اكرر هدفي فقط من هذه الخدمة أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد أي حياة اليقظة الروحية. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه ليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيق اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذاري انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات او اخيف البعض

ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي

المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما

انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج

تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات

تتزعزع

21: 27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه

كلها ولكن ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

إنجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لنتنبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَانْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ لِأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ.»

CLOSE ENCOUNTER WITH A COMET: Today, Dec. 16th, Comet 46P/Wirtanen is making an historic close approach to Earth—only 11.5 million km away. This puts Wirtanen in the top 10 list of comet flybys during the Space Age. It's easy to find in the constellation Taurus, shown here in a photo taken just last night by Alan Dyer of Gleichen, Alberta:

"This is a tracked image with my camera mounted on a Star Adventurer tracker," says Dyer. "A sporadic meteor dashed through the field of view during the 2-minute exposure—a busy sky!"

Dyer caught Comet 46P/Wirtanen splitting the gap between the Pleiades star cluster and Aldebaran, the red eye of the Bull. These are excellent landmarks that can guide you to the comet tonight. Indeed, you might need the help.

Next-generation of GPS satellites are headed to space

December 17, 2018 by Dan Elliott

This June 23, 2017 photo provided by Lockheed Martin shows the second GPS III satellite during testing of the deployment of its solar arrays in a clean room at Lockheed Martin's complex south of Denver. The first GPS III satellite is ... more

After months of delays, the U.S. Air Force is about to launch the first of a new generation of GPS satellites, designed to be more accurate, secure and versatile.

But some of their most highly touted features will not be fully available until 2022 or later because of problems in a companion program to develop a new ground control system for the satellites, government auditors said.

The satellite is scheduled to lift off Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, Florida, aboard a SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket. It's the first of 32 planned GPS III satellites that will replace older ones now in orbit. Lockheed Martin is building the new satellites outside Denver.

Weather is going crazy. Epic hailstorms cover the desert in Saudi Arabia in white, some insane ice rocks falling from the sky killed livestock in South Africa and crops were devastated by 3cm hailstones in Australia's Wheatbelt.

As if the desert was only dusty and dry! Heavy rain and hail hit Saudi Arabia's northern province of al-Jawf on December 4. Teaching was suspended in some schools due to the extreme weather in the city of Sakakah.

The ground is shifting under Iran's capital, Tehran, home to approximately 15 million people and the biggest city by population in western Asia. High-resolution satellite images recently revealed that in some places, the metropolis of the Middle East is sinking about 10 inches (25 centimeters) per year.

Scientists investigated satellite data of the capital city gathered from 2003 to 2017 and found significant sinking — also known as subsidence — in about 10 percent of the city center and in many villages in Tehran's northwestern region, according to an article

The active volcano Popocatepetl, located in Central Mexico, has exploded Saturday evening, sending ash two kilometers into the air with the cloud of smoke moving in a northeast direction.

Videos from the eruption show a powerful explosion and traces of magma flowing out of the crater. Possible ash fall is expected in areas surrounding the summit. At the moment the volcanic warning issued by the Federal Civil Protection remains at 'Phase 2'.

MINNEAPOLIS (WCCO) — A new study released by the University of Minnesota says infections like pneumonia increase the risk for heart attack and stroke over a shorter time frame than chronic illnesses.

The study, published in the Journal of the American Heart Association, found infections like urinary tract infections and pneumonia increase the risk of heart attacks and strokes over a three-month time span.

Researchers found, that looking at a time period of 14 days after a hospitalized infection, the odds of a heart attack increased by 13-fold and the odds of a stroke was increased sixfold.

North Korea warns on US sanctions

By Park Chan-kyong
Seoul (AFP) Dec 17, 2018

Nuclear-armed North Korea condemned the United States over its latest sanctions measures, warning Washington's approach could "block the path to denuclearisation on the Korean peninsula forever".

After a rapid diplomatic rapprochement this year that culminated in the Singapore summit in June between North Korean leader Kim Jong Un and US President Donald Trump, progress has stalled in talks on Pyongyang's nuclear arsenal.

In Singapore the two men signed a vaguely-worded statement on denuclearisation, but have since disagreed on what it means.

