والعلامات حتى 27 يناير 2015

Holy_bible_1

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقه اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقه لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقتررب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن
ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقتررب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشرب اشاعات ولكنه يأتي
بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في
زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا
بعض الاحداث التي قال عنها الرب يسوع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب انظروا لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه
كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

مت 24: 7 لأنه تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة وتكون مجاعات واوبئة وزلازل في اماكن

مت 24: 8 ولكن هذه كلها مبتدأ الازعاج

مت 24: 9 حينئذ يسلمونكم الى ضيق ويقتلونكم وتكونون مبغضين من جميع الامم لأجل اسمي

مت 24: 10 وحينئذ يعثر كثيرون ويسلمون بعضهم بعضا ويبغضون بعضهم بعضا

مت 24: 11 ويقوم انبياء كذبة كثيرون ويضلون كثيرين

مت 24: 12 ولكثرة الاثم تبرد محبة الكثيرين

مت 24: 13 ولكن الذي يصبر الى المنتهى فهذا يخلص

مت 24: 14 ويكرز ببشارة الملكوت هذه في كل المسكونة شهادة لجميع الامم ثم يأتي المنتهى

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

المسيح لا يتنبأ ولا يتوقع بل يعرف

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

وايضا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

Mysterious Planet X May Really Lurk Undiscovered in Our Solar System

"Planet X" might actually exist — and so might "Planet Y." At least two planets larger than Earth likely lurk in the dark depths of space far beyond Pluto, just waiting to be discovered, a new analysis of the orbits of "extreme trans-Neptunian objects" (ETNOs) suggests. Researchers studied 13 ETNOs — frigid bodies such as the dwarf planet Sedna that cruise around the sun at great distances in elliptical paths. Theory predicts a certain set of details for ETNO orbits, study team members said. For example, they should have a semi-major axis, or average distance from the sun, of about 150 astronomical units (AU). (1 AU is the distance from Earth to the sun — roughly 93 million miles, or 150 million kilometers.) These orbits should also have an inclination, relative to the plane of the solar system, of almost 0 degrees, among other characteristics. But the actual orbits of the 13 ETNOs are quite different, with semi-major axes ranging from 150 to 525 AU and average inclinations of about 20 degrees. "This excess of objects with unexpected orbital parameters makes us believe that some invisible forces are altering the distribution of the orbital elements of the ETNOs, and we consider that the most probable explanation is that other unknown planets exist beyond Neptune and Pluto," lead author Carlos de la Fuente Marcos, of the Complutense University of Madrid, said in a statement. "The exact number is uncertain, given that the data that we have is limited, but our calculations suggest that there are at least two planets, and probably more, within the confines of our solar

Mystery "Blitzar" space signal baffles scientists

Scientists have detected a strange and extremely powerful signal way out in deep space. It is thought the massive burst of radio waves is a little understood cosmic event called a blitzar. These catastrophic explosions deserve their name, as they last just one millisecond and give off as much energy as our own sun manages to put out in a million years. A blitzar was first observed in 2007 and since then a total of nine have been spotted. But all of these were only noticed some time after the event, making the latest blitzar the first to be caught in the act. Keith Bannister of Australia's national science agency told New Scientist that no-one could quite explain the strange signal. "Nobody knows what to make of it. All the ideas are very exotic so ruling them out is all you can do at the moment." It is thought that the blitzar came from 5.5 billion light years away and may have been sparked by the collapse of a huge neutron star. The radio burst was so intense that several of earth's telescopes detected it. Emily Petroff, of Melbourne's Swinburne University, said: "It's something nobody has ever measured before." She is now hard at work trying to interpret her findings. Mirror

An intense hail storm struck parts of United Arab Emirates (UAE) on January 19, 2015 covering extensive stretches of desert country under a blanket of hail.

"This instability in the weather is because of the low pressure coming from the Mediterranean region, which intensified and affected the whole UAE and the region's weather. Crashes leave at least 5 dead as Northeast hit with icy weather

At least five people across the Northeast were killed Sunday in crashes caused by rain "flash-freezing" on roads.

A crash involving 30 to 50 vehicles on Interstate 76 outside Philadelphia killed one person, and two others died in a crash involving multiple vehicles on nearby Interstate 476, police said. In northeastern Pennsylvania, a man was killed after his car overturned on an icy road and he was thrown from it and hit by a commercial vehicle. In Connecticut, police cited slippery conditions in a crash that killed an 88-year-old woman who struck a utility pole in New Haven.

Brazil's worst drought in history prompts protests and blackouts

Lights go out, internet is cut for days, and agriculture is suffering as crisis spreads from São Paulo to Rio de Janeiro and beyond

The taps have run dry and the lights have gone out across swathes of Brazil this week as the worst drought in history spreads from São Paulo to Rio de Janeiro and beyond.

More than four million people have been affected by rationing and rolling power cuts as this tropical nation discovers it can no longer rely on once abundant water supplies in a period of rising temperatures and diminishing rainfall.

Earth will rip open like a zipper, expert says, when overdue Vancouver Island quake strikes

The odds of another megathrust earthquake and tsunami on Vancouver Island happening within the next 50 years are about one-in-10.

By: Dirk Meissner The Canadian Press, Published on Sun Jan 18 2015

PACHENA BAY, B.C.—The low tide, bright sunshine and constant roar of endlessly approaching waves display the full power of the wide-open Vancouver Island shoreline at the remote beach handed down to Stella Peters and her family as a wedding dowry.

For generations, Peters and her relatives have been the keepers of Pachena Bay, the picturesque beach that scientists forecast as an epicentre for the next massive earthquake and tsunami.

The bay is also the home to the Huu-ay-aht First Nations village of Anacla, about 300 kilometres northwest of Victoria, which aboriginal oral history says was devastated when an ancient earthquake convulsed the West Coast of North America.

Mexico's Colima volcano played host to a "strong vulcanian-type explosion" at 9:15 a.m. local time on Wednesday. The mountain belched an ash column more than 4 km above the summit, with volcanic matter rising to 29,000 ft (9 km). The resulting ash flow eventually drifted to the northeast, Volcano Discovery reported.

CHENNAI: The nesting season for Olive Ridley turtles is barely 20 days old and already 314 turtles have washed ashore dead on the city's beaches. Conservationists say the turtles die after getting stuck in trawlers' fishing nets.

On Saturday morning, 60 turtles were found dead on the stretch between Neelankarai beach and Alamparai village in Kancheepuram district, according to Tree Foundation that patrols the stretch every year during the nesting season. "The numbers are alarmingly high this year and we are just into the second week of the season that will continue till March-end," said Tree Foundation founder-chairperson Supraja Dharini. Tree Foundation volunteers buried the dead turtles near the shore later in the night.

Members and volunteers of the Students' Sea Turtle Conservation Network (SSTCN), a group that patrols the coastline from Neelankarai to Napier's Bridge, including Marina and Elliot's beaches, reported 70 dead turtles were washed ashore. SSTCN coordinator V Arun said, "Considering that only 5-6% of the dead turtles are washed ashore, the real death toll could be many times higher."

