اكرر هدفي فقط من هذه الخدمة أن نذكر بعضنا باننا
نحتاج ان نستعد أي حياة اليقظة الروحية. والاستعداد
ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل ايضا قبل الظلمة التي

ستسبق مجيؤه لأننا نور العالم الذي أصبح مظلم وليكون

عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة

وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم

وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد

بقوة بأيمان عامل بالمحبة والتبشير وبتنقية القلب وان

نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة

والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من

الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت

سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى

انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب
فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا
عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر
اشاعات او اخيف البعض ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا
اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء
المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو
مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

المسيح قال بعض العلامات مثل

انجيل لوقا 21

21: 10 ثم قال لهم تقوم امة على امة ومملكة على

مملكة

21: 11 وتكون زلازل عظيمة في اماكن ومجاعات

واوبئة وتكون مخاوف وعلامات عظيمة من السماء

21: 25 وتكون علامات في الشمس والقمر والنجوم

وعلى الارض كرب امم بحيرة البحر والامواج تضج

21: 26 والناس يغطى عليهم من خوف وانتظار ما

يأتي على المسكونة لان قوات السماوات تتزعزع

21:27 وحينئذ يبصرون ابن الانسان اتيا في سحابة

بقوة و مجد كثير

سفر اعمال الرسل 2

2: 19 واعطي عجائب في السماء من فوق وآيات على

الارض من أسفل دما ونارا وبخار دخان

2: 20 تتحول الشمس الى ظلمة والقمر الى دم قبل ان

يجيء يوم الرب العظيم الشهير

2: 21 ويكون كل من يدعو باسم الرب يخلص

لماذا قال المسيح بعض العلامات؟

أولا لكيلا نرتاع

انجيل متى 24

مت 24: 6 وسوف تسمعون بحروب واخبار حروب

انظروا لا ترتاعوا لأنه لا بد ان تكون هذه كلها ولكن

ليس المنتهى بعد

ثانيا لنؤمن

انجيل يوحنا 14: 29

وَقُلْتُ لَكُمْ الْآنَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ، حَتَّى مَتَى كَانَ تُؤْمِنُونَ.

ثالثا لننتبه ونستعد

انجيل لوقا 21

28 وَمَتَى ابْتَدَأَتْ هَذِهِ تَكُونُ، فَاَنْتَصِبُوا وَارْفَعُوا رُؤُوسَكُمْ

لَأَنَّ نَجَاتَكُمْ تَقْتَرِبُ».

China's fastest rocket carries deep space dream

by Staff Writers
Beijing (XNA) Jul 24, 2020

A Long March-5 rocket blasted off Thursday at the Wenchang Spacecraft Launch Site in south China's Hainan Province, carrying the country's Mars probe, Tianwen-1.

It is the first time that the Long March-5 carrier rocket, currently China's largest launch vehicle, is put into practical use after a series of trial launches.

It is also the first time the Long March-5 exceeded the second cosmic velocity, the fastest China's carrier rockets have gone to date, said Li Dong, the rocket's chief designer at the China Academy of Launch Vehicle Technology (CALVT).

The rocket did not separate from Tianwen-1 until it accelerated to over 11.2 km per second, the second cosmic velocity or escape velocity. At that speed, Tianwen-1 went into the Earth-Mars transfer orbit, overcoming the gravitational pull of Earth and embarking on an interplanetary journey, Li explained.

The rocket, codenamed Long March-5 Y4, has a total length of almost 57 meters, equivalent to the height of a 20-story building. It has a 5-meter-diameter core stage and four 3.35-meter-diameter boosters.

The rocket uses environment-friendly propellants, including liquid oxygen, liquid hydrogen and kerosene. It has a takeoff mass of 869 tonnes and can carry a payload of 14 tonnes to a geostationary transfer orbit.

The Long March-5 being launched from the Wenchang Spacecraft Launch Site in south China's Hainan Province.

Extreme heat was felt across the Middle East with temperatures in the upper 40s C (115-120 F) across the region on Monday and many areas reaching above 50 C (122 F) on Tuesday.

Phoenix to break record for its hottest month, with nighttime lows frequently staying at or above 90

Ian Livingston and Andrew Freedman, The Washington Post

Published 3:47 pm CDT, Thursday, July 30, 2020

✉ f t p r v p 7

Unforgiving heat has baked Phoenix this month, not only scorching the afternoons but staying hot at night, more often than not above 90 degrees round the clock. Such unforgiving heat poses public health risks and could be a sign of things to come as climate change leads to a hotter, drier Southwest.

