اكرر هدفي فقط من هذه الخدمة أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد أي حياة اليقظة الروحية. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذاري انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات او اخيف البعض

ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي

المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما

انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

انجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَأَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

INTERSTELLAR ASTEROID "LIKE NOTHING SEEN BEFORE": In Oct. 2017, the Pan-STARRS 1 telescope in Hawai'i picked up a faint point of light moving across the sky. At first it appeared to be an ordinary asteroid—but astronomers quickly realized it was something entirely different. The hurtling object, since named "'Oumuamua," came from interstellar space. At the time of its discovery, 'Oumuamua had just swung around the sun. Telescopes around the world swiveled to observe it before it could leave the Solar System. Findings from those rapid observations were published in the Nov. 20th issue of Nature, and they reveal a very strange object indeed:

According to a European Southern Observatory (ESO) press release, 'Oumuamua is "like nothing seen before." It is red, made of dense rock or metal, and is shaped roughly like a giant cigar at least 400 meters long.

These are the findings of a team of astronomers led by Karen Meech (Institute for Astronomy, Hawai'i, USA) who combined images from the ESO's Very Large Telescope in Chile with other large telescopes. 'Oumuamua varies dramatically in brightness by a factor of ten as it spins on its axis every 7.3 hours. "This unusually large variation in brightness means that the object is highly elongated: about ten times as long as it is wide, with a complex, convoluted shape," says Meech.

LAUNCH A TORPEDO AT THE ENEMY SHIP

What is causing the mysterious 'booms' heard in 64 locations around the world this year?

- Most recently, a 'boom' was heard across much of the north of Alabama.
- Suggested causes include supersonic aircrafts, a ground explosion, or a bolide
- Other booms have occurred in Cairns on October 10 and Abergavenny on May 11
- Incidents of these mystery booms are becoming more frequent

Residents in Alabama were left baffled last week when a loud boom resounded across much of the state.

The boom, nicknamed 'Bama Boom', has left experts stumped, with suggested causes ranging from supersonic aircrafts to meteors exploding in the atmosphere.

This isn't the first time that the mysterious sound has been heard, and incidents are becoming more frequent according to some reports.

This year alone, similar noises have been reported 64 times this year, in locations including Michigan, Lapland, St Ives, Swansea and Yorkshire.

انفجار شمسي مغناطيسي غير معتاد يصل لطول 280.000 كم

UNUSUAL MAGNETIC FILAMENT: NASA's Solar Dynamics Observatory is monitoring an unusual filament of magnetism on the sun. This image, taken on Nov. 22nd, shows where magnetic forces are holding a massive curl of dense plasma just above the stellar surface.

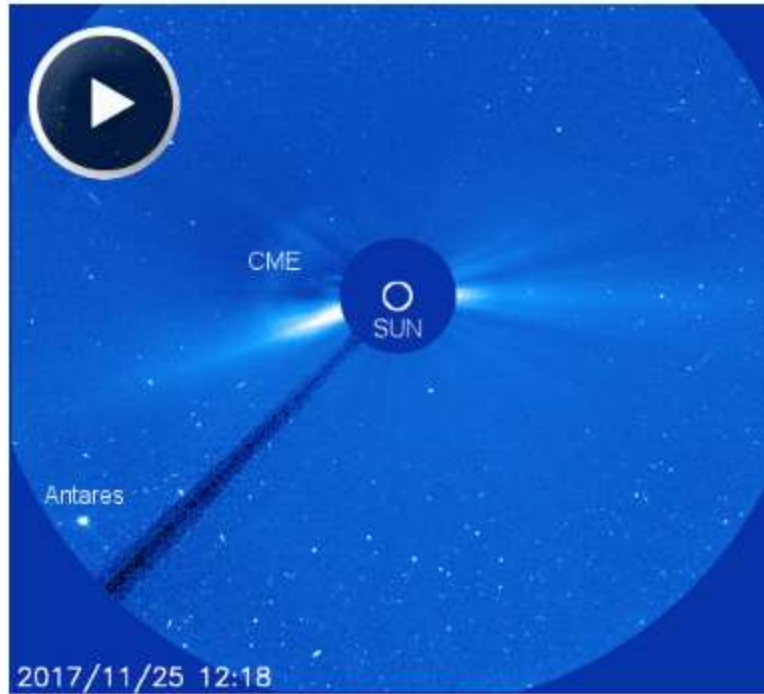

Magnetic filaments on the sun are not uncommon. Usually they are linear, stretching in only one direction. This one, however, curls back on itself, circumscribing a region more than 280,000 km in diameter. The unusual architecture of the region may undermine its stability. Magnetic fields that criss-cross, like mismatching ends of an incomplete circle, can explode--a process called "magnetic reconnection." Any eruptions this week would likely be Earth-directed.

