والعلامات حتى 18 أغسطس 2015

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيق اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذاري انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشتر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تُوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

'Godzilla' weather pattern may hit California in fall,

California could get hit with an El Niño stronger than the monster El Niño of 1997 that caused mudslides, flooding and $500 million in damage. But experts warn against hopes the weather pattern would erase the effects of the state's 4-year drought. VPC

Cue the screaming, the pointing, the badly synced exclamation: It's Godzilla!

The National Weather Service on Thursday said a gathering El Niño weather pattern in the Pacific Ocean could become one of the most powerful on record, bringing once-in-a-generation storms later this year to drought-stricken California.

Bill Patzert, a climatologist with NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, said the system has the possibility of becoming "the Godzilla El Niño." Its ocean signal, he said, is stronger

EVACUATION ORDERS LIFTED FOR MOST WHO FLED ARIZONA WILDFIRE

BULLHEAD CITY, Ariz. (AP) -- Authorities lifted evacuation orders for most of the 1,000 homes threatened by a wildfire near the Arizona-California line, one of several blazing across the tinder-dry West.

The fire in Arizona's Mohave Valley area chewed through 10 square miles and remained uncontrolled Monday.

Evacuation orders were lifted for 900 homes after crews made solid efforts in protecting them and conditions became more favorable, said Byron Steward, Mohave County emergency management coordinator.

The wildfire broke out Saturday in the Havasu National Wildlife Refuge. Authorities say it has burned 11 homes but it was not known if they were damaged or destroyed.

The fire's cause is under investigation. Here's a look at other wildfires burning up Western states:

OLD AND NEW CALIFORNIA FIRES

As crews close in on a destructive blaze in Northern California's rural, rocky hills, another wildfire erupted nearby and quickly spread across nearly 8 square miles.

Evacuations have been ordered for the fire that ignited Sunday and doubled in size overnight, the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection said.

Death toll in scorching Egyptian heat wave rises to 93

Posted on August 15, 2015

August 2015 – EGYPT – At least 93 people have died during a heat wave in Egypt this week that sent air temperatures soaring to as high as 115 degrees Fahrenheit in southern parts of the country, the nation's official Middle East News Agency (MENA) reported Friday. With high temperatures in the forecast for this weekend, authorities fear the death toll may continue to mount. Detainees and older people are members of two of the groups at the greatest risk of death during the heat wave. Most of the associated fatalities this week have been older people, MENA said. However, three patients at a psychiatric hospital and three prisoners in a jail also have perished. Demographic information has not been released for all of the dead.

Several hundred people suffering heat exhaustion have been admitted to hospitals, and this figure appears likely to grow as temperatures in Cairo are expected to be in the area of 107 degrees Fahrenheit Sunday. Egypt's Ministry of Health told residents "not to leave home except for extreme necessity," as it urged people to stay indoors and away from direct sunlight. After the spate of deaths and hospitalizations related to heat exhaustion, the Cairo Post published an article with tips to survive the heat wave. It advised readers to stay inside, drink plenty of fluids and avoid very humid locations, as humidity can rapidly lead to dehydration. In a country where most women wear hijabs, or head coverings, and many wear niqabs, head-to-toe coverings, they are at high risk of overheating. Accordingly, the Post encouraged them to wear cotton products, which breathe comparatively easily. Egypt endured a similar heat wave last summer, when temperatures were also well above 100 degrees Fahrenheit for more than a week. –IB Times

More than 5,000 earthquakes have hit northwest Nevada since swarm started in July 2014

Published August 11, 2015 • Associated Press

Seismologists studying a year-long swarm of thousands of mostly minor earthquakes in northwest Nevada say they could be the precursor for a "big one," although speculation that they're related to a series of extinct volcanoes can't be ruled out.

The University of Nevada's Reno Nevada Seismological Laboratory announced Tuesday that there have been 5,610 earthquakes in a swarm that started in July 2014 in the Sheldon National Wildlife Refuge near the Oregon border.

