اكرر اننا لا نحدد مواعيد بل فقط نشجع بعضنا بعضا بقرب مجيء المسيح

وأیضا لا اقصد ان اخيف أحد بل من يخاف هو لا يثق في مواعيد الرب

هدفي فقط أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل

ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة

وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من

الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا

لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة

لان وقتها جميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذاري انه لن يكون هناك

زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقرب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان
سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقرب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات ولكنه يأتي بسرعة
بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه
ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَأَن تُوْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَاَرْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.».

In the 1960s, scientists coined the term 'quasi-biennial oscillation' to describe a predictable aspect of the Earth's wind pattern which repeats itself over a roughly two-year period. Recently, this pattern changed unexpectedly, something that has not been seen since measurements of the phenomenon were first recorded more than half a century ago.

It was a close shave - and luckily we survived.

A 32ft (10 metre) long asteroid passed by at a distance of one tenth of the distance between Earth and the moon earlier .

This close encounter will be followed by a much larger asteroid, 200ft (61 metres) long, that is set to pass us by in just a few days.

18,000 MPH Asteroid Almost Causes Mass Extinction And Nobody Saw It Coming

10 SEPTEMBER, 2016

For the second time in a month, a giant asteroid just missed colliding with Earth and space science programs around the world were completely oblivious to the threat raising concern that our ability to detect such a cataclysmic threat is sorely lacking. This week NASA launched a mission to disable a giant flying meteor barreling towards the earth that scientists

USGS urges Kansans to prepare for earthquakes like Californians

By Rachel Skyrta | Posted: Thu 6:45 PM, Sep 08, 2016

WICHITA, Kan. (KWCH) Oklahoma's largest earthquake ever still has people talking. Saturday's 5.8 magnitude earthquake caused only minor damage in Kansas, but officials with the US Geological Survey say it's time for people in the region to start preparing for earthquakes like Californians.

Items on your wall or shelves can be hazardous in an earthquake, but there are ways you can protect yourself and your belongings.

"It scared me this time," said Errica Weaver.

The morning jolt felt across the region didn't skip Weaver's home.

"I ran down the hallway and woke my husband up and I was like 'we're having another earthquake'," said Weaver.

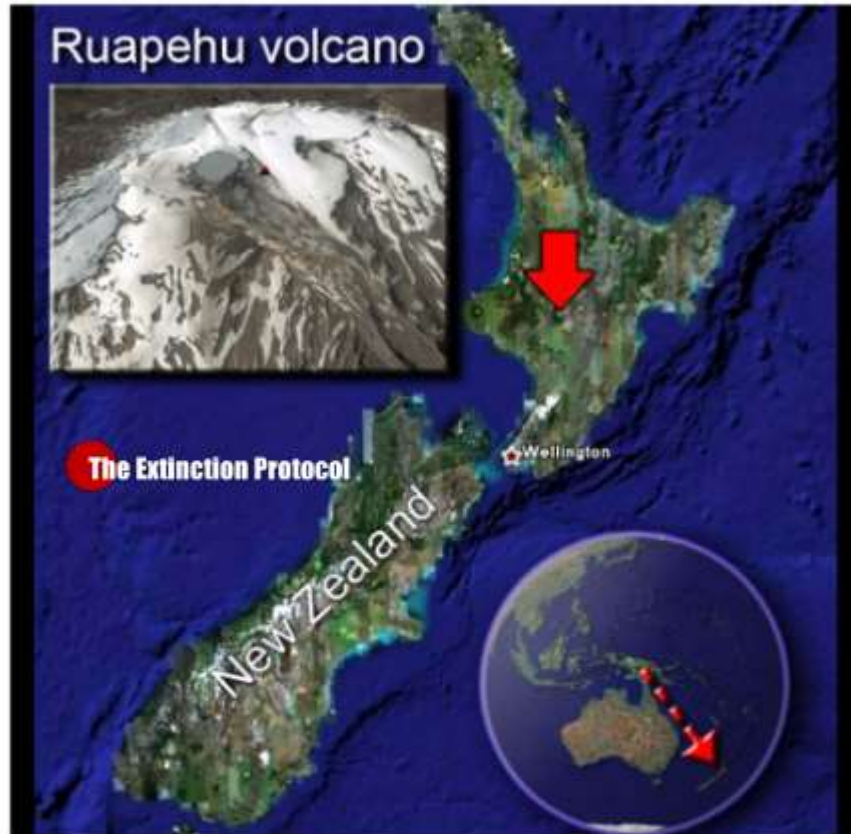

Weaver says the earthquake shook pictures off her wall, and caused drawers to slide out of her bedroom dresser.

