اكرر هدفي فقط من هذه الخدمة أن نذكر بعضنا باننا نحتاج ان نستعد أي حياة اليقظة الروحية. والاستعداد ليس فقط قبل مجيء المسيح بل ايضا قبل الظلمة التي ستسبق مجيؤه لأننا نور العالم الذي أصبح مظلم وليكون عندنا زيت في مصابيحنا يكفي ان نعبر هذه الظلمة وتكون مصابيحنا مضيئة وقت مجيؤه او من منا سيسلم وديعته في أي وقت. بمعنى نحتاج من الان ان نستعد بقوة بأيمان عامل بالمحبة والتبشير وبتنقية القلب وان نثمر بالخدمة أي نجمع زيت في مصابيحنا لان الظلمة والضيقة اقتربت جدا ومن لن يستعد لها بزيت كافي من الان لن يجد زيت في الضيقة لان وقتها تجميع زيت سيكون صعب جدا بل أستطيع ان أقول من مثل العذارى انه لن يكون هناك زيت الا ما جمعته سابقا.

أفضل ان اقول لنفسي ولكم استعدوا الان لأنه اقترب فنكون مستعدين سواء جاء او نحن ان سلمنا وديعتنا عن أنى لا اقول انه اقترب لكيلا يقال عني كاذب وانشر اشاعات او اخيف البعض ولكنه يأتي بسرعة بغته. لا اعتقد اي أحد ندم لأنه كان مستعد ومنتظر مجيء المسيح ولم يأتي المسيح في زمنه ولكنه انتقل وهو مستعد ولكن كثيرين جدا ندموا على عدم الاستعداد عندما انتقلوا

Geminid meteor shower to light up skies on December 13 - 14

By Rishika Yaday • Thursday, December 12, 2024 • 🛛 👼 Follow us on Google News

The much anticipated Geminid meteor shower of 2024 is set to peak during the night from Friday, December 13 to December 14, 2024. The Geminids typically have a broad peak, lasting around 24 to 36 hours, because the Earth passes through a dense section of debris from 3200 Phaethon over an extended period. However, this year, a waxing gibbous moon, approximately 90% illuminated, will be present in the sky, which may reduce the visibility of the fainter meteors.

This composite of Geminid meters was captured on the morning of December 14, 2017, the peak night of the Geminid meteor shower.

Observers in both the Northern and Southern Hemispheres will have the opportunity to witness this celestial phenomenon caused by debris from the asteroid 3200 Phaethon.

levels along the U.S. coastlines are projected to rise, on average, around 10 to 12 inches by 2050.

Many communities along the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts face significant risks of partial inundation in the future if current trends continue and mitigation efforts are not intensified.

NOAA's Sea Level Rise Viewer shows which cities may be impacted along each coast, with dark blue areas indicating significant projected sea level rises.

Fears mystery Congo disease already in America as Ohio hospital quarantines African traveler with unknown flu illness

• READ MORE: Health officials issue dire warning over mystery illness

By LUKE ANDREWS SENIOR HEALTH REPORTER FOR DAILYMAIL.COM PUBLISHED: 09:43 EST, 6 December 2024 UPDATED: 12:55 EST, 6 December 2024

An Ohio hospital was in panic last night after a patient who had recently arrived from Africa was rushed to its ER with a flu-like illness.

The individual was quarantined when staff learned the patient had traveled from Tanzania, which borders the Democratic Republic of Congo, where a mystery disease outbreak has killed dozens. But in an update this morning, a spokesperson for the hospital said the patient's condition was found to be 'routine' and not linked to the outbreak. They have now been removed from isolation.

The response, however, highlights growing concerns around the situation in the DRC that has so far sickened at least 376 people and killed up to 143.

Hong Kong yesterday became the first territory to bring in health checks for travelers arriving from Africa, requiring passengers to take temperature tests upon arrival. Several flights arrive in the US from Africa every day, including in New York City, Atlanta and Washington DC.

Patients infected with the mystery disease are reported to be suffering from a flu-like illness, with symptoms including a fever, headache, nasal discharge, cough, difficulty breathing and anemia, or lack of healthy red blood cells.

US President-elect Donald Trump has told Ukraine's Vladimir Zelensky and French President Emmanuel Macron that he wants an end to hostilities between Moscow and Kiev as soon as possible, Reuters reported on Wednesday, citing sources.

The three met last week in Paris, where they held talks on the Ukraine crisis, despite Trump's reported reluctance to attend the sitdown.

Following the meeting, Trump claimed that Ukraine "would like to make a deal" to end the conflict with Russia. Zelensky, however, insisted that Kiev must first receive ironclad security guarantees while ruling out any territorial concessions.

