اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأیضا أوضح أنه يوجد نبوات لم نراها بعد مثل ابن الهلاك وهرمجدون

ولكن ایضا علامات كثيرة من التي قال عنها الكتاب انها في الزمان الاخير بدأت تحدث بوضوح

ويجب أن ننتبه اليها. ونذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء

المسيح بل ایضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر

هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان

عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت

جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعه

سابقا. أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لانه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم ياتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَاذْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

A bolide, or exploding meteor, similar to this one was spotted in the night sky over the Lower Mainland and Western Washington on Friday night.

Tina Robertson was just trying to catch a stray cat out in front of her property when she heard it.

"It freaked me right out," she said.

Then she looked up to see a "big ball of fire."

"It was moving like hell," she said. "It was big, but not as big as that one in Russia."

What she and other witnesses as far afield as Seattle and Nanaimo seem to have seen around 6:50 p.m. Friday was a type of meteor known as a bolide. Bolides are as bright as a full moon; they're a meteor that doesn't just burn up as it travels through the atmosphere, it explodes.

Some observant Nova Scotians were treated to an unexpected light show Sunday that left many in awe.

Reports of sightings were spread over a large area, with similar descriptions, leading many to think it was a meteorite.

Andrea Thompson of Onslow had just arrived home with her husband and daughter at 6 p.m.

"We were still in the car and facing toward Truro Heights," she said. "We all saw what looked like a massive fireball high in the sky. It was definitely something that was on fire and it burned up before 6:01."

Scientists find Sun capable of destroying life on Earth with a massive superflare

Posted on December 9, 2015

December 2015 – SPACE – The fact that we are here today is pure luck. The chances of Earth being habitable were astronomical, and still we are here. But the Universe outside of this planet we call home is still just as unforgiving, and anything going on in outer space could potentially lead to us all being wiped out. To keep in theme with the fragility of our existence, scientists have found the Sun capable of destroying life on Earth with a super-flare.

Normal solar flares contain the energy of 100 million megaton bombs. A super-flare can release the energy equivalent to over 100 billion megaton bombs. Scientists postulate Mars' atmosphere was probably wiped out by a series of coronal mass ejections. Powerful Solar flares are often accompanied by these coronal mass ejections.

Britain calls crisis meeting over floods in north

Home / UK / Society

Sun Dec 6, 2015 1:45PM

Britain's emergency response committee has formed an urgent meeting to study the situation in northern areas affected by floods.

Heavy floods in Britain's northern regions on Sunday forced the country's emergency response committee to call an urgent meeting to study the situation in affected areas.

The meeting was called after prolonged heavy rain caused widespread flooding in northwest England and forced emergency services to evacuate residents from their homes.

Environment Secretary Elizabeth Truss said the government committee had been called to "urgently assess the scale of the floods and ensure the response remains coordinated, effective and gets help to those affected as

Powerful Alaska Storm to Rival Strongest on Record

By Renee Duff, AccuWeather.com Meteorologist

Share | f t in

A potent storm that will cross the Aleutian Islands of Alaska this weekend could become the strongest recorded storm to impact the region.

This storm comes a little over a year after ex-Super Typhoon Nuri became the most powerful system on record to cross Dutch Harbor, Alaska, which is located in the Aleutian Islands, with a central low pressure of 924 millibars (27.29 inches of Hg).

The intensity of a storm is measured by the central pressure, with lower pressure equating to a stronger system.

Giant column of gas erupts out of Mexico's Colima volcano; authorities warn of falling ash

Posted Sat at 5:29pm

Mexico's Colima volcano has spewed a column of gas and ash into the sky in the latest of a series of intermittent eruptions.

Mexico's civil protection authorities said the column rose 2,500 metres over the crater before it was pulled by winds heading north-east.

The explosion prompted the civil protection authorities to warn nearby residents to watch for falling ash and to wear face masks when outdoors.