The scale of this filament makes it an easy target for backyard solar telescopes. Monitoring is encouraged.

GLANCING BLOW CME: On Nov. 25th, a filament of magnetism in the sun's northern hemisphere became unstable and exploded. The blast hurled a coronal mass ejection (CME) into space, shown here in a coronagraph movie captured by the Solar and Heliospheric Observatory:

The expanding cloud is not heading directly for Earth. However, NOAA analysts have modeled its trajectory and they say that the CME could deliver a glancing blow to Earth's magnetic field on Nov. 29th. If so, it might add energy to polar geomagnetic storms already in progress due to the earlier arrival of a solar wind stream. Stay tuned for improved forecasts as the CME approaches. Bright fireball streaks through the night sky over Japan

A bright fireball streaked through the night sky over Japan around 12:30 UTC (21:30 JST) on November 21, 2017. The object was visible for a few seconds before it disintegrated in a bright flash.

The event was witnessed by people from both east and west coast of Japan. The Saitama Prefectural Police said they received several phone calls from people claiming to see a 'blue light in the sky' in places such as the city of Kawagoe, north of Tokyo in Saitama Prefecture.

"Such brightness could be observed only a handful of times in any given year," said Yasuo Shiba, an executive of Nippon Meteor Society. "It lit up for about three seconds. It is almost certainly a fireball," said Shiba, who recorded the night show from Akashi, Hyogo Prefecture. He added that the object was likely part of the Taurids, an annual meteor shower that is observed from October through November.

A late spring cold snap ripped through western and central Victoria this month, causing extensive agricultural damage. Older farmers in the region say it was 'the worst frost since 1977!'

Agriculture Victoria's southwest grains regional manager Rob O'Shannessy estimated farmer losses from the frosts at A$100 - 180 million (US$76 - 137 million). This included frost damage this month, as well as earlier, smaller frosts in the North East and northern Wimmera.

However, the figure is expected to climb once losses for Gramplains and Pyrenees wine grapes and Swan Hill stonefruit are factored in.

O'Shannessy said the worst-affected area was a region bordered by Tatyoon, Lake Bolac, Skipton, St Arnaud, Kaniva, Warracknabeal, and Stawell.

The US state sits on top of the potentially catastrophic fault, a chasm between two massive plates of the Earth's crust that extends hundreds of miles across the country.

Recently, there have been signs the fault is building pressure beneath the surface and could rupture.

In the last week, a three mile stretch of the San Andreas Fault around Monterey County, just south of San Jose, has been hit

A swarm of 134 tremors in California and a recent geological study that confirmed a year of increased seismic activity have led to speculations that the earthquakes are a portal for a God-sent destructive force to come into the world before the Messiah, striking out indiscriminately at both good and evil.

Last Monday, a 3.4 magnitude earthquake rocked central California. Though considered a minor event, the shaking still has not stopped and instability in that three-mile section of the volatile San Andreas Fault generated an additional 133 tremors in the last seven days. All but 17 of these tremors went undetected by the general public, registering at less than 2.5 on the Richter scale. This swarm of quakes

Why?

The signal that causes the alarm from a historical pattern, they say, is the slowing of the Earth's rotation.

RIGA, Nov. 15 (Xinhua) -- Environmental experts are investigating the death of several tons of fish that have been washed onto a beach in Latvia's southwestern seaside city of Liepaja this week, local media reported on Wednesday.

About three tons of fish washed ashore on a 1.3 km long stretch of the Liepaja beach, authorities said.

Andris Junkurs, head of resource control at the Latvian State Environmental Service, said that although initially it was thought that the fish had been dumped into the Baltic Sea by some fishermen, this hypothesis had to be ruled out eventually.