More than 200 have registered at a magnitude of 3 or greater, which is enough to be felt by ranchers and residents nearby. The largest one hit on Nov. 6 with a magnitude of 4.7, although there's also been a recent flare-up since mid-July.

"It's kind of usual that it has lasted so long," said Ken Smith, a seismologist.

It's been a topic of discussion whether or not those quakes stem from the extinct volcanoes in the Sheldon refuge collectively known as the High Rock Caldera, which is at least 15 million

Avian Flu Reported in Mexico

12 August 2015

MEXICO - Authorities in Sinaloa state's agriculture department stated that the outbreak occurred on the "Egg Champion" poultry farm in the municipality of El Rosario.

The outbreak was detected on 21 July and 24 July, and the company was placed under a quarantine preventing the movement of birds. Around 512,000 birds have been culled, a statement from Sinaloa said.

According to the Uruguayan newspaper Republic, the officials said Sinaloa's borders were closed to the import and export of poultry products to prevent the virus from spreading, but there is little risk of the outbreak spreading to other farms.

The authorities said the critical point was that the detected virus is low pathogenic.

"It's a farm with laying birds, there is no risk to human health, there is no reason to expect an increase in the product price," said State Coordinating Officer of Health, Januario Ríos de los Núñez.

Meanwhile, Ernesto Echeverría Aispuro, Mexico's Secretary of Health, explained that this infection in poultry has no effect on humans, but advised people to avoid eating products from this particular farm.

As the carcasses of fish, pelicans and even a dolphin washed up on the beaches of La Brea last weekend, president of the La Brea Fisherfolk Association Alvin La Borde is pleading with the Environmental Management Authority (EMA) to conduct comprehensive studies on toxicity levels of the Gulf of Paria.

Speaking by telephone yesterday, La Borde said although many people blame Petrotrin's oil spill in December 2013, the washing up of dead fish in La Brea has been going on long before that incident.

However, he said it had been increasing in recent times and it was becoming extremely worrying as they feared the gulf may be contaminated.

Yesterday, Point Sable, Carat Shed Beach and Coffee Beach were feasting grounds for corbeaux as carcasses littered the shoreline for miles. A few beachgoers who gathered at Carat Shed Beach said they dared not enter the water as they were not sure if the beach was safe.

MONTEREY, Calif. - A minor anchovy die-off in the Monterey Bay Thursday has harbor officials scratching their heads. The cause is still unknown but they suspect above average warm waters and unusual ocean conditions this year may be to blame.

"I noticed them out here. And I looked over here and seen all kinds of dead little fish over there," said fisherman Tucker Bergerson.

Bergerson fishes in the Monterey Bay every day. He like others who make a living out in the open waters, know something isn't right in the bay.

"There have been fish dying, there have been a bunch of birds dead in the water as well. Some of the marine mammals like the sea lions, seals and the otters, they'll have seizures and they will be delirious like dementia," said tour guide Kamyar Shareghi.

That was the case earlier this week when a young whale got stuck on some rocks in Monterey Bay. Marine scientists now think it may have been suffering from domoic acid poisoning. The acid is produced by algae.

"The water is definitely a little more green than we usually notice; almost like a hazel color actually," said Shareghi.

Marine experts said the algae accumulates in shellfish, sardines and anchovies and is then eaten by mammals.

DNR investigating fish kill near Woolstock

August 13, 2015 By Radio Iowa Contributor

The Iowa Department of Natural Resources is investigating a fish kill of several species along a three mile stretch of the Boone River on the Wright-Hamilton county line near Woolstock. A resident reported the dead fish to the DNR late Tuesday afternoon after finding them around bridge pilings Monday night.

The DNR traced the dead fish up river to north of where Wright County Road C-70 crosses the river. On Wednesday DNR staff found many live fish and dead fish in several stages of decay.

The investigators also found live mussels, a species that is sensitive to pollution. There has been no dollar estimate on the dead fish discovered in the Boone.

