والعلامات حتى 1 سبتمبر 2015

Holy_bible_1

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيق اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشتر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تُوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

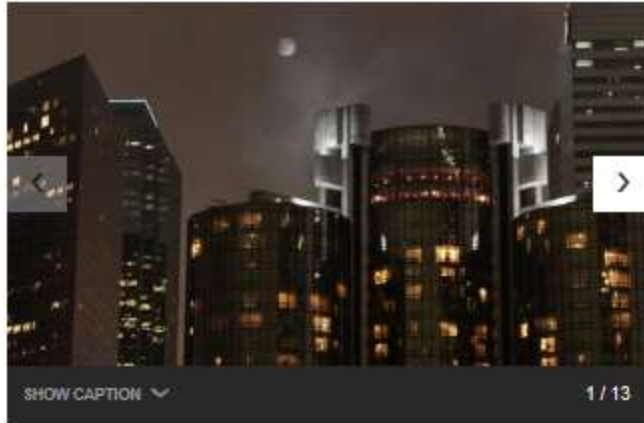

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

Water wars? Devastating shortages will fuel MidEast conflicts for 25 yrs – report

In a worrying global trend, the Middle East is set for a record water shortage to strike over the next 25 years. The global fallout from the recent record heatwaves will force more and more people into overcrowded cities and stagnate economic growth.

Worse still, according to scientists with the World Resource Institute (WRI), water shortages will exacerbate existing conflicts – and the factor is considered to have contributed to the rising violence in Syria that erupted in 2011.

“Drought and water shortages in Syria likely contributed to the unrest that stoked the country’s 2011 civil war. Dwindling water resources and chronic mismanagement forced 1.5 million people, primarily farmers and herders, to lose their livelihoods and leave their land, move to urban areas, and magnify Syria’s general destabilization,” a new WRI report says.

August 2015 – MEXICO – The Colima Volcano sent smoke and ash three kilometers into the sky in a series of eruptions during the weekend. There have been more eruptions at the Colima Volcano this week, sending ash and smoke more than three kilometers into the air. Also known as the Volcano of Fire, it has been active since July 9, when ash falls forced the evacuation of several communities a few days later.

Various eruptions took place on Wednesday 19th and Thursday 20th. This volcano was previously active during the months of January and February. A state of emergency was declared last month and nearly 700 people were evacuated in five municipalities in the states of Colima and Jalisco. –Yucatan Times

Disease stemming from warm water in the North Umpqua River has killed 150,000 fish at a Roseburg area fish hatchery, marking the facility's second mass die-off this summer.

The Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife alerted the public Friday to the deaths among its summer steelhead stock, blaming an historic drought that has heated the Umpqua's water and allowed pathogens to thrive.

More Outbreaks of Avian Flu Found in Taiwan

25 August 2015

TAIWAN - There have been two more outbreaks of highly pathogenic avian influenza in Taiwan.

The outbreaks were of the H5N2 subtype.

There were 11,952 deaths from the disease on two chicken farms in Dacheng Township, Changhua county. Another 47,548 birds were destroyed to prevent the disease spreading.

The outbreaks were discovered after abnormal mortalities were observed in the flocks. All birds on the farms have now been culled, and disinfection and movement restrictions have also been used.

Surrounding poultry farms within 3 km radius of the infected farms are under intensified surveillance for 3 months.

The Ministry of Fisheries is currently investigating what appears to be a massive marine mishap which saw dead fish along the Nasese foreshore in Suva yesterday.

FBC News was alerted about the discovery, where hundreds of fish were found dead along the coastline.

Grucella, a Bend resident, noted they saw five dead birds in their short walk Thursday and encountered one so weak it could barely lift its head. "We went to the lifeguard station and said, 'Hey, there's a bird alive and still struggling.'"

Grucella, Santarsiere and fellow beachgoers came to the aid of the dying bird, constructing a platform made of tennis shoes and plastic dog waste bags for the injured animal. A lifeguard provided a blanket and box for transport before Cannon Beach police delivered the bird to wildlife rehabilitators for care.

Many small birds along the coast are dying off, but researchers differ as to the cause.

In the Bellavista neighborhood of the municipality of Buenaventura in Valle del Cauca, they were found near 5000 fishes 'shoal' dead, after low tide was submitted on Thursday.

There is concern in the community, because the strong odors from decomposing fish have begun to affect nearby homes, as there is no clarity of both potentially contaminated water.

