والعلامات حتى 8 مارس 2016

Holy_bible_1

سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقرب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة
بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

تضج

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

انجيل متى 24

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

A decent-size asteroid will zoom past Earth next week, but astronomers aren't sure exactly when the flyby will happen, or just how close the space rock is going to get.

The latest observations suggest that the 100-foot-wide (30 meters) near-Earth asteroid 2013 TX68 will come within about 3 million miles (5 million kilometers) of Earth's surface on March 8, NASA researchers said. But it's also possible that the space rock will get much, much closer — 15,000 miles (24,000 km) or so, which is inside the planet's ring of geostationary satellites.

A mysterious fireball made a dramatic entrance into the Scottish sky, lighting up the night and making a loud rumbling noise, which left residents somewhat confused. The object is believed to have been a meteor, though that has yet to be confirmed.

Police in Scotland said they received a flood of calls at around 6:55pm on Monday, after a bright flash was seen dancing across the sky, Mail Online reported. Residents said they spotted blue, white, and green lights, with many saying they heard a rumbling sound.

Keep your eyes on the skies.

Wednesday night, just before 10 p.m., sky-watchers from Maine to Philadelphia — and more than a few in the Lower Hudson Valley — caught a glimpse of a fireball, a meteor, burning up to dust as it entered the Earth's atmosphere.

The American Meteor Society keeps a map of public meteor sightings and, according to Operations Manager Mike Hankey, about 34 reports were received from across the Northeast, including one from Dobbs Ferry and another from Ardsley.

"It seemed to burn out at a low angle above the horizon," said Andrew Ploski, of Nyack. "My 9-year-old son and I were traveling back home last night after a visit with his grandmother in Yonkers. We were traveling north on the Sprain Brook Parkway near the Ardsley Road overpass. There appeared a large, very bright fireball with trail about the brightness and size of a car headlight. It streaked across my field of vision very quickly from my upper right to lower left — east to west."

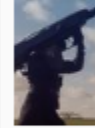

Ploski was lucky, according to seasoned sky-watchers.

"To see a meteor in Westchester is a little bit unusual," said Larry Faltz, president of Westchester Amateur Astronomers. "You have to be looking up at just the right moment."

Faltz explained that, when you see a fireball in the sky, you are not actually seeing a meteor but the ionization of the Earth's atmosphere as the object heads toward the

Is the San Andreas Fault about to shift? Unprecedented amounts of Carbon Monoxide released into the atmosphere along the West coast of the

Source Earthwindmap

The Aliso Canyon gas well blowout was the largest methane leak in U.S. history, releasing over 90,000 tonnes (tons) of gas into the air.

It belched methane into the sky over Los Angeles for 16 weeks straight until it was finally plugged on February 27th. Now, a new worry, this time stretching the length of the San Andreas Fault line.

On February 27th enormous amounts of Carbon Monoxide leaked into the atmosphere along the West coast of the United States...it's the amount of Carbon Monoxide which is simply stunning.

It is well understood that large amounts of Carbon Monoxide is released into the atmosphere before an earthquake, however the amount of Carbon Monoxide release on the 27th of Feb is as far as I can tell unprecedented.

As of today most of the Carbon Monoxide has dissipated but large amounts remain, see below..

Thousands of Mexicans were astonished when they woke up to discover their local river had vanished overnight.

The Atoyac River, the sole source of water for 10,000 in the state of Veracruz, is thought to have disappeared into a crevasse following an earthquake tremor.

It is unclear how much of the river, which crosses eight municipalities in the mountainous area of central Mexico, was affected by the suspected sinkhole.

