والعلامات حتى 3 مارس 2015

Holy_bible_1

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيق اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشتر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا بعض الاحداث التي قال عنها الرب يسوع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب انظروا لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

مت 24: 7 لأنه تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة وتكون مجاعات واوبئة وزلازل في اماكن

مت 24: 8 ولكن هذه كلها مبتدأ الازعاج

مت 24: 9 حينئذ يسلمونكم الى ضيق ويقتلونكم وتكونون مبغضين من جميع الامم لأجل اسمي

مت 24: 10 وحينئذ يعثر كثيرون ويسلمون بعضهم بعضا ويبغضون بعضهم بعضا

مت 24: 11 ويقوم انبياء كذبة كثيرون ويضلون كثيرين

مت 24: 12 ولكثرة الاثم تبرد محبة الكثيرين

مت 24: 13 ولكن الذي يصبر الى المنتهى فهذا يخلص

مت 24: 14 ويكرز ببشارة الملكوت هذه في كل المسكونة شهادة لجميع الامم ثم ياتي المنتهى

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

المسيح لا يتنبأ ولا يتوقع بل يعرف

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

وايضا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

The UK will be plunged into darkness next month in the biggest solar eclipse for 15 years.

The moon will cover the sun, blocking out its light, on the morning of March 20.

Nearly 90 per cent of the sun's rays will be blocked in parts of Europe – with some of Scotland seeing 94 per cent darkness.

The eclipse will be the biggest since August 1999.

The Sun Is Extremely Quiet, Scientists Worry We Are Entering Ice Age

The sun is currently experiencing its weakest solar cycle in over a century according to scientists.

"The sun is flatlining. For the 6th day in a row, solar activity remains very low. No sunspots are flaring, and the sun's X-ray output has flatlined" says spaceweather.com

Scientists say that if the solar flatlining continues it may be an indication we are about to enter into a mini ice-age.

"The main driver of all weather and climate, the entity which occupies 99.86% of all of the mass in our solar system, the great ball of fire in the sky – has gone quiet again during what is likely to be the weakest sunspot cycle in more than a century," echoes vcoreweather.com. "Not since cycle 14 peaked in February 1906 has there been a solar cycle with fewer sunspots. We are currently more than six years into Solar Cycle 24 and today the sun is virtually spotless despite the fact that we are still in what is considered to be its solar maximum phase."

Scores of GIANT asteroids on course to hurtle past Earth within the month, NASA reveals

SCORES of giant asteroids are on course to hurtle close to Earth before the end of February, according to latest NASA space data.

By NATHAN RAO

Published: 16:46, Thu, January 1, 2015

The asteroids are around 100 metres wide

Some are more than 1km wide and threaten devastating consequences if they were to strike our planet.

Of almost 70 asteroids on the radar most are around 100 metres wide, the size of a double decker bus, and would be capable of causing significant damage.

Experts warn if one of these monsters, some of which travel at up to 70,000 miles an hour, were to hit Earth it could "alter life as we know it".

Plumes of debris thrown into the atmosphere would change the climate making the planet inhabitable for all life including humans.

Mysterious comet to be visible from Earth: Space telescope spots unusual comet 'never seen before' as it SURVIVES close encounter with the sun

- Scientists say the comet does not fit into any of the known comet families
- It grazed past the sun at a distance of 2.2 million miles from the surface
- Few comets survive coming that close to the sun, making this one unusual
- The comet was seen to develop a tail as solar material erupts from the sun
- Scientists say it may become visible from Earth as it continues its journey

An unusual comet that is unlike anything seen before by scientists is expected to become visible from Earth in the coming weeks.

Nasa and the European Space Agency's Solar and Heliospheric Observatory, also called SOHO, spotted the comet as it skimmed past the sun.

The is not thought to belong to any known family of comets and scientists have been left baffled as to how it survived its close encounter with the sun.

Big Bang Blunder: Scientists Retract Alleged Proof of Universe's Beginnings

A team of astronomers who jubilantly announced last year that they had found proof of the Big Bang have now retracted their statements, admitting that their evidence was faulty.

In March of last year, astronomers using the BICEP2 telescope at the South Pole announced the discovery of "primordial gravitational waves" from the universe's beginning. Proponents of the secular model of origins eagerly touted the discovery as "smoking gun" evidence for the universe's rapid inflation during the Big Bang.

"This is a genuine breakthrough," declared Andrew Pontzen, as reported by The Guardian. "It represents a whole new era in cosmology and physics as well."

"To me, this looks really, really solid," added cosmologist Marc Kamionkowski.

One well-known media outlet even predicted that the discovery would "almost certainly" earn a Nobel Prize.

However, less than a year after the triumphant announcement, astronomers have retracted their claims and admitted that the findings were not proof of the Big Bang after all. In a recent statement, the European Space Agency conceded that the astronomers' conclusions were incorrect.

"Unfortunately, we have not been able to confirm that the signal is an imprint of cosmic inflation," researcher Jean-Loup Puget said in the statement.

AP

The Popocatepetl volcano east of Mexico City has been spewing ash into the sky, forcing cancellation of flights at the nearby Puebla International Airport for a second consecutive day.

The government's airport oversight agency says through its Twitter account Thursday that flights to Monterrey, Houston, Guadalajara, as well as inbound flights from Cancun and Dallas were affected. The agency says the ash is being cleaned up.

Mexico's National Center for Disaster Prevention reports there were a series of frequent, moderate explosions at the volcano overnight.