Meanwhile environmental technical director Herminia Narvaez mayor, he said the company sent a chemical engineer in the area for water samples and determine the mass death of fish, which as reported by the locals is not the first time It occurs.

Among the possible causes of death of the fish it is although it is expected that the results of tests to determine the causes of mass fish are known in six days.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilian environmentalist and biologist Mario Moscatelli says sewage has killed at least a ton of fish in a lagoon next to the Olympic Park that will host many Rio 2016 events.

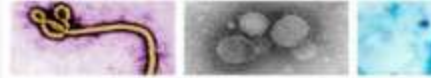

Moscatelli said Saturday that thousands of tilapia, sea bass and mullets started washing up Friday on the shore of Rio de Janeiro's Jacarepagua Lagoon. He said the die-off could be repeated during next year's games.

"The lagoon is not one of the Olympic water venues but it does embrace the Olympic Park," Moscatelli said.

He said the fish most likely died because of insufficient oxygen due to pollutants and untreated human waste flowing into the lagoon from nearby condominiums and sprawling shantytowns.

Kenya anthrax update: 300 buffaloes dead at Lake Nakuru National Park

Posted by Robert Herriman on August 29, 2015 // 1 Comment

In an update on the anthrax update at Lake Nakuru National Park in Kenya from July, Dr Kisa J. Z. Juma Ngeiywa, CVO Director of Veterinary Services with the Ministry of Agriculture in Nairobi reported to the World Organisation for Animal Health that the outbreak is ongoing and the number of animals affected has increased.

Bacillus anthracis/CDC

Ngeiywa notes the number of dead Cape buffaloes due to anthrax in Lake Nakuru National Park has reached 300. The park has a buffalo population of 4,500.

In addition, a number of other animals have been affected to include rhinos, Rothschild giraffes, elands, impalas, warthogs and Thomson gazelles.

Officials report the source of the outbreak is contact with infected animal (s) at grazing/watering near the lake shore, watering holes and the fence line since mid-July.

Kenya has applied the following measures to help contain the outbreak: Movement control inside the country, disinfection / disinfection, quarantine, surveillance outside containment and/or protection zone, official disposal of carcasses, by-products and waste and surveillance within containment and/or protection zone.

According to the Merck Veterinary Manual, Anthrax is a zoonotic disease caused by the sporeforming bacterium Bacillus anthracis. Anthrax is most common in wild and domestic herbivores (eg. cattle, sheep, goats, camels, antelopes) but can also be seen in humans exposed to tissue from infected animals, contaminated animal products or directly to B anthracis spores under certain conditions.

A federal agency has announced plans for a more intense investigation into what caused the deaths of 30 large whales since May in the western Gulf of Alaska.

NOAA Fisheries declared the deaths an 'unusual mortality event,' triggering a new-level investigation starting on Thursday that brings with it access to additional resources.

The agency said the deaths are about three times the historical average for the region.

Julie Speegle, a spokeswoman for NOAA Fisheries in Alaska, said a leading hypothesis for the deaths is harmful algal bloom toxins but she noted that there currently is no conclusive evidence linking the two.

Here's what you need to know about it, from what this bloom has to do with the drought to why these toxins could be a real threat to the homeless.

The US Air Force said its F-22 Raptor stealth fighters will be sent to Europe to show "commitment to the security and stability" of its allies. The Air Force Secretary tied the move to the US' "approach to Russia," linking it to the crisis in Ukraine.

The deployment, slated to occur "very soon," was described as part of the "European Reassurance Initiative," Air Force Secretary Deborah Lee James said at a Pentagon briefing on Monday. She added that it was "to support combatant commander requirements" in the region.

James said Russia's "military activity" in Ukraine continued to be of great concern to the US and its European allies, and that the deployment of the F-22s was "certainly on the strong side of the coin." She also quoted Defense Secretary Ash Carter, who said last week, "Our approach to Russia needs to be strong and it needs to be balanced."

North Korea has doubled its artillery power and the majority of its submarines seem to be away from their bases, a South Korean military official said, as cited by the Yonhap news agency. The announcement comes amid ongoing talks between the two sides over the border crisis.

According to the official, more than 50 North Korean submarines are out for operations.

"Seventy percent of North Korea's submarines left their bases, and their locations are not confirmed," a South Korean military official said, adding that Pyongyang has about 70 submarines in total.