Mauna Loa, Earth's largest active volcano, is still stirring

Posted on February 29, 2016

February 2016 – HAWAII – Despite not being in the headlines, Mauna Loa continues to be in a state of unrest based on seismic and deformation monitoring data. The USGS Hawaiian Volcano Observatory's improved seismic network began to detect increasingly frequent, small earthquakes on Mauna Loa as early as 2013. Renewed inflation of the volcano was detected by HVO's GPS network and also with Interferometric Synthetic Aperture Radar (InSAR) in 2014. Based on the elevated rates of earthquakes and persistent inflation, the Volcano Alert Level for Mauna Loa was elevated from Normal to Advisory on September 15, 2015. According to the USGS Alert-Notification System for Volcanic Activity, an Advisory level indicates that the volcano is showing signs of unrest above known background levels, but does not mean that an eruption is certain. Another period of Mauna Loa unrest in 2004–2005 included inflation and anomalous seismicity, but did not result in an eruption.

Mauna Loa, the largest active volcano in the world, has erupted 33 times since 1843. These eruptions occurred within the volcano's summit caldera (Moku'āweoweo), along one of its two rift zones (Northeast and Southwest), or from radial vents located on the north and west flanks of the volcano. All historical eruptions started at the summit of Mauna Loa and then either remained in the summit area or migrated down one of the rift zones. Of the 33 eruptions, about half remained within the summit area and about half

TAIPEI – More than 12,000 chickens and geese have been culled at two poultry farms in Central and Southern Taiwan after health officials confirmed bird flu infections at those farms, local government officials said Sunday.

Tung Meng-chih (董孟治), director of the Animal Disease Control Center of Changhua County, said more than 10,000 locally bred chickens were destroyed at a poultry farm in Dacheng Township on Sunday after a high percentage of them were confirmed to be infected with the highly pathogenic H5N2 Type B strain.

This was the fifth outbreak of bird flu in the county this year and the first since the start of the Lunar New Year on Feb. 8, Tung said.

At a goose farm in Liuying District in Tainan, 2,443 geese were culled Sunday after some of the dead geese tested positive for H5 bird flu virus infection, officials with the city's Animal Health and Protection Office said.

Animal health officials also disinfected an area within 1 kilometer from the goose farm where two other poultry farms are located, and the area will be closely monitored for three months to ensure the bird flu does not spread.

Both of the infected farms were closed to the outside and not vulnerable to infection by contact with wild birds, leading experts to think the infection was brought in from the outside.

Lee Chao-chuan (李朝全), director of Tainan's Animal Health and Protection Office, said controls on the entry of humans, animals and biological matter into the farms are very important in

Hundreds of fish die in Devigere lake

March 02, 2016 , Hassan, DHNS

Hundreds of fish were found dead at Devigere lake, in the city, on Tuesday. Lack of oxygen is suspected to be the cause behind the death of fish.

Passersby, who noticed dead fish floating in Devigere, on Tuesday morning, informed the City Municipal Council officials. The officials, who inspected the lake, sprinkled 15 bags of salt into it, in an effort to increase oxygen level. Within a few minutes, several fish, which were battling for life started moving in the water. The dead fish were cleared from the lake.

Speaking to Deccan Herald, CMC Commissioner Naga- bushan said, people were still unaware about maintaining cleanliness and hygiene in their surroundings. Fresh water would be filled in the lake soon. Salt has been added to provide oxygen to the fish.

The issue will be taken up in the CMC meeting, scheduled to be held on Wednesday, he said. As there is a vegetable and flower market near the lake, the vendors wash flowers and vegetables in the lake, polluting the water. Moreover, hoteliers nearby dump the leftovers in the lake. Hence, the lake water is polluted, resulting in the death of fishes, he said.

However, local people put the blame on the CMC for not placing dustbins in the area to keep the surroundings clean.

Yet another incident of fish kill was reported from Periyar on Tuesday. This time, the massive fish death occurred at a 7-km-long stretch of the river between Muttar and Manjummal. Large-sized fishes were found floating on the river from Tuesday morning. Local people were also found collecting big fishes weighing a few kilos. This is the seventh such instance this year, said Martin Gopurathingal, an environmental campaigner.

The officials of the Kerala State Pollution Control Board, who collected water samples from the river, suspect that dumping of septic waste somewhere near the mainstream of the river near Aluva might have caused the causality.