The environmental authority's fish control department analyzed satellite images in an attempt to detect the fishing boat that might have dumped an unwanted catch of round goby at sea.

About 50 employees of Essentia Health, an upper-Midwest hospital chain, didn't go to work Wednesday.

But it wasn't an early start to the Thanksgiving holiday for them. They were fired for refusing to get flu shots.

It's part of a growing trend for hospitals to require flu shots for workers. Public health experts say it shouldn't be surprising.

Women are having fewer children than ever before and more are staying childless, new data reveals today.

Women who turned 45 in 2016 had an average of 1.90 children, down from 2.21 for their mothers' generation, who turned 45 in 1944.

The same generation also had fewer children by their 30th birthday, suggesting women are having children later in life. Women who turned 45 last year had 1.08 children by 30 compared to 1.8 in their mother's generation.

In total, 16 per cent of women who turned 45 last year had no children at all, compared with 11 per cent of women in their mother's generation.

The ONS said the figures, collected from birth registration data going back to the 1930s, defined 45 as the age by which most women had stopped having children.

Opinions expressed by Forbes Contributors are their own.

Companies today are strategizing about future investments and technologies such as artificial intelligence, the internet of things, or growth around new business models. While many of these trends will make for solid investments for the next 5-10 years, fewer companies are considering the revolutionary convergence of disparate trends pulled from technology, behavioral and societal changes, and medical advances to understand how they will converge to transform society. This transformation will be messy, complex, and sometimes scary, but signals already point to a future of humanity that will blur our identities into “transhumanism.”

Girl Scouts warn parents about forcing kids the holidays

ABC News , WHAS 4:09 PM, EST November 20, 2017

(ABC News) – Girl Scouts of the USA issued a warning to parents this holiday season, asking them to think twice before forcing their daughters to hug relatives at gatherings.

“Think of it this way, telling your child that she owes someone a hug either just because she hasn’t seen this person in a while or because they gave her a gift can set the stage for her questioning whether she ‘owes’ another person any type of physical affection when they have bought her dinner or done something else seemingly nice for her later in life,” reads the post on the Girl Scouts’ website.

The organization’s message to parents comes as allegations of sexual misconduct by men ring out from every industry, including Hollywood, politics and the media.

One in nine girls under the age of 18 experiences sexual abuse or assault at the hands of an adult, according to data shared by the Rape, Abuse and Incest National Network (RAINN), an anti-sexual assault organization.

Past research also suggests that nearly one in three episodes of sexual abuse of a child is perpetrated by a family member.

'The Currency Of The Apocalypse'? Doomsday Preppers Flock To Bitcoin As It Surges Past $8000

By Michael Snyder, on November 20th, 2017

Once upon a time preppers would hoard gold and silver in anticipation of the meltdown of society, but now Bitcoin is becoming the alternative currency of choice for many in the prepping community. On Monday, Bitcoin hit an all-time record high as it surged past $8,200, and it has now gone up nearly 50 percent in just the last eight days. As I have admitted previously, one of my great regrets is not investing in Bitcoin when it first started, because we have never seen a meteoric rise quite like this. Bitcoin hit the $5,000 mark for the very first time just over a month ago, it is up more than 700 percent so far this year, and it is up almost 40,000 percent over the past five years. At this point Bitcoin has a market cap of over 130 billion dollars, and many believe that this is just the beginning.

At one time many preppers were quite skeptical of cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin, but now that is starting to change in a major way. The following comes from a Bloomberg article entitled "These Doomsday Preppers Are Starting to Switch From Gold to Bitcoin"...

The world's most valuable digital currency has smashed another all-time high. Bitcoin is trading above $9,700 on Monday on growing signs of mainstream adoption.

The latest surge has been attributed to increased investor interest around the US Thanksgiving holiday and Black Friday shopping. "The move appears to be retail driven," said Brian Kelly, CEO of BKCM, which runs a digital assets strategy.

The first decentralized peer-to-peer payment system, bitcoin, has broken through the $10,000 mark on South Korea's Bithumb, one of world's biggest exchanges for cryptocurrencies. The price of bitcoin this year has jumped more than 10-fold.

The digital currency is still unrecognized or regarded as an asset by most central banks. It started the year at below $1,000.