The national civil protection agency says the volcano is experiencing a period of frequent low-intensity explosions following a series of tremors on Sunday. Similar episodes were observed in May and July 2013, and likely have to do with the growth of a new dome.

Now, with the help of satellite imagery, researchers have located four additional craters--and they believe there may be dozens more in the region. That has them calling for an urgent investigation to protect residents living in the area.

SINGAPORE: Amid higher plankton levels, some fish farmers off Pasir Ris have seen their fish die in recent days and the Agri-Food and Veterinary Authority (AVA) is analysing samples to determine the cause of death.

The AVA said some fish deaths were reported by farmers in the East Johor Straits between Wednesday and Saturday. This came after the authority alerted the coastal fish farmers to elevated plankton levels in the area last Monday and Tuesday for them to take precautions.

An avian epidemiology expert is urging the public to dispose of dead birds and bring sick birds suspected of having avian botulism to a vet.

More than 50 dead birds, including ducks, gulls and a shag, had been collected by Kapiti Coast District Council and SPCA staff, following reports from residents and patrols of waterways.

Massey University veterinary, animal and biomedical sciences associate prof Brett Gartrell said while botulism was possible, it was not the only possible cause for the dead birds.

Cyanobacteria blooms (blue green algae) or deliberate malicious poisoning looked the same.

It was hoped the Ministry of Primary Industries would investigate, he said.

Avian botulism is a toxin caused by a bacteria that lives in rotting vegetation - the same nerve toxin used in botox treatment, he said.

When birds eat the toxin they become aggressively paralysed and die because of respiratory failure. '

'It's not a nice way to die.'

Botulism was difficult to prevent and popped up when least expected but tended to be "tend to be short explosive outbreaks "

A botulism outbreak could pass to pets that eat the dead birds but not humans.

"You will not catch the disease by it picking up sick or dead birds. It's best to dispose of dead birds because they will be a threat to other birds."

There was no direct treatment but supported sick birds could survive.

About six live birds showing signs of avian botulism had also been taken in by the Kapiti SPCA. One had been saved by tube feeding fluids to flush its system.

It's the second discovery of dead birds in the region in the last few days. On Friday, two mountain bikers found at least 18 dead birds on a section of trail near the Brooklyn wind turbine.

Avian botulism was common throughout the world and in Northern parts of New Zealand and not Wellington region. It was mostly found in still ponds.

More than 100 birds have been injured during testing of a new solar power farm.

Biologists say 130 birds caught fire mid-air while entering an area of concentrated solar energy created by the 110-megawatt Crescent Dunes Solar Energy Project near Tonopah, Nevada.

Experts believe the birds may have been attracted by the glow of the farm's tower, but the project's owners, SolarReserve, say they have found a way to reduce the fatalities.

In an effort to prevent H5N1 bird flu from spreading, Myanmar has turned to culling more than a thousand chickens in Monywa.

The country's first bird flu outbreak in 2006 also happened in the same region, around 525 miles northwest of Yangon. The last outbreak in Myanmar was in 2011 in the western Rakhine State. Over 1,400 chickens as well as 10,000 quails have died since the outbreak started in Monywa earlier in the month but it has been brought under control. No infections in people have been reported but 1,500 chickens and over 20,000 quails have been culled since then.

Hundreds of dead fish found at Kudiya Ghat

HT Correspondent, Hindustan Times, Lucknow | Updated: Feb 28, 2015 11:40 IST

Morning walkers at Kudiya Ghat were in for a shock on Friday morning, as they found hundreds of dead fish floating on the banks of river Gomti. As the day progressed, similar news poured in from other parts of the city too, where dead fish were found in bulk.

Experts have said that prima facie it appeared that the ongoing damming work at Kudiya Ghat might be responsible for the mass death, as the machines and equipment could have brought down the level of Dissolved Oxygen (DO) in the river water.

An official of the Uttar Pradesh Pollution Control Board (UPPCB) said, "Owing to the damming of the river, the water got stagnated and led to a fall in the level of dissolved oxygen in the water. The fall in DO level could be associated with the loss of aquatic animals. It's a short term effect. The level is expected to be restored after the completion of the ongoing cleaning project at Kudiya Ghat."

However, as the day progressed, fishermen who were out to make their catch at Gulalaghat, a kilometre away from Kudiya Ghat, also reported similar deaths of fish. The situation was no different near Hanuman Setu, where too morning walkers spotted dead fishes in the water. "We were really shocked to see so many dead fish floating on the river's surface," said Kushal Sharma, a morning walker who was among the first ones to spot the fish at Kudiya Ghat.

When contacted, district magistrate Raj Shekhar said he was keeping a watch on the cleaning project, "We will send a team of experts at places where dead fish were found to investigate the deaths," he said.

Several fish farmers in the East have seen large stocks of their fish wiped out after the coast was hit by a tide containing huge plankton blooms.

PHOTOS VIDEOS

SINGAPORE: Several fish farmers in the East saw large stocks of their fish wiped out early Saturday (Feb 28) morning after the coast was hit by a tide containing huge plankton blooms.

When this happens fish have to compete with the micro-organisms for oxygen, which could cause them to die.

Philip Lim, who owns three fish farms, said: "It's huge. It'll cost me about S$50,000. All the fishes have come in just about three months ago, some of them just came in one month ago."

Mr Lim sent Channel NewsAsia videos of the scene on Saturday, saying his entire stock of fish was either dead or dying.