Thursday's low temperature stayed above 90 degrees in Phoenix for the 15th time this month. The count of exceptionally hot nights has obliterated the previous July record of 11 set in 2006. Assuming that the temperature does not drop below 90 before midnight Thursday, the count will match the most such hot nights in Phoenix for any year on record, with much summer heat still to come.

A massive dust devil was spotted spinning off in the distance in Silverton, New South Wales, on July 25, as thunderstorms swept through the area.

A stifling heat wave that gradually built throughout much of western Europe this week produced some of the warmest conditions of the year so far. Triple-digit temperatures were recorded in some of the continent's biggest cities, including the United Kingdom's capital of London.

Age-Related Differences in Nasopharyngeal Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome Coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2) Levels in Patients With Mild to Moderate Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

Children are susceptible to infection with severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2) but generally present with mild symptoms compared with adults.¹ Children drive spread of respiratory and gastrointestinal illnesses in the population,² but data on children as sources of SARS-CoV-2 spread are sparse.

Early reports did not find strong evidence of children as major contributors to SARS-CoV-2 spread,³ but school closures early in pandemic responses thwarted larger-scale investigations of schools as a source of community transmission. As public health systems look to reopen schools and day cares, understanding transmission potential in children will be important to guide public health measures. Here, we report that replication of SARS-CoV-2 in older children leads to similar levels of viral nucleic acid as adults, but significantly greater amounts of viral nucleic acid are detected in children younger than 5 years.

Another Effect of COVID: Lasting Hearing Problems?

FRIDAY, July 31, 2020 (HealthDay News) -- The after effects of COVID-19 are numerous, and now British researchers report that many patients recovering from infection with the new coronavirus have lingering hearing problems.

It's enough that SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes Covid-19, can cause pneumonia, kidney failure, blood clots, arrhythmias and even heart attacks, but the potential that the virus may also lead to onset of diabetes provides a new set of implications and potential complications for survivors.

A recent report in Nature details the rationale and proposed mechanisms behind the ability of the virus to damage specialized cells in the pancreas that make insulin, otherwise known as beta cells, contained in surrounding specialized cells (islets).

When beta cells are destroyed, and the body is unable to manufacture insulin, a person develops elevated blood sugar, known as hyperglycemia, which effectively switches the body

Health officials link US salmonella outbreak to red onions

By ANNE D'INNOCENZIO yesterday

Federal health officials say an outbreak of salmonella infecting nearly 400 people in more than 30 states has been linked to red onions, and identified a California company as the likely source.

The Food and Drug Administration said in a statement on Friday that Thomson International Inc. of Bakersfield, California, has notified the food agency that it will be recalling all varieties of onions that could have come in contact with potentially contaminated red onions because of the risk of cross-contamination.

This recall would include red, white, yellow, and sweet onions from Thomson International, the agency said.

Thomson couldn't immediately be reached for comment.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says that Salmonella Newport has sickened 396 people and landed nearly 60 in the hospital. There have been no deaths linked to the outbreak, which was first identified July 10 and has since grown. The agency says the illnesses began between mid-June and mid-July.

The Public Health Agency of Canada is also investigating an outbreak of Salmonella Newport illnesses that have a genetic fingerprint closely related to the U.S. outbreak,

China's newly-launched satellite to boost surveying, mapping capabilities

by Staff Writers
Beijing (XNA) Jul 28, 2020

China's surveying and mapping capabilities will be further boosted with one more high-resolution mapping satellite launched on Saturday.

The Ziyuan III 03 satellite was sent into orbit by a Long March-4B rocket from the Taiyuan Satellite Launch Center in north China's Shanxi Province. It will provide data for the country's land resources investigation, natural disaster prevention, agriculture development, water resource management, environmental survey and urban planning.

The newly-launched satellite will join its predecessors Ziyuan III 01 and Ziyuan III 02 to form a mapping satellite constellation, for capturing high-definition, 3D images and multispectral data, sources with the Ministry of Natural Resources, the main user of the Ziyuan III satellites, said Saturday.

Compared with its predecessors, Ziyuan III 03 has a longer design life and higher image resolution and accuracy. It can increase the system efficiency of image formation and significantly reduce the update period.