Bank Of America Analyst: A 'Flash Crash' In Early 2018 'Seems Quite Likely'

By Michael Snyder, on November 20th, 2017

Is the stock market bubble about to burst? I know that I have been touching on this theme over and over and over again in recent weeks, but I can't help it. Red flags are popping up all over the place, and the last time so many respected experts were warning about an imminent stock market crash was just before the last major financial crisis. Of course nobody can guarantee that global central banks won't find a way to prolong this bubble just a little bit longer, but at this point they are all removing the artificial support from the markets in coordinated fashion. Without that artificial support, it is inevitable that financial markets will experience a correction, and the only real question is what the exact timing will be.

For example, Bank of America's Michael Hartnett originally thought that the coming correction would come a bit sooner, but now he is warning of a "flash crash" during the first half of 2018...

The Norman High School football team in Oklahoma prays before the start of their game on Nov. 3, 2017.

A school district in Oklahoma is investigating a high school football coach after the nation's largest secular legal organization voiced concern that the coach was seen praying with his student athletes before a Nov. 3 game.

Administrators at Norman Public Schools are looking into a complaint issued by the Wisconsin-based Freedom From Religion Foundation, which advocates for a strict separation of church and state.

The Norman Transcript reports that the FFRF complaint came after the Norman High School football team put up a 15-second video on its Facebook page showing what appears to be a team prayer of about a dozen players being led by an assistant coach before the Tigers' game against Edmond Memorial.

The nation's largest secular legal organization is now pressuring a Georgia public school district to force a high school band director to change the theme of the band's performances because they have a biblical theme.

The Freedom From Religion Foundation, a Wisconsin-based group that advocates for a strict separation of church and state, sent a letter last week to Houston County Schools' legal counsel William Jerles to voice disapproval with the Christian theme of this year's performance from the Perry High School marching band.

An historic church which has rung its bells since 1779 is to be silenced after a single noise complaint, in a move residents say threatens the “traditions and history” of the medieval town.

The bells of St Peter’s in Sandwich, Kent, South East England, have chimed every 15 minutes since the 18th century. But a single noise complaint from a resident has led to the bells being silenced.

State Dept. Marks 'Transgender Day of Remembrance'

By Melanie Arter | November 20, 2017 | 5:21 PM EST

(CNSNews.com) - The State Department on Monday commemorated Transgender Day of Remembrance, honoring transgenders who died through "acts of violence."

"On Transgender Day of Remembrance, the United States honors the memory of the many transgender individuals who have lost their lives to acts of violence," Secretary of State Rex Tillerson said in a statement.

"Transgender individuals and their advocates, along with lesbian, gay, bisexual and intersex persons, are facing increasing physical attacks and arbitrary arrests in many parts of the world. Often these attacks are perpetrated by government officials, undermining the rule of law," Tillerson added.

He said "transgender person should not be subjected to violence or discrimination, and the human rights they share with all persons should be respected."

Tillerson said the U.S. is "committed to advancing the human rights and fundamental Starbucks Coffee's 2017 holiday cups promotional video released on October 31, 2017.

American coffee giant Starbucks has refused to deny or confirm questions regarding its 2017 holiday cup, which some say promotes a lesbian couple.

"Each year during the holidays we aim to bring our customers an experience that inspires the spirit of the season, and we will continue to embrace and welcome customers from all backgrounds and religions in our stores around the world," Starbucks told Fox News in a statement last week.

The Starbucks holiday cup is white, instead of the usual red, and features various holiday images such as a Christmas tree, presents and doves. What has sparked discussion across social media are two disembodied hands clasped together and the promotional video that depicts what some say is a lesbian couple.

The video, which launched in October, shows two women standing over a coffee, holding hands as they move their faces closer to one another.

Teachers should avoid calling female pupils "girls" or "ladies" because it means they are "constantly reminded of their gender", a former government mental health tsar has said.

Natasha Devon, who was appointed MBE in 2015 for "services to young people", said the move would help transgendered children as well as encourage female and male students to defy traditional notions of gender, which affect "well-being".

She told the Girls' School Association's annual conference in Manchester that she would "never walk into a room in an all-girls' school and say 'girls' or 'ladies'" because it is "not inclusive".