According to turtle conservation groups, most of the deaths are caused due to the failure in implementing the Tamil Nadu Marine Fishing Regulation Act, 1983, which prohibits fishing trawlers from operating

FWP says 30 bighorn sheep die near Gardiner

The Associated Press January 19, 2015 Updated 3 hours ago

GARDINER, MONT. — Montana wildlife officials say an apparent pneumonia outbreak has killed about 30 bighorn sheep from two herds in the Gardiner area.

Fish, Wildlife and Parks wildlife biologist Karen Loveless of Livingston tells The Billings Gazette (<http://bit.ly/1IZtNyh>) the die-off seems to be slowing down. At least 10 sheep were reported dead by mid-December.

Lab tests will determine the cause of death, but pneumonia is the likely culprit. Loveless says one lamb tested positive for bacteria that attack the lungs, causing symptoms similar to pneumonia.

A small group of 25 to 30 animals that live at the base of Tom Miner Basin is down to 17 sheep. The rest of the sheep were lost from a herd near Cinnabar that last totaled 90 animals.

Loveless says the outbreak has not spread to bighorn sheep in Yellowstone National Park.

Senior district officials and members of the pollution department are probing the mysterious death of thousands of fish in Gorakhpur's Rapti River.

Officials have warned villagers not to take and eat fish as the exact cause of the death is still unknown.

There was a mad rush of villagers to catch fish once the news spread.

A senior district official, Ranjan Kumar, said they were probing the mysterious death of the fish.

Kumar said it was suspected that the pollutants dumped into the river by a sugar mill located on India-Nepal border could be the reason behind the incident.

"It looks like the waste coming from a sugar mill and distillery at the border might have caused oxygen levels to drop in the water. A team from Pollution Board has come to analyse the water; even they suspect that it could be because of the pollutants. They will test and get to know the oxygen level in the water. A research team from Fishery department from Lucknow will also be here for inspection,"

TIME OUT TO CLEAN: Slaughterhouses, poultry markets and farms nationwide have been told to halt operations until Thursday to disinfect their facilities and grounds

Council of Agriculture Minister Chen Bao-ji, center, yesterday meets in Taipei with representatives of the poultry farming industry to hear their concerns after the government announced new measures to address the outbreak of avian influenza.

Avian influenza has been confirmed on two farms in Pingtung County's Wanluan Township (萬巒) and all 220,000 birds on the two farms will be killed today, the Council of Agriculture said yesterday.

An organic farm raising about 80,000 chickens for meat was hit by the highly pathogenic H5N8 bird flu strain, while samples from an egg farm tested positive for the H5 subtype, the council said.

Both farms are run by Dawushan Livestock Products Co, the same operator that reported the first case of H5N2 in Pingtung this year on Jan. 9.

In addition, the results of tests on the carcasses of three light-vented bulbuls (Pycnonotus sinensis) found near a slaughterhouse in Miaoli County's Jhunan Township (竹南) last week showed the trio had the H5N3 strain — the fourth and most recently detected virus strain to be found in Taiwan during the current bird flu outbreak.

THE FORT - Deep surprise caused the emergence of hundreds of dead fish in the Canal channel overflowed San Antonio, which captures the waters of a wide basin department San Justo, province of Santa Fe.

The cause of death is unclear but estimates could be affiliated with the presence of toxic substances in the watercourse.

On the origin of that element is speculated that could be related to the application of some chemical into productive fields surrounding the mighty drain, it would have been "washed" of the rain.

Another hypothesis is the heating of the water body by the effect of the intense sunshine of recent days, which would have altered the living conditions of the medium affects the metabolism of fish caused his death. The San Antonio Canal is overwhelmed by the large volume of water received in the last days of abundant rains in the region, particularly on the southern fringe of the department San Justo.

For the natural slope of the land, the water recedes into the wide canyon that occupies much of the interprovincial boundary between Córdoba and Santa Fe.

The channel has two parallel arms whose capacity was overcome by the volume of water that entered, invading the fields on the sides of your track. As reported portal noticiaswww.fortinenses.com.ar during the last weekend residents of El Fortin who frequent the area near the major regional drainage area warned the appearance of dead fish in cuentones running to the side of Route Province 13.

Moreover, the Municipal Water Varillenses detected in an area near the park Alvarez Luque an outcrop of groundwater that revealed subsurface saturation after rainfall of over 200 mm that fell last week.

SYDNEY — The discovery of hundreds of dead mackerel in the Bras d'Or Lake has area residents wondering what caused the fish to die.

Annette Coffin, a resident of Ben Eoin, first discovered dead fish in the water in front of her home a week ago.

"Last Monday morning, there were dead fish everywhere, on the shore and in the water," she said. "They were sort of under the ice — there was a light coating of ice, and there were tons of them on the beach, and when I came out and had a look they were everywhere."

Coffin said there were at least 200 dead mackerel visible from her waterfront home, which is located

Mass tuna die-off hits Tokyo Sea Life Park

5:33 pm, January 20, 2015

The Yomiuri Shimbun

A large number of bluefin tuna and bonito have died at a well-known Tokyo aquarium since December, baffling officials over the cause.

Tokyo Sea Life Park in Edogawa Ward, known for hosting the world's first major exhibition on bluefin tuna migration, had 165 tuna and bonito on Dec. 1. Now, only seven are left.

If the trend continues, the aquarium, which has kept bluefin tuna for 25 years, could face its own tuna extinction.

This photo, taken at Tokyo Sea Life Park in Edogawa Ward, Tokyo, on Thursday, shows a large virtually empty fish tank in which a huge proportion of bluefin tuna and other fish have died.

■ New Type of Bird Flu Hits Turkey Farm, 160 Birds Dead

KOLLAM: Another type of bird flu has hit the lone turkey farm in the state here. Over 160 birds in the farm died since Sunday and the disease has been identified as Influenza type A.

However, the district officer of the Animal Husbandry Department here, Chandraprasad, said that humans would not be infected by the strain.

"Though the disease is common in farms, the treatment is not very effective. Besides, it can spread among birds rapidly," Chandraprasad said.

The officials of the department would meet on Thursday to decide on an action plan, including culling.

As a precaution, visitors and sales of poultry have been banned.

The dead birds have been scientifically burnt inside the farm itself. The farm in Kureepuzha has around 8,000 turkeys.

The incident was noticed on Sunday when many birds showed weakness.

The samples sent to the government labs in Tiruvalla and Thiruvananthapuram confirmed the disease.

The recent spread of the more dangerous H5N1 spared the district while the neighbouring districts of Pathanamthitta and Alappuzha incurred heavy poultry loss.

Dead Fish Appearing in Padre Island Canals Due to Cold Weather

Posted: Jan 22, 2015 4:18 PM MST

Updated: Jan 22, 2015 4:18 PM MST

CORPUS CHRISTI (Kiii News) - Dead fish have been floating to the surface of local waters this past week, leaving Padre Island residents wondering what caused their deaths.

3News was alerted to the situation Thursday and called out to a canal located off the 13000 block of SPID on Padre Island. According to the Parks and Wildlife Department, the dead fish are associated with the cold weather.

Parks and Wildlife said the fish had likely died during the most recent cold snap, and as water temperatures rose this past weekend, the fish began floating to the surface. The also said that there have been instance of the fish showing up in Rockport as well, but none of their deaths are associated with an algal bloom or other harmful bacteria in the water.

Thousands of jellyfish have washed up on Bells Beach north of Brisbane, creating a spectacular vision of Mother Nature in action.