Warm water killing fish in Mat-Su and Anchorage

Sean Doogan | August 13, 2015

Email

Unusually warm water temperatures and low river levels are killing salmon in the Matanuska and Susitna valleys. Hundreds of Arctic char, recently stocked by the Alaska Department of Fish and Game, have also gone belly up in Campbell Point Lake, also known as Little Campbell Lake, inside Anchorage's Kincaid Park.

Habitat biologists are calling the conditions "almost a perfect storm," but don't believe the die-offs will have lasting effects on fish numbers in Southcentral Alaska.

"It will have some impact but in the long term for species that return multiple age classes, I wouldn't characterize it as a disaster," said Mike Bethe, Mat-Su area manager for the Habitat Division of the Alaska Department of Fish and Game.

Fish and Game biologists have reported water temperatures as high as 74 degrees in Jim Creek -- a small tributary of the Knik River. Some dead salmon have been found near the river's weir, where Fish and Game staff count incoming fish to monitor and manage the run. Combined with low water levels, which make it difficult for salmon to move upstream to spawn, the fish die-offs have forced Fish and Game to close Jim Creek to all fishing on Mondays and Tuesdays. And dead fish have been turning up in other Mat-Su streams, including Lucille Creek, Fish Creek and Cottonwood Creek.

Dead herring, poison mussels found on Unalaska shorelines

Hundreds of dead herring washed up on Front Beach in downtown Unalaska on Tuesday.

“Hundreds of herring floating in the water,” Caleb Livingston, who lives nearby, said as he was walking his dog Hazel on the beach. “But what really got my attention was the few that drifted on the beach were not being eaten by the eagles, or seagulls or terns.”

Scientists have been receiving reports of dead and dying whales, birds and the small fish known as sand lance in the Aleutian Islands.

A dead Steller’s sea lion washed ashore in Unalaska in July with no wounds or other obvious causes of death.

Factories blamed after third fish die-off

In the third mass die-off this year, tens of thousands of fish have died in Mandalay's Lake Taungthaman. The number of dead fish appears to be less than in the previous events of April and May.

This time, the finger is pointing at factory waste.

"I think these deaths occurred because factories disposed of their wastewater into the lake during the heavy rains," said U Aung Lwin, who is in charge of the licensed fishery in the lake.

A technical investigation by the Myanmar Fisheries Federation cleared local factories of responsibility for the death of hundreds of thousands of fish in May in the Amarapura township tourist site.

Typhoon Soudelor leaves whales stranded in New Taipei

Enru Lin

THE CHINA POST/ANN

Thursday, Aug 13, 2015

TAIPEI, Taiwan - The Coast Guard Administration (CGA) said yesterday it found four whales stranded on the beaches of New Taipei City after Typhoon Soudelor, only one of which survived.

The four whales ranged in size and included a dwarf sperm whale and a three-foot-long Bryde's whale, the CGA reported last night.

The sole survivor was a 250-kilogram sperm whale that was spotted around 1 p.m. yesterday on Kuo-sheng-ts'un Beach in New Taipei City. Three Coast Guard officers and one civilian fishing boat lifted the whale and were able to lead it back to deeper waters for release.

A Bryde's whale and a second sperm whale were found later yesterday in Wanli District in northeastern New Taipei City. Both died onshore shortly after discovery.

The Bryde's whale was found at around 4 p.m. in Xialiao Beach and died an hour later despite rescue efforts, according to the CGA. The Taiwan Cetacean Society said it will conduct an autopsy Wednesday to determine the cause of death.

A 200-cm-long sperm whale was found at Dingliao Beach and was declared dead at around 7 p.m. yesterday.

The Department of Fisheries and Oceans is investigating whether there's any link between four humpback whales found dead off B.C.'s central coast over the last week.

Marine mammal coordinator Paul Cottrell said necropsies were performed on two of the whales, but it could take weeks to determine the causes of death.

Though details are sparse, Cottrell said the number of recent discoveries is troubling.

More dead whales have been found in the Gulf of Alaska following the sightings of nine fin whale carcasses in late May and early June.