Cape Town - Zeekovlei residents have been warned not to eat any dead fish found in the area as the City of Cape Town has been collecting thousands of dead carp, believed to have died of natural causes.

The city said an estimated 5 000 individual fish or 6 to 7 tons have been removed, as the bodies of the fish bloat and rise to the surface.

"Fish kills, which refer to a localised die-off of fish populations, often occur at this time of the year with the change of seasons when water levels are low and temperatures are high," City of Cape Town Area Manager Asieff Kahn said.

"Fish sometimes become stressed during breeding and they may pass on infectious disease due to the grouping of large numbers of adult fish together."

The city is investigating to confirm the cause of death as samples taken in the area on Thursday show toxicity is not a cause for concern.

Algal toxins from the sample were well below the guideline limits in the affected area Khan said. "The fish bodies are being transported to the City's Vissershok landfill site."

Dead sea birds have been washing up on area beaches for the past several weeks in higher than normal numbers.

Robert Keough of New Smyrna Beach counted nine dead northern gannets while riding his bicycle on the beach at Canaveral National Seashore this week. "It's sad," said Keough.

Volusia County's Marine Science Center has received reports this week of dead birds all along the beach, from the national seashore north all the way into Flagler County, said director Michael Brothers.

But the numbers of gannet deaths seem to be tapering off from what they were in late February, said Brothers. Between Feb. 14 and Feb. 24, he said, they received 26 northern gannets.

No one knows why the gannets died, said Brothers. The science center staff put some specimens aside in case state wildlife officials decide to investigate. But so far, he said, the numbers of dead birds,

Wildlife experts have warned it is 'just a matter of time' before Asian hornets appear in Britain to threaten the beleaguered bee population.

More hostile than the native hornet, they can kill 50 bees a day to feed their larvae. Britain's bees are thought to have fallen by a third since 2007.

The hornets came to France accidentally in pottery 12 years ago, and from one nest spread to Germany, Spain, Italy, Portugal and Belgium.

Thailand: Dengue cases near 10,000, additional deaths reported

Posted by Robert Herriman on March 5, 2016 // 2 Comments

The number of dengue fever cases get closer to the 10,000 mark this past week as the Thailand Bureau of Epidemiology puts the total cases as of Feb. 28 at 9639 from all 77 provinces.

Aedes aegypti/CDC

In addition, health officials report two additional dengue related deaths bringing the total to three during the first two months of 2016.

Bangkok remains the region with the highest incidence of the disease, followed by Rayong, Samutsakorn, Nakornpathom and Phuket.

In south east Asia, dengue has been hitting Malaysia and the Philippines hard during the first months of the year.

In South Korea, health experts are advising that a dengue fever is the most likely epidemic to hit the Asian nation thanks to the impact of climate

NY nuclear plant 65,000% radiation spike is worse than Fukushima

A radioactive flow from the Indian Point nuclear power plant is leaking into groundwater that leads to the Hudson River, raising the possibility that the U.S. may have its very own Fukushima-like disaster only 25 miles from New York City.

The Indian Point nuclear plant is located on the Hudson River, and it serves the electrical needs of about two million people. But last month, when workers were preparing a reactor for refueling, they accidentally spilled contaminated water containing the radioactive hydrogen isotope tritium, The Free Thought Project \(TFTP\) reports. That caused an enormous radiation spike in groundwater monitoring wells, and one well's radioactivity increased by 65,000 percent.

Entergy, the Louisiana company that owns the plant, offered an explanation of the readings that can't be described as anything other than "Ho-hum," saying they were "fluctuations that can be expected as the material migrates." The company further said that the tritium contaminated water spill was contained within the plant, and never made it to the Hudson River or any other water source.

