والعلامات حتى 6 أكتوبر 2015

اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأيضاً أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن أيضاً علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل أيضاً قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تترزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

Scientists to see if they can save planet from asteroid

Come 2022, scientists will attempt to save all of humanity from an asteroid. Calm down, it's just a trial run. The joint US-European AIDA—that's Asteroid Deflection and Assessment—mission intends to crash a probe into a 525-foot-wide asteroid known as Didymoon to see if the impact will change its orbital path.

The egg-shaped asteroid is actually part of a binary system and orbits its larger partner, Didymos, every 12 hours, per Phys.org. NASA's Double Asteroid Redirection Test (DART) probe will crash into Didymoon at a speed of roughly 13,420mph, while ESA's Asteroid

Tropical Storm Joaquin Nears Hurricane Strength; New Hurricane Warnings, Watches Issued For Bahamas

Joaquin Strengthens Overnight

Tropical Storm Joaquin is on the verge of becoming a hurricane, and has strengthened overnight. Meteorologists are closely watching as the storm moves towards the central Bahamas and monitoring its potential to affect the U.S. East Coast.

Tropical Storm Joaquin is on the verge of becoming a hurricane, and hurricane watches and warnings have been issued for the Bahamas while we nervously eye its potential to affect the U.S. East Coast.

Tropical Storm Joaquin continues to intensify slowly, as wind shear -- harmful to the intensification of tropical cyclones -- lessens, and it appears likely to become a hurricane just east of the Bahamas before a complicated atmospheric pattern makes its future track -- including any potential landfall on the U.S. East Coast -- extremely difficult to forecast.

Hurricane Joaquin To Track Near East Coast, Could Cause Massive Flooding

30 SEPTEMBER, 2015

Joaquin may converge with another slow-moving storm in the East to add to a serious flooding situation into early next week. According to AccuWeather Chief Meteorologist Elliot Abrams, "The dry spell and local drought conditions will be washed away by heavy rain and flooding." Small stream and urban flooding are a given in this case.

Hurricane Joaquin strengthens to Category 4 storm

Published October 01, 2015 · FoxNews.com

The governors of three states declared a state of emergency Thursday as powerful Hurricane Joaquin strengthened to a Category 4 storm and headed toward the U.S. East Coast.

North Carolina Gov. Pat McCrory said that towns on the Outer Banks are facing special risks from the approaching storm because rain there has been coming nearly nonstop for a week followed by a weekend nor'easter that's chewed up protective sand dunes.

Hurricane may bring 10 inches of rain to parts of East Coast

Sep 30, 5:58 PM (ET)

By JONATHAN DREW and JOHN RABY

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Steady rain drenched much of the East Coast on Wednesday, flooding roads, closing schools and forcing some people from their homes. And forecasters say the worst is yet to come.

The rainstorms may soon be joined by Hurricane Joaquin in a powerful weather system that could linger for days and dump as much as 10 inches through early next week in some places. The deluge has the potential to saturate the ground so heavily that trees topple onto power lines even without heavy winds.

"The bottom line is: We are expecting very heavy rains all the way from the Carolinas up into new England," said Bruce Terry, lead forecaster for the government's Weather Prediction Center.

Before the hurricane draws close to the U.S., an area of low pressure in the Southeast and a front stalled over the East Coast will pull moisture from the Atlantic Ocean that falls as rain over the next few days, Terry said.

The heaviest rain is expected in wide swaths of North Carolina and Virginia, along with parts of Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey, according to a National Weather Service forecast map.

Joaquin could make the difference between a few days of constant rain and an especially damaging storm. But the hurricane's path was far from certain.

"That's still up for grabs," Terry said.

So far, there's been little consensus among computer-prediction models for the hurricane.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami was to send a plane aloft Wednesday to gather data about Joaquin that will hopefully "get those models into better agreement," said Rick Knabb, the center's director. "We're going to be throwing a lot more aircraft resources at this problem over the next few days."

UPDATE: Hurricane Joaquin To Impact Over 65 Million From SC To MA

2 OCTOBER, 2015

The East Coast may have dodged a direct hit by Hurricane Joaquin but it will indirectly influence rain, flooding and winds in the eastern United States. Joaquin's extended assault on the Bahamas has altered the storm track. People should not let their guard down due to a shifting track of the hurricane as the risk to lives and property in this complex situation remains high. Moisture from Joaquin will combine forces with a slow-moving front and result in flooding rainfall. Impacts along the Atlantic Seaboard will range from disruptions to travel and outdoor activities to power outages, property damage and risk to lives.