The Ukrainian government has approved the terms of a conditional agreement with the US Federal Financing Bank (FFB) for a 40-year loan of $20 billion which will be backed by profits from frozen Russian state assets.

It's part of a broader $50 billion G7 loan deal, which includes a separate $20 billion EU commitment, and $10 billion to be split by G7 members Britain, Japan and Canada.

The money will be transferred to the Facilitation of Resources to Invest in Strengthening Ukraine Financial Intermediary Fund, established by the World Bank on October 10, "for the sake of the state," a resolution issued by Ukraine's Cabinet of Ministers on Friday stated.

The transfer will be based on a Certificate Purchase Agreement between Ukraine, the FFB, and the US Agency for International Development (USAID), along with a loan guarantee and repayment agreement between Ukraine and USAID.

The fall of Bashar al-Assad's government in Syria and the seizure of Damascus by Islamists means that a massive influx of Syrian migrants to Western Europe is a real possibility. Several European countries have already announced that, as a precautionary measure, they are suspending the examination of current asylum applications. France has been slow to make a decision, prompting concern from the Right about the risks to the country's security.

The United Nations' scandal-ridden Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA) has been hit by more claims that it cooperates with terrorists.

Israel has long accused the body of having been infiltrated by Hamas, implicating it in the October 7th terror attacks. But Western leaders have been largely dismissive of such claims. One of UK Labour's first actions in government earlier this year was to restart funding to the agency-after being given "reassurances that it [the U.N.] was tightening up the vetting of new recruits."

A 31-year-old Mexican man tried to force a plane headed for Baja California to divert to the US, but was subdued by other passengers, according to the police.

Volaris flight 3041 was headed from Leon to Tijuana on Sunday when one of the passengers got up from his seat and tried to divert the flight by force. Other passengers wrestled him into submission and the crew diverted the plane to Guadalajara instead.

"Emergency assistance was provided to the airline, so the aircraft was able to land without incident at the Guadalajara International Airport and the passenger was detained," the Mexican Ministry of Infrastructure, Communications and Transport said in a statement.

Farmers Take Over London: Tractors Roll in Protest Against Tax Changes

Hundreds of farmers rallied in central London on Wednesday, voicing their opposition to Labour's planned changes to inheritance tax, which threaten the survival of family farms. A convoy of tractors, many adorned with Union flags and placards reading "No farmers, no food" and "Save British Farming," filled the streets around Parliament Square in a loud and defiant demonstration.

The protest, organised by Kent Fairness for Farmers and Save British Farming, highlighted widespread discontent with the policy, which imposes a 20% inheritance tax on agricultural assets valued over £1 million starting in 2026. Farmers claim the tax burdens an industry already struggling with slim margins and rising costs.

ERLIN (Reuters) -Unidentified drones have been sighted over sensitive industry locations and the U.S. air base at Ramstein in Germany in recent weeks, the Spiegel news magazine reported on Friday, citing a confidential report by German security authorities.

The report flagged numerous drone sightings made in the evening hours of Dec. 3 and 4 over the air base, according to Spiegel.

A security source told Reuters the report on drone sightings over Ramstein was correct. The German defence ministry declined to comment on the report.

German intelligence chiefs have warned that the country's support for Ukraine in its war with Russia makes it a target of possible sabotage attempts, with recent security incidents at military barracks raising alarm further.

US one step closer to banning TikTok

World News

A federal appeals court has upheld a law forcing Chinese-based ByteDance to sell the social media app

C Getty Images / Richard Stephen

A US federal appeals court has upheld a law requiring Chinese company ByteDance to divest its popular short video platform TikTok in the US by early next year or face a ban.

According to the ruling issued on Friday by the US Court of Appeals for the DC Circuit, the platform will be prohibited starting on January 19, 2025 if its parent company fails to find a non-Chinese buyer and sell it. After the deadline, app stores and internet services in the country are expected to face fines for hosting TikTok if it is not sold.

The law forcing TikTok to find a new owner within months or be banned was adopted in April. It addresses concerns voiced by national security officials in Washington, who cited the alleged influence of the Chinese government through the popular platform.

The Chinese Foreign Ministry said at the time that a ban would be "an act of bullying" that would backfire on the US. The ministry's spokesperson at the time, Wang Wenbin, claimed that Washington has never stopped going after TikTok despite the fact that the authorities failed to find any evidence regarding how the platform is a threat to national security.

US readying 'aggressive' sanctions on Russian oil – Bloomberg

The restrictions could target crude exports and Russia's tanker fleet, the outlet has said

US President Joe Biden's administration is preparing harsher sanctions against Russian oil just weeks before Donald Trump returns to the White House, Bloomberg has reported.