Ruapehu volcano (New Zealand): lake temperature starts to rise again

Posted on September 10, 2016

September 2016 – NEW ZEALAND – After reaching record-low temperatures in August, the volcano's closely-monitored crater lake has started to heat up very quickly since 2 September, Geonet reported. Ruapehu's Crater Lake displays temperatures that follow periodic cooling and heating cycles that range between about 15 and 40 °C. In mid August, a record-low of 12 °C was measured, but New Zealand scientists have detected a rapid increase in temperature over the past days, along with increased seismic activity inside the volcano.

The highest-ever temperature of the lake, since it had reformed in 1999-2000 was 46°C on 11 May 2016. This peak was also accompanied by volcanic tremor and an increase in gas emissions. GNS Science back then raised the alert level to Level 2, but lowered it back to Level 1 in early July, when degassing and seismic activity became less. The heating and cooling cycles of Ruapehu's crater lake are not completely understood, but caused by a mix of volcano and geothermal processes; a heating period usually indicates a period of

Lava lake visible atop Hawaii's Kilauea volcano

September 12, 2016 by The Associated Press

The U.S. Geological Survey says a lake of lava has come into view atop Hawaii's Kilauea volcano, and a burst of seismic activity has shaken the summit in recent days.

Renogy Cabin Kit

The Cabin Kit is perfect for installation on an off-grid cabin or shed

It's the first time the lava lake has been visible since May 2015. It deflated Saturday, but it was expected to inflate again Sunday.

At least one earthquake was felt along with several smaller events, according to the Geological Survey.

Kilauea is one of the world's most active volcanoes. A current lava flow into the Pacific Ocean has drawn thousands of visitors from around the world to Hawaii Volcanoes National Park.

Ripples of shock greet news of fish kill at Stoney Lake

Thousands of dead fish have washed up along the shores of Stoney Lake. The cause is likely blue-green algae, according to fisheries biologist and local resident Ray Makowecki. Photo submitted by Ray Makowecki

News of a major fish kill that occurred at Stoney Lake this past week came as a sad shock to residents and anglers alike.

Ray Makowecki, a fisheries biologist and local resident, confirmed that thousands of fish – including large numbers of yellow perch of all age classes, including perch in the 30 cm size, as well as pike and burbot – were found on the shore and on the lakebed and floating in the lake last week.

He said he received a call from a resident, alerting him to the fish kill, and came to the lake to confirm the news with his own eyes.

"Jeepers, we just couldn't believe it. A lot of people I talk to, they feel like they lost a brother," said Makowecki, who is also the Alberta Fish and Game Association Zone 5 Fisheries Director.

PASS CHRISTIAN, MS (WLOX) - Thousands of dead fish made quite a smelly mess at the Pass Christian Harbor.

WLOX News received complaints from residents who were disgusted by the fish kill. Some of the dead fish may have washed away, but we found many still floating along the southwest corner of the new harbor.

The vast majority of the fish are pogies or menhaden; small oily fish which are commercially harvested for a number of products. No word yet on what caused the fish kill, or if the pogies came from a broken net on a commercial boat.

Some of the dead fish may have washed away, but we found many still floating along the southwest corner of the new harbor. (Photo source: WLOX)

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources did investigate the fish kill. According to the DMR, it appears to be a low oxygen event that caused the fish to die. It seems the fish kill was limited to that area in and around the harbor since there were no other reports of dead fish elsewhere.

WATCH | America's Top 10 Most Endangered Rivers

SHARE

Startled residents of a Russian city inside the Arctic Circle have been posting photos of a local river that has mysteriously turned blood red.

Photos published on Russian social media appear to show the Daldykan River near the city of Norilsk flowing vivid burgundy. Russian authorities have yet to establish a reason for the river's unusual appearance, but local people quickly linked it to a giant metals plant upstream. Russia's Environment Ministry said it was investigating a plant leak as the likely cause.

Norilsk is known as one of the most polluted cities on earth, built around factories mostly belonging to the vast metals company Norilsk Nickel. Some Norilsk residents wrote in a local social media group that they believed the river's biblical shade is linked to runoff from a nearby smelting plant.