WW3: Fighters From Turkey Are Pouring Into Syria And Attacking Targets Despite The Ceasefire

By Michael Snyder, on February 29th, 2016

The ceasefire in Syria is a joke. Turkish military units continue to mass along the border, and militants are pouring across the border to attack targets in northern Syria. The Prime Minister of Turkey is now openly admitting that his government is supporting the militants that are trying to overthrow the Syrian government, and the Turkish government has also made it abundantly clear that they have no plans to stop shelling the Kurds on the other side of the border. So despite the "ceasefire", the truth is that the threat of World War 3 breaking out in the Middle East is greater than ever.

At times it is difficult to see the dividing line between the Turkish military and the radical jihadists that are hopping back and forth across the border with the full support of the Turkish government. Over the weekend, militants from Turkey that crossed over into northern Syria were supported by artillery fire from the Turkish military as they attacked a key Kurdish town...

Russian monitors of the ceasefire in Syria have recorded nine violations of the truce over the last 24 hours. They said overall the ceasefire is holding up, but some of the violations were attributed to the rebels.

Pledges to observe the ceasefire have been submitted by 17 "moderate" rebel groups and elders of 35 towns and villages, who said that they would expel anyone not willing to uphold the deal and enlist those willing to do it into local militias, the Russian center for reconciliation said. The US has filed a list of 69 rebel groups who have subscribed to the ceasefire, they said.

A suicide terrorist murdered at least 60 people Sunday and wounded about 70 more by driving a fuel truck full of explosives into a security checkpoint south of Baghdad.

The checkpoint is located on a strategic highway near Hilla, 90 kilometers from the Iraqi capital, reports said. About 70 people were wounded in the blast, police officials said.

Terror group Islamic State (ISIS) claimed responsibility for the attack in a post on the website of the Amaq news agency, which is sympathetic to ISIS.

"A martyr's operation with a truck bomb hit the Babylon Ruins checkpoint at the entrance of the city of Hilla, killing and wounding dozens," the ISIS statement said.

Al Jazeera reported that the suicide bombing occurred at a checkpoint that is usually manned by Iraqi soldiers and federal police forces. "A long line of cars along that key road were also caught in the blast," read the report.

About 2,100 Marines and sailors recently arrived in South Korea for exercise Ssang Yong 16, which began on Wednesday and lasts until March 20, Marine Corps officials said.

The U.S. Navy has dispatched a small armada to the South China Sea.

The carrier John C. Stennis, two destroyers, two cruisers and the 7th Fleet flagship have sailed into the disputed waters in recent days, according to military officials. The carrier strike group is the latest show of force in the tense region, with the U.S. asserting that China is militarizing the region to guard its excessive territorial claims.

Stennis is joined in the region by the cruisers Antietam and Mobile Bay, and the destroyers Chung-Hoon and Stockdale. The command ship Blue Ridge, the floating headquarters of the Japan-based 7th Fleet, is also in the area, en route to a port visit in the Philippines. Stennis deployed from Washington state on Jan. 15.

With a series of edicts, speeches and martial ceremonies, President Xi Jinping has over the past six months unveiled China's biggest military overhaul since the aftermath of the Korean War.

The plan seeks to transform the 2.3-million-member People's Liberation Army, which features 21st-century hardware but an outdated, Soviet-inspired command structure, into a fighting force capable of winning a modern war. China is shifting from a "large country to a large and powerful one," Xi explained in November. The restructuring will be a major focus of the country's Hezbollah sources cited in a unique sneak peak into the Lebanese Iran-proxy terror group claim that they have gained powerful weapons and experience from the Syrian civil war, which will allow them to invade Israel in their third war against the Jewish state.

The Foreign Policy article Thursday, entitled "Hezbollah's Death Valley," spoke about Hezbollah's involvement in Syria, where it is fighting to prop up Bashar al-Assad's regime on Iran's orders. It has lost many of its terrorists there, but sources in the group told the paper the fighting has only helped them.

"In the next war, Hezbollah won't stay on the borders, and the Israeli settlements in the north will not be protected from this," a source close to the terror group based in southern Lebanon told the paper, claiming Hezbollah now for the first time can infiltrate Israel in open war.

