اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأیضا أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن ایضا علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل ایضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشتر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تُوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

Typhoon Linfa Affects 1.6 Million People in Guangdong

Severe // Tropical Cyclone / Hurricane China

GUANGZHOU -- State media reported that over 1.6 million people have been affected by the rainstorms triggered by Typhoon Linfa, which hit Guangdong province on Thursday.

The provincial Civil Affairs Department said 288 houses collapsed and 56,000 residents were displaced after the typhoon inflicted a direct economic loss amounting to 1.3 billion yuan. Fortunately, there have been no reports of casualties.

Linfa made landfall in Shanwei city at around noon on Thursday, with wind speeds of up to 126 kph. Five cities and more than 130 townships were affected by the heavy downpours.

China is currently on high alert for super typhoon Chan-hom, which is expected to hit the coastal area between the provinces of Fujian and Zhejiang on Friday evening or Saturday morning. The storm packs winds of up to 208 kph.

El Nino Gets Reinforced by Cyclones as Event to Last Until 2016

by Phoebe Sedgman

July 7, 2015 — 12:35 AM MDT

The El Nino forming across the Pacific has been turbocharged by a series of tropical cyclones that helped to shift the direction of trade winds, potentially adding to warming that's evoking parallels with the record 1997-98 event.

Several cyclones, including a rare storm in the Southern Hemisphere this month, resulted in a strong reversal of trade winds near the equator, Australia's Bureau of Meteorology said on its website on Tuesday. That's set to increase temperatures below the surface, which then may raise sea-surface temperatures further in the coming months, it said in a fortnightly update.

El Ninos can affect weather worldwide by baking Asia, dumping rain across South America and bringing cooler summers to North America. This year's pattern, the first since 2010, will probably bring warmer, drier weather to palm oil regions in Southeast Asia, Malayan Banking Banking Bhd. warned on Tuesday. Tropical commodities including palm oil are to be favored over other raw materials such as gold and copper this half as the El Nino raises risks, according to Oversea-Chinese Banking Corp.

THIS thing is going to be massive. America had its Polar Vortex in 2013, when frigid air streamed down from the north pole causing major snowfalls and record cold temperatures.

Eastern Australia, it's your turn now.

Prepare for the Antarctic Vortex. That's not a technical term. It's the nickname we've given this weather system, but we're sticking with it. Others, meanwhile, have developed their own monikers.

Drought-Ridden California is Shutting Down Showers at Beaches and Prisons

Friday, July 10, 2015, by Adrian Glick Kudler

Image via dailymatador

Bathing is becoming a luxury as California's four-year drought drags on and water restrictions get stricter and stricter. Yesterday, the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation told its inmates it's shut off open-air showers in its prison yards as it tries to cut back on water by 25 percent. The showers will still work in the cellblocks and prisoners can also "take sponge baths by the sinks in their cells," reports the LA Times, but it's enough of an indignity that lawyers for inmates have added the shut-off to a class action lawsuit.

Also this week, state parks officials ordered showers at 38 state beaches, "many of them in Southern California," to be shut off starting July 15 (next Wednesday). The new rules will only cover the outdoor showers, not indoor campground showers, and is supposed to save up to 18 million gallons a year while making car rides home slightly more uncomfortable than they used to be.

The Earth could be headed for a 'mini ice age' researchers have warned.

A new study claims to have cracked predicting solar cycles - and says that between 2020 and 2030 solar cycles will cancel each other out.

This, they say, will lead to a phenomenon known as the 'Maunder minimum' - which has previously been known as a mini ice age when it hit between 1646 and 1715, even causing London's River Thames to freeze over.

A swarm of small earthquakes struck the Southern California city of Fillmore Wednesday, according to a seismologist with the U.S. Geological Survey, prompting concerns that they could signal the arrival of a larger quake sooner or later.

The quakes began around 3:00 AM with a 1.4 magnitude tremor, according to the Southern California Earthquake Data Center at the California Institute of Technology. The largest registered a magnitude of 2.7, while most of the several dozen quakes fell below 2.0, meaning that many of them were likely too light to be felt.