Emergency management officials sent a statewide alert telling people to stay off roads and remain indoors unless their homes were in danger of flooding. Interstate highways were closed by flooding – including a 75-mile stretch of I-95 in the eastern part of the state that is a key route connecting Miami to Washington, D.C. and New York.

Millions face hunger due to climate change, Nino': Oxfam

BY JOSEPH D'URSO

LONDON (Thomson Reuters Foundation) - At least 10 million poor people face hunger this year and next because of droughts and erratic rains linked to record global temperatures and an expected "super" version of the evolving El Nino weather pattern, aid charity Oxfam has warned.

In Ethiopia alone, 4.5 million people need food aid because a combination of El Nino and long-term climate change has made the rainy season more unpredictable, according to United Nations agencies.

El Nino, caused by Pacific Ocean warming, leads to dry weather in some parts of the world and causes floods in others.

This year the phenomenon is expected to peak between October and January and could turn into one of the strongest on record. The last "super El Nino" was in 1997-8.

"Rice and maize crops are both at risk, with serious implications for millions of poor people from Southern Africa to Central America who are dependent on these staples," Mark Goldring, Oxfam GB's chief executive, said in a statement on Thursday.

A scorching drought has ravaged crops in southern Africa already, with South Africa's key maize crop falling by a third and poor yields set to continue into the southern hemisphere summer, according to the country's weather service.

Watch out for the MEGATSUNAMI: Scientists find evidence of 800ft wave caused by a collapsing volcano and say it could happen again

Scientists working off west Africa in the Cape Verde Islands have found evidence of a megatsunami that dwarfs anything humans have ever seen. They say the sudden collapse of a volcano around 73,000 years ago created an 800-foot wave that engulfed an island more than 30 miles away. They warn the collapse of volcanoes could be far more catastrophic than previously thought.

Scientists stumble over active underwater volcano in Southeast

Posted on October 4, 2015

October 2015 – ALASKA – About two years ago, geologists studying an ocean channel near Ketchikan spotted something unusual. It was a submerged volcano, about 150 feet below the surface. It was dormant. The experts estimated it hadn't erupted for about 10,000 years. Now, scientists have discovered another underwater volcano, near Dixon Entrance, just north of Alaska's maritime border with British Columbia. "Nothing like that had been mapped in the area before, so we knew then that we had discovered something new," said Gary Greene, a marine geologist working with the Sitka Sound Science Center.

He and a Canadian counterpart found the volcano Sept. 23 during a study of the Queen Charlotte-Fairweather Fault System. That's been the epicenter of some recent earthquakes. "We had just completed some survey work and we modified our line to go to another place to look. And as we were transiting, we came across this big plume and this big cone where the plume was coming out of," he said. The plume, made up of methane gas, was being released by a volcanic vent about 3,000 feet below. It stretched up about two-thirds of the way to the ocean's surface. But Greene said there was no fresh lava — or anything else to worry about. "We worked over the vent, right over the vent. And we're still around to tell about it. So I think it's probably OK for mariners," he said.

Guatemala mudslide death toll rises to 86 – houses buried under 50 feet of earth

Posted on October 4, 2016

October 2015 – GUATEMALA – Hope is all but gone Sunday that any survivors will be found from the massive landslide on the outskirts of Guatemala's capital. The death toll has risen to 86 and is expected to continue to rise as emergency crews dig through tons of earth for an estimated 350 missing people. Distraught relatives of the victims shoveled alongside diggers through the mounds of earth that destroyed homes in Santa Catarina Pinula on the southeastern flank of Guatemala City after Thursday night's collapse of a hillside. Every batch of earth turned up by the diggers held more personal belongings, from mattresses and books to toys and Christmas decorations.

Clutching photos of loved ones, family members stood in line outside a makeshift morgue near the excavation site, some of them crying, to see if they recognized any corpses. "This is the worst thing that has happened to us," said one woman who was waiting for news about 21 missing family members. Authorities said about 125 homes were destroyed or damaged Thursday night by the sudden landslide after heavy rain. "I went on an errand for my mother and when I returned there was nothing," 17-year-old Carlos Ac told the French news agency AFP. His mother and seven siblings are still missing. The landslide struck the village of El Cambray II, in the municipality of Santa Catarina Pinula, about 15 kilometers east of the capital, Guatemala City.

