth' must conform to Darwinism, or it is not allowed," he alleged. "I don't suppose it matters what your eyes see or your mind tells you."

Anything other than atheistic evolutionism, Fair noted, is quickly censured from government schools.

"Making inferences to the best factual information is not allowed if it points to a religion other than atheism," he wrote. "Consideration that the fine tuning of our galaxy is a miracle (or made that way) is a discussion that is not allowed."

Referring to the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, Fair suggested that recent court cases have misconstrued the meaning of the Establishment Clause.

An elderly husband and wife have announced their plans to die in the world's first 'couple' euthanasia - despite neither of them being terminally ill.

Instead the pair fear loneliness if the other one dies first from natural causes.

Identified only by their first names, Francis, 89, and Anne, 86, they have the support of their three adult children who say they would be unable to care for either parent if they became widowed.

Two London chefs are this week trying to come up with a burger that tastes like human flesh, while Hannibal is busy cooking lung and loin bourguignon over on NBC, but exactly what flavour do we have?

It's a macabre thought, but one carnivores can't help but idly wonder from time to time when eating the wide array of animals that we do.

What with cannibalism being illegal and all, we only really have the unreliable testimonies of murderers and long-dead explorers to go on. Here are some notable human-eaters' tasting notes:

"Man's flesh is delicious, it tastes far better than fish or pork."

- Alexander Pearce, an Irish convict notorious for cannibalising his fellow prison escapees. He reportedly made these comments shortly before being hanged.

The Human Rights Campaign's latest report, "The Export of Hate," contains written descriptions of a network of conservative Christians they call "extremists." (HRC)

I wasn't surprised when fellow culture warriors, like our very own Michael Brown, conservative blogger Matt Barber, Concerned Women for America's Janice Shaw Crouse and others landed on the Human Rights Campaign's (HRC) hate list.

The world's largest gay-activist organization last week issued a report called "The Export of Hate" that called out a network of American, conservative Christian leaders "who are working tirelessly to undercut LGBT people around the world at every turn."

People I work with day in and day out are on that list—and not a single one of them is a hate monger. Rather, they are painted as villains for being brave enough to lift up their voices for truth in a spiritual and

Vegas schools consider teaching 5-year-olds about masturbation.

LAS VEGAS – School districts across America continue to push the sex education boundaries, seeking to teach controversial subjects to students at younger and younger ages. The Las Vegas Review-Journal reports the Clark County School District – the 5th largest district in America – is seeking parental input on an idea to “expose students to a lot more a lot earlier.” Considered changes include education of homosexuality as early as ages 5 through 8, and giving everyone “respect regardless of who they are attracted to.” School children of that age range would also be taught that “touching and rubbing one’s genitals to feel good is called masturbation.” School officials began airing the curriculum at “closed-door” meetings of parents that were invitation only. That didn’t sit well with the ones that weren’t invited and they showed up at the school board meeting to eviscerate the idea. “You want to teach my 5-year-old how to masturbate?” said parent Julie Butler, according to the paper “We certainly should not be teaching five-year-olds that masturbation and pleasuring one’s body is good and that a 12-year-old should know about the very details of anal and oral sex,” another parent said, reports KTNV. ## Senator Pushing for Pennsylvania 'Hate Crimes' Law Comes Out of Closet: 'I'm Gay and I Love It'

HARRISBURG – A Pennsylvania senator that is pushing for the passage of a controversial homosexual hate crimes bill of concern to Christians came out of the closet this week in announcing himself as being “gay” and “lov[ing] it.”

“Hundreds of people know I’m gay. I just never made an official declaration,” declared Sen. Jim Ferlo (D-Pittsburgh) on Tuesday. “I never felt I had to wear a billboard on my forehead. But I’m gay. Get over it. I love it. It’s a great life.”

Ferlo was speaking at a press conference organized to announce his proposal to reinstate hate crimes legislation in Pennsylvania, which would mandate additional and severe criminal penalties against those who harm homosexuals. The previous state law had been struck down following a challenge from Christians who were charged under the statute for sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ at a “gay pride” event and faced nearly half a century behind bars.

The reintroduction of the bill follows a recent incident in Philadelphia, where two men and a woman are facing charges of aggravated assault, simple assault, recklessly endangering another person and criminal conspiracy for allegedly beating two homosexual men in the city. Ferlo, a Roman Catholic, believes that additional penalties should be imposed because of the men’s “sexual orientation” as reports claim that slurs were used in the attack.

This Device But Fortunato Perri Jr., one of the attorneys in the case, said that the incident had nothing to do with homosexuality.

Has Grocery “In no way, shape or form was this incident related to anyone’s sexual orientation,” he stated on Wednesday. “This was a mutual confrontation that started because two individuals got into an argument out in the street.”

Stores Attorney Louis Busico agreed.

فالاضطهاد يزيد والاضطراب يزيد والزلازل والابوئة والفساد الأخلاقي يزيد والاحاد يزيد

فهذا أقول المسيح اقترب ميعاد مجيؤه لا احدد مواعيد بل ارفض من يحدد مواعيد ولكن اطلب

الأول نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصابيحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة أبناء الله وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

أفسس 6: 15 وَحَاذِينَ أَرْجُلَكُمْ بِاسْتِعْدَادِ إِجِيلِ السَّلَامِ .

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما

كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تناهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلبياقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيراً للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

الثاني لا نخاف

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نفرح

رسالة بولس الرسول إلى أهل فيلبي 4: 4

إفْرَحُوا فِي الرَّبِّ كُلَّ حِينٍ، وَأَقُولُ أَيْضًا: افْرَحُوا.

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضاً استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.