Redcliffe local and keen photographer Andrew Saltmarsh snapped these images on Friday afternoon after stopping at Pelican Park at Clontarf on his way home from work.

"After a few minutes I noticed that it smelled a bit more like the ocean than usual and when I looked down beyond the rock wall I just saw thousands and thousands of the blue blubber jellyfish stretching all the way down the beach," he said.

The reason for a large number of dead fish floating about the head of the Waikareao Estuary this week remains unknown.

The regional council's senior pollution prevention officer John Morris assessed storm water outlets upstream and failed to find any sign of discharge from the industrial area that might have killed what looked like horse mackerel.

LACEY TOWNSHIP— More than 5,000 fish have died in a discharge canal at the Oyster Creek nuclear plant in Lacey Township.

State officials say the menhaden may be drawn to the canal's warm water or are scared of a predator. But officials say there's little they can do.

Environmental Protection Department spokesman Larry Ragonese tells the Asbury Park Press officials would kill the fish if they tried to remove them or if they tried to divert them to the colder waters of Barnegat Bay.

Ragonese says they'll continue to die if the stay in the discharge canal.

Symptoms of a highly pathogenic bird flu virus were discovered Saturday at a turkey farm near Kibbutz Magal in the Sharon Region.

• Follow Ynetnews on Facebook and Twitter

The Agriculture Ministry began destroying 40,000 of the birds at the farm in response. Meanwhile, concerns arose that other farms in the area – in the towns of Elishema and Neve Yamin – had been affected by the disease.

Inspectors from the ministry arrived at the farm in Magal following the initial suspicion and took samples for examination in a laboratory.

The site was closed off after a positive result came back towards the evening.

The discovery of the virus came less than a week after it emerged at another Israeli turkey farm.

The first case in Israel in nearly three years was found in a village in the north on Monday, the World Organisation for Animal Health (OIE) said.

The deadly H5N1 virus caused the death of 15,000 birds at a turkey fattening farm in Avi'el, south of Haifa, the OIE reported on its website, citing data submitted by Israel's ministry of agriculture.

Millions of GMO mosquitoes could be set loose in Florida Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Millions of genetically modified mosquitoes could be released in the Florida Keys if British researchers win approval to use the bugs against two extremely painful viral diseases.

The Florida Keys Mosquito Control District is waiting to hear if the Food and Drug Administration will allow them to run an experiment in Key West to see if the modified bugs can suppress the population of Aedes aegypti mosquitoes, which spread dengue and chikungunya.

Mosquito controllers say they're running out of options because most approved insecticides are no longer effective against Aedes aegypti.

The British company Oxitec has built a breeding lab in Marathon and hopes to release its mosquitoes this spring if approved by the Food and Drug Administration. But some residents are frightened at the thought of being bitten by genetically modified organisms.

Orin Johnson, a second-generation beekeeper in California, has started to consider a life without his 500 colonies of honey bees.

At 67, he doesn't work as fast as he once did, and yet his bees require greater amounts of time and money to maintain. A near constant barrage of threats, from pesticides to parasites, wiped out more than half of Johnson's colonies last year.

A number of factors have contributed to the epidemic -- poor sanitation, crowded hospitals and overuse of antibiotics are among them. Although antibiotic-resistant bacteria strains are a growing problem in

Finally! The FDA Admits That Nearly Over 70% of U.S. Chickens Contain Cancer-Causing Arsenic

Parent Society
Lauren DeCuir
4 days ago

I don't know about the rest of you, but lately my poultry purchases at my local market have become more and more of a 'hit-and-miss' situation, with more 'misses' if I'm being honest. As I bite into my homemade chicken nuggets or Coq au Vin (when I'm feeling fancy) I can't help but feel that the chicken just tastes weird, stringy, just...funny. So a few days ago when I turned on the tube and saw the news headlines stating that the FDA has finally confirmed that chicken meat sold in the USA contains arsenic, my head, and stomach, nearly hit the roof. This cancer-causing toxic chemical, that in high doses could kill you, is actually being added to chicken feed on purpose, giving store-bought chicken the illusion of healthy coloring and plump appearance. Shockingly, this is the case with more than 70 percent of all U.S. chickens! That is just awful!

The FDA has asked Pfizer to stop manufacturing the arsenic-containing drug, Roxarsone, that was found in the livers of nearly half of all chicken tested. According to the Wall Street Journal, "The agency said it recently conducted a study of 100 broiler chickens that detected inorganic arsenic at higher levels in the livers of chickens treated with 3-Nitro compared with untreated chickens ... Pfizer said sale of 3-Nitro would be stopped by early July in order to allow animal producers to transition to other treatments." This urgent request by the FDA is surprising in itself as the agency has always maintained that the arsenic in chickens is at such low levels that it is safe for consumption, when meanwhile it has been clinically proven to be extremely toxic to human health, causing an array of neurological defects in developing fetuses and young children...Looks like the FDA finally got the memo, and not a moment too soon!

Europe plunged into energy crisis as Russia cuts off gas supply via Ukraine

Russia cut gas exports to Europe by 80 per cent today, plunging the continent into an energy crisis 'within hours' as a dispute with Ukraine escalated.

This morning, gas companies in Ukraine said that Russia had completely cut off their supply.

Six countries reported a complete shut-off of Russian gas shipped via Ukraine today, in a sharp escalation of a struggle over energy that threatens Europe as winter sets in.

Bulgaria, Greece, Macedonia, Romania, Croatia and Turkey all reported a halt in gas shipments from Russia through Ukraine.

Croatia said it was temporarily reducing supplies to industrial customers while Bulgaria said it had enough gas for only 'for a few days' and was in a 'crisis situation'.

China Deploys Nuclear Missiles at Mt. Baekdu

China has deployed Dongfeng-21 medium-range ballistic missiles at Mt. Baekdu that target Japan, the official International Herald Leader reported on Sunday.

The newspaper claimed it "analyzed" China Central Television footage of a nuclear arms and missiles corps in training in northeastern China to arrive at the conclusion. But since it is an official publication, the news is more likely to be a government plant than an investigative scoop.

The DF-21 series were originally ground-to-ground ballistic missiles with a range of 1,700-2,100 km, but the latest version in the series is modified into anti-ship ballistic missiles with a range of 3,000 km, which can threaten the U.S. aircraft carrier fleet.

The original version can hit any target in Korea and Japan, including U.S. Forces Japan bases in Okinawa. It can carry a 200-500 kiloton nuclear warhead. It is 10.7 m long and can fly at a speed of Mach 10. Its accuracy has improved from a 300-400 m radius to 1/10 of that.

The latest anti-ship version can hit the U.S. aircraft carrier fleet near Guam, the U.S. strategic bridgehead in the Asia-Pacific region as well as any target in the East Seas. It is very difficult to intercept because it is so fast and can change path in the final stage of flight.

China also reportedly deployed DF-21 missiles on the coast of Shandong Province in preparation for clashes with Japan over the Diaoyutai/Senkaku Islands in the East China Sea. Shandong is close to the East China Sea but vulnerable to an attack by the Japanese air force.

Russia might deliver a long-overdue S-300 air defense missile system to Iran, honoring a contract that was cancelled in 2010 following strong pressure from the West, Iranian and Russian media said on Tuesday.