Now Pyongyang is demanding sanctions relief and condemning US insistence on its nuclear disarmament as "gangster-like", while Washington is pushing to maintain the measures against the North until its "final, fully verified denuclearisation".

Washington last week added three senior North Korean officials to those subject to sanctions over human rights abuses, including Choe Ryong Hae, who has been considered a right-hand man to Kim.

In a statement carried by the official KCNA news agency, the North said Trump had repeatedly expressed his desire to improve relations with US 'in no hurry' over N.Korea nuclear negotiations: Trump

Washington (AFP) Dec 14, 2018 - President Donald Trump played down hopes Friday for any imminent deal to persuade North Korea to give up its nuclear arsenal.

"Many people have asked how we are doing in our negotiations with North Korea -- I always reply by saying we are in no hurry," he tweeted.

But Trump also expressed optimism, saying North Korea's economy has "wonderful potential" and that its leader Kim Jong Un "sees it better than anyone and will fully take advantage of it for his people."

A historic summit between Trump and Kim in June opened up dialogue on denuclearization of the Korean peninsula between the two countries after months of military threats.

A second summit is expected to be held next year, but Trump faces criticism given that North Korea has taken few concrete steps to abandon its nuclear and ballistic missile programs.

China urges US, N. Korea to address each other's 'concerns'

by Staff Writers
Beijing (AFP) Dec 7, 2018

Chinese President Xi Jinping told North Korea's foreign minister Friday that he hoped Pyongyang and Washington will address each other's concerns so peace talks on the Korean peninsula "continue to make positive progress".

Xi met with Ri Yong Ho in Beijing as denuclearisation talks have made little progress since a historic June summit between President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un.

Xi "hopes that both North Korea and the United States can come together, and will take care of each other's legitimate concerns so that the process of peace talks on the Korean peninsula continue to make positive progress," according to the official Xinhua news agency.

China is a key player in the diplomatic shuffle as it is North Korea's main diplomatic ally and trade partner.

"The international and regional situation as well as the situation on the Korean peninsula remains in flux, so timely exchanges and the coordination of positions between China and North Korea are still extremely essential," said Xi.

For his part, Ri said North Korea "remains committed to the denuclearisation of the peninsula," according to Xinhua.

Ri also met Foreign Minister Wang Yi.

"China and North Korea should continue to push the situation on the peninsula to develop positively towards denuclearisation," Wang said, according to a foreign ministry statement.

The new interceptor missile that will arm land-based missile defenses in Europe and Japan has passed a key test, the Pentagon said Tuesday.

In a late-night test on Monday, a Raytheon SM-3 IIA interceptor lifted off from Hawaii and shot down a mock intermediate-range missile over the Pacific, Missile Defense Agency officials said.

"It really is a means to the next step and evolution of the system," Mitch Stevison, vice president of strategic and naval systems at Raytheon Missile Systems, said Tuesday on a call with reporters.

U.S. Fears Iran Planning 'Massive Regional War' in Middle East

Trump vows support for Israeli defensive operations after identifying Iran as source of tunnels into Israel

The Trump administration disclosed that Iran is behind the construction of several underground tunnels leading into Israel that Hezbollah militants and other terror forces have been using to conduct attacks, according to multiple U.S. officials who spoke to the Washington Free Beacon and communicated fears that Tehran is preparing to lead a "massive regional war."

The public identification of Iran isn't likely to surprise international observers, but signals aggressive moves by the Trump administration to tie Iran to the rise of terrorism not just in Israel, but across the Middle East, where Iranian-backed militants continue to strike U.S. interests and allies.

The Obama administration, in contrast to Trump, was careful to avoid singling out Iran as the chief force for terrorism against Israel and U.S. allies in the region in hopes of appeasing the hardline regime as it sought to ink the landmark nuclear pact that Trump abandoned earlier this year.

Pompeo urges UN to get tough on Iran missiles

By Philippe RATER, with Shaun Tandon in Washington
United Nations, United States (AFP) Dec 12, 2018

US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo on Wednesday urged the United Nations to tighten restrictions on Iran's missiles, which he warned could strike US allies, but other powers called instead for dialogue.

Pompeo headed to New York for a Security Council meeting on Iran, which recently confirmed a medium-range ballistic missile test, arguing it is legal and necessary for its defense.