Hundredevis af døde hvalrosser i Alaska

28. september 2015 06:34 af Karsten Sommer - Tags: Hvalros Alaska

I Alaska har det vakt opsigt at man i den forløbne uge har fundet hundredevis af døde hvalrosser på et strandområde i den nordvestlige del af Alaska.

Fundet af de mange døde dyr sker i et område nær Point Lay, hvor man i starten af september observerede op mod 35.000 hvalrosser, der var gået på land.

De amerikanske miljømyndigheder understreger at de ikke mener de mange døde hvalrosser er blevet skudt af mennesker. Det er snarere et resultat af et panikløb i forbindelse med angreb fra isbjørne eller andre stressfaktorer, skriver CBS News.

Hvalrosser, der er samlet i store flokke, kan gå i panik og ende med at stampe hinanden ihjel. Og det er foreløbig det de amerikanske miljømyndigheder tror der er sket.

Una espectacular mortandad de fauna piscícola fue detectada durante el pasado fin de semana en la desembocadura del río de Porcos, en el embalse de Grandas de Salimé, en el municipio lucense de Negueira de Muñiz. Pescadores de la zona calificaron la situación de dramática y aseguran que hay toneladas de peces muertos. Tanto es así que, debido al calor, en algunas zonas ya comenzó a notarse ayer un olor nauseabundo. La Xunta asegura que el problema afecta a la vecina comunidad de Asturias.

Video: Thousands of dead fish wash ashore in Saudi Arabia

Middle East News

Wed, 30 Sep 2015 GDN Online Desk

(Reuters File Photo)

It was fish tsunami as thousands of dead fish washed ashore on the Red Sea coast in Saudi Arabia. They were dead despite still being in water.

A video of the incident was published by the Saudi Daily 'Okaz'.

Saudi officials say they are investigating the incident and trying to find out why the fish died.

"Officials said they have collected samples of the fish, the water and sand to have them tested at the laboratory to identify reasons for their death," the paper said.

A new outbreak of Avian Influenza (bird flu) has been reported in 85 local government areas in 21 states and the Federal Capital Territory (FCT), the Federal Government has said.

Cases of bird flu were first reported in January by the government in over 11 states.

The government said the new outbreak which has been reported in Lagos, Ogun, Rivers, Oyo, Enugu, Abia and the FCT, occurred between July and last month.

The Permanent Secretary, Federal. Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development, Sonny Echono, who spoke at a meeting with stakeholders in the poultry industry, said that 491 farmers have been affected by the disease.

Echono said that 1, 597, 191 birds have been depopulated so far.

WWIII One Giant Step Closer After B61-12 Nukes Reach Europe

30 SEPTEMBER, 2015

Washington's decision to station 20 next-generation advanced nuclear bombs of Type B61-12 is threatening to turn the specter of WWIII into a terrifying reality, F. William Engdahl warns. Although the Pentagon has advertised its B61-12 as a life extended version of the standard strategic US nuclear bomb, it is in fact a brand new nuclear weapon with vastly improved military capabilities, and the most expensive nuclear bomb project ever, Engdahl, an American-German economic researcher, emphasizes, citing Hans M. Kristensen, Director, Nuclear Information Project at the Federation of American Scientists.

Pentagon Weighs Protections For US-Trained Rebels

1 OCTOBER, 2015

Russia's launch of airstrikes in Syria is prompting discussions within the Pentagon about whether the U.S. should use military force to protect U.S.-trained and equipped Syrian rebels if they come under fire by the Russians. U.S. officials said Thursday that senior military leaders and defense officials are working through the thorny legal and foreign policy issues and are weighing the risks of using force in response to a Russian attack. Defense Secretary Ash Carter declined to discuss the problem when asked about it this week. But U.S. officials acknowledged that this is one of the questions being asked as they debate the broader dilemma of how the administration should respond to what White House press secretary Josh Earnest described as Russia's "indiscriminate military operations against the Syrian opposition."

President Obama defended his response to the growing crisis in Syria on Friday by pointing to the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, cautioning against a commitment that risks drawing the U.S. into a new quagmire in the Middle East. Obama appeared determined to take on critics whom he portrayed as impatient and ignorant of the complexity of the warring factions in Syria. He laughed off suggestions that Russian airstrikes in recent days against fighters opposed to President Bashar Assad, an ally of Moscow's, have President Vladimir Putin looking stronger than Obama in Syria. "We're not going to make Syria into a proxy war between the United States and Russia," Obama insisted during an afternoon news conference at the White House. "This is not some superpower chessboard contest. And anybody who frames it in that way isn't paying very close attention to what's been happening on the chessboard."