Located in the south-western Mexican state of Colima, the volcano — known locally as the Fire volcano — has been exhibiting continuous activity since July 9.

The Colima volcano, which is part of the Pacific's Ring of Fire, was also active in January and February.

Mexico contains over 3,000 volcanos, but only 14 are considered active.

Major eruptions in Mexican history have included the 1953 eruption of the Paricutin volcano in Michoacan, the 1982 eruption of Tacana volcano in Chiapas and the 1986 eruption of the Colima volcano.

Hundreds of dead fish dawned in Barra do Jucu, in Vila Velha. Concerned about the case, residents said they did not believe that the fish deaths are related to the tailings dam that broke in Mariana, Minas Gerais, but with excess sewage released into the river.

"It started 40 days when the sewage treatment plant Cesan stopped working here in Guaranhuns. There are releasing all the sewage that comes from Old Town within the Guaranhuns channel," said the environmentalist Eduardo Pignaton.

Germany Reports H5N2 Avian Flu Outbreak

08 December 2015

GERMANY - The rural German district of Cham in Bavaria has reported a low pathogenic outbreak of H5N2 avian influenza.

District officials reported the outbreak in a press release, which said that culling at the effected farm was expected to be completed on Monday 7 December, together with disinfection measures.

A restricted area of 1km has also been set up around the holding, where official veterinarians will enact increased surveillance measures, and local poultry keepers will not be allowed to move birds within this zone.

The district's press release described the affected farm as a company with about 12,900 animals, including laying hens, ducks, geese and turkeys.

Officials urged poultry keepers in unaffected areas to protect their businesses by keeping to strict biosecurity protocols, and reporting any unusual or unexplained deaths of poultry immediately, to ensure tests can be done quickly.

It is unclear whether the German outbreak is linked to the recent outbreaks in France, where the serotype of the virus involved has yet to be confirmed. However, the locations of the two regions involved are very far apart.

More Fish Die as Sparks Marina Turns Over

Hundreds of trout have died at the Sparks Marina after the body of water turned over late last week. This die-off is not as severe as years past, but it's still leaving officials perplexed at its cause.

"Basically, the warm water on top, and the cold water on the bottom, which has zero oxygen, actually mixed together, and for the third consecutive year, we have seen a trout die off at the Sparks Marina," said Chris Healy with the Nevada Department of Wildlife.

They know what killed the fish, but they don't know why this has happened the last three years, and not the years before.

On Tuesday morning, as many as 25 peacocks and several other birds were found dead in the forest of Madhupur village in Odisha's Khurda district by the villagers.

Meanwhile, the forest officials have issued an alert to Chilika and nearby forests fearing bird flu. After finding the birds, the villagers immediately informed the Forest officials of Khurda and Chandaka divisions, who recovered the dead birds in the area. "An expert team from OUAT will also visit the site for ground examinations", Chandaka DFO Akshay Patnaik said. The reason for so many mysterious deaths in large numbers within short time span is unknown yet, and officials are waiting for the autopsy report to know the exact cause of death.

DEVELOPING: Bacteria Containing Mcr-1 Gene Resistant To All Known Antibiotics Found In Denmark

7 DECEMBER, 2015

Just weeks after the discovery in China of bacteria resistant to all known forms of treatment, the same strain has been found in Denmark. Worse: It's been there since 2012. Late last week researchers at the Technical University of Denmark announced they had found the feared 'invulnerability' gene among E. coli bacteria samples taken from humans and food. The scientists had been conducting a review of a genetic database of some 3000 different E. coli samples taken since 2009. Specifically they were seeking the mcr-1 gene, a mutation which gives bacteria a frightening resistance to the last effective family of antibiotics – colistin.

Higher levels of Fukushima radiation (cesium) detected off west coast of U.S.