The Alaska Dispatch News reports that fishermen, pilots and survey crews have reported five additional dead whales over the past several weeks, including four humpbacks and one fin whale.

University of Alaska Fairbanks marine mammal specialist Kate Wynne says one theory is that the whales died from a toxin related to warmth-induced algae blooms in the Gulf of Alaska waters.

But she says scientists have tested a sample taken from the partially decomposed carcass of a dead fin whale and it did not contain the algae-produced toxin domoic acid. Other results are still pending.

(NaturalNews) The carcasses of three more marine mammals washed up on the shores of San Francisco beaches July 7, 2015. No one is sure what killed the sea creatures; however, the massive amounts of radiation leaking into the ocean from the Fukushima power plant over the past four years may bear some responsibility.

Joey DeRuy was walking along the beach Monday when he stumbled across a dead sea lion. Unperturbed, he kept walking until he came across an even bigger dead elephant seal just minutes later.

And this agenda is gaining considerable traction in California, where legislators are now moving forward with plans to force childhood vaccines on all adults who work in daycare centers, both private and public.

Senate Bill 792, also known as the "Day care facilities: immunizations: exemptions" act, was presented quietly alongside SB 277, which eliminates personal, philosophical and religious vaccine exemptions for children who attend both private and public schools in

China Has Accessed Private Emails of Top Obama Administration Officials Since 2010

Cyber spies in China have been accessing the private emails of "many" top Obama administration officials since at least April 2010, according to top secret documentation and a senior official in the U.S. intelligence community.

NBC News reported:

The email grab — first codenamed "Dancing Panda" by U.S. officials, and then "Legion Amethyst" — was detected in April 2010, according to a top secret NSA briefing from 2014. The intrusion into personal emails was still active at the time of the briefing and, according to the senior official, is still going on. In 2011, Google disclosed that the private gmail accounts of some U.S. officials had been compromised, but the briefing shows that private email accounts from other providers were compromised as well.

According to the intelligence official, the personal email accounts of "all top national security and trade officials" were targeted in the cyber attack. Government email addresses, however, were not compromised because of their security.

News of the massive breach comes just as former secretary of State Hillary Clinton is facing scrutiny for her use of a private email account during her time working in the Obama administration. Clinton served as secretary of State from January 2009 to February 2013, indicating that her email account was likely targeted in the cyber attack.

However, the NSA document and the intelligence official did not specifically name the individuals ultimately affected.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has launched a criminal probe into the security of Clinton's private email system in the wake of revelations about several messages containing classified information from multiple intelligence agencies.

Iran to Fire Missiles in War Drills

option against Iran remains on the table.

The Iranian military is gearing up to launch a series of missile drills following a direct order to resume military activity from Iranian Supreme Leader Ali Khamenei, according to Persian language reports flagged by the CIA's Open Source Center.

The announcement that Iran will resume firing missiles comes a day after Russian and Iranian naval warships held a series of military exercises meant to display a joint show of force in the region.

Iranian military leaders said the missile drills aim to highlight the Islamic Republic's "military might" in light of recent comments by U.S. officials saying that a military Khamenei ordered the Iranian military to resume launching missiles and running drills, according to a Persian language report by Iran's state-controlled Fars News Agency, which is closely aligned with Iran's Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC).

The "launch of missiles will be conducted according to plans and as per the approval of commander-in-chief of the armed forces Supreme Leader [Ali Khamenei]," Major General Seyed Hassan Firouzabadi, chief of General Command Headquarters of Iran's Armed Forces, was quoted as saying by Fars, according to the Open Source Center's translation.

The Iranian parliament had also submitted a request to resume missile drills, according to the report. Firouzabadi reportedly thanked the parliament for making this request.

Earlier this month, senior figures in the Iranian parliament began to lobby to resume the missile drills as a show of force meant to deter the U.S. from striking Iran.

"If we hold a military drill and show the level of country's defense preparedness, especially in the field of missiles, then the threatening language of Americans will change," Seyyed Hossein Naqavi-Hosseini, a senior national security figure in the country's parliament, was quoted as saying at the time.