Russia has moved a new weapons system equipped with thermobaric warheads into rebel-held Ukraine while the world's attention remains on its airstrikes in Syria, international monitors say.

The Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe - which is monitoring a ceasefire in eastern Ukraine - reports its monitors have seen a mobile TOS-1 Buratino system for the first time.

The Buratino features thermobaric warheads which spread a flammable liquid around a target and then ignite it. It can destroy several city blocks in one strike, causing indiscriminate damage.

Palestinian Authority (PA) leader Mahmoud Abbas has announced that the PA is no longer committed to the 1994 Oslo Accords.

In his UN General Assembly address Wednesday evening, Abbas wasted no time attacking Israel from the podium in New York.

He began by repeating calls for a "two-state solution," and condemning Israeli "settlements" in Judea and Samaria, as well as the blockade of Gaza.

Israel "continues its blockades of the Gaza Strip, thus deepening the immense suffering of our people there. This is done in defiance of UN resolutions and agreements signed between the two sides...under international auspices," he said, despite the fact that Israel's blockade of the Hamas-ruled enclave was ruled as legal by the UN's Palmer Report.

He quoted a 1976 interview by former Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin - in which Rabin branded Jewish communities in Judea and Samaria as "a cancer" - and called on the international community to pressure Israel to dismantle them.

Pakistani army warns Christians of possible ISIS attacks

Islamic State could soon be launching a wave of attacks on Christians in Pakistan, the country's military has warned.

According to the British Pakistani Christian Association (BPCA), the Pakistani Army has begun warning individual Christians, churches and Christian institutions in the country that jihadists could attack imminently. The BPCA also reports that the Pakistani military has been "purging IS sympathisers from its ranks".

Reuters
The BPCA's chairman Wilson Chowdhry said the warnings reflected a "worsening reality" for Pakistani Christians, who already face persecution.

Though the government has insisted that ISIS has no credible presence in Pakistan, some factions and splinter groups of the Pakistani Taliban have pledged loyalty to Islamic State and its leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, purportedly including the former Pakistani Taliban Commander, Hafiz Saed Khan.

ISIS has not yet formally accepted this allegiance, or claimed responsibility for any attacks carried out in Pakistan, Reuters reports.

"While in one sense it is heartening that the Pakistani Army is at least giving warnings to church leaders, it should not blind us to the fact that this is in effect a tacit recognition of the utterly vulnerable state of Christians and Christian institutions in Pakistan," said Wilson Chowdhry, BPCA chairman in response to the latest news.

"Many of the conditions for genocide of Christians have long been in place in Pakistan, and earlier this year the government itself was inciting hatred against Christians, along with the media, in the aftermath of the double church suicide bombing."

Chowdhry said the warnings reflected a "worsening reality" for Pakistani Christians, who already face persecution.

HHS Boosting Nation's Stockpile of Burn Treatments in Case of Nuclear Attack

(CNSNews.com) - "The detonation of an improvised nuclear device would produce intense heat, resulting in many patients with severe burns," says a September 30 news release from the Department of Health and Human Services.

The announcement says HHS has contracted for the development of "four novel products to treat severe thermal burns."

The products will boost the number of treatment options in case of disaster, and they'll also be used in "routine" burn care situations.

The four treatments -- one commercially available right now and three in development -- "will be added to the Strategic National Stockpile (SNS) or managed by vendors to help protect people from burn injuries resulting from radiological and nuclear threats," HHS said.

The announcement notes that burns stemming from a nuclear attack may require surgical skin grafting that is "resource intensive and technically demanding." And with only 127 burn centers nationwide, a "mass casualty" incident could "easily overwhelm the nation's burn care infrastructure."

This Happened In September: The UN Launched 'The Global Goals' – A Blueprint For A United World

By Michael Snyder, on September 28th, 2015

Have you heard of "the global goals"? If you haven't heard of them by now, rest assured that you will be hearing plenty about them in the days ahead. On September 25th, the United Nations launched a set of 17 ambitious goals that it plans to achieve over the next 15 years. A new website to promote this plan has been established, and you can find it right here. The formal name of this new plan is "the 2030 Agenda", but those behind it decided that they needed something catchier when promoting these ideas to the general population. The UN has stated that these new "global goals" represent a "new universal Agenda" for humanity. Virtually every nation on the planet has willingly signed on to this new agenda, and you are expected to participate whether you like it or not.