Fars said the two countries would resolve problems with the delivery of the advanced missile system, while Russia's RIA state news confirmed the issue was once again under discussion.

"A step was taken in the direction of cooperation on the economy and arms technology, at least for such defensive systems such as the S-300 and S-400. Probably we will deliver them," RIA quoted Colonel General Leonid Ivashov as saying.

Ivashov is the former head of the defense minister's department of international cooperation. No further details were immediately available.

Israel's Netanyahu Invited to Speak to Congress, Obama Furious He Wasn't Asked for His Permission

On Wednesday it was revealed that Speaker of the House John Boehner (R, OH) invited Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to speak about Iran before a joint session Congress on Feb. 11. We also learned that Obama is furious that no one asked for his permission first.

Boehner's move is being reported as a "dramatic confrontation" between the Speaker and Obama because Netanyahu is an opponent of many of Obama's policies in the Middle East, especially his policies with Iran.

"Netanyahu's speech could present a spectacle rarely seen in Washington, Politico reported, "the leader of another nation, standing just blocks from the White House at the invitation of Congress to rebut the United States' foreign policy."

And it is a fact that Boehner and Senate Majority leader Kentuckian Mitch McConnell—both Republicans—dealt directly with Netanyahu's office without first consulting the White House.

The Obama administration on Wednesday paid $490 million in cash assets to Iran and will have released a total of $11.9 billion to the Islamic Republic by the time nuclear talks are scheduled to end in June, according to figures provided by the State Department.

Today's $490 million release, the third such payment of this amount since Dec. 10, was agreed to by the Obama administration under the parameters of another extension in negotiations over Tehran's contested nuclear program that was inked in November.

TEHRAN, Iran — Iran and Russia signed an agreement Tuesday to expand military ties in a visit to Tehran by the Russian defense minister.

Sergei Shoigu, in remarks carried by Russian news agencies, said Moscow wants to develop a "long-term and multifaceted" military relationship with Iran.

He said that the new agreement includes expanded counter-terrorism cooperation, exchanges of military personnel for training purposes and an understanding for each country's navy to more frequently use the other's ports.

Iran's Defense Minister Hossein Dehghan urged greater cooperation as a means of opposing American ambitions in the region. Moscow and Tehran have staunchly supported Syrian President Bashar Assad throughout Syria's civil war, while Washington advocates regime change and supports rebel groups.

"Iran and Russia are able to confront the expansionist intervention and greed of the United States through cooperation, synergy and activating strategic potential capacities," Dehghan said. "As two neighbors, Iran and Russia have common viewpoints toward political, regional and global issues."

Russia has maintained friendly ties with Iran and has built its first nuclear power plant. Last fall, it signed a deal to build two more reactors in Iran.

Shoigu did not mention ongoing controversy over a deal to deliver a sophisticated air defense missile system to Iran. In 2007, Russia signed a $800-million contract to sell Tehran the S-300 missile system, but the weaponry was never delivered amid Senior Iranian and Hezbollah figures killed in an airstrike in Syria this weekend were likely planning an 'imminent' attack on Israel, security sources have claimed.

Six Iranian army chiefs died alongside five Hezbollah militants after an Israeli helicopter fired rockets at a convoy in the Golan Heights region on Sunday.

Among those killed was Iranian General Mohammed Allahdadi, as well as commander Abu Ali Tabatabai, who is known to have worked with both Hezbollah and Iran.

Today Major General Eyal Ben Reuven, a former deputy head in the Israeli Defense Forces, accused the senior military figures of meeting to plot an attack on Israel.

U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry proposed to Palestinian Authority Chairman Mahmoud Abbas the "return" of 80,000 Palestinian "refugees" to Israel, a well-informed Palestinian Authority (PA) official told Chinese news service Xinhua on Monday.

The senior official said on condition of anonymity that Kerry's proposal on the "return of Palestinian refugees" was part of the offer he presented to the Palestinian side in his latest bid to reach a framework peace agreement between Israel and the PA.

Kerry, who was visiting the region until Monday, had held talks on Friday and Saturday with Abbas in Ramallah.

He added that during their meetings, Abbas wanted to increase the number of Arabs "returning" to Israel to 200,000, and the demand is still under discussion with Kerry.

Israel bus attack: Tel Aviv passengers stabbed

Officers are patrolling the area to prevent further attacks

Israeli police say they have shot a Palestinian man from the West Bank who stabbed at least 11 people in an attack on a bus in central Tel Aviv.

The incident occurred on Maariv bridge where the suspect attacked people both on and outside the bus, police said.

Police say they are treating the incident as a terrorist attack.

The perpetrator attempted to flee the scene following the attack, and was lightly wounded after being shot in the leg, a police spokeswoman said.

Three of the victims were in a serious condition, with the others moderately or lightly wounded, according to the ambulance services.

'DOOMSDAY CLOCK' SET TO MOVE CLOSER TO MIDNIGHT

Some have labeled clock a "propaganda tool"

by PAUL JOSEPH WATSON | JANUARY 22, 2015

UPDATE: Scientists announced that the clock would be moved two minutes closer to midnight at a press conference today.

The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is set to make a "major announcement" about the Doomsday Clock later today, with speculation mounting that the minute hand could edge closer to midnight.

A press conference at 11am EST will feature discussions about climate change, nuclear modernization and the threat of terrorism in the aftermath of the Charlie Hebdo attacks.

Any movement of the minute hand would mark the first change in three years. The last adjustment came in 2012 on the back of concerns about the proliferation of nuclear weapons and the Fukushima nuclear disaster.

The clock currently stands at five minutes to midnight. The closest it has ever been to 'doomsday' is two minutes to midnight, which occurred in 1953 following the United States and the Soviet

NEW 'CYBERBULLYING' LAW WILL FORCE ILLINOIS STUDENTS TO GIVE UP SOCIAL MEDIA PASSWORDS

Students who refuse could face criminal charges according to school superintendent

by MIKAEL THALEN | INFOWARS.COM | JANUARY 21, 2015

Students suspected of "cyberbullying" could face criminal charges under a new Illinois state law if they refuse to reveal their social media passwords to school administrators.

According to the new rule, all forms of "digital harassment," whether done on or off campus, will now be investigated as a violation of school disciplinary rules and procedures.

Parents and students in several districts were informed of the new policy, which began at the start of the year, after receiving letters from school officials earlier this month.

One such letter obtained by Motherboard states that administrators may demand passwords from any student deemed to have "evidence" relating to suspected cyberbullying.

SAMSUNG RESPONDS TO PRIVACY CONCERNS OVER TVS RECORDING "PERSONAL" CONVERSATIONS

Private communications being sent to government?

by PAUL JOSEPH WATSON | JANUARY 21, 2015

Samsung has responded to privacy concerns over its warning that voice recognition software used in the company's line of smart TVs is being used to record "personal" conversations and send them to third parties.

Is Samsung Giving Your Voice Recording to the Govern

Last November we highlighted Samsung's global privacy policy, which advises users to, "Please be aware that if your spoken words include personal or other sensitive information, that information will be among the data captured and transmitted to a third party through your use of Voice Recognition."

Michael Price, counsel in the Liberty and National Security Program at the Brennan Center for Justice at NYU School of Law, wrote that the potential of his private conversations being shared with unnamed third parties now meant he was "terrified" of his TV.