EPA rules out toxic spill as the cause of a large Bellinger River turtle kill

Posted Thu at 6:30pm

An Environment Protection Authority (EPA) investigation into a large freshwater turtle kill in the Bellinger River, has given the wayterway a clean bill of health.

As many as 100 Georges Turtles have been found dead or dying in recent days from a mystery illness.

Investigation are underway to determine what is killing them.

The EPA took water samples from multiple points along the river, while vets from the Office of Environment and Heritage are examining the reptiles.

The water tests have not found any pesticides or hydrocarbons.

An EPA spokeswoman said the testing was thorough, and backs up the initial theory it was not a toxic spill that couased the turtle kill.

"EPA officers took the samples from four key locations along the river including at Myers Bluff and Thora Bridge," she said.

"The first round of results has confirmed that there are no traces of pesticide or hydrocarbon in the samples.

SPRING HILL, Tenn. — Dozens of birds drop dead out of the sky in Maury County at the same time.

The more than 50 birds were found on a road near IBEX Global and the old GM Plant in Spring Hill Saturday. One witness says the birds were split open from the fall.

Police and wildlife officials are on scene are working to get answers as to how and why this happened. They are monitoring the area, bagging birds and taking samples for testing.

Officials on scene say they have never seen anything like this.

It is unknown what type of birds these are, but they all seem to be the same kind.

Officials said three cases is an unusually high number for a rare disease. Typically, about 150 to 250 new cases of the bacterial disease are reported nationwide each year, with fewer than 10 in Florida, according to health officials.

New Drug-Resistant Malaria Strain Could Kill Millions, Says Report

Written by: Daniel Jennings Current Events February 24, 2015 Print This Article

The world could be on the verge of a catastrophic malaria outbreak because of a new drug-resistant strain of the deadly disease that is spreading in parts of Asia.

Almost 40 percent of the malaria in Burma, or Myanmar, has become resistant to the powerful drug artemisinin. Doctors are concerned because the drug-resistant malaria could soon spread to India, where it could then jump to other parts of the world.

It is spread via mosquito bites.

"The pace at which artemisinin resistance is spreading or emerging is alarming," Philippe Guerin, the director of the Worldwide Antimalarial Resistance Network told, Reuters.

A new report by the Mahidol-Oxford Tropical Medicine Research Unit in Bangkok says "millions of lives will be at risk" if the disease continues spreading. The study was published in the Lancet Infectious Diseases journal.

"[Burma] is considered the front line in the battle against artemisinin resistance as it forms a gateway for resistance to spread to the rest of the world," said Charles Woodrow of the Mahidol-Oxford tropical medicine research unit.

"If there's a challenge to repel a lightning-fast nuclear strike in any given conditions – it will be done in fixed time, that's dead true," the Strategic Missile Forces Central Command's chief, Major-General Andrey Burbin, told Russian News Service on Saturday.

Russia's strategic missile forces are positioned geographically in such a way that no global strike can knock them out completely, Burbin said.

In case an order is given to carry out a nuclear strike, Russian nuclear weapons operators will fulfill it, he added.

"There would be no hesitation, the task would be executed," he said.

China Just Sided With Russia Over The Ukraine Conflict

Submitted by Tyler Durden on 02/27/2015 22:25 -0500

Belgium China European Union Reality
Reuters Ukraine

When it comes to the Ukraine proxy war, which started in earnest just about one year ago with the violent coup that overthrew then president Yanukovich and replaced him with a local pro-US oligarch, there has been no ambiguity who the key actors were: on the left, we had the west, personified by the US, the European Union, and NATO in general; while on the right we had Russia. In fact, if there was any confusion, it was about the role of that other "elephant in the room" - China.

To be sure, a question few asked throughout the Ukraine civil war is just whose side is China leaning toward. After all the precarious balance of power between NATO and Russia had resulted in a stalemate in which neither side has an obvious advantage (even as the Ukraine economy died, and its currency hyperinflated, waiting for a clear winner), and the explicit or implicit support of China to either camp would make all the difference in the world, not to mention the world's most formidable axis.

Report: North Korea's Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Could Grow Tenfold by 2020

Research from the US-Korea Institute and NDU warns North Korea's nuclear and missile programs are developing rapidly.

By Shannon Tiezzi
February 25, 2015

189 Shares

A new research project warns that North Korea's nuclear stockpile could grow from roughly 10-16 nuclear weapons at the end of 2014 to 100 by the year 2020. The North Korea Nuclear Futures Project, a joint collaboration between the U.S.-Korea Institute at Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies and National Defense University, aims to predict possible futures for North Korea's nuclear and missile programs over the next five years. The major findings were announced to the press by Joel Wit of the U.S.-Korea Institute and David Albright of the Institute for Science and International Security on Tuesday.

The project provided three scenarios for the growth of North Korea's nuclear and missile programs over the next five years. Under the "minimal growth, minimal modernization" scenario – a best case scenario for concerned observers – North Korea conducts no further nuclear or missile tests and its technology progresses slowly. Even under this scenario, North Korea is expected to roughly double its stockpile of available nuclear weapons, from 10 to 20.

In the moderate scenario, which postulates North Korea's nuclear and missile programs continue to develop at the same pace as they have so far, Pyongyang will have 50 nuclear weapons by 2020 and will be able to mount them on both mobile intermediate-range ballistic missiles (IRBMs) and possibly even intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs). The worst-case scenario, assuming an increased commitment to the nuclear and missile programs, would involve rapid growth, including successful efforts to gain foreign technologies and information. Wit described this as a "pretty scary scenario" of "dramatic expansion" that would see North Korea armed with 100 nuclear weapons by 2020 to go along with 20-30 ICBMs.