Some suggested the color was being produced by wastewater mixed with mineral ore leaking into the river from the Hope Metals Plant.

WHY ARE WATERS AROUND THE WORLD TURNING BLOOD RED? PEOPLE FEAR IT IS A SIGN OF THE END TIMES

TARA WEST

Bodies of water around the globe are reportedly turning blood red which has sparked a number of people to fear that the End Times are near. From seas to rivers, numerous bodies of water seemingly turn to blood overnight. With amazing pictures surfacing online of the incidents, a number of different groups are pointing to a biblical prophecy in Revelation 16:4, which describes an angel pouring a vial over earthly waters that cause them to turn to blood as proof that the apocalypse is near. However, is there another explanation besides impending apocalypse that explains the strange phenomena?

Recently, a number of posts have been showing up in social media that indicate that the End Times are near thanks to photos of blood red seas across the globe. The Washington Post reported on one such incident in China that left the river in the city of Wenzhou a startling shade of red. Residents say

Super-Gonorrhoea Outbreak Spiraling Out Of Control...

10 SEPTEMBER, 2016

An outbreak of super-gonorrhoea in the UK is out of control and efforts to stop it have been unsuccessful, health officials have warned. It is feared the sexually transmitted disease may be becoming increasingly resistant to treatment, prompting concerns further rapid spread could occur. In April, it emerged an outbreak of so-called 'super-gonorrhoea' had occurred in Leeds, with cases also noted in the West Midlands, London and southern-England.

Glyphosate, the active ingredient in Monsanto's flagship herbicide Roundup and hundreds of other herbicides, has been found in vaccines. Moms Across America received preliminary screening results from Microbe Inotech Laboratories Inc. of St. Louis, Missouri, which showed:

- MMR II (Merk) vaccine had 2.671 parts per billion (ppb) of glyphosate
- DTap Adacel (Sanofi Pasteur) vaccine had 0.123 ppb of glyphosate
- Influenza Fluvirin (Novartis) 0.331 ppb of glyphosate
- HepB Energix-B (Glaxo Smith Kline) 0.325 ppb of glyphosate
- Pneumococcal Vax Polyvalent Pneumovax 23 (Merk) had 0.107 ppb of glyphosate

The MMR II vaccine had levels up to 25 times higher than the other vaccines. Following our test, additional independent tests have confirmed these findings at or above the same levels. The tests were conducted using the ELISA method.

North Korea ready for another nuclear test any time: South Korea

North Korea is ready to conduct an additional nuclear test at any time, South Korea's Defence Ministry said on Monday, three days after Pyongyang's fifth test drew widespread condemnation.

North Korea set off its most powerful nuclear blast to date on Friday, saying it had mastered the ability to mount a warhead on a ballistic missile and ratcheting up a threat that its rivals and the United Nations have been powerless to contain.

"Assessment by South Korean and U.S. intelligence is that the North is always ready for an additional nuclear test in the Punggye-ri area," the site of all five nuclear explosions, South Korean Defence Ministry spokesman Moon Sang-gyun told a news briefing.

"North Korea has a tunnel where it can conduct an additional nuclear test," Moon said.

On Monday, Siegfried Hecker, a former director of the Los Alamos National Laboratory in the United States and a leading expert on North Korea's nuclear program, said Pyongyang's claims that it had standardized a nuclear warhead for mounting on ballistic missiles and could produce as many bombs as it wanted had to be taken seriously.

North Korea confirmed its fifth nuclear test explosion early Friday, its largest yet. The provocation brought instant condemnation from the country's neighbors and a call from President Obama for "serious consequences."

Pyongyang also said it has made strides that could bring it closer to mounting a warhead on one of its ballistic missiles and launching a long-distance nuclear strike.

"We successfully conducted a nuclear explosion test to determine the power of [the] nuclear warhead," a female anchor announced on North Korea's state television. "We will continue to strengthen our nuclear capabilities to protect our sovereignty. We have now standardized and minimized nuclear warheads ... We can now produce small nuclear warheads any time we desire."

Israel on Friday joined the chorus of international condemnation of North Korea's nuclear test earlier in the day.

"Israel condemns the nuclear test by North Korea," the Foreign Ministry said in a statement. The statement called the atomic tests "contrary to international norms and UN Security Council decisions," and urged "continued action by the international community against proliferation" by Pyongyang.