Activity at Sabancaya volcano increases in Arequipa

Posted on July 9, 2015

July 2015 – PERU – About a year ago, Sabancaya volcano became active again after about 15 years of silence. The volcano located in Arequipa, is just one of a volcanic complex including Hualca-Hualca and Ampato. The Geophysical Institute of Peru reports that in the period of July 1 to July 6, the volcano has registered an average of 13 events per day. And it has reached a peak of energy of 601 MJ as observed on July 2. The IGP affirms that in this period, the fracture quakes located less than 6 kilometers from the crater (also known as VTP or VT for Volcano-tectonic) are numerous but declined relatively last week.

The maximum magnitude of the fracture quakes was 3.3 ML according to their report. The LP seismicity (passage of fluids) decreases, resulting in an average of 72 events per day, while energy reached a peak of 131 MJ on July 2. The IGP does not expect any violent eruptions unless a drastic change occurs in the activity. If that occurs, the Observatorio Vulcanológico del Sur (OVS) will examine the report. It is recommended to avoid approaching the summit of the Sabancaya volcano in Arequipa. Sabancaya last erupted in 2003. –Peru this week

RALEIGH (WTVD) -- The sinkhole by the Raleigh Grande Theater has expanded.

Parts of the pavement started disappearing in front of the theater in June.

Rain is reportedly the cause of the sinkhole's new growth and it is now fenced off.

Raleigh's Stormwater Program Manager Blair Hinkle tells Eyewitness News it will be up to the property owner to pay for repairs to the sinkhole.

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Wildlife officials are investigating after residents reported a large number of dead songbirds in Kuna, a city about 18 miles southwest of Boise.

The Idaho Statesman reports that the dead birds show no signs of physical injury and were not sickened by plague. Idaho Department of Fish and Game regional conservation educator Evin Oneale says the cause of death appears to be a specific type of pathogen that has yet to be determined.

Oneale says no similar dead bird sightings have been reported in other parts of the Treasure Valley.

He advises residents who see numerous dead birds to report them to Fish and Game immediately.

No swimming warning on McDowell County river after fish kill

Posted: Jul 05, 2015 10:13 AM MDT
Updated: Jul 05, 2015 10:13 AM MDT

MARION, N.C. (AP) - A no swimming warning continues on the North Fork Catawba River in McDowell County as investigators try to figure out what killed hundreds of fish and other aquatic wildlife.

The fish kill was discovered Wednesday night on the river near Marion.

Health officials say scientists have taken samples from the river and hope to have results back by Monday.

The advisory affects about 7 miles of the river, which flows into Lake James and eventually becomes the Catawba River that flows west of Charlotte.

Experts say they don't think ground water in the area was polluted by whatever might have killed the fish and other creatures in the river.

This shrimp season, the province continues to be the hot spot of diseases. There is a risk of a disease outbreak, which can spread to many areas in the province, an official said.

The effects of prolonged hot weather and changes in the environment during the pre-monsoon season have led to local shrimp farms in the province suffering heavy losses.

Fish kill reported at Flanners Beach

Dead Menhaden and blue crabs are washing up on shore at Flanners Beach along the Neuse River in Craven County.

Lower Neuse Riverkeeper Travis Graves says it's too early to tell how large of a fish kill this is.

He says there was a small fish kill reported a couple of weeks ago, and this could be a continuation.

He says a rough estimate would be about 150,000 to 200,000 dead fish.

Graves says there was an algae bloom awhile ago and the oxygen levels have been low in the water.

LAKEWOOD - A video showing hundreds of dead fish at a Lakewood pond was posted to Facebook.

Erin Michalak Sandell shared the video with 9NEWS Wednesday. The pond is located near West Jewell Avenue and South Kipling Street.

The manager of urban parks in Lakewood, Steve Carpenter, said the die off is likely due to the recent change in temperature.

The rain that fell Sunday and Monday cooled the water. Colder water is deficient in oxygen. The fish were not able to get enough oxygen from the cooler water.

Carpenter believes the die off is over and now it's just a matter of removing the dead fish.