Kim Jong-Un has told North Korea's military to prepare for war against the United States, saying he wants 'to tear to pieces the Stars and Stripes'.

He also said that America does not have a 'monopoly' on nuclear weapons, adding: 'The U.S. is seriously mistaken if it thinks its mainland is safe.'

The comments were made yesterday after America and South Korea held joint military exercises before announcing another eight-week operation due to take place from Monday.

A still from a news broadcast by Press TV showing the Iranian navy blowing up a 'mock' US aircraft carrier.

Iran has staged naval war games in an important sea channel, including an attack on a mock US warship. Missiles were also fired from the coast around the Strait of Hormuz, which sees a quarter of all sea-transported oil pass through it.

The drills were conducted by Iran's Revolutionary Guard, which were named Prophet 9.

The exercises saw dozens of gunboats making a beeline towards a built-to-scale American aircraft carrier, before bombarding it with cruise missiles and ballistic missiles.

A senior Iranian cleric with close ties to Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei vowed on Friday that "we will raise the flag of Islam over the White House" in response to the killing of Hezbollah and Revolutionary Guards operatives on the Golan Heights last month.

According to foreign media, Israeli attack helicopters killed six Hezbollah terrorists along with six Iranian Revolutionary Guards Corps (IRGC) operatives, including a high-ranking general.

Iran has concluded a massive naval and air defense war games by successfully test-firing a "new strategic weapon," which the country says will play an important role in the future battle against the US.

The test was performed on the final day of the Great Prophet 9 exercises, which above other activities included a simulated attack on an American aircraft carrier.

The Iranian Revolutionary Guard staged its war games in the strategic Strait of Hormuz, the only sea passage from the Persian Gulf, through which about one-fifth of the world's oil passes.

"The new weapon will have a very decisive role in adding our naval power in confronting threats, particular by the Great Satan, the US," Admiral Ali Fadavi, Iran's navy chief, told the Revolutionary Guards' website.

In his later interview with Iranian state television, Fadavi said that the details of the new weapon may be made public in coming years.

"We have restrictions [on] expressing specifications and applications of the weapon," he said.

Iranian state TV only showed a short video of missiles being fired into the sky from underwater during daytime, AP reported.

The Odds Of A War Between Israel And Iran Just Went Way Up

Uh oh – Iran just got caught with both hands in the cookie jar. It turns out that even while Iran has been negotiating a “historic peace deal” with the western world, it has been secretly operating a huge underground nuclear enrichment site that it didn’t tell anyone about. But this is what the Iranians always do. They lie, lie and then lie some more. So how in the world can you make a deal with a government that absolutely refuses to tell the truth? These revelations about a secret underground nuclear facility just outside Tehran come at a time when it looked like the Obama administration was about to cave in and give Iran just about everything that it wanted. The “deal” that Obama was going to give them would have allowed the Iranians to keep all of the nuclear infrastructure that they have already constructed and would also give them permission to start building nuclear weapons in about a decade. It would be a monstrously bad deal for the western world, and the Iranians should have jumped at it. But now these new revelations could throw a wrench into those negotiations. But much more importantly, knowledge of this secret nuclear facility has got to be extremely alarming to the Israelis. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has always said that Israel will never, ever allow Iran to construct a nuclear weapon. So what will happen if the Israelis determine that Iran is actually much closer to building a nuclear bomb than anyone originally suspected? The truth is that the odds of a war between Israel and Iran just went way up thanks to these revelations, and that is not good news for any of us.

This new evidence of a secret nuclear facility that Iran had not told anyone about was revealed by the National Council of Resistance of Iran earlier this week...

The government of Turkey's President Recep Erdogan was accused today of contributing to the deaths of Syrian Christians attempting to flee massacres at the hands of Islamic State in Iraq and Syria militants.

The claim, made on Vatican Radio by Jacques Behnan Hindo, a prominent Syrian Catholic Archbishop of Hasakeh-Nisibi, came just a day after ISIS fighters abducted at least 90 Assyrian Christians from villages near the Turkish border that had been under the protection of Kurdish military forces, reported Agence France-Presse.

"Every day, families are emigrating from Damascus by plane because of the blockade we have around us," Hindo said.

"In the north, Turkey allows through lorries, Daesh (ISIS) fighters, oil stolen from Syria, wheat and cotton: all of these can cross the border but nobody [from the Christian community] can pass over."

(Bloomberg) -- Iraq is deploying 27,000 troops to retake the city of Tikrit from Islamic State, in a mission that will test the military's ability to stage major offensives against the group before trying to capture its stronghold in Mosul.

The state-sponsored al-Iraqiyah television said that paramilitary forces, a term that usually describes Shiite militias, are backing up police and army soldiers. The forces will also seek to liberate other areas in the Salahuddin province, where Tikrit is located.

Italy to begin naval exercises off Libya

Source: Reuters - Sun, 1 Mar 2015 13:03 GMT

MORE ON WAR & CONFLICT

ROME, March 1 (Reuters) - Italy will begin annual naval exercises this week near the coast of Libya, where a breakdown in order has allowed tens of thousands of migrants to try to reach Europe by boat and increased fears of attacks by Islamist militants.

The navy said in a statement that the exercises, known as Mare Aperto (Open Sea), would begin on Monday.