North Korea has issued new nuclear threats to the US saying it will respond accordingly if Washington does not cancel military exercises with South Korea. Pyongyang says it is ready to use its latest weapons, which are "unknown to the world."

The drills are due to take place Monday and have become an annual event for the US, South Korea and other allies, a fact that has often irked North Korea. The exercises, called Ulchi Freedom Guardian, are aimed to "protect the region and maintain stability on the Korean peninsula," a statement from the Korea-US Combined Forces Command stated, as cited by CNN.

Because the preteen girl practiced a religion other than Islam, the Quran not only gave him the right to rape her — it condoned and encouraged it, he insisted.

When it was over, he knelt to pray again, bookending the rape with acts of religious devotion.

The Islamic State group claimed responsibility for the explosion, saying it targeted a gathering place of Shiites and vowed more such attacks.

Military exercises in the area over the last two weeks have focused primarily on a scenario of offensive operations inside Syrian territory in response to possible action from the Syrian border such as the infiltration of dozens of terrorists armed with anti-tank weapons, machine guns, grenades and light weapons into one of the communities along the border.

The exercises included possible IDF responses to such infiltrations with troops firing at fixed points on the Syrian side of the border. Simultaneously, officials expect a barrage of mortar bombs to be fired at communities in the Golan Heights during such a scenario.

Former President Jimmy Carter, who on Wednesday revealed he is suffering from cancer, on Thursday painted a bleak picture of the prospects for peace between Israel and the Palestinian Authority (PA) - and placed the blame for the deadlock on Israel.

"At this moment, there is zero chance of the two-state solution," Carter told the British Prospect Magazine in an interview.

"These are the worst prospects for peace between Israel and the Palestinians for years," he added, and then proceeded to say he didn't think that Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu "has any intention" of making progress towards the goal.

"The Netanyahu government decided early on to adopt a one-state solution, but without giving them [the Palestinians] equal rights," he charged.

"They will never get equal rights to Israeli Jews, within that [single state]," predicted Carter, who added that he would like a drive to give them "more equal rights."

Asked whether without a deal Israel was heading for apartheid, he said, "I am reluctant to use that word in a news article" but that there was real force to the argument because of the rising Arab population in areas of Judea and Samaria.

Protesters Declare They Are Ready For War As America's Impoverished Inner Cities Threaten To Erupt

Are we about to witness a new round of racially-charged protests, riots and demonstrations all across the United States? On Sunday night, a protest that had been organized to commemorate the one year anniversary of Michael Brown's death in Ferguson, Missouri took a very violent turn. An 18-year-old named Tyrone Harris that is being described as a "real close" friend of Michael Brown opened fire on police with a stolen handgun.

In September 2015, Agenda 21 Will Be Transformed Into The 2030 Agenda

By Michael Snyder, on August 6th, 2015

If you didn't like "Agenda 21", then you really are not going to like "The 2030 Agenda". Next month, the United Nations is going to launch "The 2030 Agenda" at a major conference that will be held from September 25th to September 27th in New York City. The Pope is actually traveling to New York to deliver an address which will kick off this conference. Unlike Agenda 21, which primarily focused on the environment, the 2030 Agenda is truly a template for governing the entire planet. In addition to addressing climate change, it also sets ambitious goals for areas such as economics, health, energy, education, agriculture, gender equality and a whole host of other issues. As you will see below, this global initiative is being billed as a "new universal Agenda" for humanity. If you are anything like me, alarm bells are going off in your head right about now.

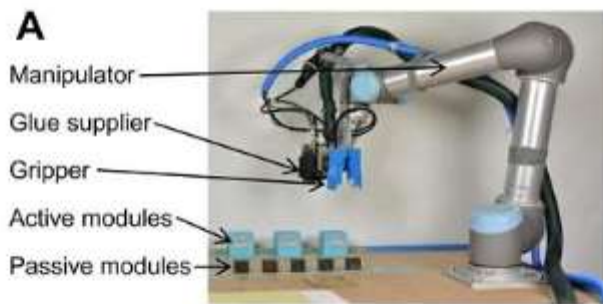

This new agenda is solidly rooted in a document known as "Agenda 21" that was originally adopted by the United Nations back in 1992. The following comes

In an experiment designed to show how robots can learn and evolve, researchers in Cambridge and Zurich programmed a robot arm—or "mother"—with an algorithm to create a device made out of blocks containing motors—its "child".