Wang Quan, head of the ministry's Land Satellite Remote Sensing Application Center, said the Ziyuan III 03 satellite also enables the system to have a "revisit time," the time gap between observations of the same point on Earth, of one day, down from three days when only Ziyuan III 01 and Ziyuan III 02 were operating.

China said that its BeiDou-3 global satellite navigation system is now fully operational and ready to provide high-precision positioning services across the globe. The system is set to compete with GPS.

BeiDou-3 was inaugurated after its final satellite completed in-orbit tests and joined the network earlier this week. This means that China now has its own independent global navigation system, similar to GPS, Russia's GLONASS and EU's Galileo.

France steps up space spending to gird for 'unfriendly' moves

by Staff Writers
Paris (AFP) July 24, 2020

France will increase spending on its new Space Force programme by several hundreds of millions of euros as it prepares for potential "unfriendly manoeuvres" among world powers, Defence Minister Florence Parly said Friday.

"We're gone from a concept of space as a 'common good' in the service of science, to a space where countries are struggling for global supremacy," Parly told the Provence newspaper of Marseille.

The new Air and Space Force, which Parly will officialise during a visit to France's military flight training school at Salon-en-Provence, will have a staff of 500 by 2025, she said.

Investments in the programme will reach 4.3 billion euros ($5 billion) over the 2019-2025 budget period, up from the 3.6 billion euros originally planned.

"In no way are we engaging in an arms race," Parly said, reiterating a stance announced when President Emmanuel Macron unveiled the new space initiative last year.

"But it's my responsibility to make sure we have thoroughly identified the threats our country could face."

She pointed to a 2017 incident in which Paris accused Russia's Luch Olymp satellite of trying to spy on the Franco-Italian Athena-Fidus satellite, used to provide secure military communications.

"The fact is that satellites can now get close to ours and scramble their signals or damage and even destroy them," she said.

The first squadron of five multirole Dassault Rafale fighter planes has landed in India. The delivery of the aircraft, whose purchase had sparked embezzlement allegations, took place a month after a bloody skirmish with China.

The jets took off from Merignac in the southwest of France and traveled for around 7,000km, refueling mid-air. They landed at Ambala air base in India's northwestern Haryana State on Wednesday morning local time.

India uses arrival of new fighter jets to warn China

New Delhi (AFP) July 29, 2020

The first five Rafale fighter jets bought from France in a multi-billion-dollar deal landed in India on Wednesday, and the defence minister used their arrival to launch a veiled warning to neighbouring China over territorial tensions.

A water-cannon guard of honour greeted the five jets when they landed at the Ambala air base in Haryana state.

India has bought 36 Rafale fighters from France in a deal estimated to be worth $9.4 billion. All are scheduled to be delivered by the end of 2021.

An intense nationwide spotlight on the combat jets has been sharpened by a deadly border standoff with China.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi welcomed the jets with a tweet in Sanskrit: "There is no sacrifice like the national defence; there is no good deed like the national defence; there is no practice like national defence."

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said the arrival of the fighter jets marked "the beginning of a new era in our military history".

The jets will make the Indian Air Force "much stronger to deter any threat that may be posed on our country", he added in a series of tweets.

"If it is anyone who should be worried about or critical about this new capability of the Indian Air Force, it should be those who want to threaten our territorial integrity," Singh said.

Singh did not directly name China, but media and observers said his comments were clearly aimed at the neighbouring giant.

Iran says fires missiles from underground in Gulf war games

by Staff Writers
Tehran (AFP) July 29, 2020

Iran's Revolutionary Guards said they launched ballistic missiles from "the depths of the Earth" on Wednesday during the last day of military exercises near sensitive Gulf waters.

The launches came a day after the Guards struck a mock-up of a US aircraft carrier with volleys of missiles near the Strait of Hormuz, a vital shipping lane for a fifth of world oil output.

The Iranian manoeuvres were staged amid heightened tensions between Iran and its decades-old arch enemy the United States.

Iranian state television broadcast aerial footage of the latest daylight exercises in the desert showing bursts of flames, smoke and dust before what appeared to be four projectiles climbed into the sky.

The Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) said in a statement on their Sepahnews website that it was "the first time in the world" that such an exercise had been carried out.

The statement did not elaborate on the claim or provide any of the missiles' specifications.

It hailed "the successful launch of ballistic missiles from the depths of the Earth in a completely camouflaged way" as an "important achievement that could pose serious challenges to enemy intelligence organisations".