"We risk the security of our people if Iran continues stocking up on ballistic missiles," Pompeo told the Security Council.

"We risk escalation of conflict in the region if we fail to restore deterrence. And we convey to all other malign actors that they too can defy the Security Council with impunity if we do nothing," he said.

Iran has "hundreds of missiles which pose a threat to our partners in the region," Pompeo said, referring to Israel and Arab allies such as Saudi Arabia.

Pompeo said the United States would press to preserve a UN arms embargo on Iran due to expire in 2020 and urge the Security Council to set up inspections at sea to prevent weapons shipments.

He also called for the return of a firmer prohibition on Iran developing missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons, toughening language from the Security Council resolution that supported the nuclear deal.

President Donald Trump has made pressuring Iran a major focus, withdrawing from an international accord on curbing Tehran's nuclear program negotiated under his predecessor Barack Obama and reimposing sweeping sanctions.

The protests and riots in France are part of an "Islamic awakening" foreseen by Iran's supreme leader, the Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, declared the head of the Islamic Republic Judiciary.

The judiciary chief, Ayatollah Sadegh Amoli Larijani, noted Khamenei had predicted years ago that an Islamic awakening would go beyond Muslim countries and reach Europe, the Iranian Mizan news agency, according to Radio Farda.

Larijani did not explain how the protests are related to Islam. But working-class young people among France's Muslim minority have engaged in numerous violent protests over the past decade. And in Egypt, media affiliated with the regime of Egyptian President 'Abd Al-Fattah Al-Sisi are claiming the Muslim Brotherhood is involved in the French protests.

France raised its security alert on Tuesday night in the wake of the shooting attack at the Christmas market in Strasbourg, AFP reports.

A gunman killed at least three people and wounded a dozen others at the famed Christmas market before fleeing the scene, authorities said.

A manhunt for the gunman continues after he opened fire at around 8:00 p.m. local time on one of the city's busiest streets, sending crowds of evening shoppers fleeing for safety.

Soldiers patrolling the area as part of regular anti-terror operations exchanged fire with the suspect and wounded him, but could not stop him escaping, police sources said.

Scientists at Berkeley's D-Lab "are working in cooperation with the [Anti-Defamation League] on a 'scalable detection' system—the Online Hate Index (OHI)—to identify hate speech," the Cal Alumni Association reports.

A new Google Android app helps Muslims report individuals who commit blasphemy or insult Islam.

With "Smart Pakem," launched in Indonesia last month at the request of the Indonesian government, users and government officials can report people who hold "misguided" beliefs in violation of Islamic law, reports Big League Politics.

Islamic law, also called Shariah, forbids insults of Islam and the recognition of any other religion.

In Indonesia, which has the world's largest Muslim population, the criminal code prohibits blasphemy. It's defined as "the act or offense of speaking sacrilegiously about God or sacred things."

The penalty for blasphemy in the country of 207 million is a maximum of five years imprisonment.

NIH Study Probes Impact of Heavy Screen Time on Young Brains

(Bloomberg) – Brain scans of adolescents who are heavy users of smartphones, tablets and video games look different from those of less active screen users, preliminary results from an ongoing study funded by the National Institutes of Health show, according to a report on Sunday by “60 Minutes.”

That’s the finding of the first batch of scans of 4,500 nine- to 10-year-olds. Scientists will follow those children and thousands more for a decade to see how childhood experiences, including the use of digital devices, affect their brains, emotional development and mental health.

In the first round of testing, the scans of children who reported daily screen usage of more than seven hours showed premature thinning of the brain cortex, the outermost layer that processes information from the physical world.

NIH study director Gaya Dowling cautioned against drawing a conclusion from the early findings.

“We don’t know if it’s being caused by the screen time. We don’t know if it’s a bad thing,” Dowling said in Sunday’s broadcast on CBS. “It won’t be until we follow them over time that we will see if there are outcomes that are associated with the differences that we’re seeing in this single snapshot.”

Early results from the $300 million study, called Adolescent Brain Cognitive Development (ABCD), have determined that children who spend more than two hours of daily screen time score lower on thinking and language tests. A major data release is scheduled for early 2019.

HAYS COUNTY, Texas (WTHR) — A little girl's inoperable brain tumor has miraculously disappeared.