The exercises were suspended last year because of the search-and-rescue mission dubbed Mare Nostrum, which was set up after hundreds of migrants were drowned off the southern island of Lampedusa. Mare Nostrum has now ended and been replaced by a more limited European Union mission known as Triton.

Admiral Pierpaolo Ribuffo, the officer in command of exercises, said the operation was not directly connected with the crisis in Libya, where Italian energy group Eni has significant offshore oil platforms and other assets.

But he said the presence of naval vessels in the area could help improve security.

"We're training our ships and our men, that's all. Our activity has nothing to do with other scenarios," he told Italian news agency ANSA in comments that were subsequently released by the navy.

"Obviously the presence of ships at sea also means security, deterrence and dissuasion," he said. "But that's normal, it's like police patrolling the streets."

PAMELA GELLER EXPOSES AMERICA'S DIRTY SECRET: 22 ISLAMIC TERROR TRAINING CAMPS ON US SOIL

THE U.S. HAS AT LEAST 22 ISLAMIST TERROR TRAINING CAMPS, HIDING IN PLAIN SIGHT. THESE CAMPS ARE OPERATED BY THE PAKISTAN-BASED GROUP JAMAAT AL-FUQRA AND ITS MAIN US FRONT GROUP, MUSLIMS OF THE AMERICAS.

The reason that Pamela Geller, of Atlas Shrugs fame, gives for these camps being left alone to grow is that the group Jamaat al-Fuqra is not listed as a terrorist group by the U.S. government, and they are reluctant to interfere.

You've heard of "No-Go Zones?" Well, these camps are those zones. This is sharia law in action. Are you shocked? Honestly, I'm numb at this point.

Most of these camp sites can be found on the following map:

Geller goes on to say that that most of the members of these camps are African-Americans who have converted to Islam while doing time in state or federal prison.

"Prisons have become recruitment and training centers for future jihadists. It is an escalating crisis that is taking a toll, as Americans are murdered by those who convert to Islam in prison."

This may sound like propaganda because it sounds so far fetched. It isn't. Check your own world almanac....

Radical Islam has spread a scourge of violence around the globe that otherwise simply wouldn't exist. It is time for the West to put an end to this horror. The first step is to destroy Iran as the world leader of Islamic violence.

As long as Iran threatens the world with nuclear Islamic fundamentalism there is simply no way to quash the continuing outbreak of Islamic violence worldwide. The Western democracies should crush the atavistic and xenophobic leader of this retreat from civilization.

If Iran is convincingly neutralized, it's possible that the rest of the radical Islamic movements will realize that the way to accomplish their aspirations is through peaceful coexistence. Otherwise the monomaniacal dream of global Islamic domination will continue to destabilize the world until an apocalyptic result ensues.

The latest catastrophic, meaningless Islamic bloodletting is occurring in Kyrgyzstan. The Russians want no part of it and won't intervene.

DNI: 2014 Was Deadliest Year for Terror Attacks in 45 Years

Islamic State gaining characteristics of a nation state

 EMAIL

BY: Bill Gertz Follow @BillGertz

February 27, 2015 5:00 am

Terrorist attacks and resulting deaths increased sharply last year, according to statistics made public Thursday by the director of national intelligence.

"When the final counting is done, 2014 will have been the most lethal year for global terrorism in the 45 years such data has been compiled," DNI Director James Clapper told Congress, adding that about half of all attacks took place in three states: Iraq, Pakistan, and Afghanistan.

Last year from January to September, around 13,000 terror attacks were carried out, killing 31,000 people. By contrast, in 2013, 22,000 people were killed in terrorist violence in over 11,500 attacks, Clapper disclosed during a wide-ranging world threat briefing before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

More than 3,400 foreign jihadists have joined the al Qaeda offshoot known as the Islamic State (IS) that is showing signs of establishing its own nation state, Clapper said.

The DNI also testified that IS (also known as ISIL or ISIS) is expanding outside Iraq and Syria into the Arabian Peninsula, North Africa, and South Asia. The group also is planning terror attacks on Western interests and against Shiite Muslims, he said.

Establishing chapters in Libya, Egypt, Yemen, and South Asia are designed to project an image of a "global scale caliphate," Clapper said, adding that the new affiliates do not appear under a central command of senior IS leaders.

"ISIL's rise represents the greatest shift in the Sunni violent extremist landscape since al Qaeda affiliates first began forming, and it is the first to assume at least some characteristics of a nation state," he said.

Of particular concern are IS supporters who can conduct terror attacks on their own. IS is "able to appeal to people who then can act on their own at a time, and place, and circumstance of their choosing," Clapper said. "And that is a very worrisome challenge, particularly in this country."

Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman Sen. John McCain (R., Ariz.) said IS is expanding and its successes are increasing the risk jihadists will attack the West. "We are engaged in the generational fight for civilization against brutal enemies, and defeating these enemies requires significant intelligence resources and focus, given the diffuse and constantly evolving nature of the threat," McCain said.

U.S. intelligence estimates of the number of fighters that have joined IS range between 20,000 to 32,000, the DNI said, including an estimated 3,400 from 90 foreign nations. At least 13,400 of the fighters have known ties to other terrorist groups.

The statistics were made public as British authorities revealed the identity of the video-taped IS executioner shown in the beheading murders of several foreign hostages as Kuwait-born Londoner Mohammed Emwazi.

