اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأیضا لا اقصد ان اخيف أحد بل من يخاف هو لا يثق في مواعيد الرب

هدفي فقط أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل

ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة

وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من

الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا

لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة

لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك

زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان
سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة
بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه
ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تُوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

Mystery object found 20 times brighter than all the stars in the Milky Way combined – and NASA has no clue what it is

Posted on June 23, 2018

June 2016 – SPACE – Astronomers are not entirely sure what it is. If, as they suspect, the gas ball is the result of a supernova, then it's the most powerful supernova ever seen. In June of 2015, astronomers viewed a ball of hot gas billions of light years away that is radiating the energy of hundreds of billions of suns. Even in a discipline that regularly uses gigantic numbers to express size or distance, the case of this small but powerful mystery object in the center of the gas ball is extreme. At its heart is an object a little larger than 10 miles across. ASAS-SN-15lh, as the object is known, was twice as luminous as any previously seen, far brighter than any normal supernova, and outshone our entire Milky Way galaxy by 50 times.

The artist's impression below shows what it would look like from an exoplanet 10,000 light-years away in its home galaxy. The team reported that the object at the center could be a very rare type of star called a magnetar—but one so powerful that it pushes the energy limits allowed by physics. An international team of professional and amateur astronomers spotted the possible supernova, now called ASASSN-15lh, when it first flared to life in June 2015.

From creating 'ice castles' out of hail to using it to cool beer: Alice Springs residents make the most of a massive hail storm that turned the red centre white

- Freak storm uprooted trees and caused flooding in parts of Alice Springs
- Locals made the most of the excess ice and used it to cool their beers
- Others made elaborate castles with the leftover hail
- Bureau of Meteorology warned another super storm may hit east coast

By HANNAH MOORE and MAX MARGAN and PETER DEVLIN FOR DAILY MAIL AUSTRALIA

Outback Australia was hit by wild hailstorms on Friday. As the cleanup continues, residents have found ways to make the most of the wacky weather.

Locals posted pictures to social media of wine coolers filled with hail, a sand castle built of remaining ice and cans of beer thrown on the ice to cool down.

The photographs went to show that even freak weather can't break Australian spirit.

A tornado whizzed through Xanthi, a city in Thrace, northeast Greece, spreading panic and destruction in its path early on Tuesday. The extreme weather phenomenon came in the wake of three earlier tornadoes that had swept through the plains of Xanthi. Destruction was noted at the municipalities of Avdiron and Topirou, whereas problems were also noted at Komotini, where crops were destroyed.

Thailand Sees Heaviest Rainfall In 25 Years

23 JUNE, 2016

Wide areas of Bangkok, Thailand, were flooded on 21 June after a period of heavy rain across the city. The flooding brought traffic to a standstill forced some schools and businesses to close. Thailand's Department of Disaster Prevention and Mitigation (DDPM) Director-General Chatchai Promlert said that heavy rains during the evening of 20 June caused flooding in 36 areas of Bangkok, leaving streets under 60cm of water in some areas.

At least 98 killed, 800 injured as hurricane-force storms pummel Eastern China

Posted on June 25, 2016

June 2016 – CHINA – Rescuers in eastern China searched Friday for survivors of a tornado and hailstorm that killed at least 98 people as it swept over a city's outskirts, destroying buildings, smashing trees and flipping vehicles on their roofs. The tornado hit a densely populated area of farms and factories Thursday near the city of Yancheng in Jiangsu province, about 800 kilometers (500 miles) south of Beijing. Jiangsu Governor Shi Taifeng said Friday that the death toll had risen to 98 people, with 800 others injured, according to the official China News Service. Earlier, the state-run Xinhua News Agency had said 200 people were critically injured.

On Friday, rescuers worked to carry injured villagers into ambulances and deliver food and water to others, Xinhua reported, although state broadcaster CCTV said that roads were blocked with trees, downed power lines and other debris. Heavy rain and the possibility of further hailstorms and more tornadoes complicated rescue efforts. In badly hit Xintu village, survivors grieved over lost relatives and surveyed the damage wrought on their homes.