Mysterious mass deaths eels

By André Spaansen

TERMUNTEN -The grim discovery of thousands of dead eels near Termunten is a mystery. Fish unexpectedly crept out of the water and died en masse around the Breebaartpolder at the Groningen site.

The innumerable corpses were found on it this week to the road along the Dollard let the manager know Groninger landscape troubled. Possibly the animals were 'stuffed' by lack of oxygen and tried to come off.

It seems that no other species have died. In the region, despite the heat period the fish deaths are not remarkably high, so it seemed, at least until Wednesday. Here and there were dead fish in ponds, but not much in nature. You may also have heavy rainfall to make something with it.

Blue-green algae

Employees of the Hunze and Aa's and the volunteers of the Groninger landscape had now, however, the grim task of sacks full of dead eels have to clean up. The Water Board has taken water samples at the same time for further investigation into the mystery.

The Groningen polder has a limited tide of thirty centimeters, since there is an opening through a culvert in the dam was applied to make that possible. In the water is turned off include glass eels.

Trump: 'Infectious disease is pouring across the border'

By Jesse Byrnes

COMMENTS 2540

Donald Trump doubled down on his controversial comments about illegal immigration from Mexico on Monday, saying, "infectious disease is pouring across the border."

Trump issued a lengthy — nearly 900 word — statement invoking the death of a San Francisco woman shot and killed last week by a suspect who had previously been deported to Mexico five times.

"This is merely one of thousands of similar incidents throughout the United States," Trump said Monday. "In other words, the worst elements in Mexico are being pushed into the United States by the Mexican government."

The 2016 Republican presidential candidate said Mexican drug cartels are using immigrants to smuggle heroin, cocaine and other illicit drugs into the United States.

The Army plans to cut 40,000 soldiers from its ranks over the next two years, a reduction that will affect virtually all of its domestic and foreign posts, the service asserts in a document obtained by USA TODAY.

The potential troop cut comes as the Obama administration is pondering its next moves against the Islamic State militant group in Iraq and Syria. President Obama said Monday he and military leaders had not discussed sending additional troops to Iraq to fight the Islamic State. There are about 3,500 troops in Iraq.

Hackers send 'unexplained' orders to German Patriot missile battery

This post is appearing on Autoblog Military, Autoblog's sub-site dedicated to the vehicles, aircraft and ships of the world's armed forces.

Brandon Turkus

Well, this is absolutely terrifying. According to The Local, hackers attacked a German Patriot surface-to-air missile battery, like the one shown above, stationed along the Turkish-Syria border. The cyber attack caused the battery to carryout "unexplained" orders.

It's believed that cyber attackers managed to exploit the Patriot battery in two different ways. The first exploit was through the Sensor-Shooter-Interoperability, which controls interactions between the actual, physical missile launcher and its control system, while the other was on the guidance chip. These weaknesses could have allowed the hackers to steal data or, more worryingly, actually take control of the battery.

That's a highly troubling scenario, particularly following the attack on Malaysian Flight 17 over the Ukraine, not to mention worries over aviation security in the Middle East and North Africa. While those concerns focused on highly transportable, shoulder-fired SAMs, the Patriot is a far more dangerous weapons system – according to a BBC fact file, it can track up to 100 targets and send guidance data to nine individual missiles.

David Hastings is a rare American. This long-time hybrid car owner from Oregon wants to pay higher taxes for roads and bridges and says the current 30 cents per gallon state gas tax barely affects him.

"I've been free-loading on the highways for 20 years driving electric cars or hybrid cars, getting at least 40 miles to the gallon. So I haven't been paying my share," Hastings said.

Now, Hastings will pay more thanks to OReGO -- the first pay-by-the-mile program in the U.S.

Oregon's Department of Transportation has been working on it for 15 years as a way to eventually replace the gas tax, which has been flat due to an influx of high mileage vehicles and people driving less.

Right now the program is voluntary and being capped at 5,000 participants, but an ODOT official told Fox News the ultimate goal is to make it mandatory and change the way states pay for roads -- forever.

"We're trying to make up for a growing deficit, really, because inflation's eating away at our ability to buy asphalt and rebar and the things we need to maintain the roads," said Tom Fuller of the Oregon Department of Transportation.