"We will be working together very closely in the Security Council and beyond to come up the strongest possible measure against North Korea's latest action," Kim told reporters in Tokyo after meeting his Japanese counterpart Kenji Kanasugi.

Iran vessel 'harasses,' sails close to U.S. Navy ship in Gulf: U.S. officials

9/5/2016 September 05, 2016

By Idrees Ali

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - A U.S. Navy coastal patrol ship changed course after a fast-attack craft from Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps came within 100 yards (91 meters) of it in the central Gulf on Sunday, U.S. Defense Department officials said on Tuesday.

It was at least the fourth such incident in less than a month. U.S. officials are concerned that these actions by Iran could lead to mistakes.

Years of mutual animosity eased when Washington lifted sanctions on Tehran in January after a deal to curb Iran's nuclear ambitions. But serious differences still remain over Iran's ballistic missile program, and over conflicts in Syria and Iraq.

Pentagon spokesman Captain Jeff Davis said the Iranian vessel sailed directly in front of the USS Firebolt, forcing the 174-foot (53-metre) U.S. ship to change course.

The incident began when seven Iranian ships "harassed" the Firebolt, Davis said.

A U.S. Defense official, speaking on the condition of anonymity, said the interaction was "unsafe and unprofessional due to lack of communications and the close-range harassing maneuvering," adding that uncovered and manned weapons were seen on the Iranian vessel.

The U.S. ship tried to communicate with the Iranian ship by radio three times but received no response.

The U.S. official said there have been 31 similar interactions with Iranian ships this year, almost double the amount from the same period last year.

BERLIN (Reuters) - Germany's interior minister has warned that the country is home to more than 500 Islamic militants who could be capable of carrying out assaults on their own or as members of "hit teams."

Speaking in an interview with Bild newspaper, Thomas de Maiziere said there were currently at least 520 "potential attackers" in the country, which has been on edge since two Islamic State-inspired attacks in July.

He said another 360 "relevant" people were known to police because of their close proximity to the potential attackers.

Many Germans fear that fighters belonging to the Islamic State jihadist group could have slipped into Germany with the roughly one million of refugees from Syria, North Africa and Asia who arrived last year.

Philippines' Duterte calls Obama 'son of a whore'

Philippine President Rodrigo Duterte called Barack Obama a "son of a whore" on Monday as he vowed not to be lectured by the US leader on human rights when they meet in Laos.

The acid-tongued Duterte bristled at warnings he would face questioning by the US president over a war against drugs in the Philippines that has claimed more than 2,400 lives in just over two months.

"You must be respectful. Do not just throw away questions and statements. Son of a whore, I will curse you in that forum," Duterte told a news conference shortly before flying to Laos to attend a summit.

MANILA (Reuters) - President Rodrigo Duterte on Monday called for the withdrawal of U.S. special forces troops from a group of islands in the southern Philippines, saying their presence could complicate offensives against Islamist militants notorious for beheading Westerners.

Duterte, who was in the spotlight last week over a televised tirade against the United States and President Barack Obama, said the Americans still in Mindanao were high-value targets for the Islamic State-linked Abu Sayyaf militants as counter-insurgency operations intensify.

"They have to go," Duterte said in a speech during an oath-taking ceremony for new officials. "I do not want a rift with America. But they have to go."

Would it be right to do?

What if the gene-editing process known as "gene drives" could modify a species of mice on an island so that only male offspring are produced, effectively setting in motion an irreversible extinction and protecting a species of bird?

What if a tool already existed, dubbed the CRISPR-CAS9, that would simply give "technicians the ability to intervene in evolution, to engineer the fate of an entire species, to dramatically modify ecosystems, and to unleash large-scale environmental changes?"

These are the questions being debated now at the International Union for the Conservation of Nature conference in Hawaii.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has been arguing for years that small particulates such as diesel engine emissions and the smokestack vapor from coal-fired power plants are killing Americans.

The premise is behind Barack Obama's stated intent to shut down coal operations and put coal miners out of work, a goal toward which he's made great strides as president.

But now a team of scientists is calling for the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences to punish "scientific misconduct" by the EPA in its research of the issue.

Because it either was misconduct or the EPA is pushing a campaign based on a lie, they contend.