The US Army is planning to deploy the first laser weapons in 2023, it has been revealed.

Mary J. Miller, deputy assistant secretary of the Army for Research and Technology, told the House Armed Services Committee's Subcommittee on Emerging Threats and Capabilities 'I believe we're very close,' when asked how close the Army is to developing offensive and defensive directed-energy weapons.

She said the programmes would be extensively tested as the Army wants to understand the lasers' full capabilities 'before we offer it to a Soldier.'

The Children's Society says Government must reconsider plans to freeze benefits, if they are truly concerned about child poverty

The poorest households, particularly families with more than two children and single parents, will be most severely impacted by another four years of Conservative government, research by the Institute for Fiscal Studies (IFS) has shown.

The report forecasts the percentage of children in relative poverty will rise by eight per cent and those in absolute poverty by three per cent by 2020-21. This will almost entirely be felt by families with three or more children, as the Department for Work and Pensions has decided to limit child tax credit and universal credit to families with two children from April 2017 under the Welfare Reform and Work Bill.

Exclusive: China to lay off five to six million workers earmarks at least $23 billion

China aims to lay off 5-6 million state workers over the next two to three years as part of efforts to curb industrial overcapacity and pollution, two reliable sources said, Beijing's boldest retrenchment program in almost two decades.

China's leadership, obsessed with maintaining stability and making sure redundancies do not lead to unrest, will spend nearly 150 billion yuan ($23 billion) to cover layoffs in just the coal and steel sectors in the next 2-3 years.

The overall figure is likely to rise as closures spread to other industries and even more funding will be required to handle the debt left behind by "zombie" state firms.

The term refers to companies that have shut down some of their operations but keep staff on their rolls since local governments are worried about the social and economic impact of bankruptcies and unemployment.

Shutting down "zombie firms" has been identified as one of the government's priorities this year, with China's Premier Li Keqiang promising in December that they would soon "go under the knife".

The government plans to lay off five million workers in industries suffering from a supply glut, one source with ties to the leadership said.

Labor Force Participation Improves; 93,688,000 Americans Not in Labor Force

By Susan Jones | March 4, 2016 | 7:37 AM EST

(CNSNews.com) - The number of Americans not in the labor force last month totaled 93,688,000, 374,000 fewer than the 94,062,000 not in the labor force in January--and the labor force participation rate also improved, with 62.9 percent of the civilian noninstitutional population either holding a job or actively seeking one.

In the past 12 months, the highest labor participation rate was 62.8 percent in February and May 2015; the lowest was 62.4 percent in September 2015, and that 62.4 percent was the lowest in 38 years.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says the economy added 242,000 jobs in February (compared with a revised 172,000 in January), and the unemployment rate was unchanged at 4.9 percent for the second month in a row.

In February, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, the nation's civilian noninstitutional population, consisting of all people 16 or older who were not in the military or an institution, reached 252,577,000. Of those, 158,890,000 participated in the labor force by either holding a job or actively seeking one.

The 158,890,000 who participated in the labor force equaled 62.9 percent of the 252,577,000 civilian noninstitutional population.

Among the major worker groups, the unemployment rates for adult men (4.5 percent), adult women (4.5 percent), teenagers (15.6 percent), Whites (4.3 percent), Blacks (8.8 percent), Asians (3.8 percent), and Hispanics (5.4 percent) showed little or no change in February.

On the negative side, average hourly earnings for all employees on private nonfarm payrolls declined by 3 cents in February to $25.35, following an increase of 12 cents in January.

Heavy cuts look set to strike BBC News as part of a wider corporation plan aimed at saving £550 million by 2021-22.

The news broadcaster, which employs approximately 7,400 people, has already saved £5 million as part of an overall BBC initiative designed to save £150 million by 2017, but it is bracing itself for further cuts.

The cuts are a result of Harding's "Future of BBC News" project, launched in January and spanning three months. In a BBC blog post to staff in January, Harding outlined the aims of the project.