Sinister Sites – The EU Parliament

Dec 8th, 2008 | Category: Sinister Sites | 168 Comments

Ever since its completion on December 14 1999, the EU parliament has raised eyebrows and questions regarding its structure. The main tower, called the “Louise Weiss” building, looks peculiar and modernist. Why does it look unfinished? Promoters say it reflects the “unfinished nature of Europe”. However, some research on the subject reveals the dark and deep symbolism of the building. Exposing the real source of inspiration behind the Louise Weiss building is exposing the esoteric beliefs of the world elite, their dark aspirations and their interpretation of ancient scriptures.

We'll go straight to the point: the Louise Weiss building is meant to look like painting “The Tower of Babel” by Pieter Brueghel the Elder in 1563. Story says that the Tower of Babel was never completed. So, the UN Parliament is basically continuing the unfinished work of Nimrod, the infamous tyrant, who was building the Tower of Babel to defy God. Do you think this is a good source of inspiration for a “democratic institution”?

Computers that are "human-like" will be capable of empathy and moral reasoning, therefore reducing the risk of AI turning against humanity, he said.

Murray Shanahan, professor of cognitive robotics at Imperial College London, cautioned against "capitalist forces" developing AI without any sense of morality, arguing it could lead to potentially "uncontrollable military technologies."

Shanahan's comments follow warnings from leading scientists and entrepreneurs, including Stephen Hawking, Bill Gates, and Tesla Motors CEO Elon Musk.

Stockholm: Microchipped office workers feel 'very modern' using hand-implanted chips to open doors

At the newly opened Epicenter office complex in central Stockholm, office workers have been opening doors and operating the photocopier with a chip implanted in their hands.

The radio-frequency identification (RFID) chip is made from Pyrex glass and contains an antenna and microchip, with no need for batteries.

Instead of using identification cards and pass codes, all the staff at companies based in the Swedish tech business incubator Epicentre are using microchips implanted into their hands to get into and around the workplace.

(CNSNews.com) - The homeownership rate in the United States dropped to a 20-year low of 64.5 percent in 2014, according to new data released by the Census Bureau.

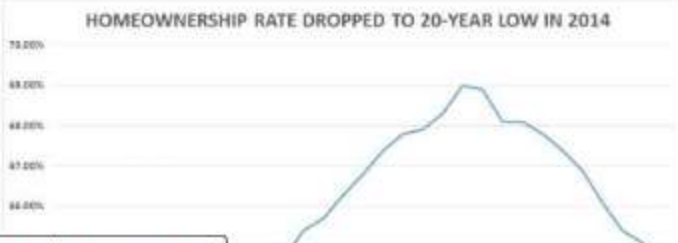

The homeownership rate is the percentage of households that own the home in which they live. "It is computed," says the Census Bureau, "by dividing the number of households that are owners by the total number of occupied households."

The last time the annual homeownership rate was lower than 64.5 percent was in 1994, when it was 64.0%, according to Table 15 in the Census Bureau's "Housing Vacancies and Homeownership" data.

London has set its sights on becoming the world centre for the Islamic finance industry according to the UK's foreign office minister for Middle East.

Speaking at The Telegraph's Middle East Congress on Wednesday, Tobias Ellwood, under secretary of state at the Foreign Office, said the capital had ambitions to stand alongside Dubai and Kuala Lumpur as a global hub for Islamic finance.

Britain became the first country outside the Muslim world to issue an Islamic bond, known as Sukuk, last year.

(Reuters) - Islamic State militants have abducted at least 150 people from Assyrian Christian villages in northeastern Syria they had raided, Christian Syrian activists said on Tuesday.

A Syrian Christian group representing several NGO's inside and outside the country said it had verified at least 150 people missing, including women and elderly, who had been kidnapped by the militants.

"We have verified at least 150 people who have been adducted from sources on the ground," Bassam Ishak, President of the Syriac National Council of Syria, whose family itself is from Hasaka, told Reuters from Amman.

Earlier the British-based Syrian Observatory for Human Rights said 90 were abducted when the militants carried out dawn raids on rural villages inhabited by the ancient Christian minority west of Hasaka, a city mainly held by the Kurds.

Syrian Kurdish militia launched two offensives against the militants in northeast Syria on Sunday, helped by U.S.-led air strikes and Iraqi peshmerga.

ISIS Kidnaps 150 from Predominantly Christian Area of Syria

TAL SHAMIRAM, Syria – At least 150 people have been kidnapped by the barbaric Islamic group ISIS in what is being reported as a predominantly Christian area of Syria.

“We have verified at least 150 people who have been abducted from sources on the ground,” Bassam Ishak, President of the Syriac National Council of Syria, told Reuters.

Earlier reports had numbered those kidnapped as being below 100. Women and children are stated to be among those seized.

Members of ISIS launched the door-to-door abduction in the early hours on Monday, taking residents captive throughout villages along the south bank of the Khabur River. Another 3,000 in the north of the river fled for their lives, taking refuge in Hassakeh and Qamishli.

Osama Edward of the Assyrian Human Rights Network told the BBC that he believes some of his wife's relatives were among those captured.

“My wife tried to call her cousin's house and there was somebody who picked up the phone and said, ‘This is not Akram's house. This is the Islamic State's house,’” he said.

A woman in Lebanon who has family in the area also told reporters on Tuesday that she was concerned about their plight as they couldn't be reached.

“Have they been slaughtered? Are they still alive? We're searching for any news,” she said. “I feel so helpless. I cannot do anything for them but pray.”

al-Bayan, an ISIS-run radio station, reported that it has detained a number of “crusaders” and taken over approximately 10 villages near Tal Tammr.