According to a national usage fee alliance, 28 states are in various stages of following down the same road. However, there are also privacy concerns. Two of the three OReGO systems track and store a car's every move.

The German Siege Of Greece Begins (No, This Is Not A Repeat From 1941)

By Michael Snyder, on July 6th, 2015

Did you notice that Greece's creditors are not rushing to offer the Greeks a new deal in the wake of the stunning referendum result on Sunday? In fact, it is being reported that the initial reaction to the "no" vote from top European politicians was "a thunderous silence". Needless to say, the European elite were not pleased by how the Greek people voted, but they still have all of the leverage. In particular, it is the Germans that are holding all of the cards. If the Germans want to cave in and give the Greeks the kind of deal that they desire, everyone else would follow suit. And if the Germans want to maintain a hard line with Greece, they can block any deal from happening all by themselves. So in the final analysis, this is really an economic test of wills between Germany and Greece, and time is on Germany's side. Germany doesn't have to offer anything new. The Germans can just sit back and wait for the Greek government to default on their debts, for Greek banks to totally run out of cash and for civil unrest to erupt in Greek cities as the economy grinds to a standstill.

In ancient times, if a conquering army came up against a walled city that was quite formidable, often a decision would be made to conduct a siege. Instead of attacking a heavily defended city directly and taking heavy casualties, it was often much more cost effective to simply surround the city from a safe distance and starve the inhabitants into submission.

Markets prepare for new Greek currency as Grexit prospect grows

There appears now to be contingency plans in the making for a new currency in the event of the total exit of Greece as now reports indicate that for months "Grexit" has been a regular topic for speculation among foreign currency specialists. But the working assumption has been that all parties in Greece's drawn-out saga would find a way of resolving their differences and keep the country in the eurozone. That is no longer the case following the resounding "No" vote in the Greek referendum. As the financial markets digested the referendum outcome, foreign exchange strategists began to factor in the increased probability, instead of mere possibility, of Grexit.

EASIER TERMS FOR GREECE COULD OPEN A CAN OF WORMS IN EUROPE

BY BARRY HATTON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LISBON, Portugal (AP) -- Eurozone governments taking a tough line on Greece's demand for debt relief and easier bailout terms fear opening a can of worms.

Ceding too much ground to Athens could ignite a broader political crisis by infuriating people in other bailed-out countries in the currency bloc which, unlike Greece, have obediently complied with the demands of creditors and largely restored their financial health through painful - and politically costly - austerity measures.

Governments in Spain, Portugal and Ireland, which all face elections within the next nine months, fear losing power to parties that, like Greece's radical left Syriza, are calling for an end to budget cuts and easier terms on debt.

As Syriza inspires opponents of austerity across Europe, here is a look at what's happening in the eurozone's other big three debtor countries.

Other markets in Asia were also sharply lower as investor sentiment was hit by the twin worries of the China rout and Greece's uncertain future in the euro.

One in five Americans participates in government assistance programs each month, according to the most recent data released by the U.S. Census Bureau.

"Approximately 52.2 million (or 21.3 percent) people in the U.S. participated in major means-tested government assistance programs each month in 2012," according to the Census Bureau's report.

Means-tested programs include Medicaid, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), otherwise known as food stamps, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), and General Assistance (GA).

The number of beneficiaries of these means-tested programs has increased significantly over the last decade. According to the Census, in 2004 there were nearly 42 million monthly recipients of these programs. Between that year and 2012, monthly participation increased by 24.9 percent.

Pope calls for new economic order, criticizes capitalism

SANTA CRUZ, BOLIVIA | BY PHILIP PULLELLA AND SARAH MARSH

Pope Francis on Thursday urged the downtrodden to change the world economic order, denouncing a "new colonialism" by agencies that impose austerity programs and calling for the poor to have the "sacred rights" of labor, lodging and land.

In one of the longest, most passionate and sweeping speeches of his pontificate, the Argentine-born pope also asked forgiveness for the sins committed by the Roman Catholic Church in its treatment of native Americans during what he called the "so-called conquest of America."