NEW YORK — Amid debate over President Obama's nuclear deal with Iran, two retired military officers contend their accumulation of evidence from open and intelligence sources shows Tehran already has a nuclear-weapons capability.

Retired U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Paul Vallely and U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Dennis B. Haney assert that since 1979, a cabal of nations has aided and abetted Iran in its efforts to develop a robust nuclear program under the guise of generating a nuclear-energy system.

And they believe the White House is fully aware.

In an interview, Vallely told WND that President Obama, Secretary of State John Kerry and chief White House adviser Valerie Jarrett "are

Pentagon Not Targeting Islamic State Training Camps

No airstrikes against 60 camps producing 1,000 fighters monthly (Updated)

BY: Bill Gertz Follow @BillGertz

August 28, 2015 4:40 pm

The Pentagon has not conducted airstrikes against an estimated 60 Islamic State (IS) training camps that are supplying thousands of fighters each month to the terror group, according to defense and intelligence officials.

The camps are spread throughout Islamic State-controlled areas of Iraq and Syria and are off limits in the U.S.-led international bombing campaign because of concerns about collateral damage, said officials familiar with planning and execution of the yearlong bombing campaign.

Additionally, the IS (also known as ISIS or ISIL) camps have been so successful that Islamic State leaders are considering expanding the camps to Libya and Yemen. Both states have become largely ungoverned areas in recent years.

The failure to target the training camps with U.S. and allied airstrikes is raising questions among some defense and intelligence officials about the commitment of President Obama and his senior aides to the current anti-IS strategy of degrading and ultimately destroying the terror group.

"If we know the location of these camps, and the president wants to destroy ISIS, why are the camps still functioning?" one official critical of the policy asked.

The camps are regarded by U.S. intelligence analysts as a key element in the terror group's successes in holding and taking new territory. The main benefit of the training camps is that they are providing a continuous supply of new fighters.

North Dakota to use police drones with non-lethal weapons – report

Published time: 26 Aug, 2015 20:00

© Adrees Latif / Reuters

North Dakota police have been authorized to equip drones with Tasers, tear gas, and other non-lethal weapons after interference from a police lobby group led to an amendment to a bill, which was initially intended to limit police powers to deploy drones.

The adopted amendment to House Bill 1328 enables police drones to use "less than lethal" weapons, such as Tasers, bean bags, pepper spray, sound cannons and rubber bullets. The amendment was pushed through by Bruce Burkett of North Dakota's Peace Officer's Association, a police lobby group, the Daily Beast reports.

The bill was passed earlier this year and initially prohibited "any lethal or nonlethal weapons" on the drones, but that was eventually amended to permit the deployment of "less than lethal weapons."

"This is one I'm not in full agreement with. I wish it was any weapon," Rick Becker, the Republican sponsor of the original bill, said at a March hearing as cited by the Daily Beast. "In my opinion there should be a nice, red line: Drones should not be weaponized. Period," he added.

The encroachment of self-help kiosks and grocery store scanners has led doomsayers to suggest automation threatens the workforce of the future. A new report argues it will create new business sectors and new jobs as well.

By studying large companies in various industries, from Delta Airlines Inc. to Whole Foods Market Inc., as well as many startups, analysts have forecast that automation will erase 22.7 million jobs by 2025, or 16 percent of today's total.

The prediction comes in a report titled "The Future of Jobs, 2025: Working Side-By-Side with Robots," published by Forrester Research this week. The study's findings were drawn from government employment data, and interviews with businesses and academics.

New chip tech coming to credit cards

By Susan Tompor, Detroit Free Press Personal Finance Columnist

7:45 p.m. EDT August 26, 2015

Consumers will hear more about a "liability shift" that takes place in October. The shift puts more pressure on merchants to add chip readers at register. Banks have more incentive to issue chip cards.

(Photo: Matt Rourke, Associated Press)

STORY HIGHLIGHTS

- Consumers still need to sign for purchases in many cases, even with a chip card at U.S. stores.
- By October 2017, terminals at gas pumps will need to be able to read chip cards.

Techies are calling the upcoming shift in how we will use our credit cards at the store something like "dip the chip."

It's not a bad way of explaining things. Instead of swiping our plastic, we'll be able to slide or dip our chip-equipped credit cards at chip-enabled terminals at the register. You might see the new way of doing things as soon as the next time you shop at Target or another big retailer.

A unique one-time code is generated every time a card with a chip is used, and a one-time code is hard for crooks to duplicate to make fake credit cards, according to card experts.