"The people inside tried to run outside, but the wind was too strong so they couldn't," villager Wang Shuqing told an Associated Press reporter. "My family members were all inside, they all died. The police then came and took the bodies out, I can't bear it." Southwest Braces for Heat Wave With Temps Reaching 120

In 120 degree temperatures, some airplanes might not takeoff. Power grids strain as the outside air keeps transmission lines from cooling. And for desert dwellers, a cold bottle of water and some shade can mean the difference between life and death.

Parts of the U.S. Southwest, long accustomed to triple-digit temperatures, are preparing for a heat wave and, in Phoenix, officials are warning residents that the mercury may rise to 120, approaching Phoenix's all-time record of 122.

"If we are going to 115 or 120, people need to realize they are really in a life-threatening situation if they don't wet themselves down and drink water," said Kevin Kalkbrenner, Phoenix's director of homeland security and emergency management.

Excessive heat contributed to 84 deaths in the state last year, officials said in Maricopa County, the state's largest. Officials already confirmed this year's first heat-related death — an elderly woman who died from heat exposure in her backyard in early June.

Dr. Cara Christ, director of the Arizona Department of Health Services, is warning residents to watch for signs of heat illness: thirst, red skin, cramping, exhaustion and a lack of sweat. The agency is telling local officials to prepare for an influx of heat-related illnesses.

The Phoenix parks department is posting extra rangers at hiking trails warning visitors of the dangers and asking them to be off the trails by noon.

Arizona's power companies are prepping extra maintenance crews and securing extra power to keep the cool air blowing, said Jacob Tetlow, general manager of operations with Arizona Public Service.

(Reuters) - The California Independent System Operator, or ISO, which operates the state's power grid, issued a Flex Alert for Monday for Southern California from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. PDT because of high temperatures expected in the region.

The ISO urged consumers to conserve electricity especially during the late afternoon when air conditioners typically are at peak use and warned that natural gas, used as fuel for many power generators in the Los Angeles area, may be tight because of limited operations at the Aliso Canyon gas storage facility.

Last 10 Months Have Been The Worst Period For Floods AND The Worst Period For Fires In U.S. History

By Michael Snyder, on June 26th, 2016

As you read this article, the state of California is being ravaged by gigantic wildfires that are raging wildly out of control, and West Virginia is dealing with a "500 year flood". Since last September, the U.S. has been hit by a series of 11 historic floods. Never before in American history have we seen so many major floods within such a compressed space of time. And just as the Shemitah year ended last September, massive wildfires began erupting all over the country. Thanks to that unprecedented outbreak of large fires, 2015 ended up being the worst year for wildfires in all of U.S. history. And since 2016 began, things have continued to get worse. As far as the total number of acres burned is concerned, we are more than a million acres ahead of the pace that was set last year. So why in the world is all of this happening?

San Andreas: considerable seismic strain building – all the energy could be released in a major earthquake

Posted on June 23, 2016

June 2016 – CALIFORNIA – For the first time, scientists have produced a computer image showing huge sections of California rising and sinking around the San Andreas Fault. The vertical movement is the result of seismic strain that will be ultimately released in a large earthquake. The San Andreas Fault is California's longest earthquake fault, and one of the state's most dangerous. Scientists have long expected that parts of California are rising — and other parts sinking — around the fault in a way that is ongoing, very subtle and extremely slow.

Such vertical movement makes a lot of sense. California sits on the border of two gigantic tectonic plates — the Pacific and North American — that are constantly grinding past each other. But actually observing how California's landscape is rising and falling from seismic strain has been an elusive goal, until now. In a study published in the journal Nature Geoscience on Monday, scientists found that much of the Los Angeles Basin, Orange County, San Diego County and the Bakersfield area are sinking 2 to 3 millimeters a year — a couple of penny-widths annually. By contrast, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties, and a large portion of San Bernardino County, are rising at the same rate.

The areas closest to the San Andreas fault, however, remain locked in place. When the next big earthquake strikes, the different parts of Southern California will lurch back to the same level. "Once there is a major event, all of that energy gets released," said Sam Howell, a doctoral candidate in geophysics at the University of Hawaii at Manoa and the lead author of the report. The region of the San Andreas fault between Monterey

Thousands of animals have perished in the Tasmanian floods, but there's also been hundreds survive.

Stories are emerging of cattle that were swept up in floodwaters, and have travelled more than 20 kilometres, now being returned to their owners.

Ebony Bannister from Roberts Livestock has spent the last week trying to find the owners of displaced stock.