The Food and Drug Administration has approved limited use of the powerful and frequently abused painkiller OxyContin for children as young as 11 years old, the agency announced Thursday.

Dr. Sharon Hertz, director of new anesthesia, analgesia and addiction products for the FDA, said studies by Purdue Pharma of Stamford, Connecticut, which manufactures the drug, "supported a new pediatric indication for OxyContin in patients 11 to 16 years old and provided prescribers with helpful information about the use of OxyContin in pediatric patients."

OxyContin is a long-release version of oxycodone, an opioid that acts on the brain like heroin and is intended for only the most severe and chronic pain cases.

China Rattles Markets With Yuan Devaluation

August 10, 2015 — 7:24 PM MDT Updated on August 11, 2015 — 3:46 AM MDT

■ Yuan Devalued to Combat China Slowdown

China devalued the yuan in a move that rippled through global markets, as policy makers stepped up efforts to support exporters and boost the role of market pricing in Asia's largest economy.

The central bank cut its daily reference rate by 1.9 percent, triggering the yuan's biggest one-day drop since China ended a dual-currency system in January 1994. The People's Bank of China called the change a one-time adjustment and said its fixing will become more aligned with supply and demand.

Cramer: China's trade war on the US could be huge

Abigail Stevenson | @A_StevensonCNBC

Did the entire market come down with a case of amnesia, and forget all about when the miners, industrials and biotechs roared on Monday? Judging by the action on the averages on Tuesday, Jim Cramer suspects that could be the case.

"Last night I tried to be skeptical, if not downright critical, about the rally, suggesting it could easily be repealed as the week went on. I didn't know it would be repealed immediately," the "Mad Money" host said.

That's because Cramer was not expecting that investors would be dealing with a Chinese currency devaluation, which makes China's goods cheaper to export and U.S. goods more expensive to sell there.

12 Signs That An Imminent Global Financial Crash Has Become Even More Likely

By Michael Snyder, on August 11th, 2015

Did you see what just happened? The devaluation of the yuan by China triggered the largest one day drop for that currency in the modern era. This caused other global currencies to crash relative to the U.S. dollar, the price of oil hit a six year low, and stock markets all over the world were rattled. The Dow fell 212 points on Tuesday, and Apple stock plummeted another 5 percent. As we hurtle toward the absolutely critical months of September and October, the unraveling of the global financial system is beginning to accelerate. At this point, it is not going to take very much to push us into a full-blown worldwide financial crisis. The following are 12 signs that indicate that a global financial crash has become even more likely after the events of the past few days...

by MICHAEL SNYDER | ECONOMIC COLLAPSE BLOG | AUGUST 14, 2015

Those that run food banks all over America say that demand for their services just continues to explode. It always amazes me that there are still people out there that insist that an "economic collapse" is not happening. From their air-conditioned homes in their cushy suburban neighborhoods they mock the idea that the U.S. economy is crumbling. But if they would just go down and visit the local food banks in their areas, they would see how much people are hurting.

According to Feeding America spokesman Ross Fraser, 46 million Americans got food from a food bank at least one time during 2014. Because the demand has become so overwhelming, some food banks are cutting back on the number of days they operate and the amount of food that is given to each family. As you will see below, many

The big crackdown against Christians and their churches in China may be getting worse. Government workers are forcibly removing more and more crosses from church buildings.

This time, however, it's not underground churches experiencing this latest wave of persecution. The latest crackdown is against government-sanctioned churches and their crosses.