GOOGLE's grip on personal data raising antitrust concerns.

Sir, In their recent exchange over Evgeny Morozov's Comment "Brussels is wrong to take a sledgehammer to Big Google" (January 12), both Mr Morozov and Google's Hal Varian (Letters, January 14) take an overly benign view of Google's monopoly over user data. Mr Varian's bias is more obvious in claiming Google's control of data "does not preclude" other companies from having the same data, but the reality is that they don't. When a 30-year old man in downtown London searches for the words "new car", it is likely to be Google and only Google that will be in a position to put an ad from a local auto franchise in front of that user. Google's spread into additional sectors just increases the data on video viewing, email use and other data on users that no other rival will end up having access to. But Mr Morozov, even as he argues for a more public alternative to Google, sees the purpose of Google's data collection as primarily improving its services' "accuracy and relevance". However, Google's data collection mostly serves the interests of its advertising clients, not its users, and in fact a relatively small percentage of the revenue generated from search users goes back to improving those services, instead being diverted to Google's cash horde and extending its reach into non-search ventures. More than 2.5m Muslims threaten to leave Facebook after four Islamic pages are taken down

By NIAL FIRTH FOR MAILONLINE
UPDATED: 16:34 GMT, 16 July 2010

More than 2.5million users will leave Facebook unless certain Islamic pages are reinstated, it has been claimed.

A template letter that has been pasted into numerous Facebook pages accuses founder Mark Zuckerberg and other senior members of Facebook of 'ignoring the feelings of more than 2.5million Muslims'.

The Muslim community is angry that four extremely popular Islamic pages were removed from the site and the letter warns that unless its demands are met Facebook's Muslim users will move to an Islamic alternative.

The letter demands not only that the pages are reinstated but that new rules are introduced which make it a violation of Facebook's terms to post anti-Islamic comments.

And Facebook is given notice that unless the changes are introduced then 2.5 million Muslim users will leave to join madina.com, a social networking site for Muslims.

HARVARD PROF: GOVERNMENT MOSQUITO DRONES WILL EXTRACT YOUR DNA

"Privacy is dead," academic tells Davos elite

by PAUL JOSEPH WATSON | JANUARY 23, 2015

Harvard Professor Margo Seltzer warned that miniature mosquito drones will one day forcibly extract your DNA on behalf of the government and insurance companies as she told elitists at the World Economic Forum in Davos that privacy was dead.

Seltzer, a professor in computer science at Harvard University, told attendees, "Privacy as we knew it in the past is no longer feasible... How we conventionally think of privacy is dead."

Seltzer went on to predict that in the near future, mosquito-sized robots would perpetually monitor individuals as well as collecting DNA and biometric information for governments and corporations.

"It's not whether this is going to happen, it's already happening," said Seltzer on the issue of pervasive surveillance. "We live in a surveillance state today."

The professor added that miniaturized drone technology should be used for benevolent purposes, such as sending the same device into an Ebola ward to "zap the germs".

Fitch Greece ratings Ratings Agencies Sovereign Debt

On the heels of last week's downgrades by Fitch and Moody's to just above junk status, The Central Bank of Russia (CBR) has issued a statement that it will no longer use credit ratings from Standard & Poor's, Fitch, or Moody's that were assigned after March 1, 2014. All credit ratings will now be at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Bank as regulators assess whether or not the ratings made after March are accurate. Sounds like Spain, Greece, and USA's previous derision over ratings agencies proclamations is heading east.

As RT reports,

The Central Bank of Russia will no longer use credit ratings from Standard & Poor's, Fitch, or Moody's that were assigned after March 1, 2014.

All credit ratings given to Russian companies and banks will now be at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Bank, according to a press statement Monday.

A larger global currency shift is underway...

And it may be happening much more quickly than anyone has realized.

Things are definitely in motion. Call it a game of musical chairs, or an exercise in rearranging chairs on the Titanic, or just that a tilting balance of power. Just don't make the mistake of thinking this is all routine.

As Michael Snyder just reported:

The absolutely stunning decision by the Swiss National Bank to decouple from the euro has triggered billions of dollars worth of losses all over the globe.

And these are just the losses that we know about so far. It will be many months before the full scope of the financial devastation caused by the Swiss National Bank is fully revealed. But of course the same thing could be said about the crash in the price of oil that we have witnessed in recent weeks. These two "black swan events" have set financial dominoes in motion all over the globe. At this point we can only guess how bad the financial devastation will ultimately be.

The key to understanding how the hammer will fall may lie in: gold.

In the material world that governs politics and economics, there has always been one golden rule: he who has the gold makes the rules.

Russian Food Price Inflation Reaches Up to 150% — Prosecutor

A woman chooses cheese at a hypermarket of French grocery retailer Auchan in Moscow, Jan. 15, 2015.

Russia's Prosecutor General's Office has launched a wave of checks on food prices at major supermarkets across the country, as racing inflation stokes fears that the government will impose price controls.

A four-day sweep that began on Tuesday has already discovered price rises of 10 to 150 percent on basic foodstuffs, including meat, fish, milk and potatoes, the agency's spokeswoman Marina Gridneva told journalists on Wednesday, news agency TASS reported.

The central banks of China and Switzerland have signed a pact to establish a yuan trading center in Zurich. The deal is expected to increase the number of European transactions in yuan.

Switzerland's central bank said on Wednesday it had signed the agreement with the People's Bank of China. The deal was concluded during the visit of Chinese Prime Minister Li Keqiang to the World Economic Forum in Davos.

According to the agreement, Switzerland will receive a quota of about $8 billion (50 billion Yuan).

"It [the arrangement] will promote the use of the renminbi by enterprises and financial institutions in cross-border transactions, and promote facilitation of bilateral trade and investment," the Swiss National Bank said in a statement.

This step comes under the framework of the QFII (Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor) program that allows foreign investment in Chinese securities using foreign currencies. Similar centers already exist in Hong Kong and London.

ECB Seeks to Inject Up to 1.1 Trillion Euros Into Economy in Deflation Fight

< MORE

By Alessandro Speciale | Jan 21, 2015 10:12 AM MT | 213 Comments | Email | Print

Mario Draghi called on the European Central Bank to make its biggest push yet to fend off deflation and revive the economy by unleashing a debt-buying spree of 1.1 trillion euros ($1.3 trillion).

The ECB president and his Executive Board proposed spending 50 billion euros a month through December 2016, two euro-area central-bank officials said. The plan still faces a tense debate in the Governing Council and may change before the final decision on Thursday, the people said, asking not to be identified as the talks are private. An ECB spokesman declined to comment.

By urging Fed-style quantitative easing, Draghi is remodeling the ECB as an aggressive central bank that will take risks even against the wishes of Germany, the region's biggest economy. Bundesbank President Jens Weidmann and Executive Board member Sabine Lautenschlaeger have argued QE isn't needed and reduces the incentive of governments to make structural reforms.

The proposal "looks larger than implied by the ECB's previous comments about the size of its balance sheet," said Riccardo Barbieri Hermitte, chief European economist at Mizuho International Plc in London. "A lot will depend on the risk-sharing features of the program."

The European Central Bank Executive Board has proposed quantitative easing of 50 billion euros ($58 billion) a month the end of 2016, two euro-area central-bank officials said. Bloomberg's Betty Liu and Olivia Sterns report on "In The Loop." (Source: Bloomberg)

The Euro Slides To An 11-Year Low

By Mylee Udland
10 hours ago

The euro keeps falling.