That's what the Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industry (BOLI) is telling the owners of Sweet Cakes By Melissa, a bakery owned by Christians who refused to bake a cake for a lesbian wedding.

On Friday the state ordered owners Aaron and Melissa Klein to pay $135,000 in damages to a lesbian couple they turned away in 2013.

The state also slapped a gag order on the evangelical Christian bakers—banning them from speaking publicly about their refusal to participate in or bake wedding cakes for same-sex unions.

SAUDI PRINCE ALWALEED BIN TALAL, A SENIOR MEMBER OF THE SAUDI MONARCHY, SAYS HE'LL PLEDGE HIS $32 BILLION TO ADVANCE THE ISLAMIZATION OF AMERICA.

The Saudis have spent billions already. 80% of the mosques built in America are Saudi funded. Islamic groups working to impose the sharia are largely funded by the Saudis. We can look forward to 32 billion more of the "kingdom's brand of Islam, while censoring criticism of Islam."

And it's not just the media that is on the receiving end of this blood money, but also Muslim Brotherhood fronts like CAIR, which spend millions whining about how lucrative the "islamophobia" business is. As if ...the Saudis have been wildly successful so far.

Homosexual Advocates Call for Churches to Lose Tax-Exempt Status Following 'Gay Marriage' Ruling

At least two outspoken homosexual advocates are calling for churches nationwide to lose their tax-exempt status following last month's U.S. Supreme Court ruling declaring that all 50 states must legalize same-sex "marriage."

"[N]ow that the U.S. government formally recognizes marriage equality as a fundamental right, it really shouldn't skew the tax code so as to give millions of dollars in tax breaks to groups which remain steadfastly bigoted on the subject," wrote Felix Salmon, senior editor for Fusion, in an article entitled "Does Your Church Ban Gay Marriage? Then It Should Start Paying Taxes" last Monday.

He pointed to the Supreme Court ruling that resulted in the revocation of Bob Jones University's tax exemption because of its stance surrounding interracial couples.

Christian Flag No Longer Flying Outside Alabama Police Department Following Atheist Complaint

GLENCOE, Ala. — A Christian flag has been removed from its position outside of an Alabama police department after a prominent atheist activist organization sent a letter to the city, demanding that it come down.

Glencoe officials have confirmed that the Christian flag—a white and blue flag with a red cross first created in 1897 to honor the Christian faith—that has flown outside of the city police department for 20 years has been removed. The flag was one of three outside of the building, including that Alabama and American flag.

Mayor Charles Gilchrist told local television station WBRC that the flag was removed just weeks after the city received a letter from the Madison, Wisconsin-based Freedom from Religion

Foundation (FFRF). The group stated that it had received a complaint about the presence of the flag and asserted that it was an unlawful endorsement of Christianity.

“It is unconstitutional for a government entity to fly a flag with a patently religious symbol and meaning on its grounds,” the letter, written by staff attorney Andrew Seidel, read. “You must take immediate action and refrain from hoisting this flag up the flagpole at the city hall building.”

Seidel contended that the flag infringes upon the First Amendment’s Establishment Clause, which reads, “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.” He also argued that hoisting the Christian symbol outside of the police department disrespects other religions or those of no religion at all.

“The display of this patently religious symbol on city property confers government endorsement of Christianity, a blatant violation of the Establishment Clause,” the letter stated. “The cross on the flag pole of Glencoe’s city hall building unabashedly creates the perception of government endorsement of Christianity.”

Why the Bible Is Not the Word of God

Perhaps it should be first noted that I am a licensed minister in the Missionary Baptist tradition. I believe in preaching the word of God. I believe in the saving of souls from the clutches of dark forces. I believe that God is all-loving and all-powerful, and that his son, Jesus of Nazareth, was the son of God, who has given us a way to live life fully and abundantly. Yet, I do not believe the Holy Bible is the infallible word of God.