Roxli Doss was diagnosed with an brain tumor in June called diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma, or DIPG, 12NewsNow reported.

"It is very rare, but when we see it, it is a devastating disease," Dr. Virginia Harrod with Dell Children's Medical Center. "You have decreased ability to swallow, sometimes vision loss, decreased ability to talk, eventually difficulty with breathing."

Roxli went through weeks of radiation even though there isn't a cure. Her parents said the only other thing they could do was pray for a miracle.

And it looks like they got one.

"When I first saw Roxli's MRI scan, it was actually unbelievable," Dr. Harrod told 12NewsNow. "The tumor is undetectable on the MRI scan, which is really unusual."

Doctors can't explain why the tumor disappeared, but it did.

Stocks saw a huge reversal on Monday as investors are trying to sort out which of the litany of market factors will have the biggest impact on their portfolios in 2019. Fears of slowing global economic growth, a hiking Fed and peak earnings have all weighed on Wall Street in recent months, putting the S&P 500 on track for its worst annual performance since 2008. Four experts weigh in on what

The world's debt currently exceeds $86,000 per person on average, according to the International Monetary Fund (IMF). The US, China, and Japan are the top three global borrowers, accounting for more than half of the global debt.

The IMF has calculated that their share of debt exceeds that of output. It stated that the emergence of China among the top ranking is, however, a relatively new development. Since the beginning of the millennium, China's share in global debt surged from less than three percent to over 15 percent, underscoring the rapid credit surge in the aftermath of the global financial crisis.

A Louisiana school district will not allow grade schoolers to attend a Christmas play that mentions Jesus during school hours because it might violate a federal court order barring the district from promoting religion at school.

For the past several years the Minden Junior Service League has performed a free Christmas production during school hours at the local high school.

This year's half-hour production featured a "Toy Story" theme along with a brief reference to the Baby Jesus.

"Several in attendance felt that it was necessary to report us for the mention of the reason for the season – Jesus," a Junior Service League spokesperson said in a powerful and emotional Facebook video.

Turn off the lights, the Christmas party's over in Ozark, Missouri.

City leaders unplugged a giant cross that was a focal point for a drive-thru Christian light display in a local park.

The Freedom From Religion Foundation, a Wisconsin-based gang of atheists, agnostics and freethinkers filed a complaint alleging that the cross was a violation of U.S. Constitution.

They also took umbrage at the presence of a Nativity scene, one local news outlet reported.

Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, officials order church's nativity scene removed Officials at a Catholic Church in Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, say the city has forced them to remove a Nativity scene display from public property.

Officials ordered the St. Edmond Catholic Church to remove the scene after it was placed near the Rehoboth Bandstand. Rehoboth Beach Communications Director Kryz Johnson said the city had not given the church permission to put up the display.

The church has a separate Nativity scene on its property, but wanted another display in a more prominent area.

"I'm not going to back down from what I believe to be true," said the Rev. William Cocco of the St. Edmond Catholic Church, who is fighting to keep the crèche on display. "It's sad and ridiculous that we're having a fight about this. This PC (politically correct) attitude has gotten ridiculous."

Representatives of St. Edmond Catholic Church said the church received informal permission from the city Sunday to put the crèche on display, with the condition that other religions be represented.

Teachers Warned to Avoid Non-Inclusive Holiday Decorations

Dec 10, 2018 | 0 📖 | ★★★★★

(Todd Starnes) – An Arkansas school district is warning teachers not to decorate their classrooms with anything that might make a student feel uncomfortable or not included. “When we choose to decorate or celebrate any specific tradition, be it the Christian Christmas, Kwanzaa, Hanukkah, or any other tradition, we run the risk of creating an environment where a student does not feel comfortable or included,” read a letter written by John Colbert, the superintendent of Fayetteville Public Schools. “This is unacceptable.”

Why Homeschooling for Religious Reasons May Take a Hit

12-08-2018 - Steve Warren

Last month, Virginia's Loudoun County Public Schools announced its intention to ask the Virginia legislature to alter the religious exemption to the state's law of school attendance, which allows thousands of families to homeschool their children.

Life Site News reports the school board's proposal seeks legislation that would require these families to educate their children only through "an alternative public, private, parochial and/or approved home instruction setting." The board has said its only goal is to make sure that children are getting a satisfactory education.