Posted on December 6, 2015

December 2015 – SEATTLE, Washington – Heightened levels of radioactivity have been detected in water samples collected off the west coast of Canada and the U.S., which scientists say can be traced back to 2011’s Fukushima nuclear disaster. While the radiation levels have proven to be relatively harmless, with no threat to marine or human life, they need to be closely monitored, according to a statement released by Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI) this week.

More than 245 samples were taken along the west coast since 2011, which are helpful in determining the pattern of ocean currents around the globe. Ever since the devastating earthquake that struck the Japan coastline in March 2011, and the resulting damage to the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power plant, radioactive elements from the plant – specifically cesium-137 and cesium-134 – have been carried across the Pacific Ocean by currents. The highest level of the isotope cesium-134 which the WHOI says is a “fingerprint” of Fukushima, was found from a sample collected about 2,500 km west of San Francisco, which contained a 50 per cent higher concentration of cesium than other samples collected along the coast. However, the levels still fall well below government safety standards for drinking water, swimming and other recreational activities,

MOSCOW (Reuters) - A Russian submarine equipped with cruise missiles has entered the eastern part of the Mediterranean Sea and is near the coast of Syria, Interfax news agency quoted a source as saying on Tuesday.

The submarine is equipped with missiles similar to those used by the warships of Russia's Caspian flotilla to strike Islamic State targets, the source was quoted as saying.

WAR DRUMS - Tensions Rise With Russia And Turkey As Putin Surrounds Turkey With Military Presence

10 DECEMBER, 2015

We could truly see the beginning stages of a soon war in the middle East as tensions are at an all time high between Russia and Turkey as reports indicate that Vladimir Putin was dead serious when he warned Turkey that it would “regret more than once” shooting down a Russian fighter jet. Not only has the Russian president announced all kinds of sanctions against Turkey, but he’s now also surrounding the Islamist-led country with his military. As Hurriyet Daily News reports, Putin has sent 14 helicopters to Erebuni air base in Armenia. Half of these helicopters are armored Mi-24 attack helicopters, while the other seven are Mi-8 model transport helicopters. Meanwhile, Putin has also sent a submarine called the Rostov-on-Don to the Mediterranean. Russia has a naval base there, and the Russian president is apparently looking to

A Turkish jet intruded into Greek airspace, which according to the Turkish General Staff, led two Greek jets to keep a radar lock on it as a target.

Two Greek F-16 fighter jets held a radar lock on a Turkish F-16 over the Aegean Sea, the Turkish General Staff said on Thursday.

Turkey refuses to recognize a 10-mile airspace zone around Greek islands in the Aegean Sea, which led to 1,233 airspace violations so far this year, 31 of which took place over Greek territory. On November 24, Turkey shot down a Russian jet over Syria for an alleged airspace violation.

At least 72 employees at the Department of Homeland Security are listed on the U.S. terrorist watch list, according to a Democratic lawmaker.

Rep. Stephen Lynch (D., Mass.) disclosed that a congressional investigation recently found that at least 72 people working at DHS also "were on the terrorist watch list."

"Back in August, we did an investigation—the inspector general did—of the Department of Homeland Security, and they had 72 individuals that were on the terrorist watch list that were actually working at the Department of Homeland Security," Lynch told Boston Public Radio.

"The [former DHS] director had to resign because of that," he said.

DHS continues to fail inspections aimed at determining the efficiency of its internal safety mechanisms, as well as its efforts to protect the nation.

Lynch referred to a recent report that found the Transportation Security Administration, which is overseen by DHS, failed to stop 95 percent of those who attempted to bring restricted items past airport security.

"We had staffers go into eight different airports to test the department of homeland security screening process at major airports. They had a 95 percent failure rate," Lynch said. "We had folks—this was a testing exercise, so we had folks going in there with

U.S. Intel to Obama: ISIS Is Not Contained

A new report stands in stark contrast to earlier White House assurances that ISIS had been 'contained.' And it is already spurring changes in how the U.S. grapples with ISIS.