The Holy Bible is a collection of Christian texts that is the result of refinement by men who thought they were led by God to discern his teachings. The early Christian world was diverse and everyone had a different take on the Gospel of Jesus. These disagreements were "settled" in large meetings of high ranking priests called "Councils." The Council of Hippo (one of the African Synods) drew up a collection of texts, which is now the Catholic Bible (including a class of texts I as a Protestant would call Apocrypha), in 393 AD. St. Jerome is credited with creating the Old Latin Vulgate, which was the outcome of the African Synods and was used as the Bible for centuries.

Oregon's Brad Avakian has forced a gag order against a Christian couple who refused to bake a cake for a lesbian wedding. (YouTube)

In one of the most egregious anti-Christian acts committed by a state official in recent memory, Oregon Labor Commissioner Brad Avakian not only upheld the ridiculous $135,000 fine levied against Aaron and Melissa Klein for declining to bake a cake for a lesbian commitment ceremony, but he ordered the Kleins to "cease and desist" from making any public comments about their religious convictions relative to this case.

This is an outrage and a travesty, and it must be rebuked and resisted. Who does Mr. Avakian think he is?

The fine itself is unconscionable, as the amount of $135,000 was determined by tallying up the alleged emotional damages experienced by the lesbian couple, who as Thomas D. Williams noted, "accused the Kleins of 'mental rape,' adding that they had suffered a 'loss of appetite' and 'impaired digestion,' which remarkably led to 'weight gain.'"

If anyone here was "raped," it was the Kleins (by the government) not this couple (by the Kleins).

How Preaching Moved From Solid Theology to Pop Psychology

The words from modern-day pulpits seem to be based more in psychology than theology. (Flickr/Creative Commons)

There has been a growing trend among evangelical pastors and churches over the past 50 years regarding the demise of theology and its subsequent replacement with psychology. (By theology I mean the serious systematic and orderly study of God.) There are numerous reasons for this, not the least of which is the failure of many seminaries to fully prepare potential pastors for the practical rigors and challenges of leading a local church, and that so many leaders find themselves burned out and unable to cope with all the pressures of the ministry and their personal lives.

The genesis of this trend started in the late 1800s, when theology no longer functioned as the "queen of the sciences" (in which all academic study revolved around the study of God), but became a separate field of study through seminaries only for those who were going into full-time ministry.

The repercussions of this have been cataclysmic. Now it has become popular that theology is not important enough for the average Christian, and also that it is not practical for the real world.

A Word of Warning to Gay-Affirming Churches

How exactly should we address speaking the truth in love when it comes to the gay community? (Reuters)

A Facebook feed caught my attention this week. A picture of a gay-affirming church at a Nashville Pride parade holding up a banner with written letters for all the gay community to see, "God is PROUD of you".

Passionate commenters posted to this thread throughout the day:

"These people call themselves a church, but while they think they are being loving, they are actually expressing hate. Their demonstration of "love" and "acceptance" is an encouragement for sinners to remain under God's wrath. That is not God's love."

"Are you saying people with a different orientation are not deserving of God's love?"

"How could you possibly read that into what he is saying? God's love sent His Son to us to save us from our sins. Love doesn't affirm us in our sins. We all have an orientation towards sinful behavior. But, Jesus Christ came to set us free so that we will not be subjects of God's wrath on the Day of Judgment. Unless we turn from our sinful orientations, believe and obey the gospel, we will all be condemned to eternal damnation."

Brittney Griner's alma mater, Baylor, has now dropped 'homosexual acts' from its misconduct. (YouTube)

Join us on our new podcast each weekday for an interesting story, well told, from Charisma News. Listen at charismapodcastnetwork.com.

The world's largest Baptist university, Baylor, has dropped language in its sexual misconduct policy that punished those who engaged in homosexual acts, a change the socially conservative school said better reflects its values as "a caring community."

Baylor, in the central Texas city of Waco, had been one of a handful of religious U.S. colleges and universities that allowed for the dismissal of students, and sometimes staff, for homosexuality.

Baylor has removed "homosexual acts" as a punishable offense in its sexual misconduct policy, an official said on Tuesday. The policy also mandated disciplinary action for sexual assault, incest, adultery and fornication.