Obama to UN: Non-Muslims Must Not Equate Islam with Terror

Where do non-Muslims get the crazy idea that Islam and terror are linked?

9.28.2015 | News | Mark Tapsen | 145

President Obama addressed the United Nations General Assembly today on a number of issues ranging from his nuclear deal with Iran to the crises in Syria and Ukraine. At one point, discussing ISIS, he once again attempted to dissociate Islam from the terrorism committed in its name:

"Part of our job, together, is to work to reject such extremism that infects too many of our young people. Part of that effort must be a continued rejection by Muslims of those who distort Islam to preach intolerance and promote violence. And it must also involve a rejection by non-Muslims of the ignorance that equates Islam with terror."

Yeah, where do those ignorant non-Muslims get the crazy idea that Islam and terror are linked? In any case, remember something else the President told the world: "The future must not

Pope Francis Embraces Chrislam And Lays A Foundation For A One World Religion

September 29, 2015

End Of The American Dream Blog / Michael Snyder

Share this article

Remarks made by Pope Francis at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Manhattan have sparked a firestorm of criticism from those that do not believe that Christians and Muslims worship the same God.

Many have taken the Pope's remarks as a major step in the direction of a one world religion, and the truth is that the Pope has made other such statements in the past.

In recent years, the theory that Christianity and Islam are just two distinct paths to God among many others has rapidly gained traction all over the planet. Some religious leaders have even gone so far as to try to merge Islamic and Christian practices, and the term "Chrislam" is now often used to describe this ecumenical movement.

If all this sounds incredibly strange to you, just keep reading, because this is just the tip of the iceberg.

What Pope Francis had to say at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Manhattan has received very little coverage by the mainstream media, but it was exceedingly significant. The following is how he began his address...

I would like to express two sentiments for my Muslim brothers and sisters: Firstly, my greetings as they celebrate the feast of sacrifice. I would have wished my greeting to be warmer. My sentiments of closeness, my sentiments of closeness in the face of tragedy. The tragedy that they suffered in Mecca.

In this moment, I give assurances of my prayers. I unite myself with you all. A prayer to almighty god, all merciful.

He did not choose those words by accident. In Islam, Allah is known as "the all-merciful one".

And this is not the first time Pope Francis has used such language. For instance, the following comes from remarks that he made during his very first ecumenical meeting as Pope...

I then greet and cordially thank you all, dear friends belonging to other religious traditions; first of all the Muslims, who worship the one God, living and merciful, and call upon Him in prayer, and all of you. I really appreciate your presence: in it I see a tangible sign of the will to grow in mutual esteem and cooperation for the common good of humanity.

DNA STUDIES TRACE JEWISH PRIESTLY LINEAGE FROM BIBLICAL TIMES

By Adam Eliyahu Berkowitz September 30, 2015 , 10:30 am

For the Lord your God has chosen him out of all your tribes, to stand to serve in the name of the Lord, him and his sons forever.” (Deuteronomy 18:5)

The High Priest in the Tabernacle (Illustration from the 1890 Holman Bible/Wikimedia Commons)

Scientists have discovered a gene which can be traced from the Biblical figure of Aaron, the first High Priest (kohen) of the Jewish people, to a segment of the Jewish population today which carries the priestly lineage.

The nation of Israel's priestly class, which is passed down from father to son, began with Aaron (Exodus 28:1). Despite 2,000 years of diaspora, modern science has now proved that the Biblical concept of kohanim has genetic evidence which has allowed the priestly heritage to maintain its integrity, leading to speculation that when the Third Temple is built, modern-day kohanim will be fully qualified to preside over the rituals and rites of the Holy Altar.

Sean Astin in 'Woodlawn' (YouTube)

It's not often that a film centered on the power of prayer breaks big box-office numbers. But that's exactly the case with War Room, a new movie that tells the story of a marital crisis overcome by prayer. War Room, made for just $3 million, has now raked in more than $50 million after capturing the No. 1 spot earlier this month.