A new U.S. intelligence report on ISIS, commissioned by the White House, predicts that the self-proclaimed Islamic State will spread worldwide and grow in numbers, unless it suffers a significant loss of territory on the battlefield in Iraq and Syria, U.S. officials told The Daily Beast.

The report stands in stark contrast to earlier White House assurances that ISIS had been "contained" in Iraq and Syria. And it is already spurring changes in how the U.S. grapples with ISIS, these officials said.

Ex-Guantanamo detainee now an al Qaeda leader in Yemen

BY THOMAS JOSCELYN | December 9, 2015 |

Ibrahim al Qosi, an ex-Guantanamo detainee, now serves as a leader and spokesman for al Qaeda in Yemen.

Al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula (AQAP) released a new video featuring a former Guantanamo detainee, Ibrahim Qosi, who is also known as Sheikh Khubayb al Sudani.

In July 2010, Qosi plead guilty to charges of conspiracy and material support for terrorism before a military commission. His plea was part of a deal in which he agreed to cooperate with prosecutors during his remaining time in US custody. Qosi was transferred to his home country of Sudan two years later, in July 2012.

A young man who came to Minnesota as a "refugee" from Somalia has been linked to Syed Farook, the shooter who, along with his jihadist wife, killed 14 Americans in San Bernardino less than a week ago.

Fox News contributor Rod Wheeler provided a key piece of information about the case, linking the San Bernardino shooters to Mohamed Hassan, a known terrorist recruiter who has been on the FBI radar screen for at least seven years.

What Fox did not report, however, is how Hassan ended up in the United States.

His family came into the U.S. as refugees from Somalia. The Somali refugee program has been going on for decades and has produced some of America's most feared terrorists, even as the Syrian refugee program grabs most of the headlines.

As WND reported in May, Hassan also helped radicalize Elton Simpson, one of the two jihadists who tried to storm into a Prophet Muhammad drawing contest in Garland, Texas, on May 4. Their plans to kill the participants and behead free-speech activist Pamela Geller were foiled by an off-duty cop who engaged them in a gun battle before they could enter the auditorium where Geller was holding the art contest.

JP Morgan And Citigroup Agree That The U.S. Economy Is Steamrolling Toward A Recession

By Michael Snyder, on December 6th, 2015

As we approach the end of 2015, researchers at both JP Morgan and Citigroup agree that the probability that the U.S. economy will soon plunge into recession is rising. Just last week, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives asked Janet Yellen about Citigroup's assessment that there is a 65 percent chance that the United States will experience an economic recession in 2016. You can read her answer below. And just a few days ago, JP Morgan economists Michael Feroli, Daniel Silver, Jesse Edgerton, and Robert Mellman released a report in which they declared that "the probability of recession within three years" has risen to "an eye-catching 76%"...

"Our longer-run indicators, however, continue to suggest an elevated risk that the expansion is nearing its end, and our preferred model now puts the probability of recession within three years at an eye-catching 76%."

Guess What Happened The Last Time The Price Of Oil Plunged Below 38 Dollars A Barrel?

By Michael Snyder, on December 7th, 2015

On Monday, the price of U.S. oil dropped below 38 dollars a barrel for the first time in six years. The last time the price of oil was this low, the global financial system was melting down and the U.S. economy was experiencing the worst recession that it had seen since the Great Depression of the 1930s. As I write this article, the price of U.S. oil is sitting at $37.65. For months, I have been warning that the crash in the price of oil would be extremely deflationary and would have severe consequences for the global economy. Nations such as Japan, Canada, Brazil and Russia have already plunged into recession, and more than half of all major global stock market indexes are down at least 10 percent year to date. The first major global financial crisis since 2009 has begun, and things are only going to get worse as we head into 2016.

The global head of oil research at Societe Generale, Mike Wittner, says that his "head is spinning" after the stunning drop in the price of oil on Monday. Just like during the last financial crisis, we have broken the psychologically important 40 dollar barrier, and there are concerns that we could go much lower from here...