Chips aren't entirely new. They've long been used in Canada and all across Europe. But the U.S. has been stuck in the swipe-and-sign mode for years.

Beginning in October, though, some rules will change for merchants that will drive a shift into chip technology.

A week or so ago, my credit card issuer sent me a notice saying that I should be receiving a new EMV Chip Technology card for my MasterCard by October. Other consumers already have chip cards in hand.

(NaturalNews) For years, Americans concerned with declining educational standards on the primary level have watched as politicians in bed with the teachers unions continually make excuses for poor performances and promise to "fix" discrepancies with "more money" and "more teacher training."

Nothing has worked, even though the United States spends more per student, per capita, on primary education than any other industrialized nation. U.S. students still lag behind those of developed nations.

Stocks are rolling over again.

It's been a chaotic day in markets, with the Dow crashing more than 1,000 points, the S&P 500 was down 120 points, and the Nasdaq was down 393 points shortly after the market open. All of the major averages were down 5% or more at their worst levels.

Dow Jones Drops 1,000 Points At Start Of Trading Day

AUTO START: ON OFF

The Dow fell about 1,000 points at the opening bell today amid a global sell-off and after a roller-coaster ride throughout the day was down more than 588 points at the closing bell, down more than 3.58 percent, its worst day in four years.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell more than 1,000 points in early trading, but recovered some losses during the late morning. By 3 p.m., the blue-chip index was down again about 600 points, or about 3.6 percent. The Dow's largest point decline took place on Sept. 29, 2008, when it lost 777.68 points, and its largest percentage decline was Oct. 19, 1987, when it lost 22.6 percent.

Today's loss comes on the heels of Friday's dive, when the Dow lost about 530 points -- down 3.1 percent -- at the close of New York trading that day. Shares continued to plunge today related to concerns about China's slowdown and other economic concerns.

NEW YORK – U.S. stocks were down again Monday, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average losing 114.98 points to close at 16,528.03 as a wild month of trading on Wall Street, dominated by fears over China, came to an end.

The Dow suffered a monthly loss of about 6.6 percent, the largest loss since May 2010, the Wall Street Journal reported at the close of trading Monday.

The roller-coaster ride in August rekindled investor fears that the economy at the end of the Obama administration is about enter a recession even deeper than the financial crisis of 2008, when Obama entered office.

Beijing's depreciation of the yuan in mid-August has triggered a wave of copycat moves from other countries and falling values of currencies. Is this a new currency clash, or is each case specific?

What happened in China?

In three consecutive days last week, the People's Bank of China devalued the national currency, with a 4.4 percent overall depreciation. The step was intended to revive exports, but caused a domino effect leading to panic and fluctuations in equity markets around the globe.

On Tuesday evening, we asked what would happen if emerging markets joined China in dumping US Treasuries. For months we've documented the PBoC's liquidation of its vast stack of US paper. Back in July for instance, we noted that China had dumped a record $143 billion in US Treasuries in three months via Belgium, leaving Goldman speechless for once.

We followed all of this up this week by noting that thanks to the new FX regime (which, in theory anyway, should have required less intervention), China has likely sold somewhere on the order of $100 billion in US Treasuries in the past two weeks alone in open FX ops to steady the yuan. Put simply, as part of China's devaluation and subsequent attempts to contain said devaluation, China has been purging an epic amount of Treasuries.

Central banks can't save the markets from a crash

Like children clinging to their parents, stock market traders turned to their central banks last week as they sought protection from the frightening economic figures coming out of China. Surely, they asked, the central banks would ward off the approaching bogeymen, as they had so many times since the 2008 crash. The US Federal Reserve came up with the goods. William Dudley, president of the bank's New York branch, hinted that the interest rate rise many had expected next month was likely to be delayed.

A signal that borrowing costs would remain at rock bottom was all it took. After Black Monday and Wobbly Tuesday, the markets recovered to regain almost all their recent losses. It was just as if they had said to themselves: who cares if

The Tel Aviv Stock Exchange is expected to start the week with a sharp plunge, due to plunges in stock markets around the world. Dow Jones dropped 3.1% on Friday, breaking a record low. Its drop came amid a tense atmosphere in global markets last week following the Chinese decision to devalue its currency.

Last Friday, the Chinese Manufacturing Purchasing Index hit a 6.5 year low and indicated a slowing economy in the country. The many Western companies operating in these markets may experience losses.