Recently, another cross was forcibly removed in China's Zhejiang province—this one by government workers at lower Dafei Catholic Church in Wenzhou. Parishioners sang Christian hymns as their church cross came down.

Many Muslims currently pray in public, and even the bathrooms, at the Orlando airport. Carolyn Fennell, director of public affairs at the airport, says the "Reflective Room" will give them a much more suitable place to pray.

Arkansas City Deletes Bible-Based Facebook Posts Following Atheist Complaint

August 15, 2015 | Filed under: Law & Government, Life & Society, Top Stories | By: Heather Clark

JONESBORO, Ark. — Officials with a city in Arkansas have deleted several Facebook posts that include quotes from the Bible or other Christian sayings following a complaint from a prominent atheist activist organization.

According to reports, the Jonesboro 911 dispatch page had featured a number of Christian-related posts, such as “I can do everything through Him who gives me strength. Have a great day!” and “Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the sons of God.”

In response to an anonymous complaint, the Madison, Wisconsin-based Freedom from Religion Foundation (FFRF) sent a letter to Mayor Harrold Perrin, declaring that whoever is posting the religious references on Facebook must cease.

“It is inappropriate for Dispatch Jonesboro to indicate a preference for Christianity and religion by quoting the Christian Bible, posting prayers, and sharing postings asking people to pray on the official dispatcher Facebook page,” the correspondence read. “This proselytizing message gives the appearance of government endorsement of Christianity. It also conflicts with personal religious and nonreligious views of many city residents and employees.”

The letter further asserted that posting the Scriptures and other saying alienated residents of other religions and sends the message that non-Christians are “outsiders.”

“To avoid further Establishment Clause concerns, the administrator of the Dispatch Jonesboro Facebook page must refrain from posting religious materials,” it contended.

In response to the correspondence, Mayor Perrin consulted with the city attorney, who advised that the posts should come down. Perrin then directed the dispatch department to delete the Facebook statuses at issue. The city is now also working on creating guidelines as to the content of city-based social media posts.

August 10, 2015 (LifeSiteNews) -- When the animated series The Legend of Korra ended its three-season run with the two heroines holding hands and dissolving into a mist – thus making explicit a lesbian love interest that hitherto had only been hinted at – children’s TV was likely changed forever.

Or so claimed Vanity Fair arts writer Joanna Robinson, who enthusiastically lauded the December 2014 finale of the Nickelodeon show as perhaps the “most subversive television event of the year.”

But for Christian media watchers like Jeff Johnston, that lesbian fairytale ending (the two characters were actually bisexual, having each dated a boy in previous episodes) was just the inevitable next step in a clearly discernible trend.

“There are definitely more gay and transgender characters and stories in children’s television,” Johnston, issues analyst for Focus on the Family, told LifeSiteNews in an email.

Other examples include the 2012-2013 season of “gender-bending” Australian cartoon series SheZow featuring “a 12-year-old boy who finds a ‘power ring’ that turns him into a girl,” and an episode in Disney Channel’s children’s series Good Luck Charlie in which “a lesbian couple brings their child over for a play date.”

And it will get worse, predicts Johnston, because children’s TV fare “is a reflection of what’s already in our culture.”

According to a flyer distributed by the clinic, practice sessions costing $25 a semester as part of a group or $10 per treatment are "facilitated by a speech-language pathologist and speech-language pathology graduate students."

The lessons claim to provide "an opportunity to use new vocal and communication qualities in a safe and confidential environment."

Individuals at "any point in their gender transition" are "welcome," the clinic said.

Several public schools in Ottawa will be installing gender-neutral bathrooms to help protect children who are questioning their gender identity.

Known as "universal" bathrooms, the Ottawa Carleton District Public School Board says the single unit bathrooms will be in schools where the parents of children who may be transitioning from one gender have brought up the issue to officials.

"We're proud of it. It's work that can be done, that needs to be done and we are trying to keep pace with our communities," said Mike Carson, the board's superintendent of facilities.