The sanctions that the US imposed against Iran are meant to destroy its economy and reduce Tehran's regional influence, but they are only making Iran more resilient, Khamenei said on Friday, in a televised address on the occasion of the Islamic holy day of Eid al-Adha.

Zagros TV (Iraqi Kurdistan) aired a heated debate about Iranian involvement in Iraq. Iraqi journalist and researcher Ghaleb Shabandar said that Iran, Saudi Arabia, and Turkey all consider parts of Iraq to be their lebensraum, and he said that Iran's arrogance and sense of superiority has prevented it from turning Iraq into paradise on Earth, reported the Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI).

Iraqi Sunni opposition activist Mustafa Al-Dulaimi said that "from 1979 and to this day, Iran has been giving us a headache" with its statements and slogans about Israel and the liberation of Palestine, adding that these are all "empty words" meant to "recruit poor youngsters."

Arson balloons or balloons with incendiary devices attached were frequently sent aloft toward southern Israel during 2019, but their usage has waned this year. Several incendiary balloons were launched last month, however.

A large protest in Berlin against mandatory mask rules and other anti-coronavirus measures ended in clashes and arrests, after police ordered the demonstrators to disperse for refusing to obey social distancing guidelines.

Police estimate up to 20,000 people attended Saturday's march through the German capital, with some reports putting the figure far higher. Demonstrators, most of them not wearing masks, carried placards with slogans against Covid-19 restrictions, vaccinations, and face "muzzles." Officers intervened several hours into the protest, claiming that the participants were not adhering to social distancing rules.

The Barakah Nuclear Power Plant's Unit 1 is now using nuclear fuel to produce energy after the facility successfully executed initial tests on Saturday. Three other reactors are still under construction and the plant still needs to be connected to the country's power grid, local media reported.

Operating in the shadows of the online marketplace, specialized tech companies you've likely never heard of are tapping vast troves of our personal data to generate secret "surveillance scores" - digital mug shots of millions of Americans - that supposedly predict our future behavior. The firms sell their scoring services to major businesses across the U.S. economy.