The incident occurs just days after video was released of ISIS beheading 21 Egyptian men that it likewise called “crusaders.”

U.S. President Barack Obama speaks during the White House Summit on Countering Violent Extremism. (Joshua Roberts)

The American Center for Law and Justice (ACLJ) said today the abduction of up to 150 Christians—including women and children—by the Islamic State (ISIS) in Syria underscores the urgent need for President Obama to lead a worldwide coalition to stop the slaughter of Christians, to put an end to the war against Christians by radical jihadis, a war that continues unabated.

"It is unacceptable for President Obama, the West and the United Nations to stand idly by and watch the systematic elimination of Christians by radical Islamists," said Jay Sekulow, Chief Counsel of the ACLJ. "How many more Christians must be murdered because of their religious beliefs? Without a specific strategy to eliminate this evil, ISIS remains emboldened and continues to use these tragic events to recruit more radical jihadis. It is clear ISIS intends to continue to target and execute Christians. It is time for President Obama to exercise leadership, to assemble a global coalition and put an effective strategy into action to stop the slaughter of Christians—to put an end to this jihadi war against Christians."

The Arrest of Street Preacher Tatsuo Akamine

On Wednesday, February 25, 2015, outside of the DMV in Torrance, CA, a street preacher named Tatsuo Akamine was arrested by an officer with the California Highway Patrol. He was first detained for investigation of disturbing the peace with loud noise (415 PC). As of the time of writing this article, I do not know what were the arresting charges.

Before I comment further, here is a video that documents the officer making contact with Tatsuo, which runs through to moments after his arrest. I do not know what happened before or after the segment of time captured in this video.

Please watch the video in its entirety, before you continue reading.

Another day, another policy resulting in trying to silence the Gospel! Concerned parents in Michigan has led to the eviction of an RV belonging to a Bible study ministry In Hudsonville, Michigan. The RV was removed from school grounds after "complaints and concerns". Bible Club Ministries International-Western Michigan, which has provided Bible instruction for Hudsonville students for years, has been told by school administrators a new policy no longer permits the local Bible club from ministering to elementary students during lunch and recess. The Michigan Association of Civil Rights Activists, the group responsible for the removal of religious symbols on public properties in Ottawa County, now says Hudsonville Public Schools broke the law when it allowed Bible Club Ministries International access to students during school hours on school property. FULL REPORT

Richard Dawkins: State Should Protect Children From Religious Education

2.26.2015 | News | Paul Bolt | 465

On Tuesday, Richard Dawkins—the world famous atheist biologist who previously said religion harms children more than “mild pedophilia”—went full-blown fascist when he declared the state should have the right to regulate religious education.

In an interview with The Irish Times, the professor lamented that parents currently have too much freedom over their children's education and should have it significantly rolled back by government.

“There is a balancing act and you have to balance the rights of parents and the rights of children and I think the balance has swung too far towards parents,” he said. “Children do need to be protected so that they can have a proper education and not be indoctrinated in whatever religion their parents happen to have been brought up in.”

Also present for the interview was physicist Lawrence Krauss, who echoed Dawkins' sentiments, saying that parents have “limited rights in determining what the curriculum is,” because “the state is providing the education, it's trying to make sure all children have equal opportunity.”

After 75 years, Selina Kyle is finally coming out of the closet.

In the latest issue of the DC Comics' Catwoman comic book series — No. 39, released this week — Kyle kisses another woman, ending decades of fan rumors and speculation by stating canonically that the character is, in fact, bisexual.

Writer Genevieve Valentine, who took over the series in October, wrote on her blog that establishing Selina Kyle as "canon bisexual" was an "indispensable" beat she always had intended to hit in the series.

"She's flirted around it — often quite literally — for years now," wrote Valentine. "For me, this wasn't a revelation so much as a confirmation."

Facebook Adds New Gender Option for Users: Fill in the Blank

Feb 26, 2015, 3:37 PM ET

By MARTHA MENDOZA AP National Writer

Facebook users who don't fit any of the 58 gender identity options offered by the social media giant are now being given a rather big 59th option: fill in the blank.

"Now, if you do not identify with the pre-populated list of gender identities, you are able to add your own," said a Facebook announcement published online Thursday morning and shared in advance with The Associated Press.

Facebook software engineer Ari Chivukula, who identifies as transgender and was part of the team that made the free-form option, thinks the change will lead to more widespread acceptance of people who don't identify themselves as a man or woman.

"We're hoping this will open up the dialogue," Chivukula said.

Alison C.K. Fogarty, a gender identity researcher at Stanford University, said giving users control over the words describing their gender is a significant step in social recognition of a growing trans community, especially coming from the world's largest social media company.

"People are still fighting to make room for gender identity within the socially constructed binary of male and female," Fogarty said. "Labels and identities are powerful in that they give a sense of community, a way of articulating one's experience."

In February 2014, Facebook expanded gender identity from male and female to a list of dozens of options, including Androgyne, Gender Fluid, Intersex, Neither and Transgender. Those choices will all still be available.

People who choose a custom gender can also choose the pronoun they would like to be referred to publicly: he/his, she/her or they/their.

Apostate Presbyterian Church USA Voting on Redefining Marriage

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky – Regional presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church (USA) are voting on whether to ratify a vote taken by the General Assembly and regional delegates last year to change the definition of marriage in its law book and to allow ministers to perform same-sex “marriages” in states where the practice is legal.