And War Room, from the creators of Courageous, Fireproof and Facing the Giants, is not alone. An influx of family-friendly, faith-based films is hitting the big screen this fall, including Captive, featuring the Emmy-nominated David Oyelowo and Kate Mara. The two star in the faith-based crime drama that opened on Sept. 18, where Oyelowo plays a killer on the run and Mara is his drug-addicted hostage. But underneath the gritty storyline, faith plays a significant role.

Then next month, the football drama Woodlawn, starring Academy Award winner Jon Voight and Sean Astin, follows a remarkable true story about how love and unity, fueled by spiritual revival, overcame racism and hate in Alabama in the early 1970s. Opening Oct. 16, the film is already creating buzz.

Yes, This Is A Financial Crisis – 11 TRILLION Dollars In Stock Market Wealth Was Wiped Out In The 3rd Quarter

By Michael Snyder, on October 2nd, 2015

Did you know that 11 trillion dollars in global stock market wealth was wiped out during the third quarter of 2015? When I was emailed this figure by a friend, I was stunned for a moment. I knew that things were bad, but were they really this bad? When I first received this information, I had just finished a taping for a television show in which I had boldly declared that 5 trillion dollars of stock market wealth had been wiped out around the world. Unfortunately, the final number has turned out to be much larger than that. Over the past three months, the stock markets of all major global economies have been crashing simultaneously, and 11 trillion dollars of "paper wealth" has now completely vanished. The following comes from Fortune...

Debt Limit Coming A Month Earlier Than Expected

1 OCTOBER, 2015

The Treasury Department said Thursday it would reach the debt limit a bit earlier than was expected by many on Capitol Hill. Treasury Secretary Jacob J. Lew told Congress in a new letter that thanks in part to lower-than-expected quarterly tax receipts, the extraordinary measures to forestall breaching the debt limit, combined with the new revenues, will run their course just a week after the resignation of Speaker John A. Boehner, R-Ohio, takes effect.

Stocks tumbled Monday to kick off the new week in the red, as Wall Street reacted to fresh data showing China's economy is in slowdown mode, overshadowing a big deal in the hard-hit energy patch. The Dow Jones industrial average ended down 313 points, or 1.9%. The Standard & Poor's 500 index fell 2.6% and the Nasdaq composite index plunged more than 145 points, or 3%. Blue chips comprising the Dow temporarily ducked below 16,000 at one point, the first time the index has fallen below that mark since Aug. 25. The U.S. stock market is still coping with its first market correction, or drop of 10% or more, since 2011.

College Claims Allowing Bible Verses Would Be A Violation Of The First Amendment

2 OCTOBER, 2015

A Colorado college lost its cool over a couple of Bible verses and now faces a legal challenge to its authority to censor the speech of a graduate, according to the Alliance Defending Freedom. ADF said Thursday its lawyers filed a lawsuit after the Colorado School of Mines in Golden offered donors to an athletic facility the opportunity to put a message on a nameplate but rejected a donor's request for a reference to a Bible verse. "Public colleges and universities should encourage, not shut down, the free exchange of ideas, especially in a forum like this."

The school initially imposed no restrictions – or even guidelines – on the type of message a donor could include, and contrary to what the school is arguing, the First Amendment protects – not restricts – a simple reference to a Bible verse," said ADF Legal Counsel Natalie Decker. "It's patently ridiculous

No Teaching Of 10 Commandments, But Muslim Prayers Allowed In Georgia School

Hundreds of irate parents are planning to attend the Walton County, Georgia, school board meeting Oct. 10 to convey their outrage over their children being taught the religious beliefs of Islam in middle-school social studies. The outrage erupted over a quiz handed out to students asking them to answer questions related to the five pillars of Islam, the Quran as the "holy" book of Muslims, and the conversion prayer known as the "shahada," which states, "There is no god but Allah and Muhammad is his messenger."

Not only is Wednesday (Sept. 30) International Blasphemy Rights Day, it's also midway through Banned Books Week. For millennia, governments and societies have used legal and commercial means to censor ideas and expressions that challenge established beliefs. Here's a list of books that have been banned around the world for upsetting the status quo.

1. The Bible

Yes, the Bible is full of violence, but that's not why it's been banned in many countries. Across Central Asia, publishing, importing and distributing religious literature is restricted to prevent "extremism." In Malaysia, Malay-language Bibles are prohibited outside the confines of churches to protect "national security." In North Korea, possessing a Bible is illegal because, well, pretty much everything is banned there. Governments often monitor and restrict communities of believers they fear might challenge their rule. They do so by cutting off access to holy scripture and outlawing proselytization, all while pretending to champion freedom of religion or belief in their constitutions. Don't believe the propaganda. Do keep an eye on Bible balloons dropping the Word of God into hostile territories.