Ms Bannister said the number of dead cattle would far exceed the number that had survived. However she said about 200 cattle had been returned alive in the Merseylea and Mole Creek area of north-west Tasmania.

"At this stage we're saying 'lost', because there is more cattle turning up, but I would say from a cattle point of view from Merseylea and Mole Creek, we could hit the 2000 [dead] mark," she said.

For some individual farmers their stock losses are in the hundreds.

The Tasmanian Government has been providing help for flood-affected farmers to dispose of their dead livestock.

There is a disposal hotline (0418 583 373) to facilitate the removal of carcasses from their properties.

Alarm is generated in the residents of the district of Santa Lucia, in the province of Lampa (Puno region), the death of trout in the Lagunillas lake, which has lost about 70% of the production of small truchicultores that handle between 50,000 to 100,000 fingerlings.

The district mayor of Santa Lucia, Salvador Alejo Tunco, in dialogue with the Regional Rotary RPP News, said it appeared there was a weather event that has influenced the mortality of trout also have seen a kind of red tide, which has still generated more concern.

The most affected part is the Pajata sector, especially the bottom of the lake Lagunillas, where 90% of the trout have died. Other native fish also would be dying, says the mayor.

Given the volume of dead fish, the mayor believes that after damage assessment emergency should be declared in all the affected area, given that truchicultores are seriously harmed by this loss and work with bank loans.

For his part, José Hernán Mamani Ali, regional director of the production of Puno said the Marine Institute of Peru (IMARPE) and the National Agency for Fisheries Health - SANIPES, and took water samples and in five days already have evidence of the causes of the accident.

The official said that among the probable causes of this mortality has been shown that oxygen levels are below normal, also is speculation that might have a volcanic focus erosions that have issued some substances.

Ali Mamani confirmed a strange blackish color in the waters of Lagunillas, so you need to have as soon as possible the results of the samples carried out by technicians.

Dead Fish Wash Ashore At South Shore Park, Area Beaches

If you're heading to a Lake Michigan beach to cool off, you just may encounter a stinky and unsightly visitor -- dead alewives are littering some areas of the lakefront.

The smell isn't pleasant and they are an eyesore at the area parks. It's something that happens every year.

These fish come close to the shore to mate, but they die off when the temperature of the water suddenly rises.

"Alewives are an invasive species to Lake Michigan, getting into the Great Lakes via the Welland Canal," said Jennifer Serano with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

"Since they are a salt water fish, they have issues regulating their bodies to a fresh water environment. When near shore waters start to warm and they come into the near shore areas to spawn, many cannot stand up to those stressors and die."

It's posing a problem for people coming here to walk their dogs. One woman told me she had a hard time keeping her puppy from eating the little guys.

"We have not heard of large numbers of fish dying this year, so right now it would be

Kolkata: Hundreds of fish found dead at Rabindra Sarobar Lake

POOJA MEHTA | Thu, 16 Jun 2016-05:00pm, Kolkata, dna webdesk

It is not clear what led to incident.

Hundreds of fish were found dead under mysterious circumstances in the Rabindra Sarobar Lake in Kolkata on Thursday morning.

As morning walkers took a stroll around the lake, they spotted hundreds of dead fish floating on the surface of the water and informed the authorities. Workers from Kolkata Municipal Corporation then brought out the dead fish from the lake.

More than 30 whales were stranded on the coast on Indonesia's main island of Java and 10 of them have died, an official said Thursday.

A mass rescue operation managed to pull most of the stranded whales into the deep sea, said Wahid Noor Azis, head of the local Fishery and Maritime management.

Wahid said the whales began stranding themselves during high tide Wednesday on the coast of Pesisir village in Probolinggo district in the province of East Java.

Mass die-off at Clayoquot farms

The call came in at the end of a busy day last week: 'Cermaq is experiencing a mass die-off at two of their farms in Clayoquot Sound'. By early morning the next day we had assembled a volunteer boat driver and photographer, sourced a donated water taxi, and raised the funds to fuel the boat and hire a videographer complete with drone. We set off in anticipation.

The first farm we got to didn't seem to have any unusual activity, other than the whole Herbert Inlet was a weird murky turquoise. An employee boated over to photograph us, and a polite exchange followed. 'We're not sure what this colour is', he said. 'We've been seeing it for six weeks—could be Chryso' (shorthand for Chrysochromulina, a species of algae).