The Army is making contingency plans for the "reappropriation of national territory," winning back areas of cities, in the event of immigrant populations obtaining weapons and becoming openly hostile to authorities.

"There are a lot of alienated and angry fourth-generation immigrant kids in the suburbs and the prospect of radicalisation is increasingly likely," the intelligence source told the Telegraph, adding that highly organized networks of Islamist militants have smuggled Kalashnikov automatic rifles and anti-tank missiles into the country.

The weapons were sourced in Libya after the French government armed jihadist rebels during the overthrow of Colonel Gaddafi.

Public school officials in the small Kansas town of Chanute are trying to find a new home for a portrait of Jesus Christ after a civil liberties group demanded its removal from the town's middle school.

Local churches and other groups are offering to house the portrait, which had hung in the school since at least the 1950s, and community leaders have been working to defuse anger over its removal.

The district's new superintendent ordered it taken down Thursday from Royster Middle School after the Freedom From Religion Foundation notified him that the display in a public school amounted to an "egregious violation of the First Amendment."

MANCHESTER, England — A city councilman in the U.K. who is seeking to crack down on street preachers, buskers and those who engage in commerce in the public streets says that preachers are wrong to talk about morality in the open air and to make their hearers feel “insecure” with their preaching.

The Christian Institute reports that Manchester Councillor Pat Karney made the comment after the organization asked him to clarify whether the city council plans to place restrictions on street preachers as part of his goal to reduce public “nuisances.”

“The Christian Institute has long supported the rights of street preachers and has funded several legal cases where local authorities or the police have unlawfully interfered with those rights,” the organization wrote in a letter to Karney.

A public high school in San Francisco has introduced a "gay" history that may become a model for schools nationwide, if homosexual-rights groups have their way.

"LGBT Studies" at the Ruth Asawa School of the Arts in San Francisco is regarded as a valid preparatory class that can be used to fill the requirements for attending California's public university system.

The class may be just the beginning.

(NaturalNews) The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution both recognizes and establishes some of the most basic of our rights, including the right to speak freely, to assemble in protest, to maintain a free and open press and to worship any deity we choose (or none at all).

But in modern times, it has become clear that some rights are being elevated over others – that some rights are being considered more important, more weighty, when it comes to interpretations by judges who seem more interested in adhering to a political ideology rather than our founding principles.

SALT LAKE CITY — An attorney representing a polygamist at the center of the TLC reality show "Sister Wives" is pointing to the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling legalizing same-sex "marriage" in his fight against Utah's appeal of a federal decision striking down the state's ban on polygamous cohabitation.

"From the rejection of morality legislation in Lawrence to the expansion of the protections of liberty interests in Obergefell, it is clear that states can no longer use criminal codes to coerce or punish those who choose to live in consensual but unpopular unions," attorney Jonathan Turley wrote on behalf of plaintiff Kody Brown.

"This case is about criminalization of consensual relations and there are 21st century cases rather than 19th century cases that control," he said.

Thousands Gather at South Carolina State House to 'Stand with God' Against Sin

COLUMBIA, S.C. — An estimated 10,000 people gathered at the South Carolina state house on Saturday for a faith-based rally that joined together Christians who seek to be on God's side of history.

The "We Stand With God" rally featured speakers such presidential candidates Rick Perry and Ted Cruz, as well as U.S. Sen. Tim Scott and South Carolina Rep. Richie Yow. Area pastors also spoke to those gathered, and prayer and praise was a part of the gathering, as a choir of 600 Christians sang from the state house steps.

"The purpose of 'We Stand With God' is to encourage and empower God-fearing citizens to stand in this evil day. Timing is critical," the event website reads. "The landscape of this great republic is eroding daily and the floods of change are seeking to assassinate the moral fiber of the land we love. Crime rates are rising, civil unrest is abounding and perversion is growing exponentially."

It also specifically notes the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling declaring that states must legalize same-sex "marriage."

سبعة الاف رجل لم يحنوا ركبة لبعل

فالاضطهاد يزايد والاضطراب يزايد والزلازل والابوة والفساد الأخلاقي يزايد والاحاد يزايد

فلهذا أقول المسيح اقترب ميعاد مجيؤه لا احدد مواعيد بل ارفض من يحدد مواعيد ولكن اطلب

الأول نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصابيحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة أبناء الله
وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما
كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تنهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلباقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيرا للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

الثاني لا نخاف

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأیضا استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.

والمجد لله دائما