Principal Jason Rowland. (Fox)

The American Civil Liberties Union of Louisiana has launched a full-scale assault on Airline High School after the principal wrote the words, "May God Bless You All" in a message posted on the school's website.

"The Future Starts Today – May God Bless You All," wrote Principal Jason Rowland in September.

The ACLU also complained about plans by the school's Fellowship of Christian Athletes to place prayer request boxes around the campus.

That was all the evidence the ACLU needed to accuse Bossier Parish Schools of engaging "in a pattern of religious proselytization."

"There is no question that the principal has violated these legal mandates by invoking God, prayer and Christianity in school publications and on school grounds," Esman wrote. "This unlawful religious coercion is improper from any school employee but it is particularly egregious coming from the school principal, whose job is to teach and uphold, rather than violate, the legal rights of all."

The board of directors of Boston's Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center will hold a hearing next Wednesday in the case of a veteran medical expert who was dismissed for citing federal government statistics about the dangers of homosexual activity.

WND previously reported on the case that has threatened the career of Dr. Paul Church. He had been on the staff of the Boston hospital for nearly 30 years before his removal earlier this year, noted the non-profit group Mass Resistance.

His offense? Citing government statistics showing that the "gay" sex lifestyle poses deadly health risks.

Church, who also is a member of the Harvard Medical School Faculty and has conducted life-saving research on diagnosing bladder and prostate cancer, spoke with WND earlier in the dispute.

"It is incredible to think they would be able to silence me and revoke my ability to be on the staff as a result of my raising valid health concerns over a risky lifestyle," he said.

"This is almost a fascist effort at mind control."

The facts, he contends, are on his side.

"Although it has declined over the past few decades, two-thirds of all new HIV/AIDS infections in the U.S. are the result of men having sex with men. Fifty percent of 'gay' men will be infected with HIV by age 50. Those numbers are out there and they are staggering," he said.

Church of Scotland minister says to teach Jesus died for sinners is "ghastly theology"

Tue 29 Sep 2015

By Hannah Tooley

The Free Church Moderator of Scotland is preparing to debate the foundations of Christianity with a Scottish minister who does not agree that Jesus died for sinners.

Revd Scott McKenna, minister of Mayfield Salisbury Parish Church in Edinburgh, openly denies one of the most accepted teachings of mainstream Christianity and told his congregation that it was "ghastly theology" to believe that Jesus Christ died for sinners.

Following the comments, the footage was uploaded online and the current Free Church Moderator Revd David Robertson responded by writing a blog post on the subject, saying such preaching was profoundly anti-Christian.

Mr McKenna, who has the potential to be a Church of Scotland Moderator, then contacted Robertson and the men met to discuss theology.

A debate has been set for Wednesday at Mayfield Salisbury Parish Church to talk about the death of Jesus, as well as faith schools and other issues brought up in the Bible.

Revd Angus Morrison, present Church of Scotland Moderator, will chair the debate.

A Northern-California mom became alarmed when her preteen daughter said she was uncomfortable with the man who entered a store bathroom while she and another young girl were using it. But the response of store management left the mom stunned and shaken.

On August 24, Michelle (not her real name) was with her 12-year-old daughter and her daughter's 10-year-old friend at the REI sporting goods store in Santa Rosa.

Upon leaving the store, Michelle noticed that the girls were upset. When asked, the girls stated that a man had come into the store restroom while they were using it.

A transgender model wants to become the first person in Britain to be both the mother and father of the same baby.

Fay Purdham, who was born Kevin McCamley, has launched a £100,000 public appeal to find a surrogate mother in a bid to achieve her dream of motherhood.

The 27-year-old, whose transition cost £60,000, froze some of her sperm before she began her journey to become a woman aged 16.

فلاضطهاد يزيد والاضطراب يزيد والزلازل والابوئة والفساد الأخلاقي يزيد والاحاد يزيد

فلهذا أقول المسيح اقترب ميعاد مجيؤه لا احدد مواعيد بل ارفض من يحدد مواعيد ولكن اطلب

الأول نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصاييحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة أبناء الله وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما

كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تناهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلياقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيرا للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

الثاني لا نخاف

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب انظروا لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأیضا استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعنكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.

والمجد لله دائما