Jimmy Carter Says He Believes 'Jesus Would Approve of Gay Marriage' — but Even He Makes a Big Admission About That Claim

Former president Jimmy Carter said on Tuesday that he believes Jesus would approve of gay marriage, though he said that he doesn't have "any verse in scripture" to corroborate this notion.

"I believe he would. I believe Jesus would. I don't have any verse in scripture..." Carter responded when asked by HuffPo Live host Mark Lamont Hill whether Christ would embrace same-sex nuptials. "I believe that Jesus would approve of gay marriage, but I'm not — that's just my own personal belief."

The one-term Democratic president also said that he believes Jesus "would encourage ... any love affair that was honest and sincere."

And since Carter believes that gay marriage doesn't "damage anyone else," he said that he has no qualms about it.

Watch Carter speak about the issue below at the 17:00 mark:

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) - A group advocating for separation of church and state may propose that a Satanic statue be placed outside the Arkansas Statehouse after their first choice of the Oklahoma Capitol grounds was scuttled by a state Supreme Court ruling barring all religious monuments.

The Satanic Temple says Arkansas' approval of a Ten Commandments display gives the group a right to erect the statue.

Oklahoma's Supreme Court last week ordered the Ten Commandments display outside the Capitol building in Oklahoma City taken down because the state constitution bars the government from doing anything to benefit a religion.

The group says Arkansas is an alternative site for the 8 1/2-foot-tall Baphomet statue, depicting Satan as a goat-headed figure. Arkansas legislators have passed a bill similar to one establishing Oklahoma's Ten Commandments monument.

Pastors Plan to Protest Unveiling of Satanic Statue in Detroit

DETROIT, Mich. — A group of pastors in Detroit plan to protest the unveiling of a Satanic statue later this month, which was sought to be placed next to a Ten Commandments monument on the grounds of the Oklahoma state capitol building.

As previously reported, the New York-based Satanic Temple issued a news release about its intentions in 2013 following the filing of a lawsuit by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), which asserted that the presence of the Ten Commandments display on government property violated the Establishment Clause of the United States Constitution.

The Satanic Temple said that it offered to donate a statue of Baphomet to be placed near the Ten Commandments display in order to “appease the ACLU’s concerns.”

“The statue will serve as a beacon calling for compassion and empathy among all living creatures,” spokesperson Lucien Greaves explained in his application to the Oklahoma Capitol Preservation Commission. “The statue will also have a functional purpose as a chair where people of all ages may sit on the lap of Satan for inspiration and contemplation.”

Here comes the Wave of “Gay” Comics

Mainstream comic book publishers have tried for years to draw a more diverse readership by incorporating gay characters and storylines. Lately, they have faced increased competition from smaller publishers that want to go more mainstream and already have an established roster of inclusive offerings. As the comic book industry prepares to gather at Comic-Con International, which begins Thursday in San Diego, publishers big and small will be promoting a wider selection of gay-themed comic books.

DEMOCRATS INTRODUCE BILL TO BAN 'HUSBAND' AND 'WIFE' AS 'ANTI-GAY' WORDS

"Gendered terms" would be removed from federal law

by PAUL JOSEPH WATSON | JULY 10, 2015

Fresh off the Supreme Court ruling on gay marriage, Democrats in California have introduced a bill that would ban the words "husband" and "wife" from being used in federal law because they are "gendered terms" and discriminate against gay people.

The words husband and wife were deleted from California state law last year in order to accommodate same sex marriage.

Under new legislation proposed by over two dozen Democrats, that same rule would be applied federally. The bill, introduced by Rep. Lois Capps, D-Calif, would introduce new "gender-neutral" terms such as "spouse" or "married couple."

"The Amend the Code for Marriage Equality Act recognizes that the words in our laws have meaning and can continue to reflect prejudice and discrimination even when

The Anglican Bishop of Minna Diocese, Retired Rev. Daniel Yisa, has condemned the United States of America's decision to legalise same-sex marriage, describing such marriages as "satanic".

Yisa made the remark while speaking with Journalists after the 100 years (centenary) thanksgiving service at the St. Peter's Anglican Cathedral Church, on Sunday in Minna.

"Gay is not a Biblical or African practice; if God hates it, we all must hate it."