On Friday morning, the euro broke below 1.12 against the US dollar, a fresh 11-year low for the currency as markets continue to digest the QE announcement from the ECB made on Thursday.

Ahead of the ECB's announcement the euro was trading at around 1.16 against the dollar, and has been on an almost unabated downward march since that announcement.

On Thursday, the ECB said it would buy €60 billion worth of bonds per month through at least September 2016 as the ECB looks to jumpstart inflation in the eurozone, which is now just a paltry 0.4% year-over-year.

Following the ECB's announcement, the euro fell and stocks in Europe and the US rallied, and on Friday stocks in Europe were extending these gains, with the CAC in Paris up almost 2%, the DAX in Germany up 1.7%, and markets in Italy, Switzerland, and the Netherlands up better than 1%.

Here's the big euro slide over the last day.

Radical Leftists Win Election In Greece – Future Of Eurozone In Serious Jeopardy

By Michael Snyder, on January 25th, 2015

G+ Share Tweet Pinterest Email ShareThis

Radical leftists have been catapulted to power in Greece, and that means that the European financial crisis has just entered a dangerous new phase. Syriza, which is actually an acronym for "Coalition of the Radical Left" in Greek, has 36 percent of the total vote with approximately 80 percent of the polling stations reporting. The current governing party, New Democracy, only has 28 percent of the vote. Syriza leader Alexis Tsipras is promising to roll back a whole host of austerity measures that were imposed on Greece by the EU, and his primary campaign slogan was "hope is on the way". Hmm – that sounds a bit familiar. Clearly, the Greek population is fed up with the EU after years of austerity and depression-like conditions. At this point, the unemployment rate in Greece is sitting at 25.8 percent, and the Greek economy is approximately 25 percent smaller than it was just six years ago. The people of Greece are desperate for things to get better, and so they have turned to the radical leftists. Unfortunately, things may be about to get a whole lot worse.

Once they formally have control of the government, Syriza plans to call for a European debt conference during which they plan to demand that the repayment terms of their debts be renegotiated. But the rest of Europe appears to be highly resistant to any renegotiation – especially Germany.

Syriza says that it does not plan to unilaterally pull Greece out of the eurozone, and that it also intends for Greece to continue to use the euro.

But what happens if Germany will not budge?

Syriza's entire campaign was based on promises to end austerity. If international creditors refuse to negotiate and continue to insist that Greece abide by the austerity measures that were previously put in place, what will Syriza do?

Will Syriza back down and lose all future credibility with Greek voters?

Since 2010, the Greek people have endured a seemingly endless parade of wage reductions, pension cuts, tax increases and government budget cutbacks.

The Greek people just want things to go back to the way that they used to be, and they are counting on Syriza to deliver.

Unfortunately for Syriza, delivering on those promises is not going to be easy. They may be faced with a choice of either submitting to the demands of their international creditors or choosing to leave the eurozone altogether.

Canadian Dollar Sinks on Speculation BOC May Signal Cut Possible

< MORE STORIES

By Cecile Gutscher | Jan 20, 2015 3:07 PM MT | 3 Comments | Email | Print

Canada's dollar weakened to the lowest in more than five years on speculation the central bank may signal it's more likely to lower interest rates than raise them when it releases a growth outlook tomorrow.

The currency sank as much as 1.5 percent, the most since Jan. 2, before the Bank of Canada updates quarterly inflation and growth projections to factor in the crude-oil slump. It dropped versus most major peers. Charles St-Arnaud, senior economist at Nomura Securities International Inc., said the drop in crude will prompt the central bank to lower its growth forecast by 0.5 percent.

"A lot of investors may not have positioned for tomorrow's Bank of Canada" meeting, St-Arnaud said by phone from London. "We expect the bank to be quite dovish tomorrow. We know they have to incorporate the lower price of oil in their analysis."

The loonie, as the currency is nicknamed for the image of the aquatic bird on the C$1 coin, depreciated 1.4 percent to C$1.2113 per U.S. dollar at 5 p.m. in Toronto. It touched C$1.2115, the weakest level since April 2009. Nomura forecasts it will reach C$1.25 by the middle of the year. One Canadian dollar purchases 82.71 U.S. cents.

Yields on 30-year government bonds touched a record low of 2.04 percent, before trading at 2.05 percent.

Crude oil, Canada's biggest export, traded below $50 a barrel in New York, from $107.73 in June. The central bank's October forecast of growth of 2.4 percent this year was underpinned by an assumption U.S. benchmark crude would trade at an average of $85 a barrel.

Recession Forecast

The Bank of Canada hasn't raised its benchmark interest rate since September 2010, before Stephen Poloz became BOC governor. The central bank has kept the rate at 1 percent in the longest rate pause in almost 65 years.

Jobless Claims Over 300k For 3rd Week, Spike In Shale States

Submitted by Tyler Durden on 01/22/2015 08:44 -0500

Initial Jobless Claims

Not "unambiguously good" as Shale states see initial jobless claims spiking. Overall initial jobless claims missed expectations for the 4th week in a row, holding above 300k for the 3d week in a row (for the first time since July). At 307k, this week's print is below last week's but well above the 300k expectation. However, across TX, CO, ND, PA, and WV, initial claims (1 week lagged) rose to over 75k (from 30k in October)... "crisis has passed"?

These 6 Stores Are 'Disappearing' From Malls

A recent report by MLV & Co looked at tenant presence in shopping malls. Analysts ranked the top companies growing their mall presence based on a Tenant Sentiment Index (TSI).

The companies were rated on a scale of 1-10 based on their demand for space in shopping malls. Here are some of the lowest-rated companies, whose presence in shopping malls is diminishing.

Related Link: MLV & Co Reports On Mail Retailer Trends

Wet Seal Inc (NASDAQ: WTSL)
Not surprisingly, Wet Seal received the lowest TSI rating possible, a 1. The company recently filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

American Eagle Outfitters (NYSE: AEO)
American Eagle's TSI rating of 3 indicates a focused, strategic store contraction program. Despite plans to open as many as 25 new international outlet stores in 2015, the company will be closing around 150 existing stores over the next three years.

Abercrombie & Fitch Co. (NYSE: ANF)
Abercrombie earned a TSI rating of 3. The company closed around 60 stores in 2014 and expects a similar number of closures in each of the next few years.

The book to which Abubakar Shekau is referring is, of course, the Qur'an. Somehow he got the crazy, Islamophobic idea that it calls for the murder of unbelievers. “ Boko Haram's leader Abubakar Shekau has claimed responsibility for the recent massacre of hundreds of people in the northeast Nigerian town of Baga and made renewed threats to neighbouring Niger, Chad and Cameroon in a video published online on Tuesday.

The message came as Nigerian leaders met their regional counterparts in Niger's capital, Niamey, to discuss a regional response to the threat and Chadian troops headed to Cameroon to help repel repeated Boko Haram attacks.

The US president Barack Obama discussed the Nigerian crisis with French president francois Hollande on Tuesday, Reuters reported.

GOOCHLAND, Va. – Hundreds of concerned parents in Virginia recently voiced opposition to a controversial policy that allows school officials to grill homeschool parents and students on their religious beliefs.