(CNSNews.com) - Asked on Monday if Islamic State terrorists are carrying out a campaign of genocide against Syria's Christians, White House Spokesman Josh Earnest said the word genocide "involves a very specific legal determination that has, at this point, not been reached."

He condemned the terrorists' "willingness to target religious minorities, including Christians."

Earnest noted that the Obama administration has long expressed its concerns over ISIS/ISIL's "slaughter" of religious minorities in Iraq and Syria.

Tens of thousands of Iranians have downloaded the Bible in the past six months under a new initiative by Christian broadcaster SAT-7, despite intense restrictions by the Iranian government.

More than 60,000 people in Iran have downloaded the Bible in whole or in part since September 2015, when SAT-7 opened a secure chat room service.

The messaging app, Telegram, allows users to send messages anonymously and SAT-7 to offer Christian programmes and secure Bible downloads. This service is especially pertinent in Iran, where social media platforms including Facebook are blocked, and the authorities closely monitor phone calls, text messages and emails.

SAT-7 says it receives 2,000 messages a day from Iranian viewers, thanking it for providing a space for believers to talk and share their faith with one another. Many ask for prayer, or give testimonies of their faith.

Iranian pastor charged with 'enmity against God'

"We don't have enough staff to pray for everyone. It's overwhelming," said Benjamin Parsa, audience relations manager of SAT-7 PARS. He added that 1,000 people downloaded the Bible in the first week that it was offered. "This is not a follow-up project anymore; this is a movement."

One user told the broadcaster, which has over 1.7 million viewers in Iran: "This is not just a programme or media ministry, but it is truly our CHURCH for the time being!"

The Australian government said on Sunday it will hold a public vote on same-sex marriage later this year if it wins reelection.

The decision comes a day after Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull brushed aside criticism from staunchly conservative elements of his Coalition government to attend Sydney's annual gay Mardi Gras parade.

Attorney-General George Brandis said legislation would be pushed through parliament before the end of the year if the government voted in favor of approving gay marriage.

"We will be going to the election promising a plebiscite before the end of the year," Brandis told Sky News.

"I believe that marriage is one of the fundamental institutions of society and I think it's important the fundamental institutions of society reflect the fundamental values of society," he added.

Australia has been criticized by international human rights groups over its slowness to act on same-sex marriage. Several countries, including Canada, the United Kingdom, United States, France, New Zealand, Ireland and South Africa, have already amended their marriage laws to recognize same-sex unions.

'New Morality' Movement Pushes Big To Silence Christians

3 MARCH, 2016

Some say American Christians are paranoid, that they're feeling targeted and persecuted. But is it possible America is facing a growing anti-Christian agenda? Some on the frontline of the culture wars have responded with a resounding "yes." They feel it up close and personal – right in their faces. "I'm particularly sensitive to that because I'm Jewish," Brian Camenker, with Mass Resistance, told CBN News.

"I saw what happened to Jews in the 1930s and '40s and much of that same thing is happening to Christians now," he said. "There's an organized movement to demonize Christians." Maggie Gallagher, with the American Principles Project, agreed. "What we're seeing very clearly is an

Church Promotes LGBT Tolerance Over Gospel Truth

3 MARCH, 2016

Many churches are grappling with how to relate to those who practice homosexual and transgender behavior in a culture that embraces and celebrates this lifestyle. How do we show the love of Christ without compromising on God's Word or condoning sinful behavior? Well, sadly, many Christians and churches are seemingly unable to find a middle ground. We frequently see judgmental Christians who understand that homosexual behavior is a sin (1 Cor. 6:9) but forget that God's Word says, "Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived. Neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor male prostitutes, nor homosexuals. ...

The rainbow flag flies over the state Capitol in Sacramento, California.

A California state legislator has introduced a bill that would ban travel by state employees to any state that has a religious-liberty law viewed as "discriminatory" against LGBTs.

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما
كان حين امنا

13: 13 لنسلك بلباقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد
