اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح وأيضا لا اقصد ان اخيف أحد بل من يخاف هو لا يثق في مواعيد الرب

هدفي فقط أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل اليضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل وبتنقية القلب وإن نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زبت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

10: 21 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

11: 21 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج تضج

21: 26 والناس يغشى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات تتزعزع

21:27و حينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجیل متی 24

مت 6: 24 وسوف تسمعون بحروب وإخبار حروب انظروا لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمُ الآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

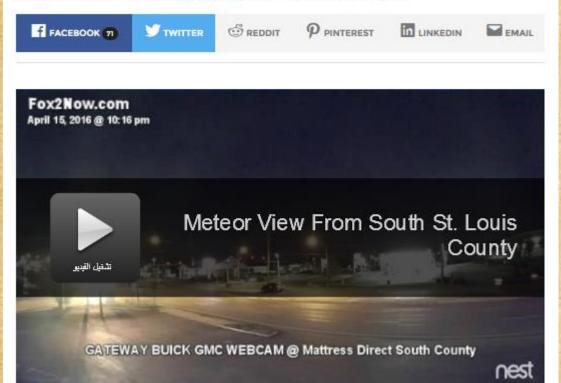

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتُ هِذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

BOWIE, Md. (WJZ) — Authorities suspect a meteorite strike may have sparked a massive brush fire that scorched the woods behind a Prince George's County condo community Sunday evening.

The woods behind Scarlett Oak Terrace, located just off Maryland Route 450, went up in flames after 5 p.m. It took firefighters with the Bowie Volunteer Fire Department several hours to bring the flames under control.

Hundreds of flights canceled in Denver as blizzard hits Colorado

Reuters

April 16, 2016

(Reuters) - A powerful blizzard swept through Colorado on Saturday, dumping at least 2 feet (61 cm) of snow in some parts of the state and forcing the cancellation of most of the scheduled flights at the Denver airport, officials said.

United Airlines [UALCO.UL] canceled all of its flights to and from Denver International Airport, the airport said in a statement.

All told, more than 800 flights were grounded on Saturday, or more than 65 percent of all scheduled take-offs and landings at the airport, the FlightAware airline tracking website showed. Dozens of other flights were delayed.

Denver International is the fourth-largest hub for United Airlines and Southwest Airlines, and the primary hub for Frontier Airlines, according to its website.

A representative for the airport did not immediately return a call or email seeking comment.

The heavy snow began falling on Friday night and was expected to continue through Sunday, the National Weather Service said.

By noon local time on Saturday, nearly 5 inches (13 cm) had fallen in Denver, Colorado's largest city, while the storm dumped up to 2 feet (61 cm) of snow in the mountains and foothills, said National Weather Service meteorologist Jim Kalina.

The utility Xcel Energy Colorado reported on its Facebook page that about 8,000 of its customers in the state lost power in the storm and that it had sent out extra crews to deal with problems.

A 6.2 magnitude earthquake has shaken Ecuador's already devastated Pacific coast, terrifying residents and hindering rescuers searching for survivors of Saturday's even bigger quake which killed more than 500 people.

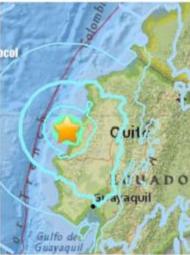

The latest big tremor, which followed several hundred aftershocks from Saturday's 7.8 quake, hit 25 km off the island of Muisne on the northwest coast at a depth of 15 km, the US Geological Survey said.

Magnitude 6 earthquake hits Ecuador, close to weekend's 7.8 quake zone

Posted on April 22, 2018

April 2016 - ECUADOR - A powerful earthquake measuring 6.0 magnitude struck off Ecuador's disasterstricken coast on Thursday, as survivors of an earlier deadly quake that killed 587 people clamored for food, water and medicine in parts of the disaster zone. The latest quake hit about 100 km (62 miles) northnorthwest of Portoviejo and at a depth of 10 km (six miles), said the U.S. Geological Survey. There were no immediate reports of damage and there was no tsunami warning, President Rafael Correa said on Twitter that three aftershocks were registered on Thursday night, adding "have strength!" Saturday's deadly quake was a massive 7.8 magnitude.

"We're trying to survive. We need food," said Galo Garcia, a 65-year-old lawyer as he waited in line for water from a truck in beachside village of San Jacinto. "There's nothing in the shops. We're eating the vegetables we grow." A crowd nearby chanted, "We want food." Correa's socialist government, facing a mammoth rebuilding task at a time of greatly reduced oil revenues in the OPEC nation, said there was no lack of supplies, just problems with distribution that should be quickly resolved. The government quickly moved supplies to the main towns and set up shelters for more than 25,000 people in soccer stadiums and airports, but shattered roads have impeded the operation.

Ecuador quake death toll rises to 587 – country faces rebuilding challenges

Posted on April 22, 2018

April 2016 – ECUADOR – The death count from Ecuador's worst earthquake in a decade rose to at least 587 on Thursday even as the country faced another grim toll: a long and costly reconstruction effort likely to cost billions of dollars. President Rafael Correa announced Wednesday night that he would raise sales taxes and put a one-time levy on millionaires to help pay for reconstruction. The damage from the 7.8-magnitude quake adds to already heavy economic hardships being felt in this OPEC nation because of the collapse in world oil prices. Even before the quake, Ecuador was bracing for a bout of austerity, with the International Monetary Fund forecasting the economy would shrink 4.5 percent this year. In a televised address Wednesday night, Correa warned the nation of a long and costly post-quake recovery and said the economic pain shouldn't fall only on hard-hit communities along the coast.

"I know we're at the most-difficult stage right now but it's just the beginning," he said. Rescuers continued to comb through the rubble in coastal towns hit hardest by the quake, but the clock was running down for finding survivors. Rescue workers have said a person without serious injuries can survive up to a week buried in debris in the Ecuadorian heat. On Thursday, Jorge Zambrano, mayor of the community of Manta, announced that three people had been pulled from beneath a collapsed building the night before and vowed to continue searching. "I still have hope we can find more people who are still alive beneath the rubble," he said. "If we have even a hope of life, we must work with extreme care."

Dozens Of Large Earthquakes Strike As Speculation Mounts That Japan's Southern Island May Split

By Michael Snyder, on April 17th, 2016

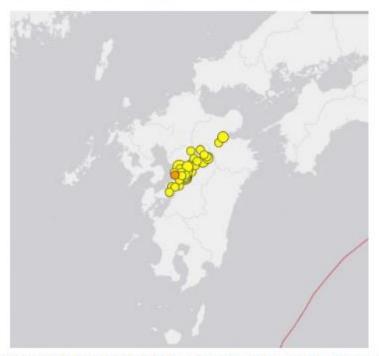

Over the past 48 hours, our planet has been hit by literally dozens of earthquakes of magnitude 4.0 or greater, and scientists are acknowledging that what is taking place is highly unusual. This strange shaking began toward the end of last week when the globe was struck by five major earthquakes over the space of just two days, and over the weekend the seismic activity just continued to escalate. Very early on Saturday, Japan's southern island of Kyushu was hit by a magnitude 7.3 earthquake,

Over the past week, our planet has been hit by large earthquake after large earthquake, and according to Volcano Discovery there are 38 volcanoes around the world that are erupting right now. We have seen a dramatic spike in global seismic activity that is unlike anything that we have seen in ages, and that is why what is going on at Yellowstone is so incredibly alarming. Geologists tell us that a full-blown eruption of the Yellowstone supervolcano would have up to 2,000 times the power of the Mount St. Helens volcanic eruption of 1980, and approximately two-thirds of the country would immediately become uninhabitable. As you will see below, there are signs that something big is getting ready to happen at Yellowstone, and if it does erupt all of our lives will be permanently changed forever.

I want to share with you some footage from Yellowstone that was recorded on Thursday night. In this video, it appears to be as bright as day even though it is the middle of the night, you can see a whole host of geysers steaming violently, and Old Faithful just keeps going off over and over...

Kamchatka Klyuchevskaya Sopka volcano erupts with high altitude ash cloud

Posted on April 24, 2016

April 2016 – KAMCHATKA – The Russian Far East volcano Klyuchevskaya Sopka erupted on Sunday, with hot ash shot miles into the air. Eurasia's largest volcano Klyuchevskaya Sopka, in Russia's Far East erupted on Sunday, shooting hot ash miles into the air, the local geophysical service said. "The eruption was detected by seismic sensors, and satellite images show that the eruption column rose 6 kilometers [3.7 miles] above sea level," a representative of the Russian agency told RIA Novosti. The volcanic ash cloud has spread over an area of almost 13,500 square feet.

It has drifted 124 miles southeast toward the Sea of Okhotsk, in the Pacific Ocean. There was no immediate threat to the public safety. Ash was blown away from nearby towns, emergencies services in the Kamchatka region said. The 15,580-feet volcano in Russia's Kamchatka peninsula has been rumbling to life since the beginning of April. It has been almost continuously active for the past 50 years but the number of tremors

Over 23,000 chickens culled in Myanmar in prevention of further bird flu spread

Source: Xinhua 2016-04-20 10:08:01

YANGON, April 20 (Xinhua)— Myanmar authorities have culled 23,226 chickens as of Tuesday in its preventive measures against further spread of H9N2 bird flu which occurred in Monywa, northwestern Sagaing region earlier this month, local media reported Wednesday.

The culled chickens were from 47 poultry farms owned by 29 breeders, local regional government was quoted as saying.

Bio-security measures were also taken on 168 other poultry farms.

Currently, poultry farming zone in Monywa has been designated as restricted zone, banning people from entering except responsible personnel.

Before the outbreak of H9N2 bird flu, the Monywa poultry farming zone was breeding 120,000 chickens, producing nearly 80,000 quails daily, according to the Livestock Breeding and Veterinary Department (LBVD).

No human infection has been so far reported.

The Ministry of health is carrying out fever surveillance on the workers that were tasked with culling the infected chickens.

A special team has also implemented a quarantine zone of the infected area and is carrying out surveillance, infection control measures as well as providing medical assistance to those with suspected human infection.

San Rafael, ver.- For the umpteenth time, Wednesday hundreds of different species of fish were found dead in the lower basin of the river Bobos; apparently this new ecocide is the result of pollution generated by some of the juice processing companies, which are settled in Martinez de la Torre and San Rafael, same that, despite the complaints-so far continue to operate with impunity.

As stated by Abraham Bautista Galindo, director of Ecology of the City of San Rafael, the new fish kill occurred between communities Potrero Nuevo and El Pital, where local authorities, in coordination with local fishermen, and made tours to determine the causes of this ecocide that, like many others, could be in the file state and federal agencies.

And, according to the municipal official, the National Water Commission, Profepa, Semarnat and agencies which in theory should investigate and punish those responsible for these mortalities, simply do nothing to stop polluting companies, which in occasions to mock fishermen, arguing that they have immunity and protection of senior officials.

"We are already investigating and making it relevant, however, the problem is compounded because state and federal agencies

What's Causing the Fish Kill at Lake Carnegie in Princeton?

Princeton residents who have lived near Lake Carnegie for more than 25 years have never seen anything like it — hundreds of dead, rotting fish floating in the lake and scores of fish washed up on the shore.

Most of the fish are gizzard shad, but residents have also taken several photos of dead carp. Many of the dead shad have red blotches on their heads. Other fish can be seen in the lake gulping for oxyge.

CAMBUTAL, PANAMA (CNN) - In Panama, 10 dolphins were found dead on a beach this Wednesday after a group of approximately 50 were stranded on the shore.

Residents of Cambutal village, in the province of Los Santos, alerted authorities about the presence of the dolphins stranded on the shore of the Ostional Beach.

Twenty-five dolphins were returned to the sea in stable condition, while others are receiving treatment by environmental authorities, representatives of the Aquatic Resources Authority of Panama, and the environment ministry.

The species were identified as bottlenose dolphins, the most common in the region.

Coral bleaching hits 93% of Great Barrier Reef: scientists

Sydney (AFP) - Australia's Great Barrier Reef is suffering its worst coral bleaching in recorded history with 93 percent of the World Heritage site affected, scientists said Wednesday, as they revealed the phenomenon is also hitting the other side of the country.

After extensive aerial and underwater surveys, researchers at James Cook University said only seven percent of the huge reef had escaped the whitening triggered by warmer water temperatures.

"We've never seen anything like this scale of bleaching before," said Terry Hughes, convenor of the National Coral Bleaching Taskforce.

Hundreds Of Chinese Children Mysteriously Fall Ill Suffering From Nose Bleeds, Rashes, Coughing

China McKinsey

Hundreds of school children in East China's Jiangsu Province have fallen mysteriously ill, suffering from nose bleeds, itching, rashes, coughing, and other complicated symptoms, whose cause has not been determined.

CRI reports that some of the parents alleged that they noticed irritant smells at the school. They suspect that the smell comes from chemical factories near the school, which they believe are the main causes of their children's symptoms.

This is the second week in a row where students were found to be suffering from the same symptoms in the same province.

As a result, local authorities have mandated that five chemical factories near the school suspend operations. Meanwhile, the school insists on continuing all school activities as usual.

Imagine using your hand as an interactive touch-screen display. Sounds like science fiction, but Nokia Research Centre and the European Research Council have funded a study, led by the University of Sussex, to develop such a device, which could be used as a display for the next generation of smartwatches and other smart devices.

Called SkinHaptics, the device (still in the lab) sends ultrasonic pulses to your palm from the back of your hand, creating tactile sensations (similar to the iPhone 8s and Apple Watch "3D Touch" feature, which senses the amount of pressure your finger applies to the screen and can trigger various actions).

Ancient Lizards Preserved in Amber Could Pose Problems for Evolutionists

Christian scientists are touting the recent discovery of amberencased lizards as evidence of a recent creation as

Last month, the journal Science Advances published a detailed analysis of amber-embedded lizards, estimated to be approximately 99 million years old. Thanks to the "extraordinary preservation" qualities of the amber, scientists were able to observe intricate details on the lizard specimens.

"Amber deposits are especially useful for preserving small, delicate organisms that are seldom represented as lithified remains or, as fragmentary microvertebrate elements, are often overlooked," the journal article explains. "This is

Paris (AFP) - Students at an elite Paris university sparked fierce debate Wednesday by inviting classmates to wear the Muslim veil for a day in a bid to "demystify" a practice that is highly divisive in France.

Students at Sciences Po urged women to take part in Hijab Day "if you too think all women should have the right to dress as they wish and have their choice respected".

France is grappling with rising Islamophobia after a wave of terror attacks by jihadists, and the students' Facebook page said that those agreeing to put on the veil would "experience the stigmatisation experienced by veiled women in France".

Report: Obama Seeks Meeting With Iranian President

BY: Adam Kredo Follow @Kredo0

April 20, 2016 4:06 pm

President Barack Obama has sent two letters to senior Iranian leaders in recent months requesting a meeting with Iranian President Hassan Rouhani, according to Persian language reports recently translated by a Middle East research organization.

"President Obama asked to meet with Iranian President Hassan Rouhani in two secret letters sent in late March to both Iranian Supreme Leader Ali Khamenei and President Rouhani," according to the Middle East Media Research Institute, or MEMRI, which translated a Farsi-language report published Tuesday by a website affiliated with Iran's Green movement.

Obama purportedly wrote in the correspondence "that Iran has a limited-time opportunity to cooperate with the U.S. in order to resolve the problems in Syria, Iraq, and Yemen, and promised that if Iran agreed to a meeting between him and Rouhani, he would be willing to participate in any conference to this end," according to MEMRI's translation of the report.

The reports could not be independently verified. A State Department spokesperson referred the Washington Free Beacon to the White House for comment on the report. The White House declined to comment on record.

Iranian leaders are said to be open to Obama's request.

The Iranian report "further stressed that Supreme Leader Khamenei discussed the request with President Rouhani, that Rouhani said that Iran should accept the request and meet with Obama, and that such a meeting could lead to an end to the crises in the region while increasing Iran's influence in their resolution," MEMRI wrote. "Rouhani promised Khamenei that any move would be coordinated with him and reported to him. According to the report, Khamenei agreed with Rouhani."