In 2013, Goochland County Public Schools began requiring homeschool parents to reapply for a religious exemption to public education once their children turn 14 years old. The school district also requires homeschool families to write statements describing their religious beliefs.

"Before the School Board takes action on a request for a religious exemption, the parent must submit the application, a letter of statement explaining their bona fide religious beliefs and in the case of a student age 14 or older, a statement from the child stating his/her bona fide religious beliefs," the school policy states.

The policy also gives the school board permission to schedule meetings with homeschool parents and students to question their religious beliefs.

COLLEGE COURSE

"The purpose of the meeting is for the School Board to determine whether the request for exemption is based upon a conscientious opposition to attendance at a public school or at a private, denominational, or parochial school due to bona fide religious training or beliefs," the policy says. "Such meeting will be conducted in a closed meeting of the School Board."

Douglas Pruiett, a homeschool father in Goochland County, said three of his homeschooled children were affected by the school district's policy. He likened the school's procedures to interrogation.

"The policy provided the school board the right to call the child before them (and I call it interrogation) to defend those beliefs so they could determine whether indeed the child and the parents still held bona fide religious beliefs to qualify for the exemption," Pruiett told Fox News.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Seven homeschoolers in Arkansas who were seized by the Garland County Sheriff's Department this month remain in state custody after a court hearing on Thursday over the matter.

Hal Stanley, a pastor, and his wife Michelle state that they are in shock after their children were removed from their Hot Springs home on Jan. 12 following an anonymous complaint.

The situation began last month as a social worker with the Arkansas Department of Human Services (DHS) showed up at the Stanley's door after receiving a complaint that the children were permitted to go outside in the snow barefoot. The Stanleys assured the case worker that everything was fine, and that the children had plenty of shoes, but had a custom of making footprints in the snow for fun.

"We showed her some of the 200 and something pair of shoes and told her—actually the kids told her—how it was their preference to go barefoot and that it was like a tradition to briefly run out in the snow barefoot and take a picture of the footprints," Michelle Stanley told reporters.

However, authorities then received a second complaint claiming that the couple had a "poisonous substance" in their home, and so on Jan. 12, both DHS and members of the Garland County Sheriff's Department appeared at their door. According to the family, officials forced the parents to step outside, at which time they were served with a search warrant.

"[They] said we could not enter our house or talk to our kids until the search and the investigation was through," Stanley said. "They said the charge was that we had a poisonous substance in our house and that the kids were being exposed to it and it endangered their welfare."

It turned out that the substance that was being referred to was MMS ("miracle mineral supplement") or sodium chlorite, which is used to purify water and is claimed to help to cure diseases. The Stanleys state that the product was used to balance the PH of their fish tank, but that her husband had also been drinking it to help make his system more alkaline.

LOS ANGELES – Less than a week after controversy erupted over an announcement that a Muslim call to prayer would be broadcast at North Carolina's Duke University, it has come to light that students at UCLA in California have been doing so for some time.

On Friday, a video was published on YouTube of students broadcasting the call to prayer on the north side of the UCLA campus near the athletic field off Sunset Boulevard. While the audio is faint, Arabic-style chanting can be heard in the footage as students gathered on the lawn.

The university does have an Islamic Student Association on Campus, which meets for jummah prayers in the Pyramid Room on the second floor of the John Wooden Center. It also publishes a Muslim news publication known as Al-Talib.

"I bear witness that there is none worthy of being worshiped except Allah," the common Muslim chant, known as the adhan, declares. "I bear witness that Muhammad is the messenger of Allah. ... Allah is most great."

Reports state that the adhan has been broadcast at UCLA for some time—to the consternation of some who were already perplexed by the Duke matter.

"The call to prayer is something that is blasted over loudspeakers in Muslim majority countries and Muslim enclaves around Detroit," wrote Carol Brown of American Thinker. "We've already heard enough 'Allahu Akbar' for a lifetime."

As previously reported, Duke University had outlined in its student paper earlier on Tuesday that the "moderately amplified" chant would take place beginning Friday from the chapel bell tower.

ISLAM SLOWLY CREEPING INTO ALL THREE BRANCHES OF OUR GOVERNMENT

Years from now, when people look back on America, historians will write endless amounts of books and papers on the precise time when America gave into the relentless creeping Sharia and our democratic republic was destroyed. That time is now...right now. Historians will be very careful to note that our nation was not destroyed from outside forces, but was betrayed from forces within, namely our elected leaders.

On November 13, 2014, U.S. Rep. Rush Holt and House Leader John Boehner invited Imam Hamad Ahmad Chebli, religious leader of the Islamic Society of Central Jersey \(ISCJ\) in Monmouth Junction, to give the opening prayer in the House of Representatives.

Pupils at a Christian school have been branded bigots after a young boy gave the wrong answer when asked what a Muslim was.

Durham Free has been told to close after inspectors branded it an educational failure and said some children displayed 'discriminatory views' toward people of other faiths. The boy's answer to the Muslim question apparently included a reference to terrorism.

But teachers said the verdict was grossly unfair and based on a throwaway and ignorant comment made by a single pupil. They said the school's Christian ethos made it an easy target for officials who wanted to show they were promoting the Government's diversity agenda.

A poster with the phrase "On a mission for both God and country" on display outside a Phoenix recruiting station was removed Friday morning, an Army Recruiting Command spokesman said, hours after the unapproved display was brought to the command's attention.

The poster, which features a Special Forces patch along with Ranger, Airborne and Special Forces tabs, includes "a stock image" the command makes available for local recruiters, spokesman Brian Lepley said in an email, "but the text was changed by the local recruiting personnel" and not cleared by command headquarters.

"Had the process been followed, the copy shown would not have been approved," Lepley said.

The command first became aware of the poster Friday morning when it received questions about the display from Army Times. It was unclear when the display went up, but images of the sandwich board outside a recruiting office appear online in places like Reddit and Flickr with dates as far back as October.

It received more online attention on Thursday, when an image of the display was the center of a news release and a post on the Daily Kos website from Mikey Weinstein, president and founder of the Military Religious Freedom Foundation. In the post, which had nearly 400 comments as of Friday afternoon, Weinstein called the display a "stunning, unconstitutional disgrace" and labeled it the "Poster of Shame."

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT THERE IS A NEW VERSION OF OUR BIBLE? BUT THIS VERSION IS UNLIKE ANY PRIOR VERSION OF GOD'S WORD

"And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem." Isaiah 2:3 (KJV)

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Palestinian and Sabeel Liberation Theology groups have partnered with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) as their main support for this satanic doctrine. And no wonder, the Presbyterian Church in recent years has become rabidly anti-Israel and ferociously pro-LGBT. The name of "Israel" occurs 2566 times in 2,294 verses in the KJV.*

This new version blatantly changes God's Word. Any mention of Israel – gone. Any mention of Jesus being a Jew – gone. The movement which has brought the world a NEW bible, is called Palestinian Liberation Theology. At its heart is hatred for the Jewish people and for Israel. Of course, keeping in line with this hatred, the leaders of this satanic movement have changed Jesus (Yeshua) from being Jewish to being a Palestinian Arab.