As previously reported, last June, the General Assembly of PCUSA, headquartered in Louisville, Kentucky, voted 76-24 to allow licensed ministers to officiate such ceremonies. Delegates within the denomination also approved a proposal to change language in the PCUSA Book of Order to redefine marriage from being a union between “a man and woman” to rather only “two persons.”

But the change was not to become official until its 172 regional presbyteries across the country voted on the matter, 40 percent of which have done so thus far. According to reports, of those that have voted thus far, 60 have been in favor, with 23 against.

Although voting will continue into the spring, and nearly half of the regional presbyteries have yet to cast their vote, some believe that PCUSA will likely approve the measures. A majority vote is needed for ratification. The latest regional votes—all in favor—include Charlotte, N.C. 146-107, Chicago, Ill. 179-60, North Alabama 28-24 and Santa Fe, N.M. 99-21.

In Acts 20:21 Paul said the he preached a two-fold message—repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. (File)

I am not one given to visions, but in 1975, upon graduation from Bible school, I saw a vision of a coming great falling away in the church, followed by an even greater revival. I have lived to see the first part of the vision—the falling away—fulfilled. I believe the second part of the vision—the great revival—could be at the door and tarries, perhaps, until we make some much needed adjustments in how we see and present Jesus.

When I saw the great falling away I heard the words, "Jesus is a means, not an end." I knew immediately and instinctively that the falling away would be characterized, not by a rejection of Jesus, but by Him being preached and embraced as a means to personal happiness rather than as the end or goal for life.

A means is "how" we reach a desired end or goal. If my end or goal is to travel from Dallas to New York, there are various means at my disposal for reaching that goal. The means may vary but the end is stationary, for the end is what is important.

Ireland's Prime Minister Endorses Same-Sex Marriage

2.26.2015 | News | Paul Bole | 163

Ireland's prime minister Enda Kenny has now given his approval of same-sex marriage, urging voters to say "yes" on an upcoming referendum to redefine the institution, reports LifeSiteNews.

During his address to the Fine Gael national conference, the prime minister said that approving the referendum would show the world that the once predominantly Catholic Ireland has now become a "fair, compassionate, and tolerant nation."

"I believe that this is the right thing to do. I, and the Fine Gael Party, strongly support a Yes vote," Kenny said.

Various Irish news outlets attributed Kenny's sudden choice to go public with his endorsement from recent coming out statements made by Ireland's Health Minister Leo Varadkar last month that he is homosexual. Varadkar's coming out echoed previous statements made by former Irish government Minister for Equality Pat Carey, who said in an interview that he hoped his coming out would help encourage conservative and traditional voters to redefine marriage.

The Obama administration re-defined the word "spouse" Tuesday to include gay couples.

The Department of Labor quietly issued a new 52-page regulation, to be published in the Federal Register Wednesday, updating the term "spouse" to include gay couples so that gays now get job-protected leave from work to care for their gay partner or partner's children or parents under the Family and Medical Leave Act.

The new definition applies to all gay couples who were legally married in states where gay marriage is legal, regardless of whether or not they now live in states where gay marriage is not legal. The IRS also adopted this "place of celebration" definition of residency after the Defense of Marriage Act was struck down at the Supreme Court.

'Love Not Limited?': Three Thailand Men 'Marry' Each Other, Photos Go Viral

Photos of three Thailand men who recently 'married' each other have gone viral, garnering societal support for the concept of same-sex "throuples" worldwide, but also generating remarks from Christians about the confirmation of the slippery slope that has long been predicted.

The men, who have only been identified as Joke, Belle and Art Thani, reportedly participated in a traditional water-pouring ceremony on Feb. 15 and had photographs taken of their union. However, the act was more of a symbolic gesture as neither homosexuality or polygamy are legal in Thailand.

"Love occurs unconditionally and is not limited to only two people," Art wrote on Facebook. "Love brings peace to the world."

The threesome has also been featured on Thailand television, and have posted affectionate photos online which include captions such as, "The three of us will forever hold hands and walk together."

As previously reported, last May, three women in Massachusetts exchanged vows as they claimed to be the world's first lesbian "throuple." Brynn, Doll, and Kitten stated that they view their relationship as a "romantic committee," where the household responsibilities are allocated between the three of them, and wanted to each get pregnant using anonymous sperm donors.

"I had always dated girls, who—although they had boyfriends or girlfriends—were also allowed to date me," Brynn told reporters. "I never thought that much about it and I had never really come out as poly to my friends and family. To me, it was just how I was."

فالاضطهاد يزيد والاضطراب يزيد والزلازل والابوة والفساد الأخلاقي يزيد والالحاد يزيد

فلهذا أقول المسيح اقترب ميعاد مجيؤه لا احدد مواعيد بل ارفض من يحدد مواعيد ولكن اطلب

شيئين

الأول نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصاييحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة أبناء الله
وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

أفسس 6: 15

وَحَاذِينَ أَرْجُلَكُمْ بِاسْتِعْدَادٍ إِنِّجِيلِ السَّلَامِ .

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما

كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تناهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلياقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيراً للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

الثاني لا نخاف

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نفرح

رسالة بولس الرسول إلى أهل فيلبي 4: 4

إَفْرَحُوا فِي الرَّبِّ كُلَّ حِينٍ، وَأَقُولُ أَيْضًا: اْفْرَحُوا.

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضاً استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.