Senior U.S. officials have met with top Iranian officials in recent days in a move perceived by some as laying the groundwork for a future powwow between Obama and Rouhani.

المشاكل الاقتصادية تصل الان لأعلى مستوى منذ كارثة 2009

Get ready to step over some landmines, investors.

The number of companies defaulting on their debt is hitting levels not seen since the financial crisis, and

So far this year, 46 companies have defaulted on their debt, the highest level since 2009, according to S&P Ratings Services. Five companies defaulted this week, based on the latest data available from S&P Ratings Services. That includes New Jersey-based specialty chemical company Vertellus Specialties and Ohio-based iron ore producer Cliffs Natural. Of the world's defaults this year, 37 are of companies based in the U.S.

Meanwhile, coal producer Peabody Energy (BTU) and surfwear seller Pacific Sunwear (PSUN) this week filed plans for bankruptcy protection. Shares of Peabody have dropped 97% over the past year to $2 a share and Pacific Sunwear stock is off 98% to 4 cents a share.

The implosion of oil prices is the top reason for the rise in defaults as it makes it harder for energy companies to repay debt. The Federal Reserve's decision to hike short-term interest rates last year along with slowing global growth are also putting pressure on companies' ability to service their debt.

Defaults are clearly an issue for bondholders, since these events mean they no longer receive payments on money lent to these companies. But the situations can be brutal for stock investors, too, as restructuring after a default can leave shares essentially worthless as the bondholders often become the new owners of the company. The rise of defaults hold several lessons for stock investors, including:

Saudi Arabia takes out $10bn in bank loans

Simeon Kerr and Elaine Moore Tuesday, 19 Apr 2016 | 2:53 PM ET

FINANCIAL TIMES

Saudi Arabia is raising $10bn from a consortium of global banks as the kingdom embarks on its first international debt issuance in 25 years to counter dwindling oil revenues and reserves.

The landmark five-year loan, a signal of Riyadh's newfound dependence on foreign capital, opens the way for Saudi to launch its first international bond issue. It comes as the sustained slump in crude encourages other Gulf governments, such as Abu Dhabi, Qatar and

Intel Lays Off 12,000 People After Lobbying For More Foreign Workers

5:57 PM 04/19/2016

One of the top users of foreign workers imported via the H-1B visa program announced Tuesday it's laying off about ten percent of its global workforce.

Tech giant Intel is laying off some 12,000 workers, although it's one of the country's 15 largest users of H-1Bs, which are temporary visas that allow companies to hire foreign workers for American tech jobs. The big-time layoffs come even as the company has called for hikes in the number of foreign workers it is able to hire using H-1B visas.

The chip-making giant said the mass firings are part of

47 Percent Of Americans Cannot Even Come Up With $400 To Cover An Emergency Room Visit

5 By Michael Snyder, on April 20th, 2016

If you had to make a sudden visit to the emergency room, would you have enough money to pay for it without selling something or borrowing the funds from somewhere? Most Americans may not realize this, but this is something that the Federal Reserve has actually been tracking for several years now. And according to the Fed, an astounding 47 percent of all Americans could not come up with $400 to pay for an emergency room visit without borrowing it or selling something. Various surveys that I have talked about in the past have found that more than 60 percent of

A Satanic group is set to verse a "black mass" at the Oklahoma City Civic Center Music Hall this August, but 100,000 people have signed a petition to have the gathering canceled.

Conservative Roman Catholic organization Tradition, Family and Property (TFP) has forwarded the said petition in the hopes that the Satanic "black mass" could be stopped, just as Catholic protests have prevented a similar ritual from being carried out at Harvard before. The petition calls for the cancellation of the Aug. 15 event, which is deemed as offensive to Catholics all over the world.

"With my whole heart and soul, I express full, complete and vehement rejection of the satanic black mass scheduled at the Oklahoma City Civic Center on Aug. 15," the petition reads. "I urge you to cancel this event which offends more than 1 billion Catholics worldwide, 200,000 Catholics in Oklahoma and countless more God-loving Americans.