Activists celebrate "Israel Apartheid Week" by agitating against the Jewish state. Dore Gold, director general of Israel's Foreign Ministry, marked the occasion in March by visiting the government that replaced the apartheid regime in South Africa.

Here is a top diplomat from a country compared by its foes to the regime of P.W. Botha meeting in Pretoria with diplomats who helped bring that regime down. And yet many activists on both sides of this issue have been missing this point.

ISIS recruiters inside and outside of the U.S. are hunting young American teenagers – mostly non-Muslim girls between 13 and 15 – and trying to convince them to conduct terror attacks on the nation, warns a "hacktivist" group.

BinarySec, a group of self-described "hacktivists, activists, security analysts and outlaws" seeking to eradicate ISIS material from the Internet, says the young teens are requesting help as soon as they realize their lives are at risk.

WND reported in 2014 when ISIS terrorists recruited women from Western countries to fly to the Middle East, marry jihadists and bear their children in a "cash-for-babies" scheme.

Now, BinarySec tells PJ Media the recruiters are using photos of babies or kittens to lure their targets.

"The most disturbing thing, other than the usual gore videos, is the targeting of young teen girls."

Physical wellbeing has been the focus of most wearables to date. Products such as the Apple Watch, Microsoft Band, FitBit and Jawbone all track things like movement, heartbeat etc. At the same time some startups are appearing which try to track mental states. But these are usually head bands which make you like an updated 21st Century Hippie.

The new ZENTA wrist-wearable takes a different approach. Created by VINAYA, a London-based technology design house, the Zenta goes down this mental wellness path.

Vinaya previously came up with a jewelry piece called the Altrius which embedded notifications in a pendant or ring. They're taking this learning into the new product and recently launched the Zenta on Indiegogo, passing the $100,000 target by over $90,000.

Vinaya claims the Zenta is the first wearable to not only monitor your physical wellbeing, but also incorporate the added dimension of mental wellbeing.

Zenta monitors physical health, such as your heart rate, but also perspiration, respiration and temperature and cross-references this data against other data from your smartphone in order to Nordic folklore speaks of a massive creature that haunted the icy seas of the North Sea, where it attacked passing vessels with gigantic tentacles.

And conspiracy theorists claims to have spotted this mythical Kraken swimming off the coast of Deception Island near Antarctica.

Using Google Earth, this sea monster appears to be 120m from head to end, with 'the mid area of a giant squid'.

Pointing to dragging hiring and business investment recently, and to the risk that a pro-Brexit vote will send shock waves through global markets, Yellen signaled that the Fed has become less optimistic about US growth over the short term and will proceed with great caution on plans to raise interest rates.

She said in testimony to the Senate Banking Committee that US growth has picked up noticeably in the second quarter from the sluggish pace at the beginning

The Amount Of Stuff Being Bought, Sold And Shipped Around The U.S. Hits The Lowest Level In 6 Years

When less stuff is being bought, sold and shipped around the country with each passing month, how in the world can the U.S. economy be in "good shape"? Unlike official government statistics which are often based largely on projections, assumptions and numbers seemingly made up out of thin air, the Cass Freight Index is based on real transactions conducted by real shipping companies. And what the Cass Freight Index is telling us about the state of the U.S. economy in 2016 lines up perfectly with all of the other statistics that are clearly indicating that we have now shifted into recession mode.

The researcher hired by Toyota Motor Corp. to spearhead its robotics and artificial intelligence efforts says the automaker's production principles can be applied to build affordable helper robots for rapidly aging societies.

Robot makers are struggling with the same scale challenges that the auto industry overcame with the "miracle" that occurred when Henry Ford developed the assembly line, according to Gill Pratt, the chief executive officer of Toyota Research Institute. Toyota's vaunted production system later showed how to make cars both more cheaply and reliably, despite mistake-prone humans' role in manufacturing, he said.

"My thought is, if the Toyota production system can be applied to cars,

California state lawmakers are poised to advance legislation they say will promote greater equity at the state's colleges and universities, but religious freedom advocates say it's just another attempt to advance the LGBT agenda by removing the ability of schools to determine their own criteria for selecting students and personnel and establishing codes of conduct.