Three truck bombs killed up to 60 people and injured more than 80 in the town of Tell Tamer in Syria's northeastern Al Hasakah province on Thursday, a spokesman for the Syrian Kurdish YPG has told Reuters.

The blasts struck near a Kurdish militia forces field hospital and in the crowded Souk Al Jumla market square, where the majority of the fatalities occurred. Most of the affected people were civilians, but there were some Kurdish and Assyrian self-defense fighters among them.

Church slapped with criminal summons over worship service 'noise'

By Todd Starnes · Published December 11, 2015 · FoxNews.com

"Silent Night" has new meaning for a Louisiana church after they were issued criminal sanctions because their worship services exceeded 60 decibels – which is about the same noise level of a dishwasher.

The executive pastor of Vintage Church was issued a criminal summons and the rest of the staff was threatened with "physical arrest" if they used any microphones or amplified sound in their worship services, according to a lawsuit filed by Liberty In

ROCKPORT, Maine – The vice principal of Camden Hills Regional High School has America's enemy all figured out: "domestic white 'Christian' men with easy access to guns."

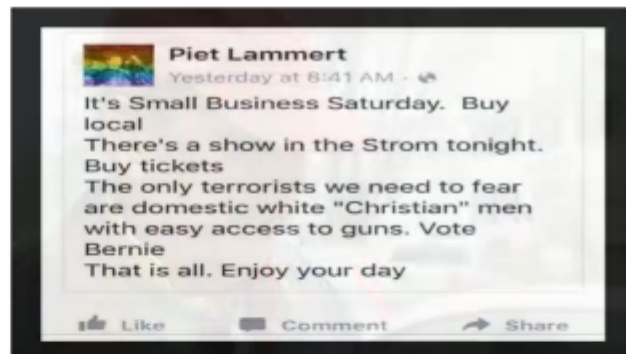

After a lone gunman killed two civilians and a police officer in Colorado Springs, Colorado, the vice principal, Piet Lammert, took to Facebook to post his thoughts the next day:

It's Small Business Saturday. Buy local

There's a show in the Strom tonight. Buy tickets

The only terrorists we need to fear are domestic white "Christian" men with easy access to guns. Vote Bernie

That is all. Enjoy your day

Five Town CSD Superintendent Maria Libby criticized the post, but defended the administrator.

"I know Piet and he's someone who genuinely accepts all people," Libby tells WGME. "The post does not reflect who he is as a person."

She didn't stop there.

"It was a mistake," Libby says. "It was a poor choice in words and it should never have been posted." The superintendent didn't specify what words would have been better to say.

BREAKING NEWS - Quoting Bible Illegal In Cincinnati, Ohio Starting This Wednesday!

8 DECEMBER, 2015

At today's meeting of the Cincinnati City Council law and public safety committee, Council Member Chris Seelbach "will propose an ordinance that would impose a $200-a-day fine on a therapist or counselor practicing the therapy that aims to "change" lesbians, gay men, bisexuals or transgender people from their sexual orientation or gender identity," according to Cincinnati.com. According to the article it will likely be a done deal on Wednesday of this week. Seelbach is confident that he has the necessary votes both to make it out of committee tonight and to pass it as law on Wednesday. Although a few states have passed similar laws, no major city has done so, and Cincinnati.com is exultant in claiming that Cincinnati is leading the way in such wickedness.

Ole Miss University Says “Too Much Christianity” In Christmas

8 DECEMBER, 2015

The University of Mississippi, located in the heartland of the South, in Bible-belt country, has changed the name of its annual “A Grand Old Christmas” to “Hotty Toddy Holiday” out of concern the “Christmas” reference might be seen as offensive. The school also changed its annual Christmas tree lighting event to reference “tree lighting,” but not Christmas, the Daily Caller reported.

A copy of The Gideons International Bible normally placed in hotel rooms.