Canadian Police Officers Practice Meditation In Buddhist Temple As Part Of Training

25 APRIL, 2016

A Canadian police department that is reportedly experimenting with new training methods recently had a group of new recruits participate in a meditation lesson at a Buddhist temple. On April 7, a group of approximately 35 police officers visited the West End Buddhist Temple and Meditation Centre in Mississauga, Ontario. The officers were all new recruits in training with Peel Region Police, which is a law enforcement department that serves the Toronto area.

HUNDREDS OF HINDUS WHO PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS EMBRACING JESUS CHRIST AFTER WITNESSING MIRACLES, HEALING

"By God's grace we are holding evangelistic jungle camps everywhere the violence took place ... it is God's doing...'

According to a report from Christian Aid Mission, the predominantly Hindu Kandhamal District in eastern India was at one time "a hotbed of Hindu persecution of Christians.'

The persecution reached its peak in 2008, when Hindu leader Swami Lakshmanananda Saraswati-viewed as a messiah figure by many Hindus—was murdered. At the time, radical Hindus spread rumors that Christians had killed him, even though non-Christian Maoists said they had killed Saraswati.

Hindu extremists retaliated with attacks that wounded thousands, destroyed 300 church buildings and 6,000 homes, displaced at least 50,000 people for months. While carrying tridents, mobs shouting the praises of Hindu gods shot Christians, burned them with fire and acid, dismembered them with swords and knives, beat them with iron rods, clubs and axes, raped them, and forced them to undergo "reconversion" ceremonies that included drinking water with cow feces. Many Christians that fled into the jungles died from disease and snake bites.

Even today, Christians are despised for being from lower classes and face shunning, being seen as anti-Indian for embracing a non-Hindu faith perceived as "Western." According to Fox News, there have been 26 documented incidents of religiously motivated violence against Christians spread across the subcontinent since Jan. 1, but Hindu radicals enjoy near complete impunity for their

Los Angeles High School Opens Commingled 15-Stall 'All Gender Restroom'

By Heather Clark on April 19, 2016 · 25 Comments

LOS ANGELES — A high school in California has converted a girls' restroom into a "gender neutral" restroom to accommodate students who identify as transgender or no gender at all, commingling both male and female students together in the same lavatory.

The Santee Education Complex in Los Angeles, which is under the jurisdiction of the second largest school district in America, opened the 15-stall restroom on Friday with a new sign that simply reads "all gender restroom."

According to reports, the Gay Straight Alliance at the high school had petitioned officials for the change, picketing the school following an incident where a female student who

Target stores: Transgender customers can use bathroom matching gender identity

Posted: Apr 19, 2016 3:02 PM MDT Updated: Apr 20, 2016 9:12 AM MDT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Target is making a stand on the debate around what type of bathrooms transgendered people can use.

In a statement posted on its company website Tuesday, the discounter, based in Minneapolis, said transgender employees and customers can use the restroom or fitting room facility that "corresponds with their gender identity."

The statement comes as a national debate is heating up over whether to restrict transgender people from using public bathrooms that only match their gender at birth. North Carolina is facing backlash for its recent ban on local anti-discrimination ordinances. And other states are considering legislation similar to that adopted by North Carolina

In approximately 24 hours, more than 162,000 concerned citizens signed American Family Association's #BoycottTarget pledge after the retail giant publicized its policy to allow transgender individuals access to store bathrooms and fitting rooms of the opposite sex.

"Corporate America must stop bullying people who disagree with the radical left agenda to remake society into their progressive image," said AFA President Tim Wildmon. "#BoycottTarget has resonated with Americans. Target's harmful policy poses a danger to women and children. Predators and voyeurs would take advantage of the policy to prey on those who are vulnerable. It's clear now that many customers agree. Target shoppers are leaving their allegiance to the store behind—and by the thousands every hour. No store can withstand that sort of loss."

DAYS OF LOT: Kids As Young As 4 Told To Pick Sex 'they Identify With'

20 APRIL 2016

Angry parents have blasted a council that wants kids as young as four to choose the gender "they most identify with" before starting school. It wrote to parents urging them to support their child's choice of "gender identity" in a letter confirming primary school places this week. And it asked them to leave the gender section of a form blank if their child had "another gender