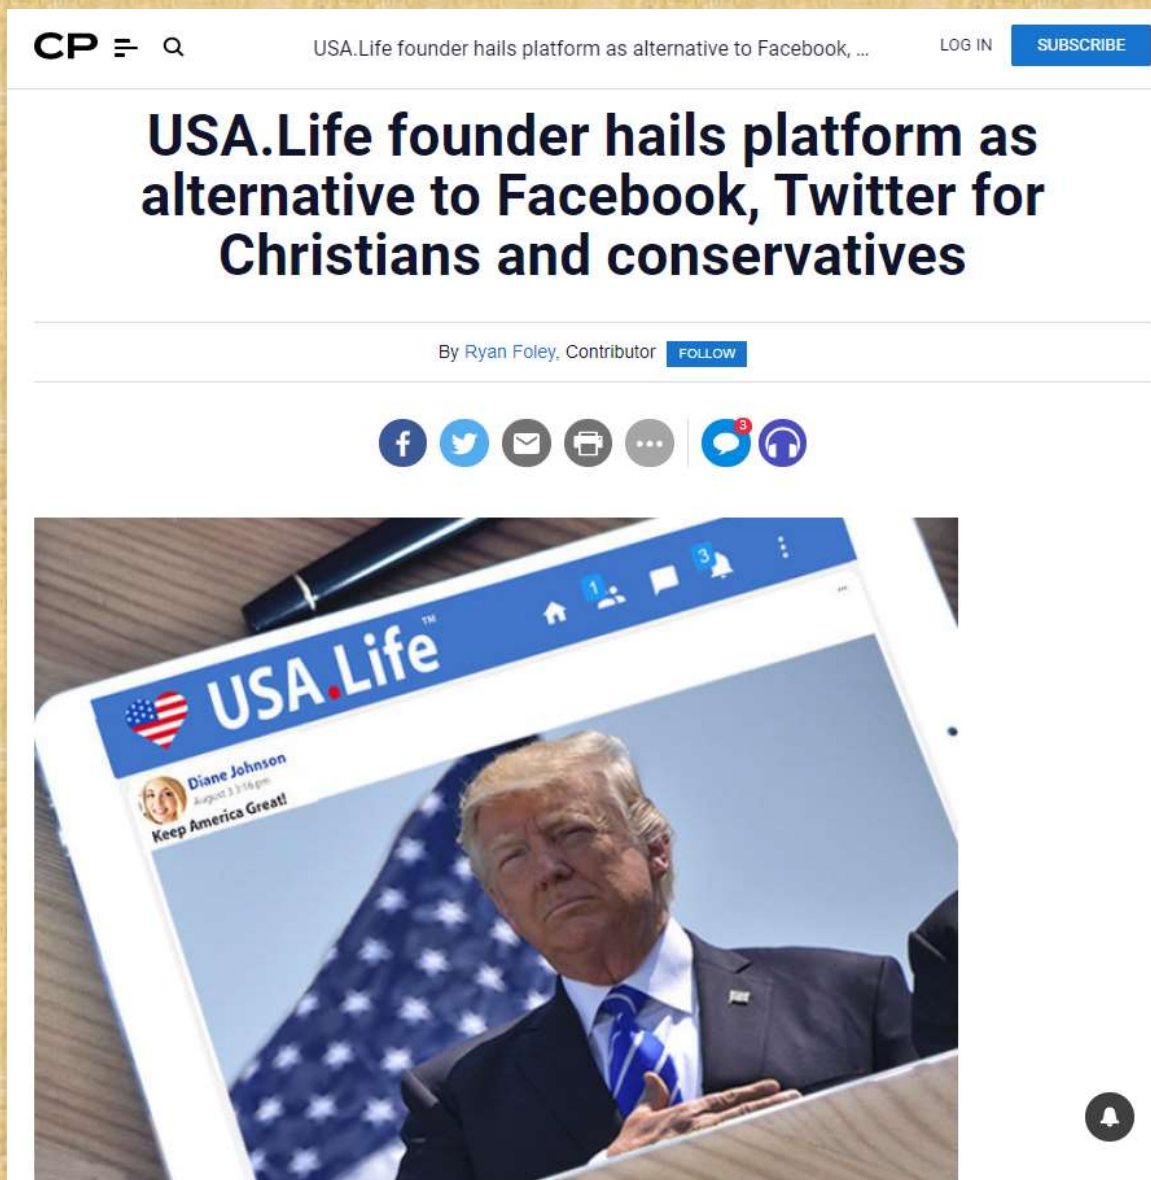

People with low scores can suffer harsh consequences.

CoreLogic and TransUnion say that scores they peddle to landlords can predict whether a potential tenant will pay the rent on time, be able to "absorb rent increases," or break a lease. Large employers use HireVue, a firm that generates an "employability" score about candidates by analyzing "tens of thousands of factors," including a person's facial expressions and voice intonations. Other employers use Cornerstone's score, which considers where a job prospect lives and which web browser they use to judge how successful

On July 22, 2020, a stunning announcement was reported by the Jerusalem Post about a new archaeological discovery by the Israel Antiquities Authority (IAA) in Arnona near the US Embassy in Jerusalem.

It was the uncovering of a vast administrative center in Judea built during the reign of King Hezekiah with seals attesting to the ancient Jewish presence during the First Temple period between the eighth and the middle of the seventh century B.C.E. IAA archaeologist Benyamin Storchon noted:

"We found about 120 stamped seal impressions on jar handles written in ancient Hebrew script, which translate as 'belonging to the king.'

For years, some of the brightest minds in the precious metals industry warned that the price of gold and the price of silver would both rise dramatically once the global economy inevitably collapsed, and it turns out that they were right on target. What we have been witnessing over the last several weeks has been nothing short of stunning, and many experts believe that this is just the beginning. But I was actually going to write about something completely different today.

When millions of Americans were losing their jobs at the beginning of this pandemic, we were told not to worry because the lockdowns were just temporary and virtually all of those workers would be going back to their old jobs once the lockdowns ended. Well, now we are finding out that was not even close to true. Over the last 18 weeks, more than 52 million Americans have filed new claims for unemployment benefits, and a very large percentage of them are dealing with a permanent job loss. For a very long time we have been warned that a U.S. economic collapse was inevitably coming, and now it is here. Fear of COVID-19 and unprecedented civil unrest in our major cities have combined to plunge us into a historic economic downturn, and nobody is exactly sure what is going to happen next. On Thursday, we learned that U.S. GDP was down 32.9 percent on an annualized basis last quarter. That officially makes last quarter the worst quarter in all of U.S. history, and many people believe that this new economic depression is just getting started. But of course not all agree.