Does Bible forbid tattoos? Religion prof says 'no,' but warns: 'Think before you ink'

Andre Mitchell | Published 12 August 2015

More and more Americans are getting tattoos nowadays. In fact, a recent Harris Poll survey said one in every five US adults has gotten himself or herself inked. That's 21 percent of the population, which is up from the 16 percent and 14 percent who reported having a tattoo in 2003 and 2008, according to the survey.

Tattoos can be seen on the skin of many entertainers and athletes. In fact even the 2009 version of Barbie has numerous tattoos on its body.

With the increasing popularity of tattoos, many Christians might be wondering: Does the Bible prohibit this kind of body drawing?

For religion professor Will Honeycutt of Liberty University in Lynchburg, Virginia, the Holy Bible does not forbid Christians from getting tattoos per se.

Honeycutt clarified that Leviticus 19:28—the Bible verse most quoted by some Christians when discussing the alleged immorality of getting a tattoo—should not be interpreted in this sense. The Bible's New International Version translates this verse from the Old Testament as: "Do not cut your bodies for the dead or put tattoo marks on yourselves. I am the Lord."

The religion professor said this verse does not prohibit tattoos per se, but the act of scarification, which is the act of cutting images or words into the skin.

He also noted that the word "tattoo" only entered the English language during the late 1700s—too distant from the Biblical times.

Ohio Judicial Board: Judges Must Officiate Same-Sex 'Weddings' Despite Religious Beliefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Board of Professional Conduct of the Supreme Court of Ohio has released its formal opinion regarding whether judges must officiate same-sex "weddings" despite their religious convictions, declaring that homosexuals must be accommodated no matter what.

"Ohio judges who perform civil marriages may not ethically refuse to perform civil marriages involving same-sex couples while continuing to perform marriages involving opposite-sex couples," the board wrote on Friday. "Ohio judges may not ethically decline to perform all marriages in order to avoid marrying same-sex couples based on their personal, moral, or religious beliefs."

The board had received requests for guidance on the matter after the U.S. Supreme Court issued its ruling in June in the case of Obergefell v. Hodges, declaring that all states must legalize same-sex "marriage." An unspecified number of judges and a judicial association had inquired of the board whether judges are permitted to decline to officiate same-sex nuptials or bow out of officiating over weddings altogether.

In its opinion, the board pointed to the judicial oath of office, in which justices must promise to "faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all of the duties incumbent upon me as a judge according to the best of my ability and understanding." However, the oath concludes with the phrase, "This I do as I shall answer unto God."

"The oath is a reflection of the self-evident principle that the personal, moral, and religious beliefs of a judicial officer should never factor into the performance of any judicial duty," the board wrote. "A judge's unilateral decision to refuse to perform same-sex marriages based on his or her own personal, religious, or moral beliefs ignores the holding in Obergefell and thus, directly contravenes the oath of office."

It further asserted that "[p]ublic confidence in the independence of the judiciary is undermined when a judge allows his or her beliefs concerning the societal or religious acceptance or validity of same-sex marriage to affect the performance of a judicial function or duty."

The board then contended that judges who seek to cease officiation over all marriage ceremonies to avoid performing same-sex nuptials may be considered "prejudice."

GREENVILLE, S.C. (Christian Examiner) – A new non-discrimination policy at First Baptist Church in Greenville will offer same-sex marriage ceremonies and allow membership, leadership positions, church ordinances, and ordination to openly gay and transgender individuals without telling them their lifestyles contradict biblical teaching.

"It's going to open up a space for evangelical gay people to have a place again," Pastor Jim Dant said of his church's recent consensus to "not discriminate based on sexual orientation and gender identity."

فالاضطهاد يزيد والاضطراب يزيد والزلازل والابوة والفساد الأخلاقي يزيد والاحاد يزيد

فلهذا أقول المسيح اقترب ميعاد مجيؤه لا احدد مواعيد بل ارفض من يحدد مواعيد ولكن اطلب

الأول نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصاييحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة أبناء الله
وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما
كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تنهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلباقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيرا للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

الثاني لا نخاف

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضا استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.