TOPICS: ECONOMY

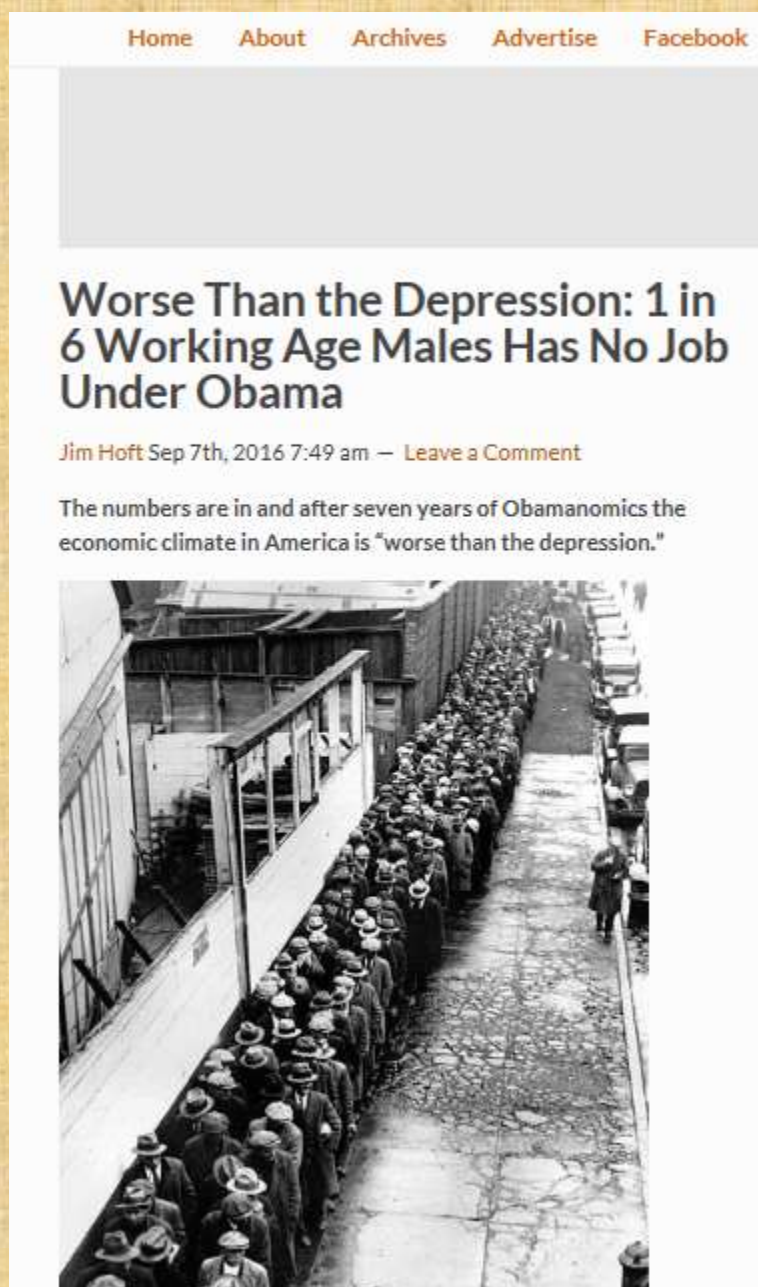

6 SEPTEMBER, 2016

(By Michael Snyder) Do you remember the subprime mortgage meltdown from the last financial crisis? Well, this time around we are facing a subprime auto loan meltdown. In recent years, auto lenders have become more and more aggressive, and they have been increasingly willing to lend money to people that should not be borrowing money to buy a new vehicle under any circumstances. Just like with subprime mortgages, this strategy seemed to pay off at first, but now economic reality is beginning to be felt in a major way.

Major Problems Announced At One Of The Largest Too Big To Fail Banks In The United States

By Michael Snyder, on September 8th, 2016

Do you remember when our politicians promised to do something about the "too big to fail" banks? Well, they didn't, and now the chickens are coming home to roost. On Thursday, it was announced that one of those "too big to fail" banks, Wells Fargo, has been slapped with 185 million dollars in penalties. It turns out that for years their employees had been opening millions of bank and credit card accounts for customers without even telling them. The goal was to meet sales goals, and customers were hit by surprise fees that they never intended to pay. Some employees actually created false email addresses and false PIN numbers to sign customers up for accounts. It was fraud on a scale that is hard to imagine, and now Wells Fargo finds itself embroiled in a major crisis.