The Freedom from Religion Foundation, America's largest association of atheists and agnostics, began a campaign Monday to rid all hotel rooms of Bibles distributed by The Gideons International and replaced with copies of Charles Darwin's "On the Origin of Species."

The Gideons International is well known worldwide for their work with hotels but according to their website, they predominantly share Scriptures in schools and colleges, prisons and jails, hospitals, and medical offices. The group is also an association of Christian business and professional men and their wives dedicated to telling people about Jesus through sharing personally and by providing Bibles and New Testaments.

In a release Monday, however, the FFRF charged that Gideons International was "exploiting hotels and motels to proselytize a captive audience," and informed the American Hotel and Motel Association that they

The Church of England has accused cinemas of hypocrisy for showing a seven-minute video about Hinduism, just three weeks after it was revealed they had banned a Lord's Prayer advert.

A short clip called SanJay's Super Team which features Hindu gods acting as superheroes during prayer to protect a young boy is being broadcast at the Odeon, Cineworld and Vue cinemas.

And the Church has complained that the decision by the chains to show the clip before screenings of new Disney Pixar film The Good Dinosaur displays 'incoherence of their on-the-hoof policy making'.

When the world sees the barbaric acts of ISIS, there tends to be talk of either war or hopelessness and defeat. Despite the evil, some Christians say God is at work in areas where darkness seems to reign.

As ISIS conquered parts of northern Iraq and persecuted Christian minorities, the Gospel actually began to spread.

"So besides the darkness coming in, trying to get the salt and light out—killing lives and bringing so much pain and suffering—on the other hand, we're seeing the rise of the presence of God, worship, prayer, experiencing Jesus and people being open to the Gospel and being open to follow Him, even from Muslim background," one man named Fabian, who asked that his full name not be disclosed, told CBN News.

School District Votes To Allow Boy In Girl's Locker Room Following Ultimatum From Obama Admin

9 DECEMBER, 2015

A school district in Chicago has voted to allow a male student who identifies as female to use the girls' locker room in light of an ultimatum issued by the Obama administration. As previously reported, an unidentified high school student within Township High School District 211 requested to use the girls' locker room nearly two years ago as he had been identifying as female. But the district declined, citing the privacy concerns of the female students. It in turn offered a private location to change, but the student rejected the accommodation. He then contacted the American Civil Liberties Union, which filed a federal complaint with the Office of Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education.

Schools can win £30,000 grants if they hire and promote gay and transgender teachers thanks to 'profoundly misguided' scheme

- The Leadership Equality and Diversity Fund provides help for minorities
- Schools can apply on basis on age, disability, gender reassignment or race
- The £900,000 fund opened this year, following a pilot scheme in 2014/15
- But schools have also used the fund to promote and train male staff
- Critics say the scheme promotes staff on basis of diversity, not skill
- One MP has called for the 'absolutely nonsense' grant to be abolished

A scheme offering schools £30,000 to hire and promote gay and transgender teachers has been slammed by critics as being 'profoundly misguided'.

The Leadership Equality and Diversity Fund, backed by the Department for Education, will provide training to existing staff, or recruit new staff, in an effort to promote diversity within schools.

Applications are encouraged on the basis of 'protected characteristics', as outlined in the Equality Act 2010, which include age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief and sex.

'TRANSGENDER' FATHER ABANDONS 7 CHILDREN TO BECOME '6-YEAR-OLD GIRL'

Some liberals express support for Stefonknee Wolschtt

Paul Joseph Watson - DECEMBER 11, 2015 1654 Comments

A transgender father who abandoned his seven children to start a new life as a "6-year-old girl" is being celebrated by some liberals as a shining example of diversity.

46-year-old Stefonknee (pronounced 'Stephanie') Wolschtt is being profiled by numerous media outlets after he/she/xe revealed her story in a video interview for The Transgender Project.

Wolschtt is now dressing up and pretending to be a 6-year-old girl with her adopted family after being given an ultimatum by her ex-wife, who said she had