The legislation is known as SB 1146, which amends the California Equity in Higher Education Act, or EHEA. As it currently stands, the statute forbids discrimination based on religion, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression. But it also contains a significant exemption for religious colleges and universities. SB 1146 would change that.

Hollywood may never be the same again now that the Church of Scientology has opened its new movie studios, which they claim has bigger facilities than Paramount.

Leader David Miscavige announced to the world that this will be an 'uncorrupted communications line to the billions', as Scientology promise: 'virtually every person on Earth'.

The colossal studio complex on Sunset Boulevard in Los Angeles was finally unveiled after five years of renovations at a cost of at least $50 May 28.

The new studio will also be used to make polished propaganda movies to recruit more followers while it's most famous recruit, Tom Cruise, is his Hollywood blockbusters at the glittering base, which has bigger studios and sound stages than Paramount, the church claims.

The protected area will include Christopher Park across from the Stonewall Inn in Manhattan's Greenwich Village, which has long served as a landmark for the LGBT community. The inn, a popular gay bar, continues to serve as a gathering place for demonstrations. The Stonewall riots in 1969 marked a major turning point in the fight for gay rights. The monument commemorates the protests and riots on June 28, 1969, when the New York Police Department raided the Stonewall Inn seeking to crack down on a law prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages to homosexuals. In a potentially landmark decision, an Austrian regional court is set to rule on whether citizens identifying themselves as neither female nor male can be identified as intersex in their official documents.

The court proceedings follow a complaint filed by Alex Jurgen, an Austrian who demanded that local authorities in the town of Steyr in the region of Upper Austria change his gender to 'X' or 'Inter' in the passport and on the birth certificate.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jaime King believes lessons about tolerance should start young.

The actress and mother of two recently launched a gender-neutral children's clothing line which she hopes will inspire acceptance and self-expression among kids and adults alike.

"It's interesting how we've created these social norms that are incredibly stifling for our children," said King of traditional kids' clothing. "Our children should be allowed to express themselves however they want."

King teamed with Singapore-based, Swedish designer Kristin

Washington Schools To Teach 5-Y-O Students 'Many Ways To Express Gender'

21 JUNE, 2016

A social conservative advocacy group is warning that the Washington state public school system plans to begin teaching elementary school students the basic concepts of gender identity and gender expression. Citing an article published by The Daily Caller, the Family Policy Institute of Washington is stressing to parents that come the 2017-2018 school year,

فلهذا اطلب أن نصلي ونستعد ونعد زيت لمصاييحنا لاستقبال العريس بالصلاة والصوم وخدمة

أبناء الله وتنقية القلب والاستعداد بلبس العرس.

رسالة بولس الرسول الي أهل رومية 13

13: 11 هذا وأنكم عارفون الوقت انها الان ساعة لنستيقظ من النوم فان خلاصنا الان أقرب مما كان حين امنا

13: 12 قد تناهى الليل وتقارب النهار فلنخلع اعمال الظلمة ونلبس اسلحة النور

13: 13 لنسلك بلياقة كما في النهار لا بالبطر والسكر لا بالمضاجع والعهر لا بالخصام والحسد

13: 14 بل البسوا الرب يسوع المسيح ولا تصنعوا تدبيرا للجسد لأجل الشهوات

احترس ان لم تتمسك بالمسيح من الان قد لا تستطيع في المستقبل القريب بسبب الظلام.

وكما قلت هو اخبرنا لكي لا نخاف

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

بطرس الأولى 3: 14

وَلَكِنْ وَإِنْ تَأَلَّمْتُمْ مِنْ أَجْلِ الْبِرِّ، فَطُوبَاكُمْ. وَأَمَّا خَوْفُهُمْ فَلَا تَخَافُوهُ وَلَا تَضْطَرُّوْا،

بل نؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثًا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَأَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

افرحوا لان عريسنا قد اقترب مجيؤه. وانتبهوا الشيطان يريد أن نفقد سلامنا ولا ننال أكاليل.

وأيضا استعدوا فقد تسلموا وديعتكم في أي وقت فهناك 150 ألف شخص يموتوا في اليوم الواحد

انت لا تعرف متى ستكون منهم

المسيح اقترب فاصنعوا ثمار تليق بالتوبة واستعدوا لاستقبال العريس.

والمجد لله دائما