There are six banks in America that basically dwarf all of the other banks – JPMorgan Chase, Citibank, Bank of America, Wells Fargo, Morgan Stanley and Goldman Sachs. If a single one of those banks were to fail, it would be a catastrophe of unprecedented proportions for our financial system. So we need these banks to be healthy and running well. That is why what we just learned about Wells Fargo is so

Christians in Egypt reaching 'breaking point' after experiencing so much persecution

Posted on September 8, 2016 by Staff in Africa, Christian, News // 0 Comments

(Christian Today) – In the city of Minya on the banks of the Nile River in Egypt, some 40 percent of the population are followers of Christianity. Making up almost half of the population in the city, however, did not stop the persecution of Christians in this city.

According to a report by The New York Times, Christians continue to suffer from violence and humiliation in Muslim-dominated Egypt, where only 10 percent of the population believe in the teachings of Jesus Christ.

For Christians living in Egypt, there is a constant threat that their houses and other properties will be burned down, and that they will be mugged while walking on the streets. Even churches are not being spared as they are desecrated, with hate graffiti written on their walls. READ MORE

David Green, founder and CEO of Hobby Lobby, wrote Friday that American is one judge away from losing its religious freedom. (Reuters photo)

David Green, founder and CEO of Hobby Lobby knows a thing or two about the threats facing Americans' freedom of religion.

In a recent op-ed written for The Tennessean, he wrote about his business' Supreme Court victory over the ObamaCare mandate that employer-provided health insurance plans must provide coverage for potentially life-terminating contraceptive drugs. Unlike the 16 contraceptives the Hobby Lobby plan covered, the government mandated four more that had the potential to take effect after conception, when Green said his family believes life begins.

Hobby Lobby faced $1.3 million in fine each day they did not comply with the mandate.

"Fortunately, the Supreme Court issued a 5-4 ruling in favor of Hobby Lobby in 2014, but it's frightening to think that we—and all Americans—were just one judge away from losing our religious freedom," he wrote. "Make no mistake, the vacancy left by Justice Scalia and the subsequent appointment to fill his seat makes this presidential election one of the most significant in modern times."

With that frame of reference, Green compared and contrasted the two principal presidential candidates, Democratic presidential nominee Hillary Clinton and her Republican counterpart, Donald Trump.

Researcher Kylie Baldwin, who asked a group of women why they froze their eggs, said: 'I think they were looking for a hands-on father.

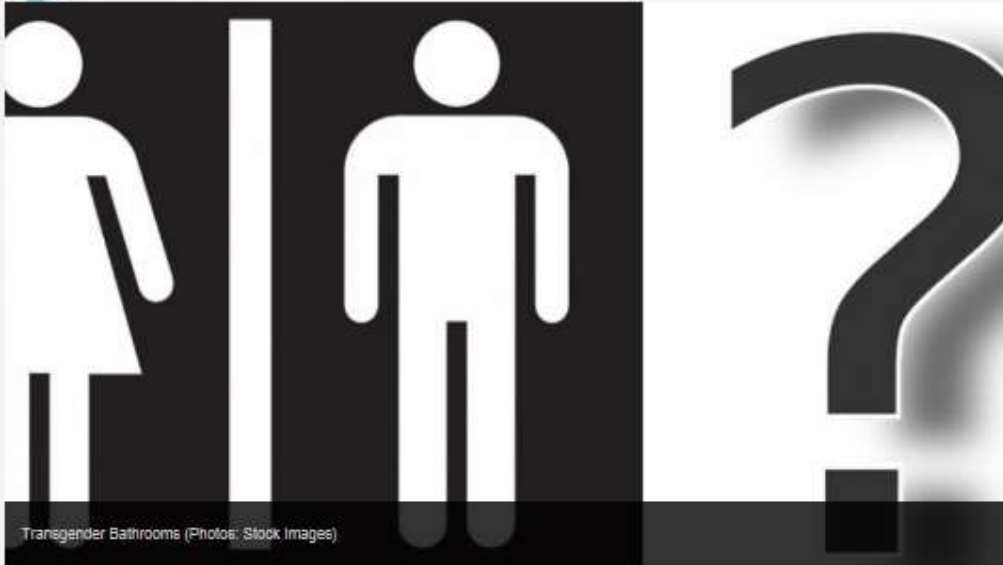

'And it was the absence of this particular type of potential father, not just the absence of any partner, that led them to freeze the eggs.