The details of the new restrictions are yet to be finalized, but Washington is looking to target some Russian oil exports, the outlet said on Wednesday, citing people familiar with the matter.

While the US has already banned imports of Russian oil, Biden has been reluctant to take further action against the country's crude, due to fear of skyrocketing energy costs, the report said. However, with oil prices falling amid an expected surplus next year and uncertainty about Donald Trump's commitment to further support for Kiev, the White House could resort to harsher measures, the outlet noted.

The call for new sanctions is part of the outgoing US administration's eagerness to intensify measures against Russia before Biden's term ends. Despite attempts to cripple the Russian economy, Moscow's GDP is projected to rise by 3.5% this year.

ABUJA, Nigeria (Christian Daily International-Morning Star News) - Suspected Fulani terrorists killed a Christian in Plateau state, Nigeria on Dec. 1 after prior attacks in the state left 18 other Christians dead, sources said.

A band of six gunmen "believed to be Fulani militants" ambushed two Christians riding a motorcycle in Du'ang village in the Kwi area of Riyom County on Dec. 1, killing James Yakubu, 23, according to a press statement from human rights advocate and attorney Dalyop Solomon Mwantiri.

Mwantiri quoted the other motorcycle rider, Julius Dung, as saying that they were returning from Baten village between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. when the "group of six Fulani laid ambush" on them.

"My friend screamed out that I should see Fulani - before I could realize anything. I saw torchlight before me as James jumped down from the motorcycle," Dung said. "One of the Fulani who tried to block my way had edged out when I drove towards him. Immediately as I passed, he started running after me while my friend shouted that it's Fulani, and I should run."

Muslim residents blocked the road to the house of the pastor of the Pentecostal Church in Indonesia (GPdI) Tegar Beriman, keeping church members from attending a Christmas service, according to local media citing a video on an X post by John Sitorus

The Muslims claimed the site was not officially approved by the government, but church Pastor Nicky Jefta Makary said he had given prior notice of the 3 p.m. Christmas service to the neighborhood association, the head of the residents' association, the local police chief and a Military Unit Command, according to news outlet Kilat.com.

A meeting in a private home does not require permission in Indonesia, and Pastor Nicky said he knew the regulations governing Christmas services.

Christian counselor fired for posts urging wives to submit to their husbands

A Christian counselor in England is appearing before an employment tribunal this week, claiming she was wrongfully dismissed by a school over her social media posts on marriage.

The counselor, 37-year-old Gozen Soydag, who worked as a pastoral manager, says her beliefs were deemed "incompatible" with the ethos and mission at St. Anne's Catholic High School for Girls in North London, prompting her dismissal in February 2023.

Soydag, a social media influencer with nearly 40,000 followers across various Instagram accounts, alleges she was terminated after complaints arose about content on her profiles, according to the group Christian Legal Centre, which is supporting her employment tribunal appeal that opened on Tuesday.

Ukrainian nationalists have clashed with law enforcement at an LGBTQ event in Kiev, local media reported on Sunday.

The incident took place outside the Office Repair Together meeting space in downtown Kiev, where the 'KyivPride' group - an organization promoting LGBTQ rights in Ukraine - was scheduled to hold a 'Kyiv Queer Talk' lecture, dedicated to the history of queerness and homophobia in Ukraine.

According to videos posted online, while guests were arriving for the lecture, a group of some two dozen men waving Ukrainian flags and the red-black banners of the Ukrainian nationalist movement stormed the location, supposedly trying to enter the building where the lecture was to take place. They clashed with police, who were patrolling the area, and threw smoke grenades at officers, according to witnesses' accounts.

Netflix Christmas movie mocks Nativity, Jokes about aborting baby Jesus

Netflix's latest offering, "That Christmas," is an animated Christmas movie geared toward families. One scene, garnering a lot of attention, mocks the nativity story.

The movie centers on a ragtag group of kids, all led by a rebellious teenager named Bernadette. At one point in the film, the children come together to put on a school Christmas production written by a couple students who feel the biblical nativity story is too antiguated for modern culture.

العام هو فيلم شيطاني وبعلم

Our society is becoming increasingly more open to evils such as Satanism. Although the satanic has always been present and even encouraged by individuals in society, never before has it been so widespread as now. We have reached the limit. Forcing this on children is not only scandalous but unacceptable and must be stopped.

Since November 25, a new Christmas movie titled "Dear Santa" has been showing on Paramount's streaming platform. Most parents might wonder if anything could go wrong with a Christmas movie with such a title. This movie, however, is not only deceptive but satanic!