Georgia Sheriff's Deputy Says He Was Fired for Hosting Bible Study for Former Inmates

GAINESVILLE, Ga. — A sheriff's deputy who served at the Hall County jail in Georgia states that he was fired this week for hosting a Bible study off site to help change the lives of former inmates.

"It was to help rehabilitate spiritually the guys who are pretty much coming out of jail," Josh McCuen told reporters.

McCuen had been on the job for eight months when he began an outside Bible study this month for inmates who have been released from incarceration. He also began raising funds to place Bibles in the cells, and maintained a Facebook page for his ministry called Revival 172.

"About 4 months ago, while working in the jail, I came across an [inmate] Jason Williams, who God used to change my life," he explained on the page. "God grabbed a hold of me and gave me a love for the lost. I was a law enforcement officer for 9 years, and up until 4 months ago, I thought that every suspect I arrested and every inmate was a maggot. God used an inmate to minister to me and God placed me in a jail around these guys every day to show me that they are still his people, too."

Muslim Immigrants Smash & Urinate on Virgin Mary Statue in Italy

Immigrants attacked local Christian in Perugia and then smashed and urinated on a Madonna statue.

Raymond Ibrahim reported:

A man was kneeling in prayer before the statue of the revered Madonna, with the photograph of a loved one in hand, in the small chapel of St. Barnabas in Perugia (Italy), when he was attacked by five "immigrants."

The first thing they did was rip the photo from his hands.

*Next they unleashed their hatred against the image of the Virgin Mary. They broke the statue to pieces and then urinated on it.

Don Scarda, pastor of St. Barnabas, said the event was led by five "foreigners." By the time police arrived at the chapel, the unidentified attackers had already fled.

The incident has caused a stir among locals. Some have lambasted Pope Francis who is accused of appeasing immigrants—mostly Muslims—to wild extremes. Earlier he had said that "Migrants, through their own humanity, cultural values, expand the sense of human brotherhood."

Although the Diocese condemned the act of sacrilege against the Madonna statue, it also followed the Pope's lead by absolving Islam of any responsibility for what happened.

British Judge Suspended For Recommending Straight Couple To Adopt Child

In Great Britain, if you espouse the belief that it is better for a child to be raised by a heterosexual couple than a same-sex couple, even if you are judge, the law will come down on you. Richard Page, a 68-year-old British Justice of the Peace and evangelical Christian, was suspended from the bench and forced to take a one-day reeducation class so he would think more correctly.

Page's troubles began last summer, when a case came before him as a member of a family court tribunal. A social worker for a foster child suggested that a gay couple should adopt the child. Page demurred; he told LifeSiteNews, "I raised some questions in private with the other judges, including that I thought that because a baby comes from a man and a woman it made me think the child would be better off with a father and a mother than with single-sex parents. The other judges didn't agree at all."

Not only did the other judges disagree, they convened a review committee that recommended Page be suspended and removed from his post. That recommendation was amended by the Lord Chancellor, cabinet minister Chris Grayling, and the Chief Justice John Thomas, who reduced the punishment to a reprimand and a day-long re-education class. They stated, "Mr. Page, while sitting in Family Court was found to have been influenced by his religious beliefs and not by evidence," calling Page's actions "a

NIH project studied 'arousal' of gay men when using Grindr

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has spent nearly a half a million dollars studying gay hookup apps such as Grindr.

The government awarded $432,000 to Columbia University to interview gay men who use GPS dating apps and determine whether it increases their likelihood of engaging in risky sexual behavior.

"Smartphone technologies have provided a new venue for sexual partnering among men who have sex with men (MSM)," the grant for the project states. "Indeed, there are a rapidly growing number of smartphone applications designed to facilitate sexual partnering among MSM."

The project argues that dating apps that use the Global Positioning System, or GPS, has "accelerated" the rate that gay men can find sexual partners, compared to online.

"Furthermore, given the expediency with which men are able to arrange sexual encounters using these applications, there is cause to question if, when, and how sexual negotiation and serostatus disclosure occurs," the grant said. "The overall study goal is to understand how sexual risk behaviors among MSM may be facilitated by the nature of GPS-enabled smartphone applications, the way they are used, and the process by which sexual partnering occurs via smartphone applications."

Karolynn Siegel, a professor of sociomedical sciences at Columbia, is leading the study. Siegel said she is in the process of analyzing the data in an email to the Washington Free Beacon. Funding for the project expired in December.

The project conducted interviews with 60 gay men who had used mobile apps to meet sexual partners in the past three months.

The study is examining "how and why smartphone applications are used for sexual partnering," how gay men "present themselves," communicate, and what they look for on apps like Grindr.

President Obama recognized transgender people in his State of the Union address, drawing praise from LGBT rights advocates who said it was the first time the term had ever been used in the high-profile speech.

"We've gotten used to hearing re: gays, but I think that's the 1st time the President has ever said the word transgender in a #SOTU. #progress," tweeted Lanae Erickson, of Third Way Perspectives, a centrist Washington-based think tank.

Obama made the mention of transgender people in a section of the speech about human rights.

"That's why we defend free speech, and advocate for political prisoners, and condemn the persecution of women, or religious minorities, or people who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender," he said. "We do these things not only because they're right, but because they make us safer."

'Designer babies' debate should start, scientists say

By James Gallagher

Health editor, BBC News website

Rapid progress in genetics is making "designer babies" more likely and society needs to be prepared, leading scientists have told the BBC.

Dr Tony Perry, a pioneer in cloning, has announced precise DNA editing at the moment of conception in mice.

He said huge advances in the past two years meant "designer babies" were no longer HG Wells territory.

Other leading scientists and bioethicists argue it is time for a serious public debate on the issue.

Same-sex couple married in pagan first

Tom Lanting and Iain Robertson were married in a ceremony in the vaulted cellars of Edinburgh's Marlin's Wynd.

Two male witches in Edinburgh have tied the knot in the UK's first pagan same-sex marriage.

Tom Lanting, 34, and Iain Robertson, 39, were married in a ceremony in the 16th-century vaulted cellars of Edinburgh's Marlin's Wynd.

The couple, who have been together for 12 years, are both hedge witches, who use herbal remedies to deal with medical and spiritual ailments.

CALIFORNIA 'RIGHT-TO-DIE' BILL PROPOSED

"Our hope is to see the end-of-life option as part of a continuum of established rights available to patients..."

Inspired by a Bay Area woman's highly publicized quest to end her grueling battle with cancer, lawmakers are renewing efforts to allow California's terminally ill greater choice over how and when they die.

On Wednesday, two Democratic state senators and the family of the late Brittany Maynard will unveil the End of Life Option Act, which allows doctors in California to prescribe a lethal dose of medications to terminally ill patients.

"Our hope is to see the end-of-life option as part of a continuum of established rights available to patients," said co-author Sen. Bill Monning, D-Carmel, who is married to a physician and who has watched close friends suffer through their final days.

California's current law blocked the 29-year-old Maynard, a UC Berkeley graduate and newlywed diagnosed with aggressive terminal brain cancer, from receiving physician-prescribed medications to end her life at her East Bay home. So she and her husband moved to Portland, Oregon, to take advantage of that state's Death with Dignity law.

بل نفرح

رسالة بولس الرسول إلى أهل فيلبي 4: 4

افرحوا في الرب كل حين، وأقول أيضا: افرحوا.

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضا استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقرب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.

والمجد لله دائما
